

STRIKER 103

Chapter 103 Human Alliance's help

East Side:

Jeremy and others are waiting for the news. But they saw that the commanders went to the battlefield and started killing the remaining beasts.

Their actions were swift. In the blink of an eye, they had killed the remaining Tier-5 Beasts. Those small numbers of Tier-4 Beasts were also dealt with by them.

By the time it was evening, there were no more corrupted beasts invading them. The battlefield was filled with piled-up corpses.

The Beast Tamers from all four sides had started celebrating.

The Commanders and the captains were still staying in their positions. They wouldn't be leaving unless they received word from the City Governors.

Meanwhile,

A white aircraft was coming towards City A at fast speed.

Shortly afterward,

It came to a stop at the top of the City Administration Building. A male figure dressed in a black uniform stepped out of the aircraft.

He had a huge black sword behind him. The man landed on the terrace. The next second, Elton and two other City Governors appeared before him.

The pilot was landing the aircraft on the pad.

"Lord," Elton and the others greeted him.

The man was wearing a mask. He was unwilling to reveal his identity.

"Tell me about the situation," he asked in a deep voice.

Elton and the others didn't mind his secrecy. They immediately briefed him.

About ten minutes later,

A strange glint flashed in the man's eyes. He looked at the City Governors with disdain.

"You three trash can't even solve a single Tier-7 Beast. No wonder our Zone 14 is lagging behind the 13th Zone."

"The City Governors in the 13th Zone, City A, have a record of killing Tier-7 Beasts."

"Three of you are Tier-7 Beast Tamers. Yet you have suffered injuries from Tier-6 Beasts."

"More importantly, you made a mistake by not allowing the Commanders to participate. Their combined numbers could fend off a single Tier-7 Beast."

"Looks like you are going to report truthfully what happened here back to the Human Alliance," the Human Alliance Beast Tamer said.

Hearing that, Elton and the others felt ashamed. But they could only lower their heads in fear.

The Human Alliance Beast Tamers didn't speak further.

Swoosh!

He disappeared from the spot and started moving towards the wilderness. No one there could catch a glimpse of him while he was on the move.

The three City Governors only felt the gust of wind before they saw he was gone.

"What a scary person!"

"If he had attacked us, then no one would have questioned him."

"We are not safe until we get a pardon from the Human Alliance."

"Though our mistake was not big, it's necessary to report back to the Human Alliance."

The City Governors discussed among themselves.

Meanwhile,

The Human Alliance Beast Tamers entered the wilderness within minutes. If others had seen it, they would have been petrified on the spot.

"Hmmm," the Beast Tamer noticed that a small number of Lower Tier Beasts were gathered at the outer edge of the wilderness.

His eyes flashed with surprise before he found the three Tier-6 Beasts.

"These must be the worms," he muttered to himself.

Boom!

He took the black sword from his back and slashed towards the ground. The ground where the three Tier-6 Beasts were staying beneath the surface.

Slash!

A black bolt shot from the sword. It traveled in a straight line before striking the ground.

Kaboom!

The ground exploded into pieces. The black bolt went further down before hitting one of the Tier-6 Beasts.

Pfff!

The worm beast burst into pieces like a watermelon.

Slash!

Similarly, the Beast Tamer made two more slashes. The black bolts went one after another before killing the remaining two Tier-6 Worm Beasts in seconds.

The power released by the sword frightened the gathered Lower Tier Beasts to death. The fortunate ones scattered in fear.

In the blink of an eye, the outer edge was vacated. He had saved the people from another possible wave of attack.

The three Tier-6 Worm Beasts had planned this, but they died this time.

The death of the Tier-6 Beasts was sensed by the Tier-7 Worm Beast. It was hiding in the deeper part of the wilderness.

It sensed that another intruder had come. But this time, the intruder's strength frightened it.

The Human Alliance Beast Tamer sensed something and looked ahead. He knew that the single Tier-7 Worm Beast was behind the attack.

Swoosh!

He disappeared from the outer edge and went deep into the wilderness.

It didn't take him a couple of minutes to arrive at the deeper part of the wilderness. He immediately sensed many high-tier beasts.

But they were not responsible for the invasion. He could even sense more than one Tier-7 Beast.

Apart from the one hiding underground, the rest of them were living in their own territory.

The Human Alliance Beast Tamer didn't waste any more time. He immediately found the location of the Tier-7 Worm Beast.

He appeared above the spot where it was hiding.

Slash!

He then slashed the ground. A powerful black bolt tore through the ground before reaching the Tier-7 Thorny Worm Beast.

Boom!

The Thorny Worm Beast was attacked. The black bolt damaged the thorny spikes, causing bleeding.

The worm beast sensed that the threat level was high. It decided to flee. But it was greeted by a few more powerful black bolts.

In the blink of an eye, the Tier-7 Beast's body was riddled with holes. Toxic liquid was gushing out from its body.

The Tier-7 Thorny Worm Beast's life was hanging by a thread. Its vitality was slipping away at a faster rate.

The Human Alliance Beast Tamer was still waiting to retrieve its corpse.

When the Tier-7 Thorny Worm Beast lost its breath, the Beast Tamer stored the corpse in his storage ring.

Then he left the wilderness.

When he returned to City A, he informed the City Governors that he had killed the Tier-7 Beast. The invasion came to an end.

He then didn't wait further and entered the white aircraft to leave the city.

From beginning to end, the City Governors only listened to him.
