

STRIKER 81

Chapter 81 Part 2: Meeting with Violet Heath

Striker Department:

Violet Heath wasn't surprised. Almost everyone had heard of her family.

"It's good that you have heard our family name. It will make things easier," she said in a serious tone.

Hearing that, Jeremy's eyes flickered. He didn't know whether it was related to the 2nd Year Beast Tamers.

Betsy Lowe was confused as well. From Violet's tone, she understood that they were going to discuss something serious.

"You guys can talk freely. I'm waiting outside." After saying this, Betsy walked out of the class.

Violet nodded her head before looking towards Jeremy Night.

"I heard what happened to you today. The 2nd Year Beast Tamers have crossed the line. The families behind them made a huge mistake."

"Undoubtedly, everyone involved will be punished. But I don't want the incident to be made public. This will hurt the interests of other families who are unrelated to this incident."

"People would generalize the Beast Taming families, which could hurt several businesses and the livelihoods of locals who depend on them."

She took her time to explain the gravity of the current situation. If Jeremy Night or his family made the incident public, it would offend a lot of people.

A few minutes later,

A look of understanding dawned on Jeremy Night's face. He had totally misunderstood her earlier. She was arguing on behalf of those unrelated families.

When he thought about it right now, he realized that she was right. If he decided to make this incident public, it would hurt powerful families.

Who knows, these families might take their anger out on him or his family. He didn't want that to happen.

Violet was looking into this junior's eyes. She thought that this Junior was not only talented but smart as well. As long as he knew how to read the room, he would attain a great position in the future.

"Alright, Senior. I won't talk about it. But I need some time to convince my parents," Jeremy replied.

Sigh!

A sigh escaped from Violet's mouth. Her efforts resulted in a favorable outcome. A bright smile blossomed on her face.

Jeremy felt a loss for a second watching her smile.

"I'm happy that you can understand the situation. Don't worry, the others who are directly related to this incident won't escape."

"If you need any help in the future, you can contact me. It's my number," Violet Heath said with a smile.

Jeremy was stunned. Things were going beyond his imagination, but he controlled his thoughts before accepting her contact number. He quickly saved it on his digital device.

Violet Heath then nodded at him before leaving. She couldn't help but think this junior, Jeremy Night, was interesting. She was looking forward to his performance in the future.

But it was a pity that she couldn't recruit him to her family because he came from the City Governor Family. Jeremy stood there like a statue.

After a couple of seconds, Betsy walked back into the class.

"She is gone," Betsy said.

Hearing that, Jeremy collected his thoughts and turned towards her.

"Thanks for reminding me. Otherwise, I would have stayed in the room," Jeremy replied.

"I know I can't ask what that was about, but let me tell you something. Don't offend these Beast Taming families, especially the Elite and Top Families."

"I heard they have connections in the Human Alliance as well. They can even put pressure on our university."

"So I hope you won't get involved in dangerous things. Otherwise, it would cause a bad ending for the Striker Department as well," Betsy warned.

Jeremy's eyes gleamed with a twinkle, but he didn't refute her because her concern was genuine. At this time, their department needed support from everyone.

"Don't worry, I'm not seeking any problems. It's just that some people don't like the reemergence of the Striker Department," he said to her.

"I know. Since Dean Carolyn is supporting us, I doubt people would dare do anything," Betsy replied.

Hearing that, Jeremy didn't know whether to laugh or cry. He had just survived their sinister plot, but he didn't want to tell her.

Since he had told Senior Violet Heath that he wouldn't leak the news outside, he felt it was better not to tell her as well.

Then they spoke about a few other things before they decided to leave.

Shortly afterwards,

Jeremy returned to his dorm room. After locking the door, he went to the bedroom. Sitting on the bed, he took out his digital device and called his father.

When the call was connected, Jeremy started hearing the concerned voice of his father, and then his mother started talking to him.

Jeremy was confused and shocked. He hadn't told anyone about the incident except Instructor Jacob.

How had his parents learned about this? Jeremy then heard from his father that both instructors were in his house.

His eyes filled with surprise and doubt. His father continued to fill him in with details. Only then was he able to understand that both instructors had the same purpose as Senior Violet Heath.

Both instructors were in a hurry. They went there without telling him. A bitter smile appeared on his face. He was not the one who caused the problem.

Yet he couldn't even voice his injustice to the outside world. Jeremy then assured his parents that he was doing fine. The instructors had rescued him before anything bad happened.

Then Jeremy learned that his parents agreed not to disclose the matter as well. He didn't need to convince them. They were wise enough to understand the gravity of the situation.

His father and mother wanted to meet him. Jeremy assured them that he would select a few days on the calendar before planning the trip.

After ending the call, Jeremy lay on his bed. The only favorable outcome was that he got the contact number of Violet Heath.

Normally, no one dared to talk to them. Especially, to someone with her identity.

The children of these top families had their own circles. He was surprised that Senior Violet Heath had come herself to resolve this issue.

He thought that getting to know her was also a good opportunity.
