

Star of Space 52

Chapter 52 Look at a little girl

"I know what the old gentleman wants to say. These medicinal materials have not been dried yet. I have only dug these medicinal materials in the mountains in the past few days. I only asked the price when I took these things today. I am not going to take these half-wet medicinal materials in the future. The dry medicinal materials are sold, and the family is also lacking in clothes and food recently.

Before the old man could finish speaking, Lin Caisang explained.

"Mr., just ask for the price. I will definitely take care of it before selling these medicinal materials."

"Well, the little girl is quite honest."

The old man glanced at Lin Caisang again and nodded with satisfaction.

"These medicinal materials of yours are not of the highest quality, they are not big in size, and the price... is not high, you know."

"I see."

Lin Caisang naturally wouldn't be pretentious and nodded.

"The top quality items are all at home. They must be taken care of before being sold. Otherwise, it will be difficult to appraise them."

What she brought today was indeed only small medicinal materials. She had to dry the large medicinal materials before selling them, otherwise she would feel at a loss just by lowering the price of the semi-wet medicinal materials.

Old man: "..."

He said this as if he would be ignorant of her medicinal materials.

"The little girl makes a living by collecting herbs?"

"Collecting herbs for a living, you can also say that although I just started collecting herbs, I really want to make a living from them in the future." Lin Caisang nodded.

It seems a bit unreasonable for her to be a miracle doctor and not rely on medicine to make a living, right?

Besides, Jinzhu Space has to rely on her to cure diseases and save people in order to be upgraded. Now she can only grow medicinal materials, and at least upgrade livestock. Who can raise some poultry to be self-sufficient.

But now...

She doesn't want to think about anything else except making money. It's hard to live without money.

"Xiao Shi, take all these medicinal materials to the backyard at a moderate price and let them bask in the sun for a few more days." The old man raised his hand to wave to the waiter and ordered him.

"Huh? Below average?"

Xiao Shi stared at the Gastrodia elata in the old man's hand.

It's obviously so small, how can it be below average? It's obviously inferior quality, and it's still a semi-finished product. What's wrong with the old shopkeeper? Is he confused?

"Ah, what, hurry up and go." Seeing that he didn't move, the old man said to him again.

"Oh, yes, little one, go right here."

Xiao Shi hurriedly responded, carrying a bamboo basket, and took Lin Changhong and Lin Caisang to weigh in.

"Father, what are you looking at?"

After a while, the old man stared at Lin Caisang's retreating back until a voice sounded in his ears.

"Look at a little girl." The old man replied.

"What? A little girl, what does she look like? Which family is she from? What's her name? Father, do you really like her?" After hearing the old man's words, the man was startled at first, but soon returned to normal, but A long series of questions came from his mouth.

Hearing this, the old man glanced at him angrily.

"My son is about to get married, why are he still making such a noise?"

"Aren't I worried about your affairs? You said you are so picky about accepting a disciple. Now that I finally find one, I have to pay more attention to it."

the man said.

"she?"

The old man's eyes were slightly strange, and he shook his head with a chuckle.

"That little girl, I'm afraid no one is lucky enough to accept her as a disciple."

"I'm curious about what you said." The man chuckled, disagreeing with the old man's words.

"Isn't she just a little girl? How can she be praised so much by you? Is it possible that she can be self-taught?"

"Go and take a look at the medicinal materials she sent. Don't disturb me here." The old man waved to him.