

Chapter 1405 Absorbing The Blood Essence

After diluting the blood essence of the Blood Sovereign, Liam carefully poured it out, ready to apply it evenly across his body.

Though the diluted blood essence was almost as transparent as water, Liam remained cautious. He took multiple precautions to safeguard his body before he began the application.

As soon as the diluted blood essence touched Liam's skin, he felt an intense burning sensation as if his body were engulfed in flames.

The pain was excruciating, far beyond what an ordinary person could endure. More than just a physical sensation, the pain seemed to penetrate deep into Liam's soul, tormenting him.

If not for Liam's extraordinary soul power, the pain would have overwhelmed him into unconsciousness.

Liam was drenched in sweat, his body occasionally convulsing, signaling he was not in a good condition.

He quickly channeled all his primogem energy to buffer the intense pain that pierced deep into his soul.

Thankfully, the primogem energy proved effective and alleviated much of the pain's impact.

However, as he adjusted, a more intense wave of pain swept over his entire body.

Despite this, Liam remained composed.

He understood that such a reaction was to be expected.

It was his first time using the blood essence of the Blood Sovereign, and it was natural for his body to struggle with adapting to the powerful

A few minutes later, the burning sensation intensified.

Liam endured the torment, and he could feel his body's strength increasing rapidly. What was more, his muscles became tauter and more defined.

Now, Liam's body strength was at the "Copper-Form Body" level. He estimated that even a small drop of the Blood Sovereign's blood essence could elevate his body to the "Silver-Form Body" level.

Although Liam wasn't deeply knowledgeable about the nuances of the human body, the changes within his own body were unmistakable.

He could feel his physical strength continued to improve steadily.

Gradually, the intense burning sensation began to subside, but the energy from the Blood Sovereign's blood essence remained potent, reassuring Liam.

As long as the energy was sufficient to support the transformation of his body, he was satisfied.

Meanwhile, Liam marveled at the potency of the blood essence. It indeed originated from a formidable Primogem Deity of the Blood Clan. The energy it contained was astounding.

It was merely a drop of the blood essence, and even in its diluted state, it was incredibly potent.

Liam could only imagine the immense power that an undiluted drop of the Blood Sovereign's blood essence would possess.

Liam felt fortunate that he had been cautious.

Had he not diluted the blood essence, the raw, uncontrolled energy of it could have scorched him upon contact. The sheer power might have even caused his body to explode!
