

STRIKER: INDEPENDENT BEAST TAMER

Chapter 13 Starlight Beast

Jeremy looks at the bluish-white energy covering his right palm in awe. Then he dismissed it with a thought.

"Is this a variant flame?" Ron Night asked; the bluish-white energy somehow reminded him of a flame.

"No, it looks fluid. Might be a variant of water element?" Nora said from the side.

Jeremy heard his parents' words. But he neither feels hot nor cold from this bluish-white energy.

Martha's eyes flickered as she found out something special.

"As expected, the unknown egg has a special origin," She thought.

Then she said, "It's neither a fire element nor a water element." Her voice sounded confident. As if she knows about the bluish-white energy.

"Lord Martha, what is it?" Jeremy asked. His eyes flash with anticipation. He feels something special from this bluish-white energy.

Now, this ability from the Lifeline Beast (Unknown Egg) has become part of him as well. He can use it whenever he wants.

So he can't wait to know about the bluish-white energy.

Ron and Nora Night perked up their ears as well. The Lord from the Human Alliance is more knowledgeable than then.

Martha saw everyone's expression.

She then replied, "If I'm right, it's a starlight element. An element found in stars."

Gasp!

A small gasp escaped from Nora. Ron widened his eyes in disbelief as well. These 2 Beast Tamers are aware of almost all known elements to mankind.

Most of the variant-type elements come from the Lifeline Beast's ability. Only a small number of Beast Tamers have awakened a variant of elements in their awakening ceremony.

For example, they have seen people awakening poison-type elements before. So they are quite surprised by hearing the element of stars.

Jeremy stood in a daze. He has studied various elements in school. But this is the first time he hears something called the Starlight element.

"I know you guys were hearing it for the first time. It's because the starlight element is rare to find among the lifeline beast."

"If my knowledge is right, then it's the second time someone can use the starlight element in history."

"Before, it was a Beast Tamer who appeared 200 years ago. But he later died fighting against a Tier-7 Colossal Beast," Martha said in a humble tone.

"So rare?" Ron uttered in surprise. But he was elated the next second. Because his son will be highly sought after by Central University 14.

Nora Night was happy as well. But in her heart, she believes that her son's talent is not weaker either.

"Starlight element uh?"

"Then I'll call my lifeline beast egg Starlight Beast hereafter," Jeremy said.

"It's a good name," Ron gave a thumbs up to his son.

"Jeremy, you must take good care of your lifeline beast," Nora said.

"Don't worry Mother, I'll look after it well," Jeremy assured her.

Then he asked, "So what does the starlight power do?"

"Good question!"

"But there is not much-recorded information about the Starlight element. Because there is only one who has appeared before you."

"So you have to figure it out yourself," Martha said with a smile.

Beep!

The next second, she receives a phone call. She took her tab out and saw that someone was calling from the main office.

"Excuse me," After saying that she left the place to attend the phone call.

"Jeremy, we are proud of you," Ron said with relief all over his face.

"Yes, Jeremy. You have to take care of yourself. We will stay here and look after the City C," Nora said from the side.

Jeremy shakes his head.

"Mother, there is still some time left before going to Central University 14," He replied.

"Yes, Jeremy is right. We first have to inform the representative Tim. I'm going to make a call to him," Ron said with a smile.

At this moment, Jeremy remembers that he forgot to remind him about the Tier-3 Corrupted Beast.

"Father, wait a second. I have something important to tell you," Jeremy called out with a heavy expression on his face.

Mother Nora's face changes as well. What could make her son serious?

Ron was taken aback a little.

He then asked, "What is it?"

Jeremy then recounted the things that happened during the hunting trip. How had he faced a Tier-2 Corrupted, Bloodthirsty Salamander?

Then later Captain Morris sighting of Tier-3 Corrupted Bloodthirsty Salamander. When Jeremy finishes saying everything.

Ron already made a call when he heard Tier-3 Corrupted Beast sightings.

"I'm sorry, I wanted to remind you when I first returned. But after seeing Lord Martha, I forgot about it," Jeremy apologizes to his father.

Not even 20 minutes have passed since his return. But he knows each second is important when it comes to the threat of Corrupted Beasts.

Because who knows, there could be people who were desperately awaiting help somewhere.

Ron received a reply from the other hand. Which brought him a sigh of relief. Then he ended the phone call and turned towards his son.

Ron smiled and said, "It's okay. Morris has already alerted others. The Elite Mercenary Teams are on their way to the location."

"Jeremy, you did well against the Tier-2 Corrupted Beast even before your bonding. Now, you can fight against Tier 3," Nora said.

"It's too early. You should familiarize yourself with the starlight element first," Ron said.

Swish!

"Looks like you guys have encountered a problem as well"

Martha's voice sounded behind them.

"Lord Martha, we encountered a Tier-3 Corrupted Beast problem," Ron said truthfully.

"I heard it. But don't think too much about it. The Bloodthirsty Salamander is less intellectual. You can find them easily," Martha said.

Then she looked at Jeremy and added," Some important stuff has come up. I have to leave. I'll inform the Central University 14 Administration. Your information will be confidential."

"At the same time, I hope you guys won't tell anyone about this. If anyone asks, just tell my name to that person," Martha reminded everyone.

Ron and Nora exchanged looks and nodded their heads.

"Rest assured, Lord Martha. We won't spill any details. We were both grateful for your gift. Such a Lifeline Beast Egg it's impossible to seek after," Ron said in a serious tone.

Nora expressed her thanks as well.

Finally, it was Jeremy's turn. He calmed his heart and took a deep breath before saying, "Thank you, Lord Martha. I'll definitely join Human Alliance in future. I'll help you at that time."
