Chapter 73 Medium Mission - Recommended!

In other words, she had been thinking about taking on the mission, but never took it on. She felt that Jinzhu Space was going to be exhausted. After she was busy for a while, she had to take on a mission and give herself some exercise.

"Grandma, your grandpa is the most familiar with the people in the village. When I draw a rough sketch some other day, I will ask my eldest brother to work with you. Just leave the money-making matters to me."

"Sang Sang, let grandpa and grandma take care of this matter. I'd better follow you into the mountains, right?" Lin Changhong frowned, looked at Lin Caisang and said.

How can he rest assured if Sangsang is allowed to go to the mountains alone?

"Brother, Grandma and the others may not be able to understand the pictures I drew. How can I rest assured if you don't keep an eye on me?" Lin Caisang approached his eldest brother and lowered his voice to explain.

Just like the wheelchair last time, Lin Changhong could immediately tell what the painting was. She wanted to try it again to see if Lin Changhong really had this talent. If he did, he would have to focus on cultivating it.

When Lin Changhong heard what she said, he nodded immediately.

The matter of more than 300 acres of barren mountains was left to the family, and Lin Caisang still carried a bamboo basket into the mountains.

Only this time, she didn't dig for medicinal materials, but felt that there was no one around, and ducked directly into the golden bead space.

Putting down the bamboo basket, she came to the jade mirror.

"Brother Yujing, are there any tasks you can take on recently? This girl is particularly lacking one thing, and that is money!" She asked, looking at Brother Yujing seriously.

It's hard to move without money, that's who she is now.

A twenty-acre pond is not just a matter of digging a pond. According to her idea, several extra-large waterwheels must be built, as well as small iron dams, which can open the gates when there is severe water shortage. Water is released so that the grain in the fields will not be harvested.

But the only thing missing to make these things is money!

'have.

A word was displayed in the jade mirror, and soon, many words were revealed.

Lin Caisang looked at it carefully. There were three tasks displayed in the jade mirror. From top to bottom, they were divided into three tasks: high, medium and low. As the name suggests, the difficulty was definitely high, which was the hardest.

After the medium task, two words were written in brackets - Recommended!

"Brother Yujing, do you mean that medium-level tasks have the most money?" Lin Caisang asked.

She just said she was short of money, so this recommended task must be the one with the most money, right? She wants to take on this task, right?

Sure enough, another word 'yes' appeared in the jade mirror.

"Then there is no money for high-level tasks. Shouldn't it be that the more difficult the task, the more money you earn?" she asked.

‘Advanced missions, you can get more points by completing them, but they take a long time. Most of the people in a town north of Qianlin County are sick, and the government is offering a reward of one thousand taels of gold for treatment. Are you sure you want to accept the advanced missions?’

Two more lines of words were displayed in the jade mirror.

‘If you want to take on a high-level mission, please say that Jade Mirror is at your service.’

Looking at the words on the jade mirror, Lin Caisang's eyes flashed.

Most of the people in the whole town are sick, so what's the point if there's no plague? Or maybe he was given a chronic poison? But an entire town would offend one person, and would they be so resentful by this person that they would poison so many people?

That shouldn't be the case, right?

"Brother Yujing, let me ask, if I accept this high-level mission, can I still accept other missions without completing it? For example, that medium mission?"

she asked.

With so many people sick, it would be unreasonable for her not to treat them, right? But if she accepted it, if she couldn't complete the task within a while, wouldn't she suffer a big loss? If she didn't get the money, how would she pay for the work?

'cannot.'

Yujing replied to her with two words.

"Then I'll take the medium mission first. Will the high-level mission still be there after I complete it?" Lin Caisang asked again.

'If there is no one left to treat, the mission will continue until all those sick are dead. ' Yu Jing replied to her.

Lin Caisang: "..."

Brother Yujing, I know you have no feelings, but can you please stop 'saying' the words 'dead light' in the future? Why does she look so scared?

"Take the medium mission first."

She raised her hand and rubbed the goosebumps on her face before speaking.

'Okay, Master. ' Four words were displayed in the jade mirror.

The next moment, a vortex as tall as a person came out next to the jade mirror and sucked Lin Caisang directly into it.

"Ah...um!"
