

STRIKER 571

Chapter 571: Crisis time!

9th Zone, B-City

Jeremy Night recognized Elder Matteo. He thought the middle-aged man next to him must be the Family Head of the Rossi Family.

His eyesight was clear. He could see their facial expressions in great detail. They were terrified of something.

Swoosh!

They flew over the city in the blink of an eye.

Not long after, many beast tamers returned to the city. They were all heads of the various Beast Taming Families.

They stood in mid-air one by one.

Jeremy Night was not the only one here. The other City Guard teams noticed the situation as well.

They were Tier-8 Beast Tamers. Why were they coming back in a hurry? Everyone was confused.

At this time, Jeremy had a bad feeling. He thought something was going to happen next.

The City Guards, Captains, and Commanders were defending the city walls.

Right now, they didn't know what to do. They were all waiting for the City Governors to return.

Swoosh!

Just then, a Snow Tail Sparrow appeared in the sky. Governor Chloe was standing on its back. She was leading a few more beast tamers back to the city.

All the flying-type Lifeline Beasts entered the city. This caused panic among the city guards.

Shortly afterwards, Governor Black and Carl returned with their Lifeline Beasts.

Once they got closer to the city, they recalled their Lifeline Beasts and flew over to the city wall.

"What's going on?"

"Why are the Governors back?"

"Is there going to be another invasion?"

The city guards started panicking. The Captains and Commanders were confused as well.

On the other hand, City Governors Black, Carl, and Chloe were standing in mid-air, high above the city.

From there, they could look down at the forest clearly. The Family Beast Tamers were standing behind them.

There was a reason for their return. The Blood Steel Mosquitoes had flight abilities. If they were late, the Blood Steel Mosquitoes would have entered the city.

In order to protect the city, they had to come back first. Now they were standing inside the city.

Governors Black, Chloe, and Carl saw that the front lines had collapsed. They couldn't stop the chaos. The Blood Steel Mosquitoes and Vine Beasts would try to enter the city first.

At that moment, Jeremy Night saw something in the forest. At first, he was not sure, but with his eyesight, he found out what it was.

An insect-type beast was coming toward the city wall.

"Mosquito." His eyes glinted with understanding.

"Everyone, get back!" Jeremy shouted the next second.

Hearing that, City Guard Ben and the others were taken aback. But they didn't hesitate further and retreated back to the city wall.

"What happened?" Tom asked.

Jeremy Night didn't know whether it was okay to tell. His shout just now had alerted the others as well. The others nearby retreated after seeing them run.

Even Commander Bolton heard the sound. He thought that kid saw something, so he looked toward the forest.

It didn't take long for him to see the outline of the beasts. A three-meter-sized Blood Steel Mosquito appeared in his sight.

Bolton's expression changed drastically.

"Everyone get inside, ASAP!"

Bolton shouted. His voice reached everyone's ears. The next second, the city guards gave up the front line and started running back to the city gate.

Commotion!

The commotion was huge. They didn't know what was going on, but everyone heard the voice and started running back to the city gate.

At that time, Jeremy Night noticed the Blood Steel Mosquitoes getting closer to the city.

City Guard Ben said, "Let's go back. We can discuss it after entering the city."

Tom, Dan, Melody, and Kara nodded their heads and started going back. They had asked Jeremy to follow them.

After rushing off, they forgot to check whether Jeremy Night was following them or not.

Jeremy Night was following them back slowly because he could see others were struggling. Especially the injured ones; they were taking time.

But the Blood Steel Mosquitoes had emerged from the forests. When he noticed the strength of the Blood Steel Mosquitoes, his expression changed drastically.

It was a Tier-5 Corrupted Beast. Jeremy Night's heart stirred.

If this beast were to attack them, the entire front line would collapse. He had heard about the Blood Steel Mosquitoes.

But he didn't expect them to attack now. He took his handgun and held it in his right hand.

At this time, City Guard Ben and the others saw the Blood Steel Mosquitoes. Everyone's face changed drastically.

"Blood Steel Mosquitoes!"

Ben and the others were terrified. They increased their speed. It was not the time to discuss. They ran past others to get to the entrance.

Jeremy Night's gaze locked onto the Tier-5 Mosquito. He covered the bullets in starlight power.

At the same time, Commander Bolton noticed Jeremy Night's actions. He was shocked. While others were running, the kid stayed behind to confront the beast.

He felt goosebumps all over his body.

Swoosh!

The next second, he jumped from the city walls and appeared next to the kid.

"Kid, let's both target the beast." After saying that, he took out his bow and arrow to attack.

Hearing that, Jeremy was surprised. He nodded to him.

Bang! Bang!

The next second, he started firing shots.

Swoosh!

Bolton released a series of arrows toward the beast.

Both aimed for the beast's head. But Jeremy Night targeted the eyes specifically.

The starlight bullets and arrows cut through the air. In the blink of an eye, they struck the beast's head, and the bullets pierced through the eyes.

Weird Noise!

Puchak!

Blood splattered on the ground. The mosquito made a weird sound.

Its whole body defense was like steel, yet the eyes were vulnerable. The starlight power made it blind.

But the starlight power failed to end its life. At the same time, the arrows cracked the steel-like head. But the attack was not enough.

Pfff!

The Blood Steel Mosquito circled in the air in pain. It gave them some time to rethink.

Chapter 572: Equal Share!

9th Zone, B-City

Commander Bolton tried to release a few more arrows. The black arrows swept across the sky before striking the Blood Steel Mosquito's body.

Jeremy Night noticed that the Blood Steel Mosquito hadn't died. So, he joined Elder Bolton and started firing shots.

Bang! Bang!

In the blink of an eye, the Blood Steel Mosquito faced another round of attacks. The arrows landed on the same spot continuously. Its hard skin cracked.

Pfff!

The powerful arrows broke the hard defense and pierced the flesh and successfully caused injuries to the Blood Steel Mosquito.

Blood gushed forth from the wounds, dyeing the ground.

At that moment, the starlight bullets drilled holes into the eyes of the Blood Steel Mosquito. The hundreds of tiny lenses had already been shattered by the previous attack.

Now, the bullets went straight to the sockets. In an instant, the sockets were pierced, and the bullets reached the brain.

Tud!

The bullets then drilled into the brain. The Blood Steel Mosquito, which was circling in the air, dropped dead to the ground.

It took a few minutes for them to kill the Tier-5 Mosquito. At that time, they didn't notice that other Blood Steel Mosquitoes were attacking the city walls from all sides.

Some were even trying to fly over the city, but the Commanders and Captains were taking care of it.

The Governors and the heads of the various forces were standing in mid-air. They were waiting for the higher-tier beasts to come.

Earlier, it was the Purple Snakes, so they had taken risks to enter the wilderness. Now, the Blood Steel Mosquitoes had joined the fray.

Going out there now was the same as falling into a trap, so they were not going to make that mistake.

On the other hand, the makeshift hospitals were busy. The injured people were being treated. The deceased were identified and handed over to their families.

The city's airport was receiving continuous flights. The Beast Tamers who had gone to other zones were coming back. The city needed their help.

Now that the Blood Steel Mosquitoes had appeared, it would send further shockwaves across the zones.

Meanwhile,

The Tier-7 Purple Snakes which had survived met with the Blood Steel Mosquitoes. The Tier-7 Blood Steel Mosquito had agreed to send one team earlier.

However, the Purple Snakes had managed to cause damage to the human Beast Tamers.

The Blood Steel Mosquitoes thought it was a good opportunity to cause more damage to the Beast Tamers, so they sent a few more higher-tier Blood Steel Mosquitoes.

They were enough to kill powerful Beast Tamers.

It was just that the Vine Beasts made a late appearance. If they had participated earlier, they would have trapped a few more Beast Tamer groups.

Just as the Blood Steel Mosquitoes and Purple Snakes were discussing this...

Rustle!

The Vine Beast appeared. Its elongated body wrapped around a big tree next to them.

"Vine, you were late," the Tier-7 Blood Steel Mosquito said. "If you had arrived earlier, we could have killed more human powerhouses."

"Hmph, it's not easy to deal with Tier-8 human Beast Tamers. Their strength is similar to our Lord. We can only kill them through our combined efforts," the Vine Beast retorted.

"But the Purple Snakes made a unilateral decision to attack them. What if their Human Alliance powerhouse appears?"

Hiss!

The Tier-7 Purple Snake hissed. It was true that they made a decision without the Tier-8 Purple Snake, but the other two beasts didn't know about it.

They were assuming that the Tier-8 Lord was behind the planning and attack. Their lords were in retreat; they didn't know when they would emerge from seclusion.

The Tier-7 Purple Snakes launched this attack for food. Now they have obtained a few high-quality corpses of Tier-7 and Tier-8 Beast Tamers. It was enough food for them, allowing them to control their hunger for a long time.

It was time to divide the food. The Purple Snake brought up the topic.

"Let's divide it equally," the Vine Beast said.

"You made a late appearance and contributed little. How can you get an equal share?" the Blood Steel Mosquito said.

It was circling in mid-air, its compound eyes staring at the Vine Beast wrapped around the big tree.

The Tier-7 Purple Snake was standing between them. Seeing that the two of them were fighting, it communicated with them.

"We have lost so many lower-tier members. On the other hand, you guys are fighting about getting an equal share. Let's divide the share after the battle," the Purple Snake said.

Hearing that, both beasts fell silent. It was true their lower-tier members had yet to appear, but there was a reason for it.

Their population was small to begin with. It was the same for the Vine Beasts. However, the Purple Snake's numbers had grown beyond their control.

The need for food grew, and they had started hunting the human Beast Tamers entering the wilderness earlier.

Both beasts knew about it. It was just that they didn't know the Tier-8 Purple Snake was nowhere behind the scenes. It was simply a conspiracy of the Tier-7 Purple Snakes.

A few minutes later, under the influence of the Tier-7 Purple Snake, the Blood Steel Mosquito and the Vine Beast made a decision to send their lower-tier beasts as well.

Then they would share the corpses equally. The bodies of Tier-7 and Tier-8 Beast Tamers were important for the Blood Steel Mosquito and the Vine Beast.

In normal times, you wouldn't be able to find them unless you wanted to enter the city to capture a few, which was seeking death. That's why the war was necessary for them.

Now, they could hunt as many as they wanted.

Meanwhile,

Bang! Bang!

Jeremy Night's starlight bullets ruptured the compound eyes of another Blood Steel Mosquito. Commander Bolton was helping him as well.

Instead of targeting the body, he started targeting the compound eyes too. Like them, there were very few who stayed behind. These Beast Tamers could fight across ranks.

Especially since their lifeline beasts had long-range shooting abilities, they were hindering the Tier-5 Blood Steel Mosquitoes from advancing to the city wall.

Chapter 573: The news spread

9th Zone, B-City:

The City Guard Captains and Commanders were fighting against the Blood Steel Mosquitoes. The flying-type lifeline beasts were attacking from mid-air.

This scene was witnessed by the locals. The media first caught a glimpse of the Blood Steel Mosquitoes. They were curious why the flying-type beasts were so high in number.

But when they saw the Blood Steel Mosquitoes clearly, they were petrified. The city walls were huge, so those close to them didn't know what was happening for the time being.

However, it didn't take long for the locals and media to learn about the Blood Steel Mosquitoes. A huge commotion broke out. The locals were terrified; they couldn't believe it at first.

But when the news media started broadcasting footage of the Blood Steel Mosquitoes attacking the city walls, the locals came back to their senses.

They started acting frantically. Fear occupied their minds because the attack was real. Some of them hid in their family basements. Those who could afford it flocked to the airport.

Business and other shops were shut down. Everyone wanted to go back to their homes. Everyone knew about the Blood Steel Mosquitoes.

There was a traffic jam. The officials on the ground were doing crowd control. Though B-City is different from other cities, it has a considerable population.

The flying-type corrupted beasts were the most terrifying. It was not easy to kill them. The locals were afraid that even if one of them slipped past, it would cause a lot of bloodshed.

Meanwhile, the news reached the people in the airport.

The flights from other zones were going back and forth, but when they saw the news about the Blood Steel Mosquitoes, the pilots were terrified.

A few of them hesitated to land. They wanted to turn their planes around and leave.

Especially the pilots from other zones, they hurriedly wanted to go back.

The Blood Steel Mosquitoes had flight abilities; they could come to the airport at any time. The pilots and travelers from other zones wanted to leave as well, so there was chaos in the airport.

They immediately started sharing the news with their friends in other zones.

When the news reached the other zones, they were shocked, especially the City Governors of City A, 9th Zone.

They knew Governor Black and the others had asked for help, but they had decided to help only when absolutely necessary. Now they knew the Blood Steel Mosquitoes had come out.

The City Governors of City A decided to help. Among the three, two of them decided to go there with a team.

If they hesitated further, it would lead to unwanted consequences. The Human Alliance would blame them.

At that time, the news reached other zones as well, including 10th Zone, City A. Head Neil of the Shadow Moon Chamber was following the news.

After knowing that the Blood Steel Mosquitoes had appeared, he couldn't sit still. He decided to go to the 9th Zone.

First, he needed to protect the kid, Jeremy. Then, he wanted to help out his friend, Matteo.

He informed Leader Gisela and the others. He told them to take care of the organization for the time being. Leader Gisela was worried about Jeremy Night. She wanted to go as well.

But Head Neil denied her request. He told her that Tier-8 Beast Tamers from other zones would be flocking to the 9th Zone.

The help of Tier-8 Beast Tamers was enough. If the crisis remained unresolved, then help from the Human Alliance would come.

Head Neil informed his friend, Harold Red. Unfortunately, Harold Red couldn't leave. He was the only one there with Tier-8 strength.

But he told Head Neil to bring back that kid. He didn't want the kid to die young. If Jeremy Night lived in the 5th Zone, he would become a powerful Beast Tamer in the future.

Especially since the resources were abundant there, Head Harold Red was sure about Jeremy Night's future. Their organization needed such powerful Beast Tamers as well.

Meanwhile,

Governor Black had given instructions to seek help from other zones. He also told them to inform the Human Alliance.

If the Tier-8 Purple Snake, Tier-8 Blood Steel Mosquito, and Tier-8 Vine Beast were behind this attack, then only the Lords from the Human Alliance could help them.

It was because each of these Lord-level beasts had terrifying abilities.

The Purple Snakes could spit poison. If the Tier-8 Purple Snake were to do that, it would become hard for the City Governors to do anything.

Similarly, the body of the Tier-8 Vine Beast was so large that it could trap half the city. Among them, the Tier-8 Blood Steel Mosquito was the most terrifying.

It was hard to kill them because of their tough skin. It took enormous effort to kill just one beast. The Tier-8 Beast was even more powerful; it would take a Lord from the Human Alliance to kill them.

Governor Black, Chloe, and Morgan were standing in mid-air. Soon, they saw higher-tier beasts. Their expressions changed.

Not only were the Blood Steel Mosquitoes coming, but there was movement from the Vine Beasts.

"Everyone remaining at the front line, return to the city ASAP. It's my order," Governor Black said all of a sudden.

His voice reached everyone's ears. They started returning without questioning.

At that time, Jeremy Night's eyes caught beasts coming from the forests. Seeing that they were all higher-tier beasts, his expression changed drastically.

It took them a lot of effort to kill a Tier-5 Blood Steel Mosquito. It was even more difficult against the Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito.

If there were a large number of Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquitoes, they would face certain death.

Just as he turned to flee, someone grabbed his shoulder.

"Kid, let's go," Commander Bolton said.

Then they rushed towards the entrance. It didn't take long for them to reach it. Since few of them remained to fight, there was no stampede. After getting inside, they came to the admin building.

Jeremy raised his head and saw the Governors and other higher-tier Beast Tamers standing in mid-air.

Chapter 574: Vine beast strikes!

9th Zone, B-City

Blood Steel Mosquitoes were attacking the city walls. Among them, Tier-6 Beasts had appeared. They flew over the city walls to enter the city.

However, they were all blocked by the City Governors and the Head of the Beast Taming Forces.

They had anticipated this situation earlier. Now that the beasts had come out, they were glad they had made the right decision. Otherwise, everyone would have fallen for the trap.

Boom! Boom!

A continuous, deafening noise sounded. Chaos and crowds were everywhere. Jeremy could see people running around aimlessly, looking for shelter.

If this went on, they would become easy targets for the corrupted beasts.

Jeremy unsheathed his blade and held it in his right hand. Commander Bolton was standing next to him.

Bolton noticed Jeremy Night and said, "Kid, you can relax. You cannot take down a Tier-5 beast at close quarters. Just one collision is needed to end your life."

"Just wait inside the admin building," he added.

Hearing that, Jeremy Night raised his eyebrows. He could see Tier-5 and Tier-6 Beasts in the sky. To be honest, it was like walking on a knife's edge. One mistake could cost him his life.

He nodded his head and walked back into the admin building. He walked up to the sofa and sat on it.

Commander Bolton saw this. His eyes flashed with approval. He didn't want such a young prospect to die. He had witnessed Jeremy Night cross-killing beasts above his tier.

The Human Alliance needed such a prodigy. Bolton turned towards the beasts in the sky. He then disappeared from the spot and arrived on top of the city wall.

He got close to the watchtower and started releasing arrows from there.

Boom!

One after another, the black arrows released from his bow struck the eyes of the Blood Steel Mosquitoes.

Meanwhile, the Blood Steel Mosquitoes were attacking without any reservations. The Tier-5 and Tier-6 Beasts were giving them a tough time.

It was hard for the City Guards to continue defending the city. A Tier-5 Blood Steel Mosquito had successfully killed a few City Guard Captains.

Their blood was completely sucked out by the beasts. Their dried corpses were still lying on the ground.

Not only that, but the lifeline beasts were getting killed easily. Only the flying lifeline beasts were putting up a fight, somehow.

But the real threat was yet to come.

Boom!

Just as the City Governors and the Head of the Beast Taming Forces were busy dealing with the incoming Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquitoes, long vines shot out from the forests, one after another.

The vines' speed was incredibly fast. The tips struck the city wall.

Aaahhh!

The Beast Tamers standing at the watchtower were hurled into the air before falling to the ground. It happened so fast that everyone only heard the screams.

Governor Black saw the vine beasts. His expression changed drastically. He immediately flew over to the spot and blocked the vine beast.

Boom!

At that moment, many vine beasts shot from the forest. In the blink of an eye, their bodies reached the city walls.

Governor Carl brought his lifeline beast outside. Upon appearance, the crocodile shot out an air vortex at the incoming beast.

Boom!

The air vortex struck the vine beast. The long vine was blasted away from the city wall. When everyone saw this, their expressions changed.

Not only had the Blood Steel Mosquitoes come out, but the Vine Beasts were attacking them now, too. It was a full-scale war.

Boom!

Governor Chloe used her Snow Tail Sparrow to freeze the Blood Steel Mosquitoes. Because of the vine beasts, the pressure on her increased.

The beast tamers with flying-type lifeline beasts were dealing with the Blood Steel Mosquitoes, but now they had to be careful of the vine beasts as well.

As time went by, a few of the vine beasts and Blood Steel Mosquitoes escaped the net and reached the people on the ground.

Most of the locals were hiding, but there was still a considerable presence at the makeshift hospitals.

Aaahhh!

A Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito collided with a makeshift hospital, bringing the structure down.

Survivors started fleeing, but their bodies were struck by the mosquito. They turned into a mist of blood the next second.

Suck!

The mosquito then sucked up the blood. In the blink of an eye, it targeted another human beast tamer.

This scene sent cold shivers down everyone's spines. The City Guards on the ground were Tier-3 Beast Tamers. They were no match for the Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito.

Pfff!

They were getting killed in one move. The higher-tier beast tamers had lost concentration for just a few minutes, yet the beast was able to cause a bloodbath in that short time.

Boom!

Governor Chloe's Snow Tail Sparrow saw this and struck the beast with ice spikes. The powerful ice spikes froze the body of the Blood Steel Mosquito.

In the blink of an eye, a massive ice cube appeared in front of everyone. Then, someone struck the ice cube, and it broke into several pieces.

But the damage was already done. The road was dyed blood-red.

Meanwhile, Jeremy Night was standing in front of the window. He witnessed those scenes. It was terrifying to the core. He was only a Tier-2 Beast Tamer.

A makeshift hospital had been completely destroyed. If he had been there, he wouldn't have escaped death either.

Jeremy felt a cold shiver. He controlled himself. Before the worst could happen, he saw the ice attack kill the beast. He didn't know what to do.

It was complete chaos. He didn't expect the city to be in such turmoil in one night. His eyes spotted monstrous vines striking the watchtower.

The beast tamers on the walls were struggling hard. They were captain and commander-level figures, yet they were facing a tough time.

He wanted to go outside to help, but his rational mind stopped him from doing so. He then thought of something.

At this time, no one was inside the admin building. He then walked up to the inventory.

Chapter 575: A Powerful Sniper!

9th Zone, B-City

Jeremy Night arrived in front of the inventory room. He didn't have keys, so he unsheathed his blade and covered it with Starlight power.

The blade shone with a bright light. He struck the door, and the Starlight blade sliced through it easily.

Creak!

The locking mechanism was cut down instantly. He opened the door, his gaze sweeping across the firearms.

There were various types of firearms, including different types of handguns, pistols and rifles. His gaze locked onto a sniper rifle.

A glint appeared in his eyes.

He picked up the rifle. The long-range sniper appeared to be brand new, and there were magazines available as well.

He was going to use the sniper against the corrupted beasts. He noticed that the bullets were larger than handgun bullets.

He inserted a magazine loaded with bullets into the rifle and returned to the sofa. He had read about how to use it, but he had never practiced with one himself.

He took out his digital device and began to watch a quick video on how to use this specific model. If others learned about this, they would be shocked to the core.

A few minutes later, he turned off the device and walked up to the window. He positioned himself to fire a shot.

Bang!

Jeremy took aim at a Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito flying above the watchtower. It's the same watchtower where Commander Bolton was fighting.

Jeremy could see the black arrows clearly; his eyesight was already powerful. He used the sniper lens to make a precise judgment.

At that moment, he used his Starlight power to cover the magazine. He didn't have any reservations. The Starlight liquid covered the large bullets in the blink of an eye.

Bang! Bang!

He began to fire continuous shots at the Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito. The Starlight bullets swept across in a straight line.

At this time, one of the heads of the Beast Taming Family, a Tier-6 Beast Tamer—injured the Blood Steel Mosquito's wing.

Pfff!

The Blood Steel Mosquito lost its balance.

Immediately, the Starlight bullet pierced the compound eyes of the beast. The Tier-6 Mosquito was caught off guard.

Even the Tier-6 Beast Tamer was stunned.

Pfff!

The bullets were larger and more powerful than before. They blinded the eyes of the Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito.

Pfff!

In a flash, the bullet exited the eye socket and struck the brain, one shot after another.

The Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito stopped flying and fell toward the ground.

Thud!

Its lifeless body crashed into the ground with a heavy thud. The Tier-6 Beast Tamer widened his eyes in disbelief.

He couldn't believe someone had shot a Tier-6 Beast to death. The Tier-6 Beast Tamer, who was the head of the family, swept his gaze across the area.

His gaze fell on the administration building. He saw a young Tier-2 Beast Tamer holding a modern sniper rifle. He was stunned.

He couldn't believe what he was seeing.

"What the f@ck!"

He uttered foul words.

Boom!

Suddenly, a loud collision came from behind. He collected his thoughts and turned around. His contracted beast, the Flying Lizard, had saved him from another Blood Steel Mosquito.

The Beast Tamer shifted his attention and started fighting with this new beast.

On the other hand, Jeremy Night felt relieved. He knew it was not an easy task. The Tier-6 Beast earlier had been caught off guard.

If not, he felt the beast would have dodged his bullets. He had witnessed earlier how the Tier-5 beast destroyed the makeshift hospital in a span of a few seconds.

He collected his thoughts and started looking for other beasts. He saw both the Vine Beasts and Blood Steel Mosquitoes.

Compared to the Vine Beasts, he found Blood Steel Mosquitoes to be easier targets because they had a clear weakness.

As long as you blinded them, you could easily shoot their brains to kill them. But the body of the Vine Beast was different.

He didn't know where the brain or vital parts were hidden. If he wanted to, he could use his Second Eye ability to find the weakness.

But that would take a lot of time, and he didn't have time now. So, he thought it was better to take down the Blood Steel Mosquitoes first.

Airport

Many private jets were touching down. These were Beast Tamers who had gone to other zones earlier. Now, they were coming back to participate in the battle.

On the other hand, the real help was on the way. They had almost reached the border. A black, medium-sized jet appeared in the sky. It reached the airport within minutes.

It quietly landed on the ground.

Creak!

The jet came to a halt. The cabin door opened, and a team of Beast Tamers stepped out. There were close to twenty of them.

They were between Tier-7 and Tier-8 Beast Tamers. Upon coming outside, everyone turned towards the city wall.

They could see Blood Steel Mosquitoes and Vine Beasts on the city walls trying to reach the city.

A few of the Mosquitoes had entered the city and were engaging in fights with the local Beast Tamers.

"Vine Beast," a few Beast Tamers uttered in shock.

They didn't expect to see the Vine Beasts as well. It was not what they anticipated. This was a recent development.

"It appears we need more help. The Vine Beasts are hard to kill," a veteran said in a solemn tone.

Hearing that, the others agreed. It was not the first time the veteran had fought against the Vine Beasts; he had participated in several past battles as well.

Lastly, a middle-aged woman and man walked out of the jet. They were the City Governors of City A. Both of them were Tier-8 Beast Tamers.

They spotted the crisis as well. Both of them exchanged looks. Surprise and shock were clearly visible in their eyes. The Vine Beasts' appearances were completely unexpected.

They had to make a careful decision now.

Chapter 576: Strong help arrives!

9th Zone, B-City

Two middle-aged people, a man and a woman, stepped forward. Their names were Lucian Reeves and Serena Winslow.

They were the City Governors from City A, both Tier-8 Beast Tamers.

"You two stay behind to call for additional help," Lucian said to the Tier-7 Beast Tamers.

"The rest of you, follow us," he ordered.

Then, he glanced toward Serena Winslow. She nodded to him.

Swoosh!

They left the area and started heading toward the exit. When the group walked into the airport, they found that the atmosphere was chaotic.

There was shouting and screaming. Most of the people were ready to barge into the ticket counters.

Serena said, "The situation is getting worse. I think someone from the Human Alliance is needed."

"We have to hold on until they arrive," Lucian agreed with her.

The Beast Tamers behind them were listening, including a veteran Tier-8 Beast Tamer. His name was Paul.

Swoosh!

It didn't take long for them to leave and reach the city wall. Without anyone's order, the team summoned their Lifeline Beasts and started fighting the corrupted beasts.

Boom!

A giant black flying snake appeared in the sky. Governor Serena stood on its back and started commanding the beast.

Swoosh!

The beast moved toward the Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito in a flash. The snake's tail attacked, blasting the Blood Steel Mosquito away.

Boom!

The force was so powerful that the Tier-6 Blood Steel Mosquito burst into pieces like a watermelon.

After doing that, the flying snake bolted toward the other beasts causing havoc in the streets.

Boom!

Governor Lucian was not silent. He made a flashy appearance as well. A giant winged lion, over six meters tall, appeared in the sky.

He stood on its back and started giving instructions.

Boom! Boom!

The Giant Winged Lion began shooting golden flames toward the vine beasts. The vine beasts were entangling the city wall, trying to break it.

But they were all struck by the golden flames.

The sudden appearance of two giant beasts in the sky stunned everyone, including the Beast Tamers and the people on the ground.

Governor Black, Chloe, and Carl recognized them. They immediately went to greet them and the Beast Tamers behind them.

"Thanks for coming, both of you," Black said to them.

"Governor Black, the situation doesn't look optimistic. Three of the cunning beasts have come out," Lucian said to him.

Black sighed and said, "Yes, but the Tier-8 beasts have not made an appearance so far."

"It's good that they are not here yet," Serena said.

"Okay, we can continue the talk later. Let's eliminate all the beasts attacking the city walls first," Lucian said.

Roar!

His winged lion roared before pouncing toward the vine beasts. Seeing that, the others started fighting as well.

Governor Black had been using his shield to strike down the corrupted beasts. His Lifeline Beast was recovering, so he was not suitable for air battle.

Meanwhile, Governor Carl and his Lifeline Beast, a crocodile, used wind element abilities to knock down the new beasts emerging from the forests.

Governor Chloe was going after the Blood Steel Mosquitoes that had escaped the nets.

Admin Building

Jeremy Night was busy dealing with the beasts. He was taking time to find his targets to catch the Blood Steel Mosquitoes off guard.

The Blood Steel Mosquitoes had fast speed. They could dodge fast-moving bullets. But if you caught them off guard, you could kill them easily.

At this time, Jeremy Night spotted the appearance of help from other places. He didn't know who these people were. But seeing the flying-type beasts, he was relieved.

He thought the Beast Tamers behind them were equal to Tier-8 Beast Tamers, so he believed they would stop the beasts from attacking the city.

Then, his gaze shifted to the watchtower. He saw Commander Bolton still releasing arrows to target the beasts. He was surprised; he had never seen a person with bow and arrow talent before.

He thought it was extremely powerful. However, he hadn't seen Bolton's Lifeline Beast so far, which made him curious.

Boom!

Suddenly, a Tier-5 Blood Steel Mosquito slipped past Bolton and came toward the admin building. Unlike the Tier-6 beast, he could try a direct attack against a Tier-5 beast.

Seeing that, Jeremy's eyes flickered. He covered the rifle bullets in starlight power. Then, he took aim at the beast.

Bang! Bang!

After locking onto the target, he fired continuous shots.

Swoosh!

The big starlight bullets whistled through the air before reaching the target.

The Tier-5 Blood Steel Mosquito was startled. It was about to move its body, but a series of powerful bullets hit its compound eyes.

The bullets pierced the eye sockets before striking the brain.

Puchak!

The brain was crushed. The vitality in the body was gone. The huge body of the Tier-5 Blood Steel Mosquito fell to the ground.

At that moment, Bolton saw Jeremy Night. He nodded to the kid. He had been watching the kid for some time.

Seeing that the kid was able to use different types of firearms with a powerful coating impressed him.

He had already noticed that the white coating was some kind of ability. He decided to talk with the kid later. He was interested in the kid's background.

Commander Bolton wasn't the only one who had noticed Jeremy Night. Due to the fighting from the admin building, he had attracted a lot of attention.

Even the three City Governors and the Heads of the Beast Taming Families noticed Jeremy Night as well. They couldn't talk because of the ongoing situation.

This included the Rossi Family Head, Alessandro, and Elder Matteo. Both of them were regretting their earlier attitude toward Jeremy Night.

If they had known about Jeremy Night's talent, they would have met with him earlier. Now, they have created an unwanted gap.

Everyone was surprised by the emergence of the talented Beast Tamer. Among them, the Elders from the Central University and the Beast Taming Association were the most curious.

They had decided to talk with the young man later. If he had no background, then they would try everything to recruit him.

Chapter 577: Ceasefire

Wilderness

The Tier-7 Purple Snakes, Blood Steel Mosquitoes, and Vine Beasts were watching the battle. As per the Purple Snake's words, they were sending their beasts.

But they soon found out that the human Beast Tamers were powerful. They were managing to kill the beasts and protect the city wall.

If this went on, all of the beasts would die. Then, the leaders would have to step inside. The Blood Steel Mosquito and Vine Beast were in a dilemma.

They couldn't allow all their members to die. For that, they needed to get permission from the Tier-8 Beasts.

Both of them turned towards the Purple Snake.

"We can't send more members," the Blood Steel Mosquito said.

Earlier, it had promised to send a small team. Because of the Purple Snake's words, it had broken its own promise and sent more members.

Now, the Blood Steel Mosquito regrets it. Their population was small. If the killing went on, their whole population would shrink.

It couldn't anger the Tier-8 Blood Steel Mosquito behind them.

It was the same case with the Vine Beast. The Tier-8 Vine Beast was sleeping. If it woke up, it would definitely create havoc.

The Purple Snake realized that it couldn't fool them anymore. If the Tier-8 Beast behind them woke up, it wouldn't be able to escape the consequences of fooling them or the Tier-8 Purple Snake behind itself.

They had launched the attack because of hunger. They could first digest the corpses lying in the wilderness.

The Purple Snake then agreed to a temporary ceasefire.

The Blood Steel Mosquito and the Vine Beast were relieved. It didn't take long for the number of beasts coming out of the forest to be reduced.

Meanwhile

Jeremy Night had been watching the skies for some time. He didn't find any chance to kill a beast for the time being.

Slowly, he started realizing that they were winning. The number of beasts flying past the city walls had reduced.

The Beast Tamers on the city walls were more relaxed. He could see all types of lifeline beasts circling in the air. They were free now.

At that time, the City Governors standing in mid-air noticed the situation.

Governor Black frowned. His gaze locked onto the forest. He could not see any beasts hiding out there. It meant the beasts had stopped coming.

Governors Chloe and Carl saw the situation as well. They called back their lifeline beasts and arrived at Governor Black's side.

It didn't take long for all the beasts attacking the city walls to be killed. There were no more beasts terrorizing the streets.

Governors Lucian and Serena called back their beasts and came to the sides of Governor Black and the others.

"It appears that they have stopped for now. What are you going to do next?" Lucian asked.

He was worried about the Tier-8 beasts attacking them.

Black said, "These beasts are cunning. We have to be vigilant."

"There is a chance that they will attack once we vacate the front line," Chloe said from the side.

"She is right. The Purple Snakes have potent venom. They can attack from a distance. The Purple poison could easily kill hundreds of people," Carl stated his opinion.

Governors Lucian and Serena exchanged looks. They had come to lend a hand. They could not make the decision here, but they could offer their opinions.

"Let's just leave the front lines to the Tier-7 Beast Tamers. The Tier-8 Beast Tamers should focus on recovering first. If a Tier-8 Beast were to appear, we should be ready to stop it," Black said in a solemn tone.

Hearing that, everyone agreed.

Lucian and Serena thought it was a good idea. They ordered their team members to stay behind to assist.

Veteran Paul and a few Tier-8 Beast Tamers volunteered to stay there because they had joined the battle recently and were still at peak strength.

Then, the five City Governors went back to the City Administration building, where the various heads of the forces returned to their places to recover.

Alessandro Rossi and Matteo Rossi quickly rushed to the Rossi Family. They wanted to take a list of losses first.

At this time, both of them forgot about Jeremy Night.

Airport

Jets were still arriving at the airport. Right now, one such jet touched down on the ground. The white jet came to a halt.

Creak!

The door opened. A few people stepped outside. They were none other than Neil Moon and his friends. They were quite late, but they had arrived at their destination in the end.

Head Neil Moon immediately turned towards the City Wall. He could not see any beasts terrorizing the city, but there were Beast Tamers standing in mid-air.

They were facing the vast wilderness.

Head Neil Moon first wanted to meet Jeremy Night. He immediately called him. When the call connected, he spoke to Jeremy.

A few minutes later, he ended the call and heaved a sigh of relief. He found out Jeremy Night was fine. He was staying in the admin building near the city wall.

There was a temporary ceasefire. The corrupted beasts had stopped attacking for some reason. The City Governors had returned. The rest of them were keeping an eye on the situation.

But he was angry at the Rossi Family. He had thought Jeremy Night would be with them under their care. But he was wrong.

So, he decided to go see the City Governors first. He then left with his group of friends.

Meanwhile

Jeremy Night was speaking to Commander Bolton. Earlier, he had spoken to Head Neil. He was shocked internally that Head Neil had come for him.

Commander Bolton was just asking about his background. He was revealing some information.

"So you are originally from the 14th Zone. Then you got recruited to the 10th Zone. Now you are operating in the 9th Zone," Bolton said.

"Your experience is amazing," he added.

Hearing that, Jeremy smiled. He could tell that Commander Bolton wanted to recruit him. But he was already part of an organization.

Now that organization has another base in the 5th Zone. He was not ready to switch organizations.

Chapter 578: Tier-8 Purple Snake wakes up

9th Zone, B-City

Commander Bolton spoke for a few minutes before leaving; he still had to do patrol work. Meanwhile, Jeremy Night shifted his attention to other things.

He started observing the surroundings. He wanted to know whether anyone needed help. Then, he noticed the destroyed buildings.

People were looking for survivors. Seeing this, he decided to help. He could use his eye ability to find them. He stored his rifle in his storage ring and rushed to the spot.

Meanwhile

Head Neil Moon and other Tier-8 Beast Tamers met with the Governors of City B and City A from the 9th Zone.

Governors Black and the others weren't surprised. They had called for help earlier and were glad that the Tier-8 Beast Tamers had come.

More than that, the Governors were familiar with the veteran Tier-8 Beast Tamers.

"Head Neil Moon, you are late," Governor Lucian said.

"Yes, I didn't expect Vine Beasts and Blood Steel Mosquitoes to attack," Neil replied.

Lucian said, "We were surprised as well. The Blood Steel Mosquitoes were few in number, but they were the most dangerous."

They were seated at a round table, discussing the corrupted beasts. They knew that Head Neil was not wrong.

"The corrupted beasts were cunning. But we still don't know whether Tier-8 Beasts were involved or not," Lucian said.

Gasp!

A sharp gasp sounded. The Tier-8 Beast Tamers were as strong as the Tier-8 Corrupted Beasts, but the Tier-8 Beasts here were different.

They could give them a tough fight. Without help from the Human Alliance, they could not guarantee a certain victory.

"We need to urge the Human Alliance. They need to send a Tier-9 Beast Tamer who can handle these beasts," Serena said in a serious tone.

"We have already sent a request to the Human Alliance, but we don't know their response yet," Chloe said to her.

"None of us can handle the purple poison of the Tier-8 Purple Snake. We have to safeguard the people. A single drop can wipe out thousands," she added.

Hearing that, everyone's expression turned solemn.

Governor Carl was listening to everyone, but he had not spoken yet. He was deep in thought because he had found something weird about the corrupted snakes.

Governor Black and the other Governors noticed him. Since Carl was one of the Governors, his input was important as well.

"Carl, what happened?" Lucian asked.

Carl raised his head and said, "I'm confused as to why the Tier-7 Beasts have not come out in large numbers."

"If a Tier-8 Beast was behind the attack, then they would have sent out all their Tier-8 Corrupted Beasts," he added.

Hearing that, everyone shared the same doubt.

"Carl is right. The corrupted beasts are up to something. We have to be vigilant," Black said in a serious tone.

Meanwhile

Jeremy Night stood in front of a collapsed, towering building. People around him were shouting for help.

The collapse of the building had been caused by a Tier-5 Blood Steel Mosquito.

The mosquito had slammed into a series of nearby buildings, destroying them immediately and trapping people inside.

Jeremy started using his eye ability to scan the ruins. Under his gaze, the collapsed building became transparent. He could see iron, steel and pillars. Then, his gaze fell on the people trapped inside.

As time passed, he found more and more people. He began to save them, asking for assistance from those standing nearby.

The people were kind enough to assist; they started helping him immediately.

It didn't take long for him to find the first survivor. They pulled the person out of the rubble and shifted him to the makeshift hospital.

As time went by, Jeremy recovered more and more people. The locals were amazed to see a young Tier-2 Beast Tamer rescuing so many.

Wilderness

The Tier-7 Purple Snakes, Blood Steel Mosquitoes, and Vine Beasts were deep inside the wilderness.

They had agreed to divide the corpses equally, so they had sent their members to drag the corpses back to their own territories.

These three groups of beasts had hidden things from the Tier-8 Corrupted Beasts.

But they didn't know something was about to happen.

At this time, a Tier-8 Purple Snake sleeping in the deepest part of a cave woke up. The beast opened its vertical eyes.

They flashed with surprise and confusion. It was surprising because it sensed something wrong with the city. There could be more Tier-8 Beast Tamers in the city than normal.

The snake then shifted its attention to the wilderness. It immediately sensed the corpses everywhere including the corpses of the Purple Snakes.

Hiss!

The Tier-8 Purple Snake hissed. It was angry. So many corpses were in the wilderness, all killed by the Beast Tamers. But it didn't know what had happened.

The huge body of the snake came out of the cave. Its oppressive aura immediately covered the beasts guarding the outside.

The Tier-8 Purple Snake appeared in the open. Its massive body became clear near the big tree. The nearby snakes lowered their heads.

The Tier-8 Purple Snake started inquiring about the news. It didn't take long for the Tier-8 Beast to learn everything.

Hiss!

The beast was extremely angry. The Human Beast Tamers had gathered in large numbers for a reason.

The Tier-7 Beasts had attacked the city. It immediately ordered the remaining beasts to bring out the Tier-7 Snake in particular.

After doing that, the Tier-8 Purple Snake started moving towards the Vine Beast. Things had come to this; the beast decided to wake up the Tier-8 Vine Beast.

If the Human Alliance came, they would be in a bad position.

The Purple Snake reached the wide and large canopy. If it wanted to, it could crush the place, but the Vine Beast could be nearby.

Its oppression was hurting the other beasts. If the Vine Beast didn't appear, they would all die.

The Tier-8 Purple Snake wasn't doing it deliberately, but its presence was enough to hurt the other vine beasts.

Chapter 579: Part 1: Alert

Wilderness

In the dark, deep canopy, the vine beasts were all alerted, especially the Tier-7 Vine Beasts. Not all the Tier-7 beasts had left their territory yet.

Right now, they all felt the coercion from the Tier-8 Purple Snake. They soon found out that the Tier-8 Purple Snake had entered their territory.

The vine beasts became alarmed. A few of them immediately went towards the deepest part of the area.

A powerful, thick, long, dark vine had occupied that area. Right now, the size of the vine was many times larger than a normal Tier-7 vine.

It was wider than the trunk of a giant tree. From the size alone, it was evident that the trunk-like vine was a Tier-8 Beast.

Boom!

The vine moved all of a sudden, startling the rest of the beasts. The Tier-8 Vine Beast woke up. It had sensed the presence of the Tier-8 Purple Snake.

Without minding the nearby vine beasts, the Tier-8 Vine moved towards the Tier-8 Purple Snake. The trunk-like vine darted out towards a spot in mid-air.

Swoosh!

If this scene had been witnessed by locals, they would have been terrified on the spot. The Tier-8 Vine Beast was enough to destroy a whole city.

Swoosh!

The Tier-8 Purple Snake looked at the sky. It sensed the arrival of the Tier-8 Vine Beast. In a shot, a long, monstrous vine appeared in the sky.

Boom!

The tip of the vine struck the ground. The next second, the ground cracked. The surface crack began to widen.

In the blink of an eye, the surrounding trees and vegetation were uprooted completely.

The other vine beasts stayed behind. They didn't go near the two Tier-8 beasts. Their coercion was too strong. The hundred meters around them was a no-go zone for the other beasts.

Hiss!

The Tier-8 Purple Snake hissed and said, "It took you so long to wake up."

Rustle!

The Tier-8 Vine Beast made a noise before saying, "What have you done? Why are there so many Beast Tamers in the city?"

The Vine Beast communicated with the snake.

The Tier-8 Purple Snake's vertical eyes fell on the Vine Beast. Even with its massive body, it was not easy to suppress the Vine Beast completely.

Both of them couldn't kill each other. The Tier-8 Purple Snake had the ambition of being the only overlord here. That was why it was trying to break through earlier.

"If the Beast Tamers from the Human Alliance come to our territory, it is necessary for us to stand united," the Purple Snake said.

The Vine Beast asked, "What about the Blood Steel Mosquito?"

"I'm sure the Blood Steel Mosquito must have felt changes in the city," the Purple Snake added.

"Then we can wait. If the Beast Tamers from the Human Alliance dare to enter our place, then we will attack the city directly."

"It appears they forgot our strength," the Vine Beast communicated.

Meanwhile

In the city administration building, the City Governors and other Tier-8 Beast Tamers felt the changes in the wilderness.

The power they felt from the wilderness made their expressions change. Everyone stood up from their seats.

Governor Black, Chloe, and Carl looked at each other's faces. They seemed to think of something. Governor Lucian and Serena were also looking at them.

Head Neil Moon's heart stirred. His friends and others remained silent because everyone felt the same power surge coming from the wilderness.

Governor Black took a deep breath before saying, "It could be a Tier-8 Beast."

Gasp!

An exclamation sounded.

During the discussion, Governor Carl brought up a point, wondering whether Tier-8 beasts were behind it. If it were true, then they would need the help of the Human Alliance.

"What should we do?"

"The power surge felt real. We should contact the Human Alliance," Carl said to them.

Hearing that, Governor Lucian and Serena understood what was going on. For a second, they were confused by the sudden power surge.

"I think it's true. Contact the Human Alliance right now. The emergence of a Tier-8 Beast is no joke. They pose a direct threat to the city," Lucian said.

"I will also contact them on behalf of City A," he added.

"Okay," Black replied.

"Should we evacuate the people?" Chloe asked out of urgency.

Hearing that, Black gave it a thought before saying, "Let's ask the people to hide in their bunkers for the time being."

"We can't tell them everything for the time being," he added.

"It's a good idea. Let's provide safe shelter to the locals first," Serena said.

Head Neil and other Beast Tamers who came to help were listening to them. Earlier, he had thought about visiting the Rossi Family.

Now he thought it was unnecessary. His priority should be helping out the people here.

While they were discussing, he said, "I'm going to try to shift the people to a safe location."

Hearing Head Neil Moon's words, everyone was surprised because he was a Tier-8 Beast Tamer with a status not inferior to theirs.

Governor Black, Chloe, and Carl thanked him.

After some talk, Head Neil Moon left with the others to help the people.

Meanwhile

Jeremy Night had been helping out people. Because of his help, the locals were able to recover people trapped under the rubble.

They were immediately admitted to the makeshift hospital. The count of rescued people reached more than 160.

The City Guard captains and guards were surprised. Even the Commanders on the watchtowers were taken aback.

It didn't take long before Jeremy Night decided to take a rest. He returned to the admin building. To his surprise, Head Neil was waiting there.

"Kid, it appears you helped out a lot of people," Head Neil Moon said.

Hearing that, Jeremy smiled and said, "Head, I just helped a few people. But the real threat is not over yet."

A hint of approval flashed in Neil Moon's eyes.

"It's good that you were following updates. I'm going to tell you something, but you should not tell others," Head Neil Moon said.

Jeremy Night nodded to him.

"The Tier-8 Corrupted Beasts have appeared in the wilderness. They have come out of their hideout. The situation can turn worse at any moment. So be careful," Neil said.

Chapter 580: Part 2: Alert

9th Zone, B-City

Admin Building

Jeremy Night was shocked to the core. He didn't expect to hear such terrifying news at this moment. The Tier-8 Beasts were present in the wilderness.

Which meant they could attack at any moment. Jeremy Night's forehead was filled with sweat. He didn't know what to do now.

Head Neil Moon saw through Jeremy Night's worries.

He walked up to him and patted his shoulder. His expression turned solemn.

Then he said, "Don't put too much pressure on yourself. We have City Governors from other cities here."

"There is still more help on the way. Besides, the Human Alliance will act soon. So you can relax," he added.

Jeremy collected his thoughts and calmed down.

"It's okay, Head. I'm fine," Jeremy replied.

"Good, then take care. I'm going to help people move into shelters. If you need anything, then call me." After saying that, Head Neil Moon left the place.

Jeremy stood rooted to the same spot. It took him a few seconds to move. He was about to look for people to help when he saw someone coming towards him.

The person was none other than Nico Rossi.

Jeremy's eyes flashed with a glint. He didn't expect Nico to come to see him.

"Brother Jeremy, you are safe. I was worried when I heard you were fighting at the front lines," Nico said in a serious tone.

Hearing that, Jeremy smiled and asked, "I'm doing fine, but what about you?"

"How did they let you go?" he added.

"Brother Jeremy, we were helping family members move into the shelter. I used the opportunity to sneak out to meet you," Nico replied.

Jeremy Night's eyes glinted with understanding. He thought that all the major families must have their own bunkers.

Because of the Tier-8 Beast threat, they were moving out now. Jeremy decided to continue helping.

"What are you going to do now?"

"I have decided to continue helping," Jeremy said to him.

"Brother Jeremy, then I'll come with you. Let's go around the city," Nico Rossi replied.

Jeremy nodded to him. Both of them left the place and started walking on the street. Jeremy used his eyesight to find important places, while Nico Rossi checked online posts.

People who needed immediate help were posting news online.

There were some buildings damaged by the Vine Beasts near the watchtower in other parts of the city. The people out there were helping them, but the process was slow.

Human Alliance

The officials in the Human Alliance got the report. They were discussing which Tier-9 Beast Tamer to send to help, because the Blood Steel Mosquitoes, Purple Snakes, and Vine Beasts were not ordinary beasts.

They could give a tough fight to the Tier-9 Beast Tamers. They needed to send someone who could take down these beasts.

Just as they were looking into it, it didn't take long for them to receive another call. This time, the Governors of City A were calling them.

After attending the call, they came to know about the current crisis. The five City Governors had felt the presence of Tier-8 Corrupted Beasts in the wilderness.

It shocked the officials here. They knew how dangerous a Tier-8 Corrupted Beast was.

Earlier, they were discussing sending a Tier-9 Beast Tamer to deal with Tier-7 and below beasts.

Now that the Tier-8 Beasts had made an appearance, it was all the more important to send more than one Tier-9 Beast Tamer.

The higher-ups acted quickly. They immediately shared the news with the Tier-9 Beast Tamers who were free and currently staying in the headquarters.

Most of the Tier-9 Beast Tamers were not in the headquarters; their primary job was to explore the unexplored areas of the world.

Only a few of them were resting here, so the news reached their ears. Different Tier-9 Beast Tamers saw the news.

Everyone was familiar with the dangers surrounding the Human Zone and the cities in it. They were even more familiar with the top 10 zones.

So, they knew that these three beasts were not ordinary. The purple poison from the Purple Snake could harm them.

The Vine Beast had a stronger body than some of the giant trees. The Blood Steel Mosquitoes were even more dangerous. It was hard to kill them because of their hard defense.

What more? The Blood Steel Mosquitoes could absorb their blood. So, they had to be careful when dealing with them.

The Tier-9 Beast Tamers didn't immediately reply. They were discussing it with others.

That night, Jeremy Night and Nico finished their work. Then they entered a restaurant to have dinner.

Fortunately, the corrupted beasts hadn't launched any surprise attacks so far.

Because of this, they were able to rescue many people. Now they had a break.

Inside the glass room, both of them were having a conversation.

"Brother Jeremy, I didn't expect you to be famous among the City Guards. Everyone knows you now. What have you done?" Nico asked.

His eyes were filled with surprise. During this time, while helping the people, he found out many City Guards were striking up conversations with Brother Jeremy.

Including some City Captains and Commanders. He was shocked.

On the other hand, Jeremy smiled. He thought that fame was good. His goal was to settle down in the top 5 zones. The resources there were abundant.

He then said, "I just killed as many beasts as possible."

Nico nodded and said, "Brother, you have to watch your back. The main family descendants and other famous children might have heard about you."

Jeremy's eyes glinted with understanding. Then they continued to have their food.

About 20 minutes later, they walked out.

Suddenly, Jeremy turned towards the city wall. In this dark night, he didn't know why he became restless all of a sudden.

Nico noticed the reaction. He asked, "Brother, what happened?"

Jeremy didn't speak.

"Come with me." After saying that, he started going towards the city wall. He wanted to check things himself with his eyesight.

Nico Rossi understood that something bad had happened.
