

Chapter 1361 Being Hunted Again

Liam sheathed the sword of darkness with a satisfied smile after channeling a strand of Death Power into the blade, allowing the sword to soak up the energy.

Turning to Shiloh and Trudy, he asked casually, "Shiloh, what should we do next?"

Understanding less about the stronghold of the Titan Bugs than Shiloh and his sister, Liam sought their insights.

After pausing to think, Shiloh answered, "This is our first time here. Our family has never had a map of this place. I only know about the Titan Bugs' strength, which doesn't help much with planning. Liam, what do you think we should do to finish this mission?"

Liam hadn't expected to find Shiloh as unsure as he was.

Liam thought for a moment and finally said, "For now, we might have to improvise. We don't fully know the strength of the Titan Bugs. Gathering more information before we act is crucial. Otherwise, we could run into dire situations like we did yesterday."

Shiloh and Trudy both agreed with Liam's approach and nodded.

However, as they were about to leave the cave and make a plan, Liam's expression suddenly shifted.

Having encountered a surprisingly strong Titan Bug the day before, Shiloh and Trudy trusted Liam's instinct for danger.

Noticing Liam's concerned look, they quickly asked, "What's wrong? Did you sense something?"

With a furrowed brow, Liam shared his urgent discovery. "A large group of Titan Bugs has located us. Get ready to fight quickly! They've blocked Shiloh's and Trudy's faces turned pale. They hadn't expected they would be found so quickly.

Now feeling stronger, Shiloh said with resolve, "Liam, let's set up the sword formation again!"

Shiloh believed that facing such a large group of Titan Bugs again, their only chance of survival was to use the sword formation.

He quickly pulled out the formation diagram, preparing to activate it.

But Liam shook his head and said, "No need for that. These bugs are only low-stage Primogem Experts. Leave them to me. You and Trudy just focus on staying safe."

Shiloh exchanged a surprised look with his sister, both puzzled by Liam's reference to "low-stage Primogem Experts".

After all, Liam had previously killed a second-stage Primogem King Titan Bug. To Shiloh and Trudy, even a ninth-stage Primogem Expert might seem weak in comparison to Liam's abilities.

Before they could ponder further, a horde of Titan Bugs flooded into the cave.

The overwhelming number of Titan Bugs was intimidating, sending a shiver down their spines.

Most of the Titan Bugs were at the level of the fifth or sixth stage of Primogem Expert. Some were even at the seventh stage.

Trudy stared at Liam in disbelief.

Had Liam really just dismissed these as low-stage?

With this thought, a surge of excitement filled Trudy. She was eager to see how Liam would handle this formidable swarm of Titan Bugs.
