

STRIKER 104

Chapter 104 Part 1: Returned from the battlefield

City A:

The City Governors looked at each other's faces. Then they decided to spread the good news to others. Elton and the others immediately summoned the Commanders.

Shortly afterwards,

All the 16 Commanders arrived with expectations on their faces. Commander Harris was the same as the others.

City Governor Elton said, "The Tier-7 Corrupted Beast, along with 3 other Tier-6 Corrupted Beasts, was killed by the Human Alliance's Lord."

"Now, we can declare that we have won the duel," he added.

Cheers!

Hearing that, all the Commanders showed happiness. Commander Harris relaxed. Next, the commanders left to inform the Beast Tamers under them.

The City Governors then told the city administration officials to share the happy news as well. The local population, who were anxious, can be at ease right now.

...

East Side:

Jeremy Night and the others were waiting. Then he saw Captain Mirza returning to their side. This showed that there might be no threat ahead.

Suddenly, everyone saw Commander Harris above them.

"Listen, everyone. We have won the war. The Beasts behind the invasion were all killed, including the Tier-6 and Tier-7 Beasts commanding from the wilderness," he said. After that, he didn't explain further.

Cheers!

The next second, the beast tamers cheered out loud. The first and the second-year students felt their lives were all saved. The heavy weight on their shoulders disappeared.

The Beast Taming Families' people breathed a sigh of relief.

Jeremy sighed in relief as well. His mouth curved into an arc. His starlight energy was totally exhausted.

Fortunately, the war came to an end. They could go back to their normal lives.

Leader Norton and Ken showed happy expressions as well. Everyone was battered and bruised. The clothes were torn apart because of the continuous battles.

Commander Harris then instructed the Captains to return to their base camp with their teams. They had to count the casualties.

Jeremy Night and the others followed Captain Mirza back to their base camp. After returning to the camp, he met with Rin and Eve.

Rin's injuries had all healed. She was doing fine now. Jeremy then spoke with Ken and Leader Norton. Their team had done well.

Even better than their Senior Teams. They had faced more Tier-3 Beasts. Jeremy held the highest kill count among the teams.

Captain Mirza told him that he might have the highest kill count on the whole east side.

Hearing that, Jeremy wasn't surprised. He knew the power of Tier-3 Corrupted Beasts. Apart from the 3rd and 4th-year seniors, no one else could defeat the Tier-3 Beasts.

Jeremy was proud of having such a record. He hoped that this would improve the Striker Department's reputation.

More importantly, people wouldn't underestimate him anymore, especially the Captain who had laughed at him earlier.

...

West Side:

Cheers!

May Lindsey and her family of beast tammers were cheering out loud as well. May Lindsey carried a small smile on her face.

She had fought tirelessly. In that process, she had depleted her ice elemental energy. She was glad that they had won the war.

Earlier, she had thought that the battle would take a few days. But they dealt with it within one day. It was a better result for everyone.

On the other hand, Victor Scott was smiling happily as well. He had almost forced his Lifeline Spider Beast to work to death.

He felt relieved that the news came at the right time. He took back his Spider Lifeline Beast. The Spider Lifeline returned to the mental space and began to rest.

On the other hand, the third and fourth-year students showed joy as well. Despite a few casualties, most of them were able to stay alive from the attack of the Tier-4 Corrupted Beasts.

Meanwhile,

The news was reaching various forces in City A. From small shops and families to big families and organizations, everyone heard the news. They were all happy.

It didn't take long for the news to reach Central University 14. The students who were left there anticipated the news.

After hearing the news, they started celebrating. The invasion was something that could destroy their whole City A, including their university. They felt safe right now.

Dean's Office:

Carolyn wiped the sweat from her forehead. Unlike others, she thought that someone had helped the City Governors kill the beasts commanding from the wilderness.

"Goodness!"

"We are safe for now. But these kids will have many more battles to face in the future," she muttered to herself as she thought about Jeremy and the others.

Time passed.

Department Instructors were all gathered. Jacob couldn't hide his smile. The mountain pressing down on their backs was gone.

They all feared that more Tier-5 beasts would appear. Surprisingly, no Tier-5 Beasts came after that. They knew the reason now.

Then the Department Instructors listened to the Commanders. They were allowed to take back the students after counting the casualties.

Unfortunately, some promising young beast tamers died under the beasts' attack. The City Administration would compensate their families.

They might offer other job opportunities so that the families wouldn't suffer, apart from protecting the human population from Beast attacks.

The Human Alliance had the responsibility of investing in the next generation of Beast Tamers.

So the City Administration wouldn't mistreat those who suffered.

Time passed,

The people from the Beast Taming Families were the first to leave the battlefield, followed by the beast tamers from the other small forces.

Slowly, the Department Instructors gathered their students as well.

Jeremy Night reunited with Instructor Jacob.

"Jeremy, you did well. Hereafter, no one will question our Striker Department," Jacob said with a smile.

He couldn't hide his excitement. From this battle, they had gained a huge reputation. The First-Year Department Instructors had already given up.

Now the Senior Years' Department Instructors wouldn't be able to stop them.

"Jeremy!"

"Brother!"

Jeremy heard two voices from behind. They were Betsy Lowe and Daniel Stone.

Jeremy noticed that they were fine, without any serious injuries.

A quick gleam flashed in his eyes. He thought that they made a good team as well.
