

STRIKER 115

Chapter 115 Busy First Years

Class:

Victor Scott was disappointed. He thought Jeremy Night would be here. He has decided to go back now. The Training Plan created by his family is important. He can't delay it any longer.

He then left the department building. Not long after he left, the news began to spread among the first-year students.

They don't know why the Control Department Representative is looking for Jeremy Night. But the First Year Department Instructors are aware of what's going on.

They knew that Beast Taming Families had come up with the Training Program for their descendants and other talented Beast Tamers. They don't want to be helpless facing another wave of beasts.

Dean Carolyn had ordered them not to intervene in their affairs too much since the Beast Taming Families themselves had taken this initiative. It's also good for other students.

Because these Descendants will recruit other students into their teams, which is good for everyone.

Meanwhile,

May Lindsey has already left Central University with her team to explore the wilderness. She had heard that Jeremy Night had completed the solo mission.

It immediately irked her. But she realizes that it's healthy competition. The Striker Department is gaining good fame recently. So she understands that the pressure on Jeremy Night might be high as well.

But as an S-Grader, she didn't want to lag behind. As long as she follows her family's training plan, she will become a Tier-3 Beast Tamer soon.

Right after the beast invasion fight, she reached Tier-2 Beast Tamer Power. But her family had asked her to hide the news. They wanted her to be low-key and develop.

Which is one of the reasons she doesn't feel bad about Jeremy Night's rise in fame recently.

Library:

Time passed,

Jeremy Night is becoming acquainted with the world of tracking knowledge in the wilderness, which includes knowledge about identifying different beast footprints and smells.

He can understand the information, but it would be helpful if he gets practical experience. Then he can truly gain expertise in it.

Jeremy thought of accepting one more task in the coming days. He wants to apply his knowledge in the field.

After gaining clarity in his thoughts, Jeremy continues to read the book.

As usual, when it's time for the sunset, Jeremy closed the book and decided to leave. From the beginning to the end, the librarian and the staff saw how dedicated Jeremy was to reading the books.

He had not even moved from the spot for hours.

Dean's office:

Old lady Carolyn is looking at the reports. She knows the Training plans of the Beast Taming Families, and because of it, the students are enthusiastically accepting the missions.

Instead of spending time in the whole University.

Suddenly, she thought of the Striker Department.

Jeremy Night, Betsy Lowe, and Daniel Stone had lifted her spirits. Their performances were good during the beast invasion attack.

So she was able to silence her critics. Even the Governors and the Commanders were pleased. The always opposing, hostile families had stopped their opposing actions as well.

They were against the Striker Department, but their tone has changed after the war.

"Hmmm, this kid is spending time in the library," she raised her eyebrows in surprise.

"Looks like the kid wants to know about the wilderness. It's good that he is not blindly pursuing strength," she said to herself.

Natura Energy Chamber:

The following day,

Jeremy entered one of the training facilities. He walked up to the monitor and activated the chamber. The natural energy started filling the room.

He stepped onto the platform and sat cross-legged on the ground.

He closed his eyes and started practicing the inner healing method. Soon, a warm current entered his body and began nourishing the cells and inner organs.

In the mental zone, the unknown beast egg vibrated before actively absorbing the natural energy from the chamber.

Time passed,

After a few hours, Jeremy felt pain in his veins. So he stopped practicing the inner healing method, but he was not tired at all.

If not for the burden on his veins, he would continue his practice. Right now, his body has healing energy hidden inside.

The healing energy is part of the natural energy as well. It's slowly evolving his physique. But the speed was not comparable to the feedback provided by the lifeline beast.

He saw his own unknown beast egg absorbing the natural energy. He decided to stay here.

When it was past noon, he exited the natural energy chamber. The 500 points that he had earned from the previous mission were consumed as well.

You need 100 points per hour to practice inside the natural energy chamber. He had practiced for 5 hours. Jeremy felt that practicing inside the chamber was worth it.

Not only did he benefit, but the unknown beast egg was fed well as well.

Jeremy then freshened himself before going back to the Task Hall. On the way, he noticed that the number of first-year students was low.

Usually, he could spot more people roaming around. This situation puzzled him. When he reached the Task Hall, he found there were more people there.

Then he quickly found out what was going on. His mouth twitched. Everyone is accepting tasks from the mission hall. He didn't know whether any solo missions were left for him.

He entered the building and walked towards the mission desk. His arrival caused everyone to look up at him. Jeremy ignored their gazes and approached the staff.

The staff recognized Jeremy Night. It was the same staff who had registered his last mission.

"Are you looking for a solo mission?" he asked.

Hearing that, Jeremy was surprised. This person understood his thoughts.

"Yes," Jeremy replied.

A wry smile appeared on the staff's face.

"Sorry to disappoint you, but most of the solo missions have been accepted by others. The remaining ones are dangerous," the staff explained.

Jeremy wasn't surprised. He expected the situation, looking at the crowd earlier.

"Show me the remaining missions. I'll see what is dangerous about them," Jeremy asked.

The staff shook his head before showing the missions on the screen.
