

Chapter 1362 Liam's Solution

Shiloh and Trudy observed as Liam abruptly shut his eyes, not taking any actions.

They shared a confused look, uncertain about what Liam was up to.

They didn't think Liam was surrendering since Liam had achieved numerous extraordinary feats before.

The next second, a distinctive and overwhelming scent of law power emanated from Liam—a suffocating, despair-filled aura of death.

Shiloh was shocked and widened his eyes. As he carefully examined the aura, his face displayed sheer astonishment.

He couldn't help but exclaim, "It's the Death Power, one of the most potent and elusive law powers! Liam has mastered such a terrifying force!"

Although Trudy couldn't discern the exact nature of Liam's power, her brother's words left her equally shocked.

The Death Power was one of the most sought-after and mighty law powers within the Human Clan. She couldn't believe Liam had grasped it!

While the Death Power wasn't renowned for close-quarters combat, it was quite exceptional at wiping out numerous enemies who were weaker than the user.

Such a force could have a massive impact on the interstellar battlefield.

At this point, Liam was fully absorbed in his spiritual realm, unaware of the siblings' astonishment.

With his eyes firmly closed, he felt a tinge of nervousness.

This was his first attempt at utilizing the Death Power, specifically its central ability, "Fatal Hex".

But Liam's unease didn't come from concern for their well-being as he was confident in his skills. Even if "Fatal Hex" failed, he could still easily kill the swarm of Titan Bugs. However, it would demand more exertion than him using "Fatal Hex".

Liam swiftly pushed aside all distracting thoughts and focused on activating "Fatal Hex".

His 7% understanding of the Death Power was adequate for a successful initial attempt.

As the energy of "Fatal Hex" emanated from Liam, the entire cave was filled with an indescribable, eerie ambiance.

Liam then dispersed the energy into numerous fine threads, directing them toward the Titan Bugs' heads.

Instantly, the cave was engulfed in a murderous atmosphere. Standing tall, Liam was like an ominous figure, exuding an undeniable aura of danger.

Sensing the impending threat, the Titan Bugs panicked and tried to leave the cave.

But Liam, having made his move, wasn't about to let any of them slip away.

With a chilling smile, he fixed his icy gaze on the fleeing Titan Bugs and spoke a single word: "Die."

As his word resonated, the "Fatal Hex" energy above the Titan Bugs' heads detonated.

In an instant, every Titan Bug below the seventh-stage Primogem Expert level was obliterated, their bodies shattering into pieces.

