

Chapter 512 Is It Really You

Egan pointed to the other direction as he spoke.

Melissa looked at him and said, "Why aren't any other family members coming over? Why are you the only one here?"

"That's complicated. I shouldn't say too much," Egan replied evasively.

Melissa turned around and retorted, "I know you don't have the guts to tell me. It's pointless to ask you. I'd rather talk to Elin."

"Elin? What does she know? She's just an old lady. Don't underestimate me. I know everything about our family," Egan retorted defensively.

Trying to suppress a laugh, Melissa said in a serious tone, facing away from Egan, "I heard that over 20 years ago, a female member of the Carter family ran away from here..."

Egan's expression changed dramatically upon hearing this.

"It's been over 20 years. Who told you that?" he asked, trying to keep his voice steady.

"I heard it from people in my area, so I became curious," Melissa replied nonchalantly.

"Your area? Did my aunt run away to your area? Do you know where she is now?" Egan asked excitedly.

Surprised by his sudden change of tone, Melissa looked at him quizzically. According to the investigation, her mother had escaped from the Carter family. But it appeared that Egan was eager to see his long-lost aunt.

"She's dead," Melissa replied solemnly.

"Dead?" Egan repeated in shock.

Hearing this, Egan seemed to have been struck hard. He hit his forehead heavily and said, "Damn it."

"Why are you reacting so strongly? Is her death so important to you?" asked Melissa.

Egan sighed, "Of course it's important. But I can't explain it all to you in a short time. I need some time to calm down."

After saying that, Egan left with a heavy heart. Watching him leave, Melissa was lost in thought.

This was the second person whose expression changed drastically when she mentioned her mother.

It seemed that the Carter family didn't want to talk about her mother.

What exactly happened that year?

Why did her mother leave the Carter family?

Furthermore, what kind of place was this?

In order to find the antidote as soon as possible, Melissa knew that she couldn't stay in one place for too long. With Egan's guidance, she successfully reached the northern part of the estate. There was an opulent and stunning villa there, and Melissa assumed it was where the head of the Carter family resided.

As Melissa entered the villa with graceful strides, Mercer Carter lowered his newspaper, removing his glasses to stare at her.

The next moment, a surge of tears abruptly gathered in his eyes.

"My sister, is it really you?"

Mercer lifted Melissa's face, his cheeks stained with tears.

"Mr. Carter, I think you've mistaken me for someone else. I don't think you know who I am."

"But you look so much like her. No... My sister went missing when she was your age. You can't be her, can you?"

Mercer stepped back and looked at Melissa carefully.

"Who are you? Why are you masquerading as my sister?"

"I'm not pretending. I was born this way."

Mercer shook his head in disbelief and exclaimed, "No, that's impossible! Who are you really?" You look just like my sister. How could you be born like that? Unless..."

Mercer's head suddenly shot up, and he fixed his gaze on Melissa's face. "Unless you are my sister's daughter!"
