

Starchild 361

Chapter 361: Triumph in the Skies

In the dead of the night, standing on the wall of the girl's dorm, Yun Xi looked at the light shield, taking out the shell he got from Casina hesitantly.

The light shield was a protecting magic circle set by the hero ranked mages of the Heaven's Road Palace. Even a mosquito couldn't fly through it.

However, it was meaningless in front of Casina's token, the shell. Yun Xi just took out the shell from his pocket, then the light shield automatically dissolved and exposed a big hole in front of him.

Perhaps only Yun Xi had the privilege to go and leave the girl's dorm freely, where should be a forbidden zone of men.

"It's awesome..." Looking at the shell that was emitting dim white lights, Yun Xi felt the authority of his champion teacher, Casina the sixth Sky God again.

The defense measures of the entire White Lotus Sword Palace performed practically no function in the front of Casina's token.

After climbing over the wall, Yun Xi raised his head and looked into the distance, gazing at the Sands of Time in the starry sky. This floating ship was suspended not far away from the Sky Tower.

Even if he was looking at it from thousands of metres away, the special shape of the ship and the vague lights surrounded it still made him feel dazzled, as if he was looking at a treasure in the desert.

He looked carefully and finally found the road Casina left for him.

No, it was actually not a road, but just a thread that hung down from the sky. If it wasn't because of the light from the shell in his hands, he could barely find the fine thread in the darkness.

"Is this the only way?" Looking at the thread that wasn't even thicker than his hair, he was dumbfounded.

How could he climb up to the Sands of Time along this thin thread?

"Yes, it's a practice I made for you. Come on up, my cute disciple." Casina's lazy voice came from the sky. Yun Xi could imagine her dead drunk appearance.

He had no choice but tried the tenacity of the thread first.

10% of his strength, 20%... till he used his full strength, he couldn't snap or break the thread that looked thin. He guessed what the material of the thread was, because he didn't think he could snap or break it even if his strength became ten times stronger.

The only problem was how to climb up to the floating ship along the thread now.

He tried to grasp it, and immediately realized that it was a silly idea. When he grasped the thread and put his weight on it, the thread instantly became sharp and cut his hands open.

No, I shouldn't use brute force, otherwise, I would hurt myself.

After a while, he wrapped his palms with his clothes and tried again.

It was operative, but after climbing up dozens of metres, he found that he wasted too much energy.

Of course the thread wouldn't be able to hurt his palms now, but to put all his weight on his palms would consume his strength quickly. After climbing up dozens of metres, his palms had become sore. He didn't think that he could climb up thousands of metres using this method.

He slid down from the sky and sat on the ground, thinking of a better method to climb the thread.

No common idea could help him. Generally, a human couldn't climb up to the sky along the thread with their bodies of flesh and blood, unless they had reached the hero rank.

Of course, Hua Huo was an exception. She could fly.

Casina wouldn't give him a problem that couldn't be solved, there must be an answer, but what's the key to finding it out?

He grasped the thread again, which was so thin and tough that it could even be used as a murder weapon.

A cold feeling came from his palm. Yun Xi pulled the thread, finding that it had an amazing flexibility.

Hum? Flexibility... soft... a vague idea flashed through his mind. He pulled the thread with a stronger strength.

“Ga! Ga!” Strange sounds came from the thread as it was lengthened.

“Can it be...” Looking at the thread, Yun Xi was speechless.

Yes, the key to solve Casina’s test was “soft”.

Not to use brute force, but to use the property of the thread, which was “soft”.

After cleaning his mind, Yun Xi started to make tools.

He fixed the thread between two big trees, making it be a big slingshot on the ground, and fixed the center of the “string” on the third tree.

“Ga! Ga! Ga! Ga!” The thread emitted strange sounds.

“Although it’s said that by embracing the wind, even a pig can fly. But... it’s too surreal!” Standing in the center of the special slingshot, he didn’t know what he should say now.

“Shuffle!” Yun Xi brandished his sword and smashed the third tree. The powerful elastic force instantly sent him into the sky.

The frightening acceleration even made him lose hearing temporarily. He crouched his body subconsciously, flying into the sky like a cannonball.

No! Suddenly, he found that he made an arithmetical error. If he kept flying, he would pass through the Sands of Time from the air dozens of metres away.

If so, he would drop to the ground miserably!

“Ding!” In the nick of time, his twin swords flew out the sheaths themselves and flew under Yun Xi’s feet.

Stepping on the swords, he narrowly arrived at the floating ship.

“Hum, not good, not bad, just so so. I give you 80 points. The next practice is to do it again.”

Chapter 362: The New Talent

Casina spoke and held the goblet in her hand and looked up at the moon, then Yun Xi’s miserable fate had been determined.

He didn’t even know what hit him when his twin swords flew out of his hands and stuck into the floor of the floating ship. He himself was kicked off the ship by some unknown force, dropping to the ground from thousands of metres high in the sky.

“Arrrghhh!” The sense of weightlessness made him emit a sad cry.

I will die! I will die! Without the twin swords, I would dash my brains out on the ground!

“Shuffle!”

When Yun Xi was about a dozen of metres away from the ground, the thread suddenly moved and formed a web that was full of flexible threads, catching his falling body in the air, and barely stopped when he was only a few centimeters away from the ground. Then, his body was bounced into the sky again.

“Whoaa!” He didn’t expect to see the “softness” of the thread in this manner.

Rolling around in a lot of threads in the air, and bounced up and down for dozens of times, he finally stood on the ground, gasping for air.

The web returned to its initial form, the thread again.

“This is... soft...” Yun Xi experienced how special the thread was with his own body.

“Do it again. Your creativity isn’t bad.” Casina’s lazy voice came from the sky, telling him that he didn’t do wrong.

The only mistake he made was to borrow strength from the twin swords. Casina didn't like to see him pull through the difficulty by using the pair of top-level spirit weapons.

"What a strict teacher." Yun Xi pulled the thread and calculated the parameters the super slingshot he would make.

"Wind... acceleration... and inertia..." Failure is the mother of success. From the experience before, he knew how to develop a new super slingshot to shoot himself into the sky.

Compared to the first shoddy slingshot, this one was more sophisticated. He even knitted the thread, increasing the elasticity of the slingshot several times.

He had no clue what the material of the thread was made of. No matter how strong a strength he used, it wouldn't break. It was really a treasure!

"Ok... I think it's done now..." Again, he stood in the center of the new super slingshot.

Human cannonball, fire!

"Bang!" Yun Xi's body was shot into the sky like an arrow. This time, he flew to the sky that was even hundreds of metres taller than the floating ship, the Sands of Time.

"Right now!" Looking down at the floor of the Sands of Time, his body nimbly turned around in the air.

He wasn't holding a sword in his hand, but there was a sword in his heart.

Flying Swallow Sword!

Like a swallow flying in the sky, he overcame gravity and gently landed on the floor of the Sands of Time, looking at Casina who was sitting on the throne leisurely.

“99 points.” Casina drank the poisonous wine from Hydra and praised him with a satisfied air.

Undoubtedly, her new disciple, Yun Xi, had a great talent.

In the past, even her best disciple couldn't climb up to the floating ship before trying dozens of times.

Different people had different ideas, there wasn't an exact answer to solve this problem. Yun Xi's method was the most imaginative of all.

She didn't give him 100 points, because she didn't want him to be too proud.

“Lie down and practice the Treasure Ship Style 1000 times. Be quick!” Casina pleasingly put her toes on the ground and stepped onto Yun Xi's back.

Everything was as smooth as floating clouds and flowing water. Before Yun Xi saw her moving, he had felt her weight on his back and was forced to leave his hands off the ground for a support.

“Hum... very well, your body just became better.” Sitting on his back, Casina drank and urged him to practice the Treasure Ship Style.

“I see...” What else could he say when it was such a strong and capricious teacher?

Casina said that his body had become better... Yun Xi himself also noticed it.

When he met the Black Demon Dog, he entered the Killing Princess Mode and his mind firmly remembered the feeling of controlling each muscle and blood cell of his body. Even though he could only repeat one tenth of the special mode now, it was still an amazing treasure.

The Killing Princess indeed left him a very valuable treasure.

The memory that was hiding deep within his body was activated now.

Contract his muscles, and loosen them.

Control the rhythm of his breathing, and the beat of his heart.

Originally, the knowledge could only be learned after repeating the same practice thousands of times. But now, they were flowing into his mind naturally.

“Oh... oh! Very good. Keep going!” Sitting on his back, Casina knew the movement of his every muscle. She found that her disciple quickly learned the skill of the Treasure Ship Style.

He was still a bit inexperienced at first, but quickly got himself into it.

In Casina's eyes, he didn't look like a newbie who only practiced the Treasure Ship Style one night, but like a man who had practiced it countless days and nights.

This was the so-called talent, the talent about practicing.

After repeating the Treasure Ship Style for a thousand times, Yun Xi gasped for air. Sweat broke out all over his body.

He could clearly feel that Casina became two times heavier than before when the practice was drawing to an end. If he didn't use the skill he learned from the memory of the Killing Blood, he would have laid on his stomach like a dead body.

"Good. You have mastered the skill of the Treasure Ship Style. The next is to increase the training intensity." Casina squinted at him, who was probably the most excellent disciple of hers.

"It's time to teach you the third style."

Chapter 363: The Swing Style

"The third style?" Wiping away the sweat on his forehead, Yun Xi felt that his body had been exhausted. Practicing the Treasure Ship Style a thousand times was already his limit, it wasn't possible to study any new style now.

“There are seven basic styles in the Battle God Genre, and it’d be better to master them as soon as possible. You have great talent, but to learn the third style you must have a strong will too.” Looking at Yun Xi, Casina also considered whether it was too early to teach him the third style.

In the past, her best disciple learned the third style after practicing the Treasure Ship Style a week.

“Can I become strong after learning the third style?” Yun Xi took a deep breath and looked at Casina seriously.

In order to have a wonderful future, in order to escape away from his four ex-girlfriends, he pursued powers.

Even though the stars had pointed out a road for him, which could let him become stronger and stronger as long as he kept experiencing the trial worlds.

However, it wasn’t enough. He had a strong sense of crisis in his heart. Therefore, even though his body had groaned with pain, he still wanted to try it now.

“Yes, the third style can greatly help you improve your physique, but it’s really a harsh trial for you. Because there isn’t an upper limit when talking about its difficulty.” A mysterious smile appeared on the corners of Casina’s mouth.

It was really rare to find such an enterprising disciple.

Most people with great talents were proud and arrogant, including her previous disciples, they couldn’t understand the meaning of doing basic training.

Now, she found a new pleasure in her life, that was to cultivate this new disciple and wait for him to grow up. Then one day, he would be able to challenge his predecessors, her previous disciples whose fame had spread far and wide.

“I will do it!” Yun Xi ground his teeth. Regardless that his body was protesting with aching pain, he stood up steadily.

After the limit practice in the valley, his soul had been reborn. His body was improved, and his will too.

He believed that he could accomplish Casina’s special training, even though it was obviously much more difficult and dangerous.

“Ok, then let’s start. I can tell you, none of your previous predecessors accomplished the third style perfectly.” Casina looked at her poor disciple, who was trying to challenge the third style without even knowing anything about it.

Even his predecessors, her disciples who had reached the hero rank didn’t want to remember the experience of practicing this again!

“May I ask the name of the third style?” Yun Xi raised his hand. He suddenly had an ominous presentiment.

“I named it ‘the Swing Style’.” Casina smiled with expectation. She gently stretched out her hand and pulled out a thread from her ear.

“Gee?” Yun Xi looked at the thread in surprise. Undoubtedly, it was the same thread that hung down from the floating ship.

Can the thread be just a strand of her hair?

“Shuffle!” Before he reacted, the thread had bound his waist.

“Listen, the Swing Style follows the rule of the ring of all things. You need to experience the limit of ‘softness’ in the endless circular rings.”

“And remember, it will be a test to your physique. Before you lose consciousness, it won’t stop.”

Before Yun Xi understood the meaning of it, his body had been thrown out.

“Puff!” In the violent wind, he lost the control of his body, flying in the air like a kite.

And this was just the beginning of his hell!

“Shuffle!” The boundary between sky and earth became nebulous in his eyes. His stomach twisted, because he was experiencing a terrible acceleration that ordinary people could never withstand.

Spinning around the Sands of Time, he started to “practice” the “Swing Style”, which really should be called “endless circling motion”.

At first, he could still move his hands and legs, trying to adjust the balance of his body.

Then, he ground his teeth, trying to preserve bearing.

Soon afterwards, he felt dazzled and saw illusions in his sight.

The name “Swing Style” deceived him, although it looked really like swinging in the air.

However, when it was swinging on a strand of hair, spinning around a ship that was suspended in the sky that was thousands of metres high, it wasn’t enjoyable at all.

Moreover, it was accelerating!

In the tenth round, Yun Xi thought that he had seen the world of the afterlife, where he was surrounded by countless golden stars.

“Well... well... he’s created a new record...” Looking at him, Casina praised.

Her best disciple before could only hold on seven rounds. He had experienced ten rounds and was still up and running.

It seemed that he hadn’t reached his limit.

Well, why don't we challenge a higher threshold? Casina snapped, then the floating ship moved bit by bit, flying to the sky above.

From thousands of metres high to tens of thousands of metres high, the "Swing Style" didn't have a limit. If she wanted, she could even let the ship fly out of the atmosphere, making him experience the "Planet Swinging".

Of course, he was still a mortal, he couldn't breathe after leaving the atmosphere, so she didn't really consider this alluring idea seriously.

"Arrrghhh!" Although his eyes were bleary, he still immediately felt the increase in the speed. His stomach turned flips, and his mind finally went blank in the 18th rounds.

"Hum... very well, a new record!" Taking him aboard, Casina kicked his body and murmured with satisfaction.

The next second, her god weapon, gravel-like lights diffused from the sword "the Sands of Time" and fell onto Yun Xi's body.

Chapter 364: The Gravel of Time

The Sands of Time was the only known sky sword about the rules of "time". It was inherited in Casina's desert tribe from generation to generation, which was said that it could reverse time.

After becoming the sixth Sky Sword, Casina inherited it from the previous clan elder, however, she never used it in battle.

Many people doubted if Casina could really use the real power inside of this god weapon, after all, the rules of time were mysterious, it was a realm that even gods couldn't easily set foot in.

However, as long as any people saw this scene, they would understand that Casina was the sword's veritable master. Undoubtedly, the gravel-like lights were the power of the Sands of Time.

Stepping her bare feet onto Yun Xi's body, Casina checked his changes after practicing. "Hum... his physique was improved 3%, the flexibility of his body was improved 5%, and his bone and nerves were improved by 1%."

If scholars saw this data, they would go crazy. Theoretically, humans couldn't improve their bodies so much after just practicing for a night. It was a miracle!

In fact, Yun Xi's body had reached the peak of the third rank in the Water God's world. He just couldn't be compared to the "monsters" like Hua Huo, but was far better than ordinary people.

The three styles Casina taught him helped him increase the speed to surpass the limit of flesh and blood.

"The Sands of Time, tell me the lifetime of my disciple," Casina ordered her sky sword in a casual tone.

One of the abilities of her sky sword, the Sands of Time was to predict the lifetime of any target in front of it.

Of course, it just judged the lifetime of the target from the target's current life force. If the target was killed or died by disease in the future, it wouldn't be able to predict these accidents.

Before reaching the hero rank, mortals could only live about 100 years. Very few people could live 150 years even if their genes were very excellent, but their lifetimes couldn't be higher.

After reaching the hero rank, the number would become different from person to person. According to their conditions when entering the hero rank and the practicing roads they had chosen, the highest record of a lifetime was ten thousands of years, and the shortest was three years.

The person whose lifetime was ten thousands of years was because of his bloodline. One of the person's ancestors was a long lived creature.

The person who could only live three years was because he used a very special method to break through the barrier between the mortal rank and the hero rank, which caused an untreatable sequela inside of his body.

Most people who used forbidden methods to enter the hero rank knew the cost they would pay very well. But sometimes, for some purposes, they didn't mind to paying with the cost of their lives.

The gravel on Yun Xi's body started trembling. Casina never saw such a weird scene before.

Why is it so difficult to predict my disciple's lifetime? Casina looked at Yun Xi in confusion. Generally, it wouldn't take the sword a second to give her the answer.

One minute... two minutes... five minutes later, the sands on the ground arranged and formed a number, which really shocked Casina.

“Three months... you must be kidding me...” Casina lightly kicked Yun Xi’s body. She didn’t feel any wound, illness or curse in or on his body. He was just exhausted because of excessive fatigue, but... at any rate, it wouldn’t shorten his life to only three months!

While Casina doubted, the gravel moved on the ground again. This time, the chaos was longer. After ten minutes, they formed a new number.

“One, two, three, four...” It was such a large number that Casina didn’t believe her eyes. The entire history of the endless god’s domains was like nothing compared to that number. How could that be a mortal’s life?!

“Hey, what does this mean? Even the so-called immortal gods can’t have such a long life!” Casina didn’t believe it at all.

“Shuffle!” Finally, the gravel on the ground stopped moving and became lifeless again.

“Oh, my sword is so unreliable.” Casina rubbed her forehead. It seemed that it made a mistake again.

She didn’t use the Sands of Time in battle, because she knew how unreliable the power of time was.

Only the people who really knew the rules of time understood how hard it was to use this power.

It seemed powerful to predict future, stop or accelerate time, but once they made any mistake, the result would be disastrous.

The things living beings could see through the river of time weren't something that human brains could understand.

For example, Ouroboros could see the future from the river of time, but it couldn't gauge the correct time.

Maybe it was a thing that would happen a year later, but it could also happen after one hundred thousand years.

Ordinary people could only live about 100 years. Even if they knew a thing that would happen one hundred thousand years later, what could they do? Even if they recorded it, they wouldn't know the people after one hundred thousand years would see it.

"Three months, or longer than the history of the endless god's domains..." Casina was speechless.

What a strange disciple!

Maybe it was because Hydra had found it a long time ago, so she chose him to be her bride?

Otherwise, it was hard to explain why a god would have a partiality for a common human young boy.

Chapter 365: The Battle God's Gift

"Whoa, it's... amazing..." Sitting on Yun Xi's back, she poked his acupuncture points stimulating his body function and thought of the advanced practicing plan.

If the worst situation happened, and Yun Xi really had only three months of life, what could she do to change this?

The Sands of Time just predicted the target's lifetime by judging the target's life force. It was a theoretical value but not an irreversible prophecy.

In fact, most people couldn't live for 100 years, so the theoretical value would only be established in the most perfect state.

"Three months or shorter, is there any imperceptible defect in his body? No, I don't think so. His body is perfect..." Casina started to consider how she could help her disciple.

Her "soft body" had reached the acme of perfection. As a martial artist who knew the human body far better than anyone, she didn't think that Yun Xi's body had any defect.

On the contrary, his physique was the best amongst all her disciples, this was also one of the most important reasons why she wanted him to be her disciple.

"If it wasn't because of his body, then there should be another reason. Maybe there are problems about his mentality, soul or natal horoscope..." Looking at Yun Xi's sleeping face, Casina guessed.

Mentality was a basic to study magic. Casina heard that some people who had a natural autism could obtain strong mentality naturally, however, their minds were also easy to break down, because their bodies couldn't handle the burden of such a strong mind.

Soul was a mystery of the universe, just like the rules of time. Even gods couldn't interfere with it too much.

Natal horoscope was a person's fate. There were always special people or heroes appearing in the river of history, who could change their fates by exceeding many people's expectations. For the people who had the Emperor Natal Horoscope, it was much easier to become an emperor than anyone else, and the people who had the Death Natal Horoscope were doomed to be lonely all their life.

Even Casina herself had the natal horoscope called "Battle God".

However, Casina wasn't good in these realms, therefore, she couldn't say if Yun Xi had some problem with his mentality, soul or natal horoscope. But if he didn't have any problem, how would her sword say that he could only live for three months?

Fortunately, in the long history, there were always some special geniuses who had these problems too, and there were thousands of cases about how to solve the illness of the soul.

Geniuses were valuable treasures, therefore, there were always forces who would do everything to heal them. In history, in order to help the geniuses who had the same problems, countless forces tried various methods to cure the illnesses of the soul.

Some of them didn't even mind using a forbidden skill that would sacrifice a million ordinary people.

"I think it's a problem about his soul." Casina hesitated, then put down a shell onto Yun Xi's chest.

"So, I will give you this."

"Even to me, it's a unique treasure. Don't disappoint me, my disciple."

Countless sand dropped from Casina's sword, the Sands of Time and gathered to the shell, forming a light hourglass like pattern on it.

It was Casina's "identity". In order to help Yun Xi solve the problem of his soul, she conferred unto him her "identity".

"Anyway, I don't need to go to 'that place' anymore. You should be able to find some treasures to cure your soul there. Don't waste it."

"Oh..." Yun Xi woke up. He felt that his body was relaxed and his chest felt warm. He could smell a trace of the bouquet of wine from his mouth.

He sat up and looked around, finding that he was sitting on the ground, and the floating ship was nowhere.

He heard Casina's voice beside his ears.

"My cute disciple, that's all for today. You did well. I need to leave for now, and the next training will start three days from now. Try to get used to your improved physique before that."

"Oh, and I left a gift for you. Remember to hold the shell in your hands and repeat 'Open, the Sky Tower' three times when you sleep. Something fantastic will happen after that!"

“I was planning to give you this after you entered the hero rank, but you behaved good, so I will give it to you now. Don’t feel shy to praise your generous teacher!”

“Oh, and I have erased the side effects of the practice using the Sands of Time. The next training will be much harder, please prepare yourself.”

“Oh, that’s really ‘generous’!” Yun Xi retorted and looked at his chest.

On the white shell, there was an hourglass like pattern. Is it Casina’s gift?

“Open, the Sky Tower!” sounds like a secret signal. What does it mean?

With doubts in his heart, he stood up and stealthily returned to his room in the girl’s dorm.

On the way, he understood the improvements the “Swing Style” had brought for him.

“My speed is 5% faster, and my flexibility is increased 3%, or more. My bones and nerves are improved by 1%. Apart from these, nothing has been changed.”

Yun Xi checked his body with a strange look.

Is it because of the talent of the “Soft Body”?

His body was already very close to the limit of ordinary humans. Even 1% was an amazing change, not to mention 5%.

The improvement in his speed and flexibility were easy to understand, but his bones and nerves were also improved by 1%. He was actually developing into a non human!

Chapter 366: One Day in the Life of the Maid "Mei" (1)

In the White Lotus Sword Palace, the beginning of "Mei's day" started from the first light of the day shining on his bed.

"Puff... it's time to get up..." There was no clock in his room, but his body naturally understood what time it was.

3 o'clock, he returned from Casina's room. After that, he rested on the bed for about three hours, therefore, it should be 5: 45 a.m. now.

"Woof!" The big sister of the three sisters, Star Thunder, ran to him and licked his face. He had gotten permission from the dormitory attendant so that he could keep the three puppies in his room.

"Good morning, Star Thunder." Yun Xi kissed the little puppy.

"Woof!" Star Fire retorted with a vague bark. Although it still laid on the bed and didn't want to move at all.

“Good morning Star Fire.” Yun Xi picked her up from the bed and kissed this naughty little rascal too.

“Oh, and you, don’t stay up late.” Start Snow didn’t sleep all night, because she was trying to practice a special meditation.

In order to let the dormitory attendant allow him to adopt the three puppies, he really did a lot. Finally, all the girls of the Starwing Knights and Hua Huo interceded for him, so he could obtain the approval from the dormitory attendant.

Originally, students were never allowed to keep pets in the dorms.

“Come here and eat bread. Be good today, don’t make any troubles.” Putting bread and water into their dog dish, Yun Xi looked at them with a smile.

Star Thunder was sedated. Her speed of eating and drinking was fast, just like a natural knight.

Star Fire drank the water in a hurry, then picked up the bread running around in the room. It was hard to understand what she was thinking.

Star Snow quietly bit the bread, behaving like an aristocratic miss.

After they finished eating, there was still 5 minutes left before 6 o’clock. Yun Xi started to check his clothes.

The maid uniform could clean itself automatically, therefore, he didn't really need to wash it even after it became dirty.

"It's... not like me..." Looking at the mirror, Yun Xi sighed.

The girl in the mirror can't be me!

The disguise was so perfect that even he himself couldn't see the difference.

After practicing the three styles he learned from Casina, his "Soft Body" became even better, which also made his "natural beauty of life" become more gorgeous, but it wasn't good news to him at all!

"It doesn't matter, Yun Xi."

"You are just pretending to be a maid, it won't be a long torment."

"The Sword Palace is just a starting point. Once I understand how to master the power of the hero rank, I can escape from this place."

"Be patient, be patient! Don't divert your attention to the White Lotus Secret Treasure, just leave it to Hua Huo."

"Once I obtain the power of the hero rank, I can obtain my real freedom. I won't need to worry about being found by my ex-girlfriends."

“Yes, this is the plan. Just keep going, Yun Xi!”

He patted his cheeks and pumped up himself, speaking his great plan loud in the silent room.

At the beginning of the day, his first quest was to perform his most important task of staying here – at least, Hua Huo said so – that was to wake up his childhood sweetheart every day.

“Hua Huo, are you awake?” Knocking on Hua Huo’s door, he didn’t hear any sound. He sighed and pushed open the unlocked door.

He had expected it. As long as Hua Huo told him to wake her up, she never got up before he came and never locked the door of her room.

In the eyes of other people, Hua Huo was a perfect genius. Only he knew her graceless side.

“Hoo... hoo...” He could clearly see that her childish nightclothes was inside-out, and her sleeping posture was also very strange. Half of her body was on the bed and the other half was on the floor.

Yun Xi didn’t understand how she could keep sleeping in this strange posture!

“Confess leniently, resistance severely... Little Xi... did you play with other girls when I wasn’t watching?!” Hua Huo murmured in her sleep, which made him break out in a cold sweat.

Hua Huo was like a prophet when it was about his relationship with other girls.

When Yun Xi was going to leave their small town stealthily, as if she had predicted it, Hua Huo came to his room and stopped him. After that, he had to be her maid "Mei".

"Goo... hey hey... Mei, you are my possession, no one can take you away."

"Beating down all the disciples in the sword palace and announcing my ownership of you, then no one would dare to get close to you... what a perfect plan..."

Hey, Hua Huo, I heard what you were saying!

Of course, Hua Huo didn't really try to hide her childish plan from the beginning.

"Puff... puff... Little Xi, don't leave me, don't go anywhere..."

"Otherwise... otherwise... even if you run to the remotest corner of the world, I will catch up with you."

"Oh, what can I do? I don't know what to do with you." Yun Xi poked Hua Huo's soft cheeks with his fingers and woke her up.

Chapter 367: One Day in the Life of the Maid "Mei" (2)

"Goo hey hey!"

Being poked by Yun Xi's fingers, Hua Huo didn't look like she would wake up. She turned over and went back to sleep.

She hasn't grown up at all!

Only at this time, Yun Xi could see the other side of his sparkling, unrivalled childhood sweetheart.

Yes, although Hua Huo was a super genius, who even dared to challenge an entire world, she often slept late in the morning. Especially when she told Yun Xi to wake her up, she would never get up herself, which was not like a lady at all.

Yun Xi even smelled the bouquet of wine in the air. Undoubtedly, she drank last night. Although she was underage, she had done this more than once.

Just like eagles don't catch flies, Does being a hero need to mean not to be a stick in the mud?

If she kept going like this and no one stopped her, she would become a wine bibber, drinking all day, just like a useless middle aged uncle!

Even so, she was still a genius who could drink on the battlefield and defeat her enemies at the same time.

Huh? Suddenly, the appearance of a dirty and untidy bearded swordmaster appeared in his mind.

No, that can't be Hua Huo! Moreover, she was only 16 years old. From the beginning, no one is allowed to drink at this age!

"Hua Huo, wake up. Don't drink too much. How can you drink on the first day of school?" In the entire sword palace, no, in the entire world, only Yun Xi dared to say this to her.

In his memory, even Hua Huo's parents never scolded her, which was too respectful as parents. Remembering this, Yun Xi wondered in his heart. Her parents didn't look like her parents at all.

How can they have the same bloodline as Hua Huo? They didn't even dare to blame her for anything. When they saw Yun Xi criticizing Hua Huo, he only saw surprise in their eyes.

But, Hua Huo was a common girl too. She would be angry, jealous, and lazy sometimes. Yun Xi never considered her as a monster, even after knowing how strong she was.

Hua Huo was his best childhood sweetheart, the cutest and most excellent girl in the small town. This was his view of her in his eyes.

He understood her better than anyone. He knew why she was always confident.

The confidence was due to her true power.

Her talent was so great that even though her growth was endless, he didn't even doubt whether she could reach the legend rank in the future, standing on the same stage with Hydra and Casina.

Of course, even so, it's not right to drink at the age of 16!

"Hiccup!" Hua Huo belched.

No! I must do something! Yun Xi regretted.

If I knew this, I wouldn't have done that at that time!

Yes, Yun Xi invited Hua Huo to drink the first cup of wine in her life.

At that time, they were playing the game "Playing House". He mistook the red wine used to make bread with juice and let her drink it.

As a child, Hua Huo drank after only taking a few sips. She caught him and forced him to hold the "marriage ceremony".

That day, he tried his best to resist her, but failed eventually and was forced to do a lot of things he never wanted to remember.

After that, Hua Huo had the bad habit of drinking. Although she always drank secretly, Yun Xi could always figure out when she drank and how much she had drunk.

If she only drank red wine, he could turn a blind eye to it.

However, he couldn't endure this!

She must've drunk high wine last night, otherwise, she wouldn't still be sleeping now and even talking in her dreams!

Hua Huo, you are foul!

Taking a deep breath, he stopped poking her face.

This trick couldn't wake up a person who was drunk.

Slowly and softly, Yun Xi went close to her ear and whispered the "forbidden spell".

"Hua Huo... in fact... the girl I like is..."

"Who is she? Who is she? Who is she? Tell the truth and you will receive a lighter sentence!"

"Tell me, is she Ye Li, El'phyllis or Milei? No, can she be that 'vixen'?"

Instantly, Hua Huo opened her eyes and looked around. The jealousy radar on her forehead had started running!

In a tizzy, she finally realized that she was in her room and there was no “enemy” here. She finally let out a sigh of relief.

She would never relax her vigilance.

They were also Little Xi’s childhood sweethearts, so they would be her enemies forever!

She knew how gentle his character was and how appealing he was to girls. She even found that he once considered marrying one of them in the past.

Hum? Why do I know this? It wasn’t because I peeked in his diary!

Yes, as the inheritor of the exalted Sky Flying Bloodline, how would I do this? It was just because the wind was strong that day and rolled up the pages of his diary.

As for the fact that the diary was originally hidden in the deepest side of the bookshelf and wrapped by the cover of another book, let’s just ignore that! Why did it suddenly appear on the desk? Why was there a wind that could accidentally roll up the pages? And why did it return to its original place after that? It must be the will of the universe, the great power of the world!

Chapter 368: One Day in the Life of the Maid “Mei” (3)

“Good morning Love. Are you awake?” Yun Xi put his hands on his waist and looked at Hua Huo with a strange smile.

Maybe only at this time, he could gain the upper hand in front of his incredible childhood sweetheart.

“Whoa!” Hua Huo first sat stunned for a while, then held her pillow tightly and finally realized what the situation was.

“I wasn’t drunk! I wasn’t drunk!” She pretended to be innocent. Only when facing Yun Xi, could she be so overwhelmed.

After all, she swore in front of him that “I will never secretly drink wine again”.

Of course, just like people often said “I will be moderate in eating tomorrow” or “I will go to sleep after winning this game”, she couldn’t keep her promise either.

Last night, she couldn’t help but sneak out and buy and drink a lot of alcoholic drinks, returning to her room drunk.

The magic circles of the sword palace could prevent malicious people, but couldn’t stop Hua Huo from coming in. They were nothing but air, lights and strange patterns on the ground in her eyes.

“Hua Huo, don’t lie.” Yun Xi stretched out his finger and touched Hua Huo’s lips, then put his finger onto his nose.

As a hero ranked Baker, even if she had rinsed her mouth ten times, he could distinguish what wine she had drunk.

“Tequila? Hua Huo, don’t you know how strong the effect of Tequila is?” Yun Xi confirmed that his childhood sweetheart had become a hard drinker!

“Whoa! No! I only took a sip! Just a sip! It’s true!” Hua Huo looked at him with a pathetic look, just like a little cat who was caught doing something wrong.

A sip? Yun Xi didn’t believe her words at all. Even though it was Tequila, a sip of this wine couldn’t get her drunk.

In Caelian, Black Moon, the cold dark elf, the prototype of the commander of his Mist Soul Army was drunk after drinking several bottles of Tequila, and did that with him...

No! Stop remembering that now! He quickly shook his head. He didn’t want to remember her in front of Hua Huo.

The thing that happened that day was like a key to the “tight door” in his heart. After that, he found that he gradually couldn’t control his desire, and this caused him troubles later on.

Oh, Tequila is a bad wine! I should never touch it!

“Hua Huo, don’t do that again! Remember, as a genius and a beautiful girl, it’s wrong to drink too much!” Yun Xi subconsciously started his homily.

Although he was still wearing the maid uniform, the atmosphere around him made him look serious. Listening to his long homily, she only wanted to cry.

Ooo, there won't be a next time. I won't let you find out again!

Not surprisingly, she wasn't going to stop drinking.

Will she really become a female sword master who doesn't know to take care of herself in daily life? Looking at Hua Huo's face, Yun Xi started to worry about her future.

Her attitude really made him worry a lot.

If she could be more modest and stop drinking, she would be a more perfect female sword master!

...

After waking her up and offering her his bread, he started to walk around in the dorm.

He didn't do it on purpose because it was just a casual walk. Two thirds of the girls in this dorm were members of the Starwing Knights, the remaining girls were also excellent students.

Apparently, the Sword Palace tried to set up a typical example, so the dormitory attendant allowed him to adopt the three puppies.

They must think that to gather so many excellent girls together would form a "spotlight effect".

Walking in the hallway, Yun Xi quietly thought in his heart.

“Mei, can you do me a favour?” He heard a familiar voice.

Looking up, he saw the name on the door plate on his right side.

Oh, it was Hua Yue’s room.

“What can I do for you?” He naturally opened the unlocked door and went into her room.

The next second, he regretted it.

Hua Yue’s room was just like her impression in his heart. It was full of the style of the Western God’s Domain.

Whether the gorgeous ceiling, or the candy box like ornaments, or the expensive hand made wool carpet on the ground, they all showed that this was a room of an aristocratic miss.

But they were not the reason for his regret. The leader of the Starwing Knights, Hua Yue herself was the reason.

Under the light of the morning sun, Hua Yue was trying to button the band on her back. The skin of her back was exposed in the air, making him feel embarrassed.

Although she was sitting with her back to him, from the large floor mirror in front of her, he could clearly see the shapes of her breasts.

“Oh, it’s annoying that my breasts have become bigger! I can barely button the band. Mei, help me.” If Lu Lu or Hua Huo heard the “trouble” in her words, they would go crazy!

“Gulp!” Yun Xi swallowed. In fact, he was really shocked by the size of the “troubles” on her chest.

What should I do now?

Chapter 369: The Holy Beetle

Question 1: In the face of an unsuspecting prey, what should I do?

This was a big problem in the eyes of the 16 year old energetic young boy.

Question 2: In the face of the girl who trusts me and wants me to help her, should I turn a blind eye at this time?

This was the question in the eyes of the “maid” who served these girls.

If he chose the “standard answer” for the first question, he would become a “beast”.

If he chose the “right answer” of the second question, he would be an excellent maid.

“Whoa! It shouldn’t be so hard to make a choice!”

I must become an upright gentleman! In his mind, the avatar of his desire and the avatar of his honesty were having a heavy fight.

“Ah!” Suddenly, Hua Yue exclaimed and this broke the balance of the battle in his heart.

“Go! Go! Go!” His desire turned into a black devil, yelling at him with excitement.

“How can you call yourself a man if you draw back at this time?!”

“Let’s go and see what is happening.” His honesty turned into the appearance of the Killing Princess and said straightly.

Is there any other choice? Yun Xi felt that he just walked up to an important crossroad in his life.

“You don’t have any choice! It’s impolite to turn a blind eye to such a beautiful girl!” The devil said in his heart.

“Be quick!” The Killing Princess gazed at him with an indifferent look.

Why isn’t there an option that can let me be a person of integrity? Yun Xi sighed and walked to Hua Yue’s back in a sad mood.

“What’s wrong?” His fingers softly touched her tender skin. After being possessed by the Sky Sword in the Water God’s world, Hua Yue’s temperament had become much more leisurely and confident, and the handfeel of her skin was much more smoothly. If she announced that her identity was a princess from the Western God’s Domain, no one would doubt her words.

“It’s a bug. A bug just flew into my clothes.” Hua Yue’s shoulder shivered, looking like she was enduring something.

She wouldn’t show such an expression in front of others.

As the inheritor of the old White Golden Rose Bloodline, she was raised as a noble since her childhood.

She was as proud as a princess, and as confident as a prince. Her character was totally different from Hua Huo, looking more like an unattainable flower than anyone.

Only in front of “Mei”, she didn’t mind exposing the effeminacy of her heart.

Just like the most beautiful white golden rose in the garden, she was emitting the most colorful light of her life.

It wasn’t a skill she had learned, but was a talent she was born with. Her instinct made her hear the footsteps of Yun Xi, then her hand lightly trembled and the clothes half dropped from her body.

Why did that happen?

It must be the miracle called “fate”.

“A bug?” Yun Xi’s body became stiff. It was really a big problem for both of them.

“Eh. I feel that it just dropped into my dress. Mei, help me.” Hua Yue’s hands covered her “big rabbits” on her chest and showed her back to him.

“Ok... ok...” Yun Xi was so embarrassed that he wanted to cry. Why don’t know any magic that can drive away bugs?

Stretching out his hands, he searched for the bug. His fingers touched her snow white skin, feeling the softness he didn’t really dare to imagine where it was from.

Sitting half naked, Hua Yue closed her eyes shyly, just like a rose that was waiting to be picked.

“I found it!” Being tormented by a sense of guilt, he finally caught the restless bug and drew back his hands from Hua Yue’s dress.

Oh, it’s really a ferocious beetle! How did it fly into the girl’s dorm? From the six golden spots on its shell, it should be a beetle.

“Thank you, Mei. Let it go.” Looking at the struggling beetle in Yun Xi’s hand, she said with mercy.

“Ok.” Looking at the strange bug in confusion, he opened the window and threw it out.

“Recently, I always feel that my chest becomes tight.” After the minor episode, Hua Yue naturally started to chat with Yun Xi.

Since he even touched her skin, it wouldn’t be a problem to help her button her band. Even he himself felt surprised that he got used to it so easily.

“Is this the problem, having a pair of big breasts?” He tried his best not to look at her breasts through the mirror.

“Yes, it troubles me every day, but I can’t solve it. When I study sword skill, they are really a pair of burdens. It’s not easy to adjust the balance of my body with them.” Hua Yue kneaded her big white rabbits with emotion.

“I see. But, you must have drunk a lot of papaya milk so that they could become so big.” Yun Xi said, judging her recipes as a hero ranked Baker.

“You know it well, Mei. At any rate, it’s important to ensure nutrition. Milk and papaya all taste good.” Hua Yue said with a sweet smile, talking about the topics of girls with him.

...

After Yun Xi left the room, Hua Yue pushed open the window and looked at the beetle, who was staying on a leaf without moving.

“The Holy Beetle is expensive, but it’s worth the price!” Hua Yue whistled. Immediately, the beetle flew to her and hid in her clothes.

Chapter 370: Dragon Plant

Tumbling out of Hua Yue’s room, Yun Xi ran to the garden of the cortile.

The floor area of the girl’s dorm was large, one after another small but florid building formed a garden like beautiful scene.

The cortile connected all the buildings. It was a veritable large garden.

One after another big tree surrounded the garden like guardians of the dorm.

Under the morning sunlight, the cortile looked vibrant. Pigeons clucked on the trees and woodpeckers pecked the trunks. A lizard scrambled through a pile of leaves, making murmurous noises.

Suddenly, a gust of wind came from the field and went across the trees, shaking the leaves with shuffling sounds.

The warm sunlight shined on the stone tables and stone benches under the trees, and under the surface of the sparkling water, several small fish were swimming in the pool leisurely.

Everything looked beautiful and peaceful.

“Puff... puff... puff...” Pressing his hand on the trunk of a ten metres tall tree, Yun Xi tried to clear his mind.

If he stayed in the room longer, he didn't know what he would do! The image of Hua Yue's full breasts still haunted him in his mind, which was so hard to forget.

“Are they the reason she was chosen to be the leader of the Starwing Knights?” He didn't understand the judging criteria of girls, but he guessed that Hua Yue's full breasts must be a huge plus when the girls chose her to be their leader.

If the size of breasts could be converted into combat power, apart from Ling Ling, other girls would be beating down instantly.

What did she eat to be so well nourished at this age?

The Lamia Queen and the Mermaid Queen had lived thousands of years, so their bodies could be so perfect. How can a 16 year old human girl defeat them in this respect? It must be a kind of talent!

“Hey! Hey! Hey!” When he sighed, he heard a sound of something pounding, which sounded rhythmical and euphonious.

In the air, he vaguely smelled a fragrance which made his lungs feel fresh.

Walking in the direction from where the sound came, he walked to a patch of ground that was surrounded by a hedge. He could see that the hedge was just made, because there were still leaves remaining on the hedge.

Looking through the hedge, he saw several girls. Coincidentally, he knew them all.

Lu Lu was holding a pickaxe and was loosening the soil.

Xiao Cao was practicing her sword skill on the land beside Lu Lu. She brandished her sword following a special breathing rhythm.

Mei Lan, the clerk of the Starwing Knights was looking at them.

And the other girls were also the members of the Starwing Knights. They were the elites of the civilian girls' camp.

There were two camps in the Starwing Knights: the "noble girls' camp" took Hua Yue as their leader, and the "civilian girls' camp" took Xiao Cao as their leader. Judging from their combat power, the civilian girls' camp was slightly stronger and their members were many more than the noble girls' camp.

At other times, the two camps were competing. Most of the time was for obtaining more of Yun Xi's bread.

"Hey! Ha! Ha!" After a while, Lu Lu stopped and put down the pickaxe, looking at the land with satisfaction.

She loosened the soil for planting herbs. Don't waste any open space, and the best solution is to plant something – it was a tradition of civilians in the entire Eastern God's Domain.

“Are you done?” Mei Lan asked Lu Lu with expectation.

“The soil here is good. I think... 50% of the herbs will be still alive in the fall.” Lu Lu said in a hesitant tone.

“50%... not enough...” Xiao Cao stopped brandishing her sword and shaking her head.

“50%... indeed, it’s not enough.” Other girls also bit their fingers with a grudging look.

“What are you trying to plant?” Yun Xi asked the girls who looked disappointed.

He had shared Lu Lu’s pharmacist talent through her seed, so he understood how good the soil here was. He didn’t think that it’s hard to plant herbs here.

“Dragon Plant. I want to cultivate this herb.” Lu Lu blushed, but still answered his question honestly.

Hum? Dragon Plant... I’ve heard about it... He remembered that he did hear some girls of the Starwing Knights talking about it before.

Dragon Plant could be used to lure dragons. It was said that dragons liked to drink the wine made from Dragon Plants.

In a tale, a hero used it to make a dragon drunk and successfully slayed the dragon.

Of course, it was just a tale. Most dragons' bodies were longer than ten metres. If the tale was true, the dragon must have drunk a ton of wine made of Dragon Plant before it got drunk. The Dragon Plants Lu Lu just cultivated was like a drop in the bucket compared to the unit of a "ton".

"Why do you want to cultivate it? You want to sell them?" Yun Xi remembered that Dragon Plant was very expensive, because they were hard to cultivate. Any change of air, water or soil would make them withered.
