

Chapter 1368 Her Embrace

Soon after their arrival, Liam, along with Shiloh and Trudy, descended into the valley.

Shiloh and Trudy then began gathering the remains of Titan Bugs scattered across the ground.

These remnants were valuable, exchangeable for special points in the Network of Human Sovereign.

Though the crushed bodies of the insects yielded only minimal points, the huge number of them made the collection worthwhile.

Lindy's face lit up with awe as she noticed the people descending into the valley. She was on the verge of stepping forward to thank them when she suddenly halted.

The young man who had come to her aid was someone she recognized, which she hadn't anticipated.

Beside her, Annabella gently nudged Lindy's arm and whispered, "Lindy, what are you doing?"

Jolted from her reverie, Lindy's face showed a mix of emotions. She quickened her pace from a brisk walk to a jog towards Liam. Approaching Liam, she embraced him tightly, tears streaming down her cheeks.

"Liam! I thought I'd never see you again!" Lindy's voice was raspy, filled with fear.

Startled by Lindy's sudden embrace, Liam stood awkwardly.

He hadn't expected such an immediate hug and found himself with his arms suspended mid-air, uncertain of where to place them.

Watching this, Julio, who had considered escaping earlier, felt a surge of jealousy and resentment toward Liam.

He was jealous of Liam's close interaction with Lindy.

Soon, Lindy realized her impulsive action.

Her cheeks turned a deep red, and she quickly released Liam and averted her gaze, embarrassed. "Liam, why are you here? Did the person who saved us ask you to come here?"

Liam responded with a slight smile, "Lindy, don't you believe it was me who saved you?"

Lindy's eyes widened. She momentarily forgot her embarrassment.

To have slain so many Titan Bugs with a single strike of his sword, Liam must have reached the formidable sixth stage as a Primogem King!

"You mean... You killed all those Titan Bugs?" Lindy asked.

Liam nodded, acknowledging her surprise at his prowess. He explained, "That sword light you saw was from a sword formation I activated. I haven't become a Primogem King yet. I'm still just at the seventh stage of Primogem Expert."

The sword light was the result of Liam's sword formation, amplified by the combined efforts of the Gibson siblings and his own potent spiritual power. This teamwork had boosted the formation's power, enough to take down a fourth-stage Primogem King.

Liam's adept management of primogem energy and spiritual power meant they weren't drained after the formidable attack.

Lindy now grasped the situation.

Yet, she remained amazed that Liam had ascended to the seventh stage of Primogem Expert so quickly.

It had been less than three months since Liam's arrival in the Cosmic realm, and he had swiftly progressed to this from a Primogem Warrior.

Lindy gasped, deeply impressed by Liam's extraordinary talent.

Regaining her composure, she looked at Liam with eyes sparkling with joy and admiration. "Liam, your talent is truly incredible! If Sheldon learned about this, he would be so proud of you!"

+120 Points at most

Liam offered a warm smile, feeling a deep sense of gratitude towards Sheldon. Sheldon had provided him with significant support and assistance upon his arrival in the Cosmic realm.

While Liam and Lindy were conversing, Julio's fear of Liam melted away, replaced by disdain.

He exchanged glances with his brother Jeremias, and they both shared a smirk.

It was clear that after learning about the fact that Liam was just a seventh-stage Primogem Expert, Julio had a scheme form in his mind.

"I'll do anything for you" 🔥
