

Chapter 555 Get Hired

Tears welled in Melissa's eyes as she reflected on it.

"Don't worry. I'll plan my time carefully, and after I finish the interview, I'll do my best to get to the kindergarten."

"Really?" Merrick gazed up excitedly. "Lindsey will be so happy after she finds out."

Melissa stroked Merrick's hair gently. "You don't need to think about things for me anymore. If there is anything else I can do for you, please let me know right away. I want to make all of your wishes come true. I'll be a good mommy from now on."

Merrick nodded, surprised at his mother's statement. He hugged Melissa, planting a kiss on her cheek.

Melissa dashed to the university after waving goodbye to her children.

She had several interviews before, and each time there was a long line of people waiting outside. But this time, when she arrived, no one was in line.

She was looking around for the office when a gentleman with glasses waved her down. "Excuse me, are you Melissa Sherman? Aloys showed me a photo of you. You look much more beautiful in person than in the picture."

"Oh, I am. Thank you." Melissa recognized the man's voice from the phone call she made the night before. "It's nice to meet you."

"This way, please." The man introduced himself as the beginning of the interview. "I'm Albin Warren, and I work in the school's personnel department. I've already read through your entire profile, and I'd like to extend an official welcome to you to our school."

Melissa was surprised to hear that he wanted to immediately hire her.

"You want to hire me now?" Melissa shot him a surprised gaze. "Isn't there an interview process we need to go through?"

"Oh!" Albin palmed his forehead. "You're right! We do need to go through some details first."

He handed a form to Melissa, grinning. "Please fill this form out."

Melissa's gaze scanned over the paper to see that it was an employee registration form. "Uh..."

Albin cocked his head, smiling. "What's wrong? Do you have any further questions? Don't you want to work for our school?"

"I do." Melissa didn't intend to sound regretful. In fact, she was relieved to find that he could easily put so much trust in her ability. "Thank you! I'd be delighted to work for your school and teach your students."

Albin's smile widened. "You shouldn't thank me, you should thank Aloys. He strongly recommended you. I was impressed by his words, so I recommended you to my superiors. The school leaders all thought you would be a great talent to join us, so they decided to hire you right away."

"Well, I will thank him later, then."

"Are you two a couple?" After Melissa filled out the form and handed it to him, Albin decided it was time to start the gossip about her relationship.

"No. We're not a couple."

"Seriously?"

"We're just good friends."

Albin gave a thoughtful nod, suddenly speaking again. "Honestly, I've rarely seen friends be so nice to each other. I've known Aloys for a long time and have never seen him so warm and friendly toward anyone. That's why I assumed you're a couple."

Melissa giggled quietly. "We are more than just friends, actually. We're like family."

Albin looked at her. "Well, it's obvious he has feelings for you. Don't you have feelings for him?"
