

Star of Space 677

Chapter 677 Are you willing?

Before Lin Caisang could say anything, Lin Laogan's voice rang in everyone's ears. Lin Caisang looked at her grandpa in confusion, and couldn't help but want to ask: When will her grandpa follow her? What has been discussed? Why doesn't she know?

"No one is rich now, so it's impossible for everyone to contribute any amount of money. So Sang Sang and I discussed that we should charge each family one penny a day. We don't have much left over. Calculated.

"What? A penny a day?"

When the step clan elder heard what Lin Lao Gang said, he almost jumped up in shock.

How many families are there in their Ya Village? Each family earns a penny a day. How much money can this forest collector earn just by selling water? Why don't the two grandsons go out and rob!

"What? Do you always think the step clan is too small?" Lin Laogong looked at the step clan elder and asked with raised eyebrows.

"Indeed, there is less money than a penny today, but we are all from the village, so we shouldn't go too far. We all have to meet each other in the future, don't you think?"

"this....."

The corner of the stepfather's mouth twitched violently, and his eyes staring at Lin Laogong seemed to be quenched with poison.

But what can he say, to avenge the injustice of the people in the village? Or point your finger at Lin Laogan and Lin Caisang's noses and scold them for getting into money's eyes? None of these will work.

"I do feel like there's something missing, missing.

He could only whisper angrily.

"As a stepfather, one penny is already a lot of money. As my grandpa said, we are all from the village. We, the Lin family, cannot make money from everyone, otherwise everyone will not say that our family is too snobbish in the future. Yes, don't you think so?"

Lin Changhong looked at his stepfather and said something.

Step clan elder: "..."

This Lin Changhong is not a good guy either.

Look at what he said, isn't it an insinuation that he is snobbish? Why is he so snobbish? His reputation in the village has been very good these years, okay?

Also, since you are all 'fellows from the countryside', why do you still need to collect cash? Wouldn't it be better and more reasonable to just not collect cash? As for not being obsessed with money, in fact, no one in the Lin family loves money as much as the Lin family!

"Old bastard, to be honest, if you charge a penny a day, you might as well not charge me at all. Didn't you tell me that we are all from the same village? After all, we live in the same village."

He said angrily to Lin Laogan.

"How can that be done?"

Before Lin Laojie could speak, Lu Qiubo spoke.

"Elder stepfather, although we are all fellow villagers, we are still brothers who have settled accounts. When we, Sangsang, wanted to dig a pond, no one dug it for us without paying us. Now that we need water, let us Not accepting cash, this is unjustifiable, right?"

Besides, this time everyone wants water, and we don't charge money. What about next time? What about the next time? From now on, whoever needs water will come to my Sangsang mountain to pick it up. The water on the Menghuang mountain is not allowed to be used. Is it over?

My family, Sangsang, dug this pond for their own fields, not for everyone in the village to use every year. It's okay for villagers to help each other, but they can't help each other all the time. What belongs to anyone is not their own. We would not be happy if we gave it to others for nothing if it is useful.

Stepfather, if you are willing to give us some of your belongings, would you be willing? "
