

Star of Space 947

Chapter 947 What good ending can there be?

He was sure that if he dared to say no to her, he would be left to eat dirt in this hellish place together with King Lin.

"Girl, calm down, calm down, don't be like King Lin. He has been in the mountains for too long and is angry and talks nonsense. I will talk about him and talk about him."

"The surname is Mo!"

When Sui Zilin heard what Commander Mo said, he was so angry that his head was smoking.

He is the prince, and those people should listen to him. Even if he wants their lives, they must surrender obediently. Now they actually want to preach to him?

Is this person named Mo a coward?

"Mo, when did you become a dog next to this stinky girl? Tsk, do you really think that if I am in trouble today, I will not be able to cure you? When I get out of this ghost place, I will have to be punished by my father. You nine tribes don't... huh!"

"His Royal Highness Lin Wang, please stop talking.

Before Suizilin finished speaking, Commander Mo covered all his words in his mouth. He dragged Suizilin aside, and the two of them went to whisper.

"Mo, what do you want to do? If you dare to touch me, you are impatient."

At the edge of the cave, Sui Zilin finally broke free from Commander Mo's hold, looked at him angrily, and yelled.

"His Royal Highness Linwang, can you... please stop making trouble? Whether we can leave Baibind Mountain depends on His Highness King Mo and that girl. If you offend these two people, what will happen to you? ?"

Commander Mo originally thought that it was stupid enough for him to treat Lin Caisang like this before, to think so highly of himself, and to demote Lin Caisang to the ground. But I didn't expect to meet someone even more stupid here.

It seems that Prince Lin has suffered so much in Baibind Mountain for nothing. He has no memory at all.

"You know, that girl has a look on her face that even the emperor has to look at."

"What do you mean?"

Sui Zilin glared at Commander Mo and said.

"Didn't my father send them here? How dare they disobey my father? If they dare to do anything to me, I will ask my father to kill them all after I return!"

Anyway, he will not keep anyone who dares to disrespect him.

At this age, Mo, his father had not allowed him to move before. He had stayed here long enough, and now he dared to disobey his orders. So what would he do with such a dog?

Just kill him.

"Stop talking."

Commander Mo couldn't help but lament in his heart. His Royal Highness, King Lin, is really not afraid of trouble.

Was he blind before? How could he think that as long as he could curry favor with King Lin and become his subordinate, he would be able to have a prosperous official career and be promoted step by step?

No, no, that's not the case.

Before, I didn't compare King Mo with King Lin. Now that King Mo is back, comparing the two sides like this is a world of difference.

"His Royal Highness Lin Wang, do you know that in order for the Emperor to ask that girl to rescue you, the treasury was almost emptied by that girl?"

Although this statement is a bit exaggerated, it is not an exaggeration.

The treasury has always been the top priority of every country. Anyone who has nothing to do is allowed to take a walk in the treasury. Lin Caisang is only the third emperor since he ascended the throne.

The first two had made great achievements in the defense of the country, and when they entered the treasury, they only chose one treasure and did not dare to think anything wrong about other things.
