

Star of Space 279

Chapter 279 Keep it with you and raise it

Thinking of this, he lowered his head and suddenly saw a lock being handed to him. He turned to look at Lin Changyi, who was much shorter than him. He was holding a copper lock from home and looking at him eagerly.

"Brother Changhong, lock it up, in case the second sister runs out again."

Lin Changhong raised his hand, touched the little guy's head lovingly, and took the lock into his hand.

Even seven-year-old Lin Changyi was so disappointed in his biological sister. What else could he say? There's nothing to say, right? Just lock it, take the key and leave.

...

Yang Lin was helped to lie down on the bed. Lin Baiyi stayed with him for a while, then walked out and saw two old men in the yard with sad faces and muttering something.

"Dad, Mom, what are you doing in the yard? It's very cold outside. Go back to the house and rest."

When Lin Laogong heard the voice, he turned to look at him and shook his head.

"Where can I rest? I've been in trouble all day."

It didn't take a day or two for Lin Caihe to develop this virtue, but Liu Chushui was indeed innocent and was beaten like this. It made him heartbroken just thinking about it.

After all, he is his grandson.

"Take good care of your wife, and go to town to invite a doctor tomorrow," he said.

"I know."

Lin Baiyi nodded.

The doctor must invite her, let alone his wife. Liu Chushui was beaten like that, so she had to take a closer look.

"There's nothing wrong with A Lin. How's Chu Shui doing?" he asked.

"Sang Sang and Chang Hong are inside, and Chang Feng is also there. I saw Sang Sang's brows were furrowed, and he was hurt." Lu Qiubo shook his head, still angry that Liu Baixiao, the father, really didn't take it seriously. What a father-like, good child to be beaten like this.

"Second brother is really..." Lin Baiyi also frowned.

Lu Qiubo continued to shake his head, and suddenly as if he thought of something, he lowered his head and looked at Lin Laogong in the wheelchair.

"Old man, I was really angry today, so I said an angry word to that evildoer, but now that I think about it, it's okay."

"What are you talking about?" Lin Laogong asked.

If he goes through with this matter today, I'm sure every word he says will be angry, and there won't be anything good to say.

"How about we keep Chu Shui's child with us?" Lu Qiubo suggested.

I just said it in anger, but when you calm down and think about it, this is really what happened. If Liu Chushui is raised by that family again, what kind of person will he be like? How many sins?

"I think this child's character is pretty good. Although we haven't met him very often, we can still see it. Tell me, if a child with good character is raised next to that evil person, , What will it look like in the future, what do you think?"

"This matter..."

Lin Laogan thought for a moment, glanced at the brightly lit room, and then looked at Lin Baiyi.

"Lao San, do you think this matter... is okay?" he asked.

"I have no objection."

Lin Baiyi quickly stated his position.

You know, Liu Chushui's child even helped Sangsang, which shows that his character is not bad, not to mention, he looked pitiful at that child, having such a father and mother.

"Um."

Lin Laogong thought about it again. As soon as he uttered a syllable, he shook his head again, thought about it again, and said again.

"This matter still needs to be discussed in the long run. When the family is free one day, we can sit down and discuss it carefully. First, we should ask the brothers Sangsang and Changfeng what they want. It is not the two of us who have the final say. Now... let's talk about it first Let's wait until the child's injury is healed."