

STRIKER 95

Chapter 95 Not bluffing!

East side:

Norton was dumbfounded. He was ready to defend against the Tier-3 Corrupted Beast, but he was not sure about killing it. He was slightly afraid.

But Jeremy had dealt with a group within minutes.

"Was he really a Tier-1 Beast Tamer?" Norton asked himself.

Rin widened her eyes in disbelief. She was holding her knife in her hand, but she had no opportunity to use it. She could only look at Jeremy in shock.

"How come he kills the beasts just like that?" she asked in her heart.

Ken was shocked to the core. He was ready to use his gauntlet, but he had no chance as well. Standing beside Jeremy, he thought it was like standing beside a high-tier Beast Tamer.

Not only them; even Eve, who was standing behind all of them, had her mouth wide open. The other Beast Tamers were still fighting against the beasts.

Some of them got hurt. Yet this one team had killed five beasts in seconds. The scene was unbelievable for them.

Roar!

Jeremy had no time to pay attention to others' thoughts. He saw a few more beasts coming toward him. He was careful not to waste the starlight energy.

The katana blade was shining with white light.

West side:

Boom!

The frozen Tier-2 and Tier-3 Beasts were destroyed into pieces. May Lindsey then raised her right hand.

Swoosh!

She shot an ice spike at a Tier-2 Beast. The ice spike went across in a straight line before piercing into the beast's chest.

Pfff!

Blood splattered on the ground. In the blink of an eye, a frozen corpse dropped to the ground.

Gasp!

Seeing her decisive attacks, the family Beast Tamers sucked in a cold breath of air. The Lindsey Family Beast Tamers were especially happy and proud.

Not only did their Miss save them from trouble, but she was also increasing the prestige of their family.

"Harumph!"

Victor Scott gave a cold snort. He thought that his limelight had been stolen by her.

The Scott Family Beast Tamers showed varied expressions. Some understood the anger of their young master, while others thought May Lindsey had an advantage because she had elemental talent.

Victor commanded his lifeline beast spider to kill more Tier-2 and Tier-3 Beasts. He didn't want to lag behind her.

He thought it was like a department ranking competition. Yet there were more Corrupted Beasts to face.

On the other hand, Violet Heath was dealing casually with these beasts. Her real opponent was Tier-4 Corrupted Beasts.

So all the 3rd and 4th-year students of Star University were waiting for Tier-4 Corrupted Beasts to appear.

Meanwhile,

City Governor Elton arrived in the wilderness. He ordered the lifeline beast not to make any sound. He didn't want the mastermind to slip away.

Above the clouds, a bird was circling around. Elton was standing on the bird's back. He was looking at the ground below. He saw how Tier-3 Corrupted Beasts had gone from this place.

When he tried to scan the entire area, he saw Tier-4 Corrupted Beasts sleeping on the ground.

"This?" His eyes flashed with surprise.

"Why are they sleeping?"

"If they are sleeping, then they have yet to receive any orders?" Elton asked himself.

He figured out something. He asked the lifeline beast to fly forward. He was going to look for Tier-5 Corrupted Beasts.

Swoosh!

The huge bird flew a little deeper. They had come far away from City A. It was the actual territory of the beasts. You could find many beast lairs here.

Usually, the Beast Tamers from City A visited the wilderness to hunt. But no one had dared to go this far. Elton's eyes flickered.

It was even the first time for him to come this deep. Yet he saw no sign of Tier-5 Beasts on the ground. He was quite a distance away from the sleeping Tier-4 Corrupted Beasts.

"How come there is no Tier-5 Beast?"

"Don't tell me Tier-4 Beasts are the masterminds?"

"It's impossible?" He contradicted himself.

Elton felt absurd. He thought there were Tier-5 Beasts somewhere around, but he couldn't see them.

He then asked the lifeline beasts to fly around.

On the other hand, the Tier-7 Thorny Worm had already communicated with others. The Tier-6 Beasts wouldn't appear above the surface.

Whereas the 10 Tier-5 Corrupted Beasts had already hidden themselves. The bird lifeline beast wouldn't be able to find them unless it landed on the ground.

City Governor Elton was not stupid enough to do that. He knew that once he landed on the ground, there could be chances of an ambush.

If something happened to his Lifeline Beasts, then his mental zone would get hurt as well, which would be bad for City A.

The bird continued to circle around, but it was unable to sense beasts more powerful than itself.

The three Tier-6 Corrupted Beasts were hiding well under the ground. Until they received orders from the Tier-7 Beast, they wouldn't be moving from their spot.

...

City A:

The two City Governors were watching the front line with cold looks on their faces. The Beast Tamers were getting hurt under the attack of Tier-2 and Tier-3 Corrupted Beasts.

"Should we eliminate them?" the tall City Governor asked.

"It's a good opportunity for the Beast Tamers to gain life and death experience. Unless it's necessary, we shouldn't hinder them," the City Governor standing beside him said.

On the other hand, the Commanders were watching the front line as well.

Commander Harris on the east side was finding it hard to control his emotions. He saw something incredible.

From the beginning, he had been keeping an eye on Jeremy Night from time to time. When he saw that kid cutting Tier-2 and Tier-3 Beasts like weeds, he was shocked to the core.

He recalled that kid's statement earlier. He thought that kid was bluffing; but he had the strength to kill Tier-3 Corrupted Beasts.

Now he was starting to understand why Dean Carolyn had re-established the Striker Department.

With this kid, the fallen department could be redeveloped. He was looking forward to seeing him fight against Tier-4 Corrupted Beasts.

He knew the kid was still Tier-1, yet fighting across two ranks. He wanted to see whether he could do it against Tier-4 Beasts.
