

STRIKER: INDEPENDENT BEAST TAMER

Chapter 12 Successful bonding

Martha then opens up the silver box. A fist-sized oval-shaped white milky egg came into view. It immediately drew everyone's attention. The egg has bluish-white lines all over it.

If anyone looks at it close, they can see bluish-white energy coming in and coming out of the egg.

"It's beautiful," Nora blurted out of surprise. Her eyes filled with awe. The egg's appearance has captivated her.

Ron Night's expression grew serious. He completely believed Martha's words at this moment. Because the unknown egg gives him the vibe of nobility.

This characteristic can be only seen in powerful bloodline regular beasts. It takes him back to the memory lane, where he first saw a powerful feline lifeline beast. It stood 10ft tall in height.

Those Majestic eyes are forever etched in his mind. The lifeline Beast belongs to the examiner who oversaw his trials for the Governor Post.

Now, this unknown egg reminds him of the same majestic look.

Jeremy stood frozen. His eyes were on beautiful bluish-white intricate lines. It looked like veins covering the white oval-shaped egg.

As he continues to observe closer with his sharp eyes. He found that bluish-white veins were pulsating. The Beast inside it breathed in and breathed out the white milky energy.

Jeremy mesmerized by the beauty and aura of the unknown egg as well. His heartbeat starts to increase.

"We should proceed!"

Martha's voice brought him back to the reality. Ron and Nora Night woke up from their thoughts as well.

Jeremy then walks up to the unknown egg. Standing in front of it, he took his combat knife from the storage ring. He then pricked his forefinger, and a blood drop came out.

He then proceeds to draw concentric circles on the unknown beast's egg. Jeremy drew a concentric circle in the blink of an eye.

When he finishes doing it. The red concentric circles disappeared. It is observed by the beast inside of the egg.

Swoosh!

A white bright flashes before everyone's eyes. The unknown egg on the table disappears.

Jeremy shut his eyes. As he found the changes in his mental zone, the appearance of the black door changed. There are 10 concentric circles appeared on the black door.

When he looks at it close. He finds out that each concentric circles have 9 blocks. He immediately figured out what it was. He has studied the basic beast-taming course in school.

The Concentric circles represent Beast Tiers. From Tier-1 to Tier-10. The blocks represent Ranks. From Rank 1- Rank-9.

Even further inside the blocks, there are 3 small blocks representing 3 stages: Early, Mid and Peak.

Right now, Jeremy can see that the Early Stage block is shining in a bright bluish-white colour. This colour represents his lifeline beast.

He is Tier-1, Rank 1(Early Stage) Beast Tamer, right now.

Jeremy sighed. Then he looks at the door again. The unknown egg has become his lifeline beast right now. It's resting inside the mental zone.

When he thought of opening the door. The massive door opens the next second.

Then he saw an unknown white egg sitting on the stone platform inside his mental zone. Right now, the unknown egg appears to be more active and vibrant. It's releasing a bluish-white mist into the surroundings.

"Jeremy!"

He heard someone calling him. He then takes back his mind from the mental zone. The massive door closes and the lifeline beast egg is resting inside.

Jeremy opened his eyes. He feels rejuvenated and active. His mind was more active. His thoughts were crystal clear.

"How is it?" Nora's voice sounded this time.

Ron looked at his son with expectation as well.

Jeremy turned towards his mother. He couldn't help but reveal a bright smile on his face.

Martha is observing as well. But her heart was not calm. Because the unknown egg showed no resistance to the contract.

The unknown beast egg's ability and Jeremy's talent have full compatibility. She is sure that Jeremy is going to be famous in future.

Jeremy calms his heart before replying, "The concentric circles have formed. The egg is resting inside the mental zone."

Phew!

Ron and Nora exchanged looks with a bright smile. Their face showed relief. The 2 hurdles of the Beast Tamers which is Talent and Lifeline Beast.

Their son has surpassed these two.

Martha asked, "Did you see anything different?"

Jeremy turned towards her and asked, "What do you mean?"

Martha smiled and said, "For strong bloodline lifeline beast. Their ability manifests right after the bonding. So did you observe anything special."

Hearing that Jeremy immediately thought of the bluish-white mist. He then told her.

"Bluish-white Mist?" Martha raised her eyebrows. She remembers the unknown egg breathing in and breathing out the special energy.

The colour of that energy is also bluish-white

"It could be an ability. Try to mobilize it first?" Martha said.

Jeremy closes his eyes and returns to the mental zone again. The door opens up, revealing the unknown beast egg inside, surrounded by bluish-white mist.

This time the quantity of mist is high. The bluish-white mist have covered the whole space inside. He knows that the mental zone represents his current tier. He is in the Early Stage right now.

The mental zone would expand with each breakthrough.

According to Lord Martha, the bluish-white mist could be an ability. So he decides to call it a bluish-white energy for the time being.

Then he thought of controlling the bluish-white energy.

The next second, the bluish-white energy moves towards him. When bluish-white energy appears out of the black door.

He felt bluish-white energy flowing in his body. His heart set off storms. He realises that bluish-white energy is an ability.

The bluish-white energy flows like a warm current inside the body. He couldn't wait to use it on target objects to see effects.

Jeremy then opened his eyes. He looks at Father, Mather and Lord Martha before trying to force out the bluish-white energy in his palm.

Boom!

A bluish-white energy in a flash covers his right palm.
