Chapter 91: So What If You Steal It

Ye Mo was sure that when he arrived at Luo Cang, he would need to find a proper place to grow his Silver Heart Grass, and until it was fully grown, he would not only waste time but also raise suspicion if he watched it germinate every day. Besides, although he had tens of thousands of dollars, that money would be gone soon enough as he would buy food and medicine.

When the train arrived at the Shen Yang Station, another two people came in and, the four people compartment was filled immediately.

One of them was a middle-aged man in his 30s with a black bag in his hands. He had very dodgy eyes as he scanned the compartment and noticed the woman sleeping, so he smiled and greeted Ye Mo, "Hello, I'm Jin Jibing, and I'm going to Beijing, how should I call you, friend?"

"Mo Ye," Ye Mo's words were very simple as he didn't really like talking to strangers. This was his habit after long years of cultivation. Also, he didn't particularly like Jin Jibing's dodgy eyes.

At this moment, the woman in her 40s also woke up and sat on the bed. Jin Jibing seemed to feel that Ye Mo didn't like to talk much, so he immediately greeted the woman.

After a little nap, this woman became more spirited. However, she was quite talkative, and soon they started to talk about everything. Ye Mo heard that this woman was called Wang Yan and was going to Beijing too; however, she had also some business in Shen Yang. He was no longer interested in their conversation and looked at the other person who came.

This was a young man in his 20s who was wearing very ordinary clothes, he even had a few patches on his pants meaning that his economic condition wasn't too good. Ye Mo didn't know why he would buy a bed ticket.

However, this youth seemed scared of something, and once he came in, he went to his bed and no longer talked. He just clutched his bag tightly. Seeing his vigilant attitude, Yr Mo thought that he was more experienced than that woman in her 40s.

“Little brother, do you have gold in your bag. Haha, I see you’re very alert. It’s okay, we’re all strangers, but you just need to be careful, there is no need to hug your bag this tightly,” Jin Jibing talked with the woman for a while and suddenly looked at that innocent youth, joking with him.

“No, no gold, just some tools to cure illness...” this innocent youth didn’t seem to expect that someone would talk to him and immediately stuttered.

“Oh, I didn’t know you were a doctor, excuse my rudeness before, what’s your surname?” seeing the youth’s anxiety, Jin Jibing asked once again; however, his tone wasn’t contemptuous.

“I’m Yu Erhu, my medical skills were passed down from my ancestors...” the anxiousness in Yu Erhu’s tone was still obvious, showing that it was his first time leaving his home.

“Uh... I really couldn’t tell you were a doctor, where do you plan to go?” Wang Yan’s tone was obviously suspicious toward Yu Erhu being a doctor; however, she wasn’t straightforward about it.

Yu Erhu blushed more after being asked like that by Wang Yan, he mumbled, “I got a ticket to Zheng State, so I’m going there to have a look.”

Ye Mo had already understood that this Yu Erhu had never left home before and probably didn’t even know where he got the ticket to Zheng State.

Although he didn’t know what Yu Erhu’s medical skills were like, he could imagine that he definitely wouldn’t be able to survive properly there. Perhaps, he may even end up begging in the streets.

However, Yu Erhu gave Ye Mo a good idea. If he started a clinic in Luo Cang and hired this innocent and honest looking Yu Erhu to help, he would have time to cultivate and grow his Silver Heart Grass. The most important point was that when he left Luo Cang, Yu Erhu would be able to look after it.

Hearing Yu Erhu's words, both Jin Jibing and Wang Yan obviously didn't believe him, so they quickly lost interest in him; however, Ye Mo's interest for Yu Erhu had picked.

Seeing that Ye Mo chatted a bit with Yu Erhu before he stopped and closed his eyes to sleep, Yu Jibing suddenly took out a magazine from his bag and a pair of glasses.

However, Ye Mo was alert. When this Jin Jibing walked in, the way his eyes moved around didn't seem like he was short sighted. What would he take out glasses for now?

Ye Mo closed his eyes and didn't pay attention to him anymore, but he kept his spirit sense scanning Jin Jibing constantly. After not long, Jin Jibing no longer looked at the magazine and scanned his eyes toward Ye Mo and Wang Yan's bags.

When he looked toward Ye Mo's bag, there seemed to be joy on his face. Of course, Ye Mo knew that he had tens of thousands of dollars in his bag, and with Jin Jibing showing such complexion, it meant that he had realized what was in his bag. Ye Mo was quite surprised, how did he know he had money in his bag? Did he have spirit sense too?

But soon, Ye Mo figure it out that Jin Jibing didn't have spirit sense, but there was definitely something with his glasses. It was probably some infrared scanner or something that allowed him to see through things.

It was already 10 pm at night, and Ye Mo pretended to be sleeping. He wanted to know who's bag Jin Jibing would try to steal first. However, he thought that he might probably be his target first because he had the most cash. If only he had a storage ring, he wouldn't have so much trouble...

As expected, Jin Jibing brought his bag over to Ye Mo's side not long after Ye Mo fell asleep. He reached out his hand and opened his bag stuffing all the cash inside his bag.

Ye Mo sneered and didn't stop him. He knew that these thieves would take everything. He didn't need to get angry. He just used the blanket to cover his hands and at the same time took back the money Jin Jibing stole from him. Then, he also took everything other than Jin Jibing's clothes from his bag. He had spirit sense, so it was as clear as using his eyes.

Yu Erhu had fallen asleep already, but Wang Yan had obviously noticed Jin Jibing's movement. However, Jin Jibing turned around and glared at her. She was so frightened that she immediately held her mouth with her hands, not daring to make a noise.

At this time, the horn sounded, they had arrived at a station. Jin Jibing had already taken everything and grabbed the bag as he was ready to leave. At this moment, a girl in her 20's walked past the compartment and saw Jin Jibing's movement. She immediately knew that he was a thief but more importantly, the victim was still asleep.

The girl saw the thief and immediately yelled, yet Jin Jibing grabbed his bag and didn't care if other people found out as he dashed out of the carriage of the train.

"Argh, that thief stole your things, and you're still sleeping!" This girl saw Jin Jibing run away and was sure that Ye Mo's possession had been stolen, so she reminded Ye Mo loudly.

Ye Mo opened his eyes and saw this extremely worried girl and realized that she was a student. No wonder she had such a sense of justice. Seeing that other people were worried about him, he had no choice but to smile and say, "I actually don't have much in my bag, so it doesn't matter if he steals it."

"You... sigh, you should call the police immediately! I'll help you with that." This girl was really warm-hearted.

Ye Mo thought that the people he didn't want to deal with the most now was the police, so he quickly waved his hand: "Don't mind about this, I really don't have much, there's no need to call the police but still, thank you."

This girl saw that Ye Mo really didn't want to call the police, so she shook her head helplessly and crossed the carriage.

Seeing this girl leave, Ye Mo immediately stuffed everything in the bag. Originally, he had 50 thousand dollars, but now he had 20 thousand extra. Other than this, there were also some miscellaneous things and a large stack of identity documents. Ye Mo stuffed them all in his bag.

Although she didn't see Ye Mo steal everything back, Wang Yan saw with her own eyes Jin Jibing take a few notes from Ye Mo's bag, but this young man said there wasn't anything in his bag. Obviously, he didn't believe that he had his things stolen, and she couldn't help but shake her head.

Chapter 92: On The Train

Although Yu Erhu was very vigilant before, he was sleeping like a log now and didn't even realized what had happened.

As though she was feeling guilty for Ye Mo, Wang Yan actually gave him two hundred dollars and said, "Brother, I know you had your money stolen before. This 200 is not much, but at least you can save it for an emergency."

Ye Mo looked at this Wang Yan in surprise. She actually felt guilty for what happened before, and still had some conscience. At this moment, Yu Erhu also woke up. He looked at Ye Mo and Wang Yan obviously not knowing what was going on.

Ye Mo pushed the money back and smiled: "No need, I have money, I don't need yours."

Wang Yan didn't expect Ye Mo to reject her offer. In her opinion, although Ye Mo was a bit better than Yu Erhu, he didn't really wear any famous brands either. It could only be said he was neat and tidy. Perhaps he would have an urgent use for his money later, but he just didn't know now.

However, she became worried for Ye Mo rejecting her money: "I really saw your money being stolen, but I didn't dare to say anything at the time because I was scared of him taking revenge on me. Take these 200 dollars; otherwise, I would really feel guilty," she was speaking the truth this time because she had seen too many accounts of people reporting thieves and getting stabbed.

"I said his money was stolen, but he didn't believe me. Now look, you saw it too. You have no money now right? I'll give you 100 dollars too. I'm still a student, so I don't have much money," at this moment, the girl who came over before had a bowl of noodles in her hands, and hearing Wang Yan's words, she also started to take out money.

Hearing these two people's words, Yu Erhu seemed to understand that this young man had his money stolen. He didn't back out and also took out something covered in layers and layers of paper. Eventually, he took out 50 and said, "Brother, I don't have much money either, so I'll help you with fifty. My grandpa said there were a lot of thieves outside and told me to be careful; looks like that Jin Jibing was a thief."

Ye Mo saw these three people were warm-hearted. Although he was a bit frustrated, he was still grateful. This world wasn't completely cold, especially Yu Erhu. Ye Mo saw that although he had a thick stack of money, they were all 50's. Although this person was slightly simple-minded, he was a great person.

Ye Mo saw the situation and could only take Wang Yan's 200 dollars and said to the other two, "I'll be fine with 200, take back your money."

He could tell this girl was a student — she even said so herself — and Yu Erhu was obviously not wealthy. Although this woman in her 40s didn't wear any pricey brands and bought a bed ticket, she had obviously bought it purely to rest, meaning that she wasn't a wealthy person.

Seeing Ye Mo accepting her money, Wang Yan was obviously relieved. She felt extremely guilty for simply watching the thief taking tens of thousands from Ye Mo but didn't dare to call him out.

After Ye Mo had taken the money, he took out three herbs from his bag and gave them to Wang Yan: "I won't take your money for free, take these three herbs."

The two women look stunned at Ye Mo, wondering why she would want his herbs; however, Yu Erhu stared at these herbs that he had never seen before and wandered off in his mind.

"Big Brother, you're also a Chinese doctor!" Yu Erhu said astonished.

Ye Mo shook his head: "I'm not really a Chinese doctor. I just have some understanding of herbs and like to collect them."

At this moment, Wang Yan reacted and quickly pushed the herbs away. "Big Brother, I don't have any use for these things, take them back."

Ye Mo smiled: "Other people might not have a use for these three herbs, but you do."

"Why?" the girl asked astonished. She had already been confused when Ye Mo gave the three herbs to Wang Yan, but now, she was even more confused when Ye Mo said this.

Seeing that another person asked the question for her, Wang Yan didn't talk and wanted to see how Ye Mo would answer.

"Because you still don't have children, you should know your condition better than anyone else. Take back these herbs and boil them three times. Remember not to add anything else, just these three. It would be best if you drink the crumbs too, then you would be fine." Ye Mo could tell that Wang Yan had some problems with her body. Not only was she not able to give birth, but in the long run, she would barely be able to live for another 20 years at most.

He found these herbs in the borderline of Vietnam and still had some remaining. Normal people wouldn't know its use because these three had to be consumed at the same time. To be honest, he was missing a herb that replenished the essence of the body, but Ye Mo saw that Wang Yan's body was quite sturdy, so although she may suffer a little, it shouldn't be a problem. However, before she could drink this, he still needed to use his Chi to help wash her meridians.

"Ah! You really can tell that I have..." Wang Yan took the three herbs excitedly with her hands shaking. Suddenly, she bowed down many times to Ye Mo but still couldn't say anything.

She had been married more than ten years but just wasn't able to conceive a child. Not only was his mother in law's family looking down on her, but even her neighbors were insulting her. Even though she had looked at many places and spent a lot of money, she still couldn't solve the problem, and although her husband still loved her, she didn't feel good herself. The frustrated Wang Yan spent all her time on business running day and night tirelessly.

Now that someone said her disease could be cured so simply, how could she not be happy? She was so excited that she couldn't talk anymore. She was already 39, and after another two years, she would truly start to feel hopeless.

But soon she reacted and took out a card from her bag, “This is a bank card, there aren’t much inside, but it’s my way to thank you, the password—”

Ye Mo couldn’t say anything, so he stopped the conversation: “Keep the card, I have enough money; besides, how do you know that I’m not trying to cheat you?” Then, Ye Mo with extreme speed grabbed Wang Yan’s wrist and helped her unlock her meridians without anybody noticing.

At this moment, Wang Yan still hadn’t realized what was happening, so she just took back the card and suddenly thought, “Yeah, what if he’s a fraud? But then, why would he say it out loud? However, the frauds nowadays have a lot of tricks, and some even pretend to be generous. Who knows...”

After thinking for a while, Wang Yan took back the card: “Big Brother, how about you leave your number with me. If this can really cure my condition, I must repay you.”

Ye Mo waved his hand: “I don’t have a phone, and there’s no need for repayment. Furthermore, since you have already paid for these three herbs, there’s no need for anything else.”

“Big brother, your medical skills are so great, you don’t even need to check her meridians, and you could tell her condition. Even my grandpa isn’t as skilled as you!” Yu Erhu suddenly said.

Ye Mo said, “Erhu, you are a Chinese doctor, and I think that you’re quite a good person. Would you like to pursue a career with me in Luo Cang? I plan to open a clinic, and if you want you can help me out.”

“Of course, I do! I don’t have any good place to go anyway,” Seeing that Ye Mo invited him, the lost Yu Erhu agreed without hesitation.

At this moment, Wang Yan also calmed down. She looked at Ye Mo and then at Yu Erhu, but couldn’t be sure if Ye Mo was a fraud. However, Ye Mo helped her before, so although she didn’t know if these few herbs were real, she couldn’t say much.

The girl saw that Ye Mo was a doctor as well and admired him. Now that Ye Mo said he was going Luo Cang, she immediately said, “I’m also going to Luo Cang, we can go together then! Wait, I’ll carry my stuff here.”

“Fine, we can help each other with more people.” Ye Mo didn’t mind this girl taking the train with them. Although this girl wasn’t very pretty, she had a good heart, and she looked decent too. Besides, she had wanted to help Ye Mo before.

“I’ll help you carry things!” Yu Erhu was a very gentle person, and now that they were familiar with each other, he actually just left his bag on the bed and was going to help the girl carry her things. Just then, he had said that his grandpa told him that there were a lot of thieves outside, yet now just after one conversation, he was already very trustful toward Ye Mo.

Ye Mo nodded and said, “Just go, I’ll look after your stuff.”

However, Wang Yan looked complicatedly at the three and went back to her bed. She didn’t talk anymore but was contemplating whether she should boil the herbs Ye Mo gave her or not.

Soon, the girl moved her stuff over; it was just a case and a bag. This girl was very talkative and enjoyed a conversation with Ye Mo and Yu Erhu. However, Wang Yan didn’t talk much, as if something was on her heart.

From their conversation, Ye Mo learned that this girl was still studying in Luo Cang at the Jiang Nan Medical University. Her name was Yang Yi, she was in her third year and was specializing in practical medicine.

The three enjoyed a good conversation and soon, the train had reached Beijing. Wang Yan bid the three farewell and quickly got off the train.

After the train had arrived at Zheng State, the three got off the train and changed their train to Luo Cang. However, believing that Ye Mo had lost all his money, Yang Yi insisted on buying a ticket for Ye Mo. In the end, Ye Mo had no choice, but to take out a stack of 10 thousand telling her that his money wasn’t stolen. Only then did Yang Yi backed down.

There weren’t any accidents when buying the tickets, and the three only used about half an hour time to get on the train from Zheng state to Luo Cang.

This time, there were no beds but only chairs, and Yu Erhu had insisted on paying his own ticket, so Ye Mo didn't stop him.

"Brother Mo, I heard that you need some certificate to practice medicine in the big cities. If we start a clinic in Luo Cang, will we be checked?" Yu Erhu seemed to not know how the world worked and had been simply instilled some simple knowledge before he had left.

"Of course, you need a certificate; otherwise, you would be judged as a fraudulent doctor," before Ye Mo could reply, Yang Yi answered.

Ye Mo knew that he needed this, but now, as long as he had money, any certificate was easy to make and wasn't too worried.

"Brother Mo and Erhu, you both don't have a phone. How will I contact you later on?" Yang Yi got along well with Ye Mo and Yu Erhu, but she was the only one to have a phone out of the three and saw that Ye Mo was definitely someone who wouldn't take the initiative to call another, so she asked.

"When Brother Mo and I have found a place to stay, we'll call you!" Yu Erhu had a good impression of Yang Yi.

"Okay, Erhu, you must remember to call me. I don't have any people I know in Luo Cang. Knowing you and Brother Mo will make things easier when I need help in the future," Yang Yi said half-jokingly. For Yang Yi, although Ye Mo looked a little ugly with a mark on his face, she felt comfortable talking to him and stayed with him.

The three got to know each other better and better as they traveled and, after a few hours, the train finally arrived at the Luo Cang Station. Ye Mo and Yu Erhu arranged to meet up in the future with Yang Yi and separated at the station.

Chapter 93: Do You Think You Can Leave?

Ning Hai.

For a few days, Ning Qingxue, who couldn't rest properly, finally calmed down. Whether it was the TV or the online news, they showed that the perpetrator of the case a few days ago had already fled Ning Hai, and now, the police patrol in Ning Hai had obviously calmed down. All these signs had meant that Ye Mo had really left Ning Hai.

"Xu Wei, I want to leave a few days. Can you look after the flowers I had planted here, especially this smallest one," Ning Qingxue was just talking to Xu Wei when Li Mumei came from Su Jingwen's place.

Hearing Ning Qingxue's words, Li Mumei was immediately rejoicing: "Qingxue, you want to go back to Yu state?"

However, Ning Qingxue shook her head, "No, I just want to go out by myself and ease my feelings, and it's too boring staying at Ning Hai all the time," she didn't even tell Li Mumei where she was going.

"Qingxue, aren't you going back to Yu state? How about I go with you?" Li Mumei immediately felt things weren't right after hearing Ning Qingxue's words. After all, Ning Qingxue had never been to other places alone, so where would she be going?

Xu Wei already knew that Ning Qingxue's identity wasn't ordinary, and she seemed to have something weird going on with Ye Mo, and although she never asked about it, she was still able to tell. And now, Ning Qingxue wanted to go out and even asked her to look after the flowers.... It was not that she had a problem with it, and besides, she knew that this grass was very important to Ning Qingxue; as for why she had no idea.

Li Mumei saw Ning Qingxue didn't want to say where she was going, so she could only sigh and stopped asking.

Two days later, Ning Qingxue was finally ready to go and just reminded Xu Wei again to look after the grass for her before she left Ning Hai. It wasn't convenient for her to carry Ye Mo's case, but she didn't feel safe leaving it at Ning Hai, so she could only put the contents in a bag.

As for those three beads, Ning Qingxue hadn't been able to find a string good enough to connect them, so she could only put them in the bag. She wanted to find the prettiest string and connect these beads before putting it on her wrist. But now, she wasn't able to find one, so she could only store it away.

The reason she left Ning Hai was that the last time Xiao Lei came, she said that she had met Ye Mo in Flowing Snake.

So, Ning Qingxue wanted to check there since, in her opinion, Xiao Lei saw Ye Mo in Flowing Snake, so it meant that Ye Mo could quite possibly go back there again. She had done her research, and Flowing Snake was a place close to the border, a very chaotic location and good for escaping.

Although she had thought more than once that Flowing Snake was too dangerous, she reminded herself that if it hadn't been for Ye Mo, she would have been long dead. So what if she died again? Besides, she also understood that if she didn't actively look for Ye Mo and just stayed in Ning Hai, perhaps she wouldn't be able to see Ye Mo in her lifetime. She had a feeling that Ye Mo wouldn't come looking for her.

Although she didn't know why Ye Mo came back to Ning Hai last time, she was sure that Ye Mo didn't come for her.

She noticed that her feelings for Ye Mo were getting more and more complicated. Initially, she had only wanted to use him, then she felt guilty and wanted to apologize and compensate him. However, afterward she was hurt while protecting the grass, and it was Ye Mo that treated her. She felt grateful toward him and even wanted to live with him like this for the rest of her life. But she felt that the more she understood him, the farther away she was from him. She was becoming a stranger to him, yet she wanted to understand him more.

There wasn't a direct trip to Gui Lin from Ning Hai, but there was a flight to the Xian Mountain, and from there, Ning Qingxue could go directly to Gui Lin.

Nothing troublesome happened from Ning Hai to Gui Lin. However, after arriving there, Ning Qingxue realized that she couldn't even find a ride to Flowing Snake. No matter how much money she offered, no one wanted to take her to Flowing Snake, and most of them even tried to persuade her that a girl like her shouldn't go to Flowing Snake by herself.

However, Ning Qingxue was determined to go there, so in the end, she had no choice but to go to a rental company and rent a Volkswagen, she was ready to drive herself to Flowing Snake.

Although a ride to Flowing Snake was very hard to find, the route could be easily asked for.

After two hours, Ning Qingxue's car had gone into the twisted mountain paths, and she realized that she hadn't even gone half the way through, but it was already 5 pm.

After another bumpy two hours, Ning Qingxue realized that the roads started to become flatter, and it was more desolate around; the howls of beasts could be heard from time to time, and the wind was blowing crazily on the trees.

Being anxious, Ning Qingxue drove faster and faster.

"Big Brother, I didn't think there would be a car this late, should we move?" In a patch of forest that Ning Qingxue could not see, a few pair of eyes were already gazing at her.

The man called "Big Brother" waved his hand and said, "No need, we still have other business tonight. Plus, a person who drives this model probably doesn't have much loot anyway. And, that Fang Nan's reach is really extensive now, there's no need to expose us for this type of car."

Ning Qingxue would never imagine that she had avoided a disaster just because of the model of car she was driving.

When she finally arrived in Flowing Snake, it was already around 9 pm. The fatigued Ning Qingxue carried her bag and prepared to find a place to stay for the night and look for Ye Mo's news tomorrow.

Flowing Snake was not without its hotels, but they were mostly for those bandits or merchants at the borderline, and those who are able to do illegal business here weren't normal people. These hotels not only had a place to live but also provided a bar for people to drink downstairs.

So as soon as Ning Qingxue walked into the nearest hotel, she immediately attracted the eyes of almost everyone in the hotel.

Flowing Snake did have a few women, but this was the first time that a girl who was as white, young, and beautiful, came. Those who could survive in Flowing Snake had their heads in their hands, and these people were drunk almost every day. So as soon as they saw Ning Qingxue, all the people set their gazes on Ning Qingxue's body, even the two women that were there.

Ning Qingxue looked at the countless eyes of hungry wolves and felt cold shivering uncontrollably.

As though seeing Ning Qingxue shiver, a 30-year-old man sitting at the bar had lights shining out of his eyes. He carried a cup and walked over, "Girl, you're staying overnight? Don't worry, with me here, no one would dare to hurt you. Boss, get me the best room for this girl, it's on me."

As soon as this man came over and talked, a lot of people immediately went quiet. Their lustful eyes also had some sympathy. Everyone knew that this person was called Shi Wei. In fact, he has another title: Echidna. Not only was he cruel, but very hard to deal with because even Fang Nan couldn't do anything about the power behind him. Most importantly, this person was extremely lustful, and countless girls died at his hands.

"No need, I'm going to another place." Ning Qingxue turned back and was about to leave.

"Do you think you can leave? Girl, don't get cocky with me!" Shi Wei saw Ning Qingxue with a pale face wanting to leave, so he immediately threw his cup on the ground and folded his arms, standing at the door staring coldly at Ning Qingxue.

Chapter 94: The Dragon Crossing The River And The Local Snake

On her way over here, Ning Qingxue hadn't really met any bandits and thought Xiao Lei had been exaggerating since, although this was the border, it shouldn't be so chaotic. However, now she realized how chaotic Flowing Snake was, she had been harassed in public, and yet no one even tried to put some restraints on that man.

"I'll give you 3 seconds, pour some wine for me and repent, or I'll strip you here and f*ck you." Shi Wei never had the patience to wait for a woman. For him, women were only for men to use.

Ning Qingxue looked at the room full of cold glares and this Shi Wei's ferocious complexion with a pale face and her heart shaking. Even if she died, she didn't want to be r*ped here; furthermore, she hadn't even met Ye Mo yet. Ning Qingxue who had never been in contact with the dark side of the world finally understood what unreasonable meant. She had thought that she was mature, but some things had to be encountered before one knew of its terror.

"I'm looking for my husband Ye Mo, he's in Flowing Snake, you can't touch me..." even Ning Qingxue felt that her tone was pale and weak. She just heard Xiao Lei had been saved by Ye Mo here, so she said his name out loud to see if anyone knew him.

"Hahaha, your husband will be me from now on, what Ye Mo? If he's in Flowing Snake, I will make him disappear!" Shi Wei laughed cockily and actually reached out his hand to grab Ning Qingxue.

Extreme disgust flashed across Ning Qingxue's as she dodged aside once again.

"F*ck..." Shi Wei was completely angry this time. There had not been a woman who dared to reject him. But today, this woman rejected him multiple times, making him lose a lot of face.

"Wait, Brother Wei! Can you listen to a word of mine..." a young man in his 20's suddenly walked over and said.

Everyone looked with surprise at this person who had dared to disturb Shi Wei at this moment. Did he want to die? But when people saw who this was, no one added another word.

The person who came up was called Rock, Fang Nan's personal guard. Although Flowing Snake wasn't 100% the land of the Pu Dao Clan, there were no gangs who could rival them ever since the Vietnamese Gang and the Philippines Gang had been annihilated. Most people who came to Flowing Snake for business would give some respect to this local snake, the Pu Dao Clan.

Although Shi Wei was extremely unhappy being interrupted, he still knew Rock. This young man had always been beside Fang Nan and had some power in the Pu Dao Clan, so although he was a dragon crossing the river, he didn't want to overdo it.

He had no choice but to say, "Brother Rock if you have anything to say, please do, but I'm having this woman for sure. Hopefully, you can explain fast so I can go about my business."

Although his tone was slightly polite, that arrogance was undeniably there. Obviously, although he respected Rock a little, he was not afraid of the Pu Dao Clan.

Rock's face changed but didn't argue back as he knew Shi Wei's origin. He could not only live well in Flowing Snake but many places at the border because he was a powerful person from the Amphibian Gang.

For the Amphibian Gang, the Pu Dao Clan could barely be called a local snake because the Amphibian Clan was the greatest clan at the border. Their activities were located at the borders of the Asian countries and did lucrative business. It was said that the Amphibian Gang belonged to Nang Qing, and those part of the eastern underground world would shiver at the mention of this name.

Flowing Snake was just a small stop for them. The consequences were imaginable if they offended the Amphibian Gang. So even when Shi Wei wasn't too polite to Rock, he didn't dare to say anything.

"If I may ask, you said that your husband was named Ye Mo. Which Ye Mo are you talking about?" Rock came to the door and asked. He knew that Shi Wei was very impetuous.

Just when Ning Qingxue didn't know what to do anymore, someone came to ask her, she immediately felt like she was someone who was about to drown but managed to grab a hold of a floating block of wood. It wasn't that she was afraid of death since she had already died once, but losing her "loyalty" was more horrifying than death. Otherwise, she wouldn't be throwing a fret about being looked at last time when she was treated by Ye Mo.

When Rock asked, she replied immediately, "I came to look for my husband Ye Mo, he came to Flowing Snake before. I knew from my friend and came to look for him." Then, Ning Qingxue described Ye Mo's appearance.

Hearing Ning Qingxue's words, Rock was already sure that Ning Qingxue was talking about Brother Ye. It was not surprising, only Brother Ye would have such a beautiful wife.

However, Rock knew Shi Wei's character and turned around to his follower: "Tell Brother Nan that Brother Ye's wife came."

"What do you mean?" Shi Wei felt quite obviously that Rock's words weren't right. It didn't seem like he planned on giving her to him.

"Sorry, Brother Shi, this woman belongs to our Brother Ye, you can't touch her." Then, Rock waved his hand, and three of his henchmen came up.

Shi Wei's face sunk: "This means that you're acting against me. Does Fang Nan not want to stay here anymore? I'm telling you, I'm having this woman today, and even if Fang Nan comes, I will still take her. Brothers, take this woman away!"

As soon as Shi Wei had spoken, the four tattooed youth, who were originally just standing at the side watching, immediately charged up.

Rock's face changed, and after a moment's hesitation, he waved his hand and his henchmen also came. The two sides immediately formed a dichotomy.

"A mere follower like you dare to take my woman. Do you really think I don't dare to do anything to you? Wait until I break your leg and ask for an explanation from Fang Nan. Brothers, attack!" Shi Wei's words were full of ferociousness and cruelty.

With Shi Wei's order, the two sides immediately started fighting. The hack swords they hid in their clothes were all taken out and immediately, blood spilled everywhere at this hotel.

Ning Qingxue retreated to the door in a panic. At this moment, she truly realized just how chaotic it was here. There was a crowd of people hacking at each other, but no one came to manage the situation.

Because Rock had fewer people, there were quickly on the losing side, but just when Shi Wei wanted to drag Ning Qingxue away and leave, another twenty people suddenly came to the door.

Fang Nan's furious voice sounded: "Beat these bastards to the death!"

"Fang Nan, you dare to touch me? Do you not want to live anymore?" Hearing Fang Nan's words, Shi Wei was worried and angry. He didn't think that the boss of a small place dared to touch him since he was comparable to an ambassador of a big nation to a small country here. Although the local snakes here didn't have to circle him, they wouldn't offend him for a woman.

"Hm, I don't mind you taking some benefits from my domain, but you dare to touch Brother Ye's woman. Do you want to die? Beat him hard!" Fang Nan knew the consequences of offending Shi Wei, but he was already respecting Ye Mo like a god, and this woman was his wife. How would he let other people touch her? Not only that, he was going to show his attitude for Ning Qingxue to see; otherwise, he wouldn't be able to explain himself to Ye Mo.

Chapter 95: The Second Beautiful Lady Who Comes To Flowing Snake

With the men Fang Nan had brought, Shi Wei didn't have the slightest ability to resist before having one leg broken; however, Fang Nan didn't dare to kill him. Although he didn't need to be held responsible legally for his death, the Amphibious Gang was too strong. If he had killed Shi Wei, there would only be a war between the two. The reason he broke Shi Wei's leg was mainly to show some respect to Ning Qingxue.

"Take your men and p*ss off immediately!" Fang Nan didn't hesitate to kick out Shi Wei. In this Flowing Snake, his word still had power.

Although Shi Wei was extremely angry, he couldn't do anything about it in Flowing Snake. If Fang Nan told him to leave, that was the only thing he could do. Even if he wanted his revenge, he had to wait until he reported the incident here with exaggeration.

Shi Wei took his few men and left this hotel, they just swapped for another one but didn't leave Flowing Snake. One reason was that it was already late, and he had a broken leg, so they had nowhere else to go. Another one was that even if Fang Nan knew that he hadn't left Flowing Snake, Fang Nan wouldn't go look for him.

Fang Nan indeed knew that Shi Wei hadn't left Flowing Snake, but he didn't dare to do things over the top. If it was regarding the incident with Ning Qingxue, he had the rights to, but if he were to kick Shi Wei out of Flowing Snake, then he wouldn't have any justification. If he was stronger, then it didn't matter if he was being unreasonable or not, but no matter how strong he was, he wouldn't be stronger than the Amphibious Clan.

Ning Qingxue stared dumbfoundedly at the fight that had started because of her; it started fast and finished fast and left a ground full of blood. She didn't think that Ye Mo had such loyal friends in Flowing Snake. She felt more confused about Ye Mo who spent his time growing flowers all day long. Then, she thought about how Song Shaowen and Song Shaotan were killed by him, plus what she had seen today; it seemed that what Xiao Lei had told her was true: Ye Mo really had great capabilities. Then why did she hear in Beijing that Ye Mo was a completely useless human being?

Fang Nan saw Ning Qingxue's face and was stunned as he thought that only someone like brother Ye could have such a wife. This woman was a bit too beautiful.

However, Fang Nan respectfully transferred Ning Qingxue to another special place and told her the things about Ye Mo in Flowing Snake. He even didn't hide the fact that Ye Mo had annihilated two clans. In his view, Ning Qingxue was Ye Mo's wife, so she must have already known about what Ye Mo had done.

The more Ning Qingxue heard, the more astonished she was. She didn't think that Ye Mo had done so much in Flowing Snake in such a short period of time. He had beaten the bosses here to be respectful of him; however, what made Ning Qingxue disappointed was that Ye Mo didn't come back and seemed to have gone somewhere else.

Ning Qingxue suddenly felt a little lonely sleeping at this borderline fort in Flowing Snake. She didn't know why she came to find Ye Mo. From the start, Ye Mo was just helping her; even the marriage was fake.

Did she love him or was it because of something else? What if she really did find Ye Mo? What should she say? Was she going to say "Sorry, I shouldn't have treated you like that before" and then no matter what Ye Mo replied, she would go back to her own life? Ning Qingxue suddenly felt lost.

Love? What was love? Regardless of whether she loved Ye Mo, was she going to find someone else to marry afterward? She had no intentions of divorce after marrying with Ye Mo, but was she suppose to find Ye Mo and tell him that she didn't want to divorce? Was that all?

Ning Qingxue sighed. The more she thought that she understood Ye Mo, the more she was confused which was very contradictory. Although she didn't understand Ye Mo very much, she felt that out of all the people she had met, no one was as magnanimous as him, and perhaps he was the one she needed. Originally, she had a skewed view of Ye Mo, probably because she didn't really understand him. After he was gone, she didn't divorce and perhaps at that time, she had subconsciously agreed to be his wife.

But before this, she had to find him. Otherwise, if Ye Mo marries one day while she still calls herself his wife, then that would be too ridiculous. Ning Qingxue had her principles. Although she was willing to marry Ye Mo, she wasn't someone to cry and beg for the marriage if Ye Mo didn't want her.

Ning Qingxue twisted and turned in the sleepless night. Just when she slept for a while, the day was bright already.

She didn't meet Ye Mo in Flowing Snake and thus no longer had the intention to stay anymore. But before she left she wanted to see that pagoda where Ye Mo lived at.

Although it had all collapsed, Fang Nan had sent people to rebuild it.

Ning Qingxue wanted to see where Ye Mo lived before, so Fang Nan brought a few henchmen and went with her himself. Flowing Snake was so chaotic, he didn't want Ye Mo's wife to have more troubles here. If this sort of thing happened, he wouldn't be able to say anything to Ye Mo. Not to mention Ye Mo saved his life before and helped him get back the ruling authority here. Besides, Ye Mo was not hesitant in killing, and his gang didn't even have enough people for Ye Mo to kill...

Ever since she had done her last mission, Chi Wanqing no longer had the mood to stay in the military. Every few days, she would call Luo Cang and asked her cousin, Zhu Man, if Ye Mo went over. But each time, she received a disappointing answer. Ye Mo didn't go to the company her cousin managed in Luo Cang.

Of course, Chi Wanqing knew that Ye Mo lived a tight life, so since she had found him a job, why wouldn't he go? Was it because of his dignity? However, she thought that Brother Ye didn't seem like that sort of person...

She thought about it a few times and decided to go look for Ye Mo herself. She felt that if she didn't go find him, perhaps this brother Ye would never come looking for her in her entire lifetime. Although she was a bit bitter, she still decided to go to Flowing Snake and look for Ye Mo.

Ye Mo told her last time that he was there, so since he didn't go to Luo Cang, it meant that he was still in Flowing Snake.

This was the first time since Chi Wanqing entering the military that she applied for a "family visit" leave. Although Lo Lin felt that Chi Wanqing wouldn't be visiting her family, it was Chi Wanqing's first time, so although Lu Lin was dubious, she could only allow it.

Obviously, Chi Wanqing didn't go see her family. She went to Flowing Snake to look for Ye Mo. She had experienced a lot more than Ning Qingxue, so of course, she knew what sort of place Flowing Snake was, but she wouldn't be scared.

With her expertise, she wouldn't be afraid of even a few bulky men. Plus, she still had her bare cockroach and knew exactly how strong it was since she almost lost her life when she had been bitten by it. If it hadn't been for Ye Mo, she would've been dead already. Although Flowing Snake was very chaotic, it didn't pose a threat to her.

It was just midday when Chi Wanqing arrived there. Just when she got there, she saw two people carrying Shi Wei into a car to leave Flowing Snake.

Although Chi Wanqing wanted to ask around about Ye Mo, she could tell that Shi Wei and these men weren't good people, so she didn't even plan to ask from them.

However, Shi Wei eyes were glued to Chi Wanqing. He didn't think he would meet two breathtaking women in two days. He still had such luck when he was about to leave. "Fang Nan, Fang Nan, so what if you robbed one away. I still met another today!"

As he looked at Chi Wanqing, his eyes were beaming. While still laying on the portable bed, he yelled without hesitation: "Take this woman away! We leave Flowing Snake, but I will have my revenge one day."

Chapter 96: The Old Ginger Song Yuanyi

Of course, Chi Wanqing knew how chaotic Flowing Snake was and wasn't even planning on talking with those hoodlum looking people. She wasn't like Ning Qingxue; the things she had learned in the military weren't for show, she immediately kicked the two men who didn't even take her seriously and were kicked to the ground, and she didn't stop here, she went up and kicked twice again. Everyone could even hear the sound of bones cracking.

Shi Wei was very annoyed that the women he had seen today dared to resist, but before he was able to release his anger, he found that his two men had their leg broken by Chi Wanqing. Before he was able to scream, Chi Wanqing kicked again right on his leg that had been just plastered.

Shi Wei's howl could be heard almost a mile away, but in a place like Flowing Snake, no matter how much you screamed, no one would come and see.

The remaining two men carrying Shi Wei were already shaking. They had never seen a woman with such strong power who didn't even hesitate when fighting. There were a few youths who had seen Chi Wanqing in the distance and wanted to harass her, but they immediately backed off after seeing this scene. This woman dared to beat Shi Wei, how could she care about them?

In fact, if Shi Wei had immediately chosen to send all of his men to attack Chi Wanqing at the same time, perhaps Chi Wanqing would have some trouble, but only two went first, and these two had such a whimsical attitude that the result could be expected.

However, even if Shi Wei took it seriously at the start, Chi Wanqing wouldn't mind; at most, she would have released Little Wolf, but if she did, people would die. Although Chi Wanqing knew how chaotic this place was, she didn't want to kill people so easily.

Amidst the howls, Shi Wei didn't think the second beautiful girl would be so troublesome. Shi Wei who was under unbearable pain saw that this woman didn't seem like she wanted to punish him more, so he resisted the pain and called out, "Leave quickly!" Chi Wanqing saw them leave but didn't care. She was prepared to ask someone, but unexpectedly, the person who walked up toward her was a woman even prettier than her; however, this woman had a few men following behind her and appeared to be the leader of a gang.

Was the head of Flowing Snake a woman? However, this woman didn't seem to dress like that. She seemed more like a docile, well-educated girl.

No matter what, it was better to face a woman than a man. Thinking about this, Chi Wanqing walked toward this woman. She wanted to ask about Ye Mo.

When Ning Qingxue first saw Chi Wanqing, she felt that something was strange but couldn't say what it was; however, it felt very real.

"Didn't they say that Flowing Snake was chaotic? How come such a pretty woman, not one bit inferior to me, is here?" She was startled.

Fang Nan and several of his men were accompanying Ning Qingxue who went to see the pagoda, and when they saw that breathtaking woman, they started to wonder what was going on recently in this place, since two women of such caliber came consecutively in two days.

Fortunately, they hadn't seen Chi Wanqing kicking the other men, or their impressions would have been different.

"Hello, do you know if a man named Ye Mo is here?" Chi Wanqing asked as she blocked Ning Qingxue's group.

"You are also looking for him!?" Ning Qingxue was surprised as she looked at the woman in front of her, she was charming, yet had the look of a martial artist. It was not surprising that she had such a strange feeling earlier, almost as if she had a 6th sense.

"You are?" Chi Wanqing looked curiously at Ning Qingxue, wondering what Ye Mo's relationship was with such an excellent woman.

"Oh, she's called Ning Qingxue, Brother Ye's wife," Fang Nan saw the atmosphere was awkward, and obviously, this handsome looking girl also knew Ye Mo, so he quickly introduced her. Meanwhile, he thought, "Brother Ye is indeed strong, even the girls he knew aren't ordinary."

"Huh, you're brother Ye's wife? That..." Chi Wanqing managed to hold back "one who used Brother Ye as a shield." However, she no longer had a good impression of Ning Qingxue.

Ning Qingxue also seemed to notice that she had some enmity toward her and didn't know what to say anymore. She didn't even ask what she was to Ye Mo as she was scared that she wouldn't be able to handle the result.

The atmosphere was awkward once again.

Even Fang Nan could tell what was happening: the two seemed to have a conflict over Brother Ye, and he was immediately worried. Both of these women seemed to be related to Brother Ye, so it was not good to help either of them. One seemed to be the legal and the other the hidden.

He couldn't let them stare off like this. If they had a fight, he would be the one to suffer. Thinking about this, Fang Nan wiped the sweat from his forehead and said, "Hum, it's already noon, and we're all starving, why don't we go eat first. We can talk about Brother Ye after food."

He was the gang leader and always lived his life on the edge, but now, it was really hard for him to be the peacekeeper between two women.

Other than Chi Wanqing and Ning Qingxue looking for Ye Mo, the Song Family was also discussing about Ye Mo. Although all sorts of signs indicated that Song Shaotan's death was related to Ye Mo, it was not surprising that he could kill Song Shaotan; however, it would be shocking if he could actually kill Hu Qiu. Thus, the Song Family still couldn't be sure that Song Shaotan was killed by Ye Mo.

"Can we confirm that the Shi Ying who suddenly appeared in Ning Hai and disappeared is Ye Mo?" The Song Family had two of their third generation children murdered, so Song Qiming's anger could no longer be described. Although Song Shaowen was his son, Song Shaotan was the brightest one in the third generation, yet he was killed in Ning Hai.

"We can't be sure yet because even though he looks quite similar to Ye Mo, the face of Shi Ying is too blurred. The main thing is, Shi Ying's power is definitely higher than Hu Qiu. Otherwise, he wouldn't be able to beat Pu Dongheng in one move. The greatest point of suspicion is that Fang Weicheng first saw Shi Ying at Ning Du District, and that's where Ye Mo was living at the time," Song Hai reported every detail of his investigation.

"It doesn't matter whether Shi Ying is Ye Mo or not, he has a great connection to Shaotan's death. Besides, Shi Ying kills with metal nails and, up until now, we haven't found any ancient martial arts family that likes to kill with metal nails," the old man who spoke was 50 or so, Song Qishen. He was called Uncle Shen, his status was just below Old Man Song and Song Qiming.

Although Song Qiming was the leader of the family in this meeting, his status wasn't the highest; Old Man Song, also known as Song Yuanyi was the real leader. Old Man Song could stay calm if Song Shaowen died because even though Shaowen was his direct descendant, he didn't have much of a future; however, concerning Song Shaotan, it was different. It was the grandson he had the most hopes for, but now that he was dead, Old Man Song could no longer be indifferent.

Normally, he rarely came to the family meetings, but today, he came. Although he was full of rage, he still appeared to be composed. After hearing these few people, Song Yuanyi opened his closed eyes and said, "Continue to investigate the relationship between Shi Ying and Ye Mo. But we're only investigating, stop the hunt for Ye Mo for now."

When everyone looked confusedly at Old Man Song, he said plainly, "It doesn't matter whether we have Ye Mo or Shi Ying's location, we just need to think of a way to make Qian Longtou know. Ye Mo had already raised the attention of that Ye Family. What you need to do is to let Qian Longtou know that Ye Mo killed his son."

After pausing for a bit, Old Man Song continued, “And, you need to let the Ye Family know Ye Mo’s excellence, but don’t reveal that Ye Mo possibly killed Qian Longtou’s only son. Other than that, we just need to enjoy the show. Besides, could it be so simple to kill Hu Qiu?”

Near the end, Song Yuanyi’s tone grew bleak.

Everyone understood the old man’s intentions and couldn’t help to think that the oldest gingers were the spiciest. Making Qian Longtou deal with the Ye Family and at the crucial moment, all the Song Family had to do was give it a push. The old man’s intentions were to use this opportunity to completely smash the Ye Family to a point where they would never be able to recover.

Of course, Ye Mo didn’t know that two women had been looking for him in Flowing Snake, and he didn’t know the shenanigans that the Song Family was using against the Ye Family. Even if he knew, he would pretend he didn’t know since he had no relationship with the Ye Family anymore. He had opened his little clinic but was still operating without a license. Not only was the position far off the center of the city, but there were only him and Yu Erhu now.

He chose this distant place because other places were too expensive, but the main reason was that this place was in an old private house, and when Ye Mo rented the old house, he had paid for two year’s rent. There was a yard in the back of the house where he could grow Silver Heart Grass which was exactly what Ye Mo wanted.

For him, business came after growing the Silver Heart Grass.

However, the third day that the clinic had opened, they had their first patient when they least expected. Ye Mo and Yu Erhu were awoken by a hurried knock in the middle of the night.

Chapter 97: First Patient

A 5-year-old kid was carried inside, not only were his eyes tightly shut and his face was pale, but his body was also convulsing.

“Doctor, please save my son! The ambulance is coming, but they still need 20 minutes before they get here! I’m afraid my Xanxan won’t last more than ten minutes...” as soon as Yu Erhu opened the door, a middle-aged woman carried a small child inside screaming for help.

Following close behind was a middle-aged man, his face was also showing how worry he was. Other than these two, there was also a woman in her 50s behind them.

Ye Mo wondered if the whole family had come. The child probably had a relapse in his condition and needed to go to the hospital; however, the ambulance could only arrive 20 minutes later, and the family was afraid that his condition would worsen before the twenty minutes, so they came to this clinic trying to save the child’s life for now. They were doing all they could in this time of crisis.

“Master...” although Ye Erhu learned Chinese medicine from his grandpa, he realized under Ye Mo’s tutelage that his medical skills were far superior to his grandpa, so he called Ye Mo “Master”.

Ye Mo was prepared to teach Yu Erhu medicine, so he didn’t stop him from calling him master.

The condition of the child now was obviously out of Yu Erhu’s range of ability.

Ye Mo walked over and said to that woman, “Put your child on the bed.”

The woman was panicking now so hearing Ye Mo’s words, she immediately put the child on the bed and didn’t even try to ask Ye Mo any questions.

Seeing that the child on the bed, Ye Mo took out his silver needles and was about to use them.

“Wait, what do you want to do? We just want you to gain some time for the child to wait for an ambulance, why are you taking out the needle for?” The middle-aged man had come back to his senses as he looked at the needles. They were originally so worried that they tried to get all the help they could get. From his child convulsing to now, it had already been a few minutes, but he was calmer now, yet, the doctor of a small street side clinic was going to use needles on his child, so he immediately reacted. This was only a clinic that opened a few days ago, and he didn't even see a certificate here.

Ye Mo stopped the needle in his hand and looked indifferently at the middle-aged man and didn't talk. For him, since the child was brought here, he didn't mind saving the child. But if the parents didn't even believe in him, he didn't need to mind other's business.

He was a cultivator, although he had spent quite some time on Earth, he still didn't weight the lives of normal people very much; however, he wasn't a heartless person either so he would help if he could. When people believed that his money had been stolen on the train, they immediately came to help him, so he felt that he should also help other people; however, it was impossible for him to beg to treat this child.

He had already scanned the child with his spirit sense, it wasn't a simple heart condition. His arteries were close to the bursting point, and if they fully exploded, this child wouldn't last long. Ye Mo understood the medical level here, and currently, the child's condition was incurable in this world.

Seeing that Ye Mo stopped his hand, the middle-aged man didn't know what to say and was frozen.

"Since you don't trust me, please leave." Ye Mo took back the silver needles. This set had been brought over by Yu Erhu.

Yu Erhu had often been with his grandpa treating patients before. He really didn't like those people who didn't trust in the doctor, so as he saw the situation, he immediately said, "You are lucky that my master can help to treat your child, so..."

Every time he and his grandpa went out to treat patients, people would be overjoyed and treated them with great hospitality. So why were they treated like this here?

"Do you want Xanxan to be like this forever, move over!" after saying that, the woman pushed the man aside and suddenly knelt down in front of Ye Mo, "Doctor, please save Xanxan! He was already like this last time, and if we hadn't been right outside the hospital at that time, he would've lost his life... Please!"

Her intentions were very simple, the doctor didn't even ask about the condition and took out the needle to treat Xanxan which meant that he really had a great ability; otherwise, he should be asking about his conditions at least. Furthermore, she had heard that those doctors who used acupuncture were usually very abled since ordinary doctors didn't know how to use it.

Ye Mo waved his hand and said, "Get up, I'll look at your child for you, but you're affecting my treatment by kneeling there."

Hearing Ye Mo's words, the woman quickly got up. The man who was pushed aside by the woman saw the child's face go from white to purple and immediately realized that the child was in danger; however, the ambulance still hadn't arrived yet, so he didn't speak anymore. That older woman stared at the child soullessly and probably didn't even know what to say anymore.

Ye Mo, however, quickly pierced the needle into the child's body, he didn't even need to take the child's clothes off. These people didn't understand acupuncture, so they didn't know that usually, the clothes needed to be taken off; however, Yu Erhu understood it a bit, but in his opinion, Ye Mo was already capable, so it didn't matter to him if the clothes weren't taken off.

Of course, Ye Mo didn't use traditional acupuncture, he was using the needles as a bridge to pass his Chi into the child's body and gradually eased the damaged arteries. This wasn't a complete treatment; otherwise, he would have to repair the arteries.

Ye Mo wouldn't dare to treat it now, whether he were able to or not. If such a troublesome condition was treated by his small clinic, he would no longer be able to keep a low profile like he wanted to; however, if he eased the condition, that would still be reasonable, so he shouldn't attract too much attention.

In order to completely treat this condition, Ye Mo had to first reach the 3rd stage, then use many other herbs.

As Ye Mo used his chi, the dead arteries in the child's body were gradually recovering their functions, the purple on his skin was continuously fading and, after ten minutes, the child's face returned to normal.

Even those who didn't understand medicine could tell that the child was getting better. The man and woman were overwhelmed with joy and came up to grab the child's hand. Meanwhile, Ye Mo was left to the side.

At this moment, the siren of the ambulance could be heard.

Finally, the couple remembered that their child was saved by Ye Mo and hurried over to thank him.

Ye Mo waved his hand: "The ambulance is here, take your child to the hospital."

Despite knowing that the hospital couldn't cure this disease completely, it would be good to get a check up. The couple didn't dare to waste time and took the child into the ambulance. They didn't even have time to pay the fees...

Chi Wanqing and Ning Qingxue who were in Flowing Snake had understood now that both of them didn't know where Ye Mo went. From Ning Qingxue's mouth, Chi Wanqing understood that Ye Mo had offended the Song Family which shocked her quite a bit. Although her grandpa was a soldier and so was her father, compared to the Song Family, they were far off.

"Wanqing, what do you mean Ye Mo could have possibly gone to the desert?" hearing Chi Wanqing's words, Ning Qingxue had completely believed that Ye Mo wasn't an ordinary person, even though she didn't understand why Ye Mo was pretending to be a normal person and was even kicked out of the Ye family.

"I feel that he is definitely going there. I was by his side at the time when he found that ragged goatskin map, and I helped him interpret the Tibetan words on it; his expression at the time was very joyful. My guess is that he is probably looking for something there," Chi Wanqing said with certainty.

Ning Qingxue believed Chi Wanqing's words. Ye Mo's actions were weird, regardless whether it was not sleeping at night but sitting under a tree, or sleeping on the stone floor, this wasn't something that could be explained normally. She was so heavily injured at the time, if Ye Mo really cured her, it couldn't be explained with simply some capabilities.

She knew that she had an aunt who practiced the Ancient Martial Arts; however, she had never seen her since, from what her mother had said, it was very hard for her aunt to come out. Ancient Martial Arts were something very mysterious, many people hadn't even heard of it. Was Ye Mo also a cultivator of Ancient Martial Arts? But even if he did, he shouldn't be able to treat such serious wounds.

The more Ning Qingxue thought about it, the more she was confused, so she could only stop thinking and looked at Chi Wanqing: "Do you still have that map?"

Chi Wanqing took out from her bag a map that she had drawn later and passed it to Ning Qingxue: "I drew it afterward, but it's the exact same as the other one."

Ning Qingxue took the map, it was very simple and just marked a few places of the Taklimakan Desert. There were also some lines with a few labels next to it that were obviously not on the borders of the desert, but at the very depth.

Ning Qingxue had also heard of the Taklimakan Desert, the sea of death in the fables, but she didn't understand what Ye Mo was looking for over there.

After staring at the map for a long time, Ning Qingxue said, "Can you give one to me?"

However, Chi Wanqing said, "I remember the map very clearly so you can take it if you want." Suddenly, Chi Wanqing thought of something as she looked at Ning Qingxue and asked, "You're not thinking of looking for him there are you?"

Chapter 98: Last News

Ning Qingxue nodded, "Sometimes, ideas just pop out just like how I came to Flowing Snake this time. I know it is dangerous here, but I always fantasize that I can meet Ye Mo and won't be in any trouble. If it had been before, I definitely wouldn't have done such a thing, but now, I can't help myself. I don't know if I miss him, I can't... articulate that feeling."

Hearing Ning Qingxue's word, Chi Wanqing asked more curiously, "Qingxue, didn't you fake the marriage with Brother Ye? You only wanted Brother Ye to block... and then divorce?" From Chi Wanqing's perspective, it was already very strange for Ning Qingxue to come look for Ye Mo in Flowing Snake, but now, she wanted to go to the desert. Did she not use Brother Ye as a shield? From the looks of it, why does she seem to have fallen in love with Brother Ye?

Ning Qingxue shook her head bitterly remaining silent for a while before saying, "I don't know why; it's just a feeling. Now, I thought I could hear about him from other people, but if there is no longer information about him, perhaps I will never see him again in this big world. I thought Flowing Snake was the last place I could find information about him, but I didn't think I could learn from you that he could have gone to the desert. If I just really lose my lead on him like this, I will regret many years later."

Then, Ning Qingxue hesitated for a moment before continuing, "You don't understand me, if it were a few months ago, I would definitely not come to a place like Flowing Snake, much less the desert. Sometimes, you wouldn't even notice yourself changing. When you understand, you will discover that some people you are fated to not forget."

"Indeed, I used him as a shield before, but when I understood who he was, he had already left without leaving me any opportunity to apologize. Sorry, Wanqing, the reason I said those words to you was because he must treat you differently. Otherwise, he wouldn't tell you about the fake marriage. Sometimes, I really admire you, he would definitely not talk to me about this, yet he had told you..."

Chi Wanqing looked at Ning Qingxue's expression and suddenly felt sympathy for her. She should be like herself, but a bit different. When Ning Qingxue had discovered Brother Ye's excellence, Brother Ye had already left her. Meanwhile, she was different, she had discovered his excellence when she was in contact with him. From his tone last time, he didn't seem to have the intentions of marrying her.

No intentions of marrying Qingxue? Chi Wanqing blushed and thought of herself, but she immediately shook her head. She had the same intentions as Ning Qingxue. If she didn't come to find Ye Mo, he would never go look for her. So this meant that Ye Mo had the same attitude toward her that he had with Ning Qingxue; they weren't in his heart. "Does he have someone he loves?"

Chi Wanqing suddenly wanted to see what sort of person Ye Mo was in love with. Even excellent girls such as her and Ning Qingxue weren't in his eyes, so what sort of person would he like?

Chi Wanqing suddenly stopped herself from thinking and raised her head to look at Ning Qingxue: "Qingxue, it's too dangerous for you to go to the desert alone. And Taklimakan is the sea of death, it is countless times more dangerous than Flowing Snake. Perhaps in Flowing Snake, you could still meet Fang Nan, but in the Taklimakan, other than sandstorm, you get the scorching sun; it's pretty much certain death there."

Ning Qingxue shook her head: "I know how dangerous it is, but did you know that not long ago I was someone who was mortally wounded? I've already experienced death once; I just want to ask him if I am really that bad and if it is so hard to just see me once. If he wants me to stop bothering him again, I will leave immediately. He gave me my life, it's nothing if I give it back..."

Ning Qingxue's tone seemed to get melancholic, and she couldn't continue talking anymore.

Chi Wanqing looked at Ning Qingxue with sympathy and sighed before saying, "Qingxue are you being reckless for Brother Ye? He won't be able to see it. Why would Brother Ye want your life? My life was also saved by him, am I going to give it back? And, perhaps it's not that he doesn't want to see you, but that he really is busy. Maybe, he doesn't even know that you want to see him..."

However, Ning Qingxue didn't talk, she was determined. Reckless or not, she couldn't calm down unless she could see Ye Mo once. Moreover, she felt that she was right, perhaps this was the last news of Ye Mo and may never get to see him again if she missed this time.

Even if it meant waiting on the rim of the desert, she would still wait.

Seeing that Ning Qingxue didn't talk, Chi Wanqing knew that Ning Qingxue was really determined to do so.

She suddenly thought about Ning Qingxue's words. This was perhaps the last news of Ye Mo, if he left the desert, then who would know where he would go next? The world was so big, who could find him?

Thinking about this, Chi Wanqing suddenly said, "Qingxue, how about I'll come with you. I have more experience in the desert, and I've stayed in the military for a few years."

"You're also going to the desert?" when Ning Qingxue heard that Chi Wanqing came looking for Ye Mo, she understood that Chi Wanqing must have felt something for Ye Mo, but she didn't expect her to also want to go into the desert.

Chi Wanqing nodded her head firmly and said, "But before we go, we need to go to Luo Cang first; I have a company there. We need to prepare. Going to the desert isn't like going to other places, we need to carry all the tools and medications with us."

Fang Nan watched as the two girls left before feeling relieved. It made his heart quiver that these two girls came to Flowing Snake. If something had happened... But although they had left, the things weren't done yet. Because Fang Nan offended Shi Wei, he had to give Amphibious Gang an explanation; otherwise, he wouldn't be able to stay here anymore. Fang Nan knew exactly how powerful the Amphibious Gang was.

Amphibious Gang was under Nan Qing. A real-estate business ten years ago near High Point didn't take them seriously, and in the end, Nan Qing didn't even accept their apology and compensation; they were annihilated by them in one night. Every gang at the border knew about this so for the people from the Amphibious Gang, the gang leaders at the border usually had a good attitude towards them.

Now that Fang Nan offended Shi Wei, although he was just a messenger for them, he was still someone of the Amphibious Gang. If they reproach him for it, he must be prepared to pay the price.

And if they didn't accept his compensation, he still needed to prepare himself for war. However, Fang Nan knew that for something as small as this, the Amphibious Gang would be fine with accepting compensation. At most, it would make his heart ache a little. They shouldn't try to annihilate him.

The things he had now were given by Ye Mo, if it hadn't been for Ye Mo, there was no way he would be able to take back Flowing Snake from the Philippines and Vietnam Gang. Plus, he was very respectful toward Ye Mo and felt that he wasn't an ordinary person. So he didn't regret that he had offended Shi Wei for these two girls.

Compared to Fang Nan's trouble and the two girl's search, Ye Mo's clinic had received quite the notoriety, at least within the nearby region.

The second day he saved Xanxan, the child's parents came to Ye Mo's clinic to thank him.

They also took out 10 thousand dollars as gratitude.

Ye Mo didn't take the money; instead, he actually gave 30 thousand to the children's parents. The reason was simple, he wanted this family to help him get all the relevant documents.

The child's dad was called Zhang Po. He worked at the taxation office at Luo Cang and was a native, so it should be easy for him to do such things. As Ye Mo felt like he shouldn't show his face if he could, he had let Yu Erhu follow Zhang Po to make the certificates and clinic registration.

Many things could be sorted with money, as for whether Yu Erhu really had the skills or not, no one cared.

With the fervent help of the couple, Ye Mo's clinic had a great reputation despite being open for only ten days or so. This was all due to their promotional ability.

This clinic was called Hui Chun Clinic after all the documents were made. Ye Mo pretty much didn't manage anything and just sat in the yard preparing the soil so he could plant the Silver Heart Grass. He left the clinic entirely in the hand of Yu Erhu.

Luckily, Yu Erhu had experience in medicine, and with Ye Mo's frequent tutelage, the small diseases that the patients had were cured easily.

Ye Mo gave 20 thousand dollars of the remaining 40 to Yu Erhu for him to buy some herbs and kept the last 20 to prepare the tools needed for the desert.

The small clinic didn't even earn money, but Ye Mo didn't care. His purpose was to grow the Silver Heart Grass, everything else didn't have priority. If he could earn money that would be good but if he couldn't, it didn't matter.

The herbs Yu Erhu bought were cooked into soup or pills by Ye Mo and put into jars, and then told Erhu their functions. About medical skills, Ye Mo never kept anything to himself, so if there was anything he could teach, he would teach it to Erhu. He even taught him a set of fist technique and breathing technique.

Although Yu Erhu was quite innocent, he was very smart and learned it quickly.

Chapter 99: Luo Susu

Although Ye Mo had tried to reject the troublesome conditions, their clinic was still gradually rising in fame. Of course, it was due to the propaganda of the surrounding citizens, but it was mainly due to the discovery that many people only needed to come here once and their diseases were cured which was different than going to the hospital. If you went to the hospital, you might need to go several days in a row.

However, the only bad thing about Hui Chun was that its prices were a bit high. Normally, if a child went to the hospital, it would only be some over the counter medicine or needles, and the expenditure was around 100 dollars; however, the same disease at Hui Chun would cost 200. Nevertheless, since it was Chinese medicine, only one take of the medicine was needed which was different to the one-week recovery by the hospital.

Many people still liked coming to this fast, effective clinic. Another saying was that Chinese medicine was neutral and more pleasant to the body than Western medicine.

Originally, their business barely had any profit, sometimes there were even losses. But because of their astounding results, they became very popular. Luckily not much people lived here; otherwise, the clinic really wouldn't have enough people to treat every patient.

Ye Mo had pretty much planted the Silver Heart Grass and barricaded it as he was prepared to go to the desert; however, he realized that his business was getting better and frowned.

Ye Mo's idea was that it would be fine as long as the business could make some money, it didn't need to be too good. He understood the logic of keeping a low profile.

However, Ye Mo wouldn't take the money and not cure the patients. This wasn't his character.

After thinking for a long while, Ye Mo could only tell Yu Erhu that the herbs were limited, and he could only see a limited amount of patients each day. The others would have to wait until the next day.

However, Ye Mo hadn't learned about marketing. He didn't know that after he had made this rule, his business grew more popular instead.

Ye Mo didn't have time to stay every day in the clinic and treat patients. Thus, he had no choice but to teach the basic means and recipes of some medicine to Yu Erhu. At the same time, he hired a girl to help and only then did he get free time.

When Chi Wanqing and Ning Qingxue came to Luo Cang, Ye Mo hadn't left yet. Sometimes, one looked very hard but didn't even realize that it was just right beside him.

Ning Qingxue and Chi Wanqing spent almost two weeks to prepare while Ye Mo was still cultivating his Silver Heart Grass in the yard. When the two had already left Luo Cang and went to the desert, Ye Mo was still preparing for food and equipment.

Although she knew that Chi Wanqing hadn't contacted her own family for a long time due to the incident with the marriage, Chi Wanqing's cousin could no longer remain calm after hearing that they were preparing to explore the desert. In the military, they had connections and people would look after each other, but the desert was merciless, and Chi Wanqing was going to the Taklimakan.

It was dubbed the sea of death, and its ethnic name meant "Place where one could go in, but not go out". So Chi Wanqing's cousin started to wonder if the two girls were crazy, and why they would go to the Taklimakan for an adventure.

So as soon as Chi Wanqing left with Ning Qingxue, she called Chi Wanqing's mother, Tang Qianping.

Yu state.

Ning Qingxue's mother was talking to a girl in her 20s. What was intriguing was that the girl had a face cover and wore a pale yellow dress; however, her dress wasn't the same style as the modern day style of young people, it seemed like a dress of an old era.

This girl had long, black hair that was casually held up by a water-blue clip, and a few loose strands of hair beside her ears gave her an out of the world sense.

"Susu, this time, Qingxue was mortally wounded, and we had thought that she would die, but we didn't expect that she would suddenly be cured in a single night; otherwise, I wouldn't have called you out. I know how hard it is for you to come out even once, sigh..." Lan Yu regretted calling this woman out now because she knew it was hard for her to leave so she couldn't bother her with trivial things.

This time, her daughter was heavily wounded, and thus, Lan Yu thought about it before calling her out; however, she hadn't expected her daughter to be suddenly cured. She really would've had nothing to do if she still looked for trouble with the Song Family when her daughter was perfectly fine.

"It doesn't matter, Sister Yu, if it hadn't been for you before, I wouldn't even be here anymore. Although I went to the Hidden Doors, I still remember Sister Yu's goodwill so I would be able to come out a few more times for you, much less this once. Besides, something happened to Qingxue, so it is my duty to come and help her. As for that Song Family, I will go have a look." The girl who had a face mask on had the voice of a charming bird, yet sounded spiritual.

Just when Lan Yu wanted to stop Luo Susu from going to the Song Family, Li Mumei suddenly ran in and said, "Aunt Yu, Qingxue went to the Taklimakan Desert! When I called her, she had already arrived. I tried to convince her, but she said that she knew what she was doing and then actually shut her phone."

Lan Yu suddenly stood up and spoke coarsely, "What? You said that Qingxue went to the Taklimakan Desert? What is she doing there?"

"She said that she was going on an adventure with her friend. When I asked who she was going with, she only said that it was another girl. Two girls going to the Taklimakan, this..."

Even Li Mumei didn't know what to say about Ning Qingxue.

"Taklimakan, many people have been lost there. Qingxue, this child, why can't she let me worry less? She was very good when she was in Beijing, but why did she change so much ever since coming to Ning Hai? Sigh..." Lan Yu suddenly sunk back into her seat speechless.

Hearing Lan Yu's words, Li Mumei deeply felt the same. The original Qingxue not only had her own opinion but would never be impulsive for something. In the company, she organized everything, and she would cooperate very closely. But ever since she married Ye Mo, she changed too much, and now, even Mumei could no longer understand Ning Qingxue and didn't dare to guess what Ning Qingxue was thinking in her heart.

Now, she was really naïve sometimes. This was greatly discordant with the original Ning Qingxue. Who would block a stick with their own body for a small blade of grass? Previously, she wouldn't have believed that Ning Qingxue would live alone at a far off house by herself, or go to the desert no matter what.

Had she fallen in love? They all say girls who were in love became foolish. The things they do are incomprehensible. However, Li Mumei didn't believe that Ning Qingxue would fall in love with someone either.

Li Mumei still didn't know that Ning Qingxue went to Flowing Snake. If she did, she would have perhaps gone mad.

"Sister Yu, don't worry, I'll bring her back from there," Luo Susu suddenly stood up speaking in a very soft tone.

"How can that work, Susu? Taklimakan is the sea of death! You can't go! It doesn't matter how strong you are, the dangers of nature aren't something a person could defend against. I'll tell her dad and get professionals to bring her out," Lan Yu immediately rejected Luo Susu's proposal.

"Don't worry Sister Yu, trust me, I can find her and bring her back. I'm going there," Luo Susu's tone was full of confidence.

Just when Lan Yu wanted to respond, Luo Susu was already gone.

Lan Yu looked at Luo Susu's back and eventually didn't say anything; she knew Susu.

She would rarely talk, but when she did, she would do it.

"Aunt Yu, is she Aunt Susu?" Li Mumei had always heard about this aunt but had never seen her before.

Lan Yu nodded. Luo Susu was a little girl that she had picked from the side of the road when she had just married and had gone to the temple to pray. Furthermore, because Lan Yu wasn't pregnant at the time, she had raised Luo Susu like her own sister; however, when she was just 5 years old, a friend of her father in law saw her and said that she had the root of wisdom and could enter the Hidden Doors. Then, they took Luo Susu away.

Luo Susu didn't like to talk much since she was young and grew to be extraordinarily pretty. Although Lan Yu didn't want her to go there, her father-in-law said the opportunity was extremely rare. Besides, Qingxue was already 2 at the time, so she listened to the words of her father-in-law.

Unfortunately, not long after Luo Susu was gone, her father-in-law had died, and they've been disconnected from her since.

It wasn't until 12 years later that she came back and told Lan Yu the way to contact her, and if they ever had any troubles, they could go to her. Weirdly enough, the last time, she was wearing a mask too.

Lan Yu also asked if Luo Susu could visit often, but she said that it wasn't easy.

Although it was just one simple sentence, Lan Yu knew that it would be hard, so unless they had to, she wouldn't prefer to ask Luo Susu for help.

This time, it was because of Ning Qingxue that she thought about finding Luo Susu. It was customary for the boys to take the father's surname and the girl to take the mother's surname, so she gave Luo Susu her mother's surname, Luo.

Luo Susu had a thick white scarf around her neck showing only two eyes. People almost couldn't see her covered face, but her unique dress and astounding posture still attracted a lot of attention.

There wasn't a direct plane to the Taklimakan Desert, so Luo Susu took the plane to Wulumuqi and then changed there.

At the airport of Kuerlei, not long after getting off, Ning Qingxue and Chi Wanqing were stopped.

Ning Qingxue subconsciously took a few steps back, the experience at Flowing Snake gave her a deep impression.

“Dad!” Chi Wanqing looked at the man who stopped her and called out. She hadn’t seen her father for a few years, and this sudden meeting took her by surprise.

Chi Youjun, who was planning to be furious, suddenly had his anger dissipate when he was called “dad”. His serious face also relaxed and looked at the daughter he hadn’t seen for three years: “Wanqing, come home with dad.”

Chapter 100: Stopped

Ye Mo had prepared everything and gave the task of caring for the Silver Heart Grass to Yu Erhu.

He was prepared to go to the Taklimakan Desert. If he were successful this time and found large amounts of Purple Heart Vine, then he would be able to reach the 3rd stage of Chi Gathering, and as soon as he did, he would find Qian Longtou.

Forcing him to hide to survive, Qian Longtou had been marked by Ye Mo. He was a cultivator, if he could let it go, he wouldn’t be Ye Mo. It was because of this that he desperately wanted to go to the desert and find the Purple Heart Vine.

Just when Ye Mo was about to leave, Lu Xiaozhen rushed in, her face full of worry. Lu Xiaozhen was the new nurse Ye Mo recruited, she had graduated from a nursing school and often liked to play with Yu Erhu calling him brother under the same master.

“What?” Ye Mo looked at the anxious Lu Xiaozhen and asked.

“Just then, Brother Yu took in a patient but just diagnosed through feeling pulse and gave him a small cup of heart-appeasing serum. Then, that man fell unconscious and started frothing,” Lu Xiaozhen said in one breath and was still puffing for breath; however, the worry on her face didn’t lessen because if a small clinic caused the death of a patient, it would be different to a big hospital. The big hospital could deny, but the small clinic had to be fully responsible.

Ye Mo put down the bag he had packed and hurried over to the clinic. He had already told Yu Erhu not to take the troublesome patients. If they couldn't cure it, it would affect their reputation, but if they did manage to heal it, it would attract too much attention and wouldn't be good for Ye Mo either. The clinic had opened for more than 20 days, and this was the first time this situation had arisen.

Before arriving, Ye Mo had already scanned with his spirit sense since the clinic was just in front of where Ye Mo lived. When he came to the clinic, he saw Yu Erhu sweating, trying to save the man on the bed and was obviously very worried.

On the bed laid a man in his 40s, who still had froth coming out of his mouth, but his eyes were closed. Obviously, his condition wasn't light and should be out cold. Beside the man stood a teenage girl who looked like a high school student and another woman accompanied by a young man.

Other than these three, two others people in the clinic seemed to be patients here, while 3 people were enjoying the show at the door.

"Erhu, come down first." Ye Mo, with only one glance, knew that Yu Erhu's method would not be able to save and wake up the man.

"Master, you're here!" Hearing Ye Mo's voice, he had finally calmed down. In his eyes, his master was capable of everything.

Ye Mo had already seen that the man being unconscious had nothing to do with the heart appeasing serum. It was due to other reasons.

So Ye Mo didn't go there to treat him, he wanted to see first what the families would say. If they tried to blame it on him, then he wouldn't be nice anymore.

Seeing Ye Mo look over, the middle-aged woman rubbed her eyes and said, "Doctor, my husband has always had this disease, so I don't blame you. I just heard that many people say that you could cure some incurable diseases, so I came to try my luck; however, I didn't expect my husband to have an outbreak again. Sorry, I'll call the ambulance right away."

Ye Mo sighed, this woman had a good character and didn't try to blame him like some other people would which gave Ye Mo a good impression of her. Her husband fainted in this clinic, and yet she was still the one to apologize to the doctor there.

Ye Mo remembered when he was in Ning Hai, he had read in the newspaper that an old lady fell down, and someone tried to help her up, but she actually blamed that person for knocking her over and even wanted him to pay her compensation.

Compared to that, this woman's character was infinitely better, and Ye Mo decided to save her husband just because of the woman's character.

Thinking about this, Ye Mo waved his hand and smiled: "Don't call them. It's useless to go to the hospital unless you want them to do an open brain surgery on your husband; however, that would still be detrimental. Coincidentally, I have a way to cure this disease, so I'll look at it for him now."

"Ah!?" This woman was shocked on the scene upon hearing that Ye Mo could cure her husband.

Although her husband's disease wasn't incurable, it was very hard to cure. This was the conclusion they drew from seeing so many doctors.

They came to this clinic because they had heard that as long as they took you in, you would be treated. Originally, they came to try their luck and, of course, Yu Erhu rejected to do any treatment; however, he was too kind-hearted. Seeing that this man was in pain, he gave him to drink a cup of heart-appeasing serum, but he didn't expect a problem to arise out of that.

Yu Erhu wanted to help this man, so Lu Xiaozhen hurried to get Ye Mo. Although this woman knew her husband's problem, she hadn't called an ambulance because she had thought that Yu Erhu would be able to save him. However, she hadn't expected Yu Erhu to be unable to save her husband, even when his master came out. Thus, she decided to call the ambulance.

Nevertheless, she would have never expected this younger looking man to say that he could cure her husband and was immediately stunned. By the time she had reacted, Ye Mo was already saving her husband.

Ye Mo's knew this man's disease with a scan of his spirit sense. His disease should be called a "Hereditary hemorrhagic telangiectasia" [1] which was a small pink-red spot in the blood vessels of his brain. Even open head surgery wouldn't be able to fully remove it and might instead cause more severe consequences. Thus, Ye Mo said that hospitals currently wouldn't be able to treat such disease. However, this disease only tortured people, they would feel headaches all seasons of the year, and the more time passed, the higher frequency it had.

Although this disease wouldn't cause people to die immediately, it would be very hard to live over 50 years.

An illness that was hard to treat for a hospital was very easy for Ye Mo, he only needed to pass his spirit Chi into the brain through the needle and remove the red dots. This was even easier than curing the Purple Coral Poison of that old man; after all, he was currently in the late phase of the 2nd stage of Chi Gathering already.

It had only been half an hour, but Ye Mo was already done. When he was finishing up, the man actually sat up.

Everyone was stunned as they looked at Ye Mo and wondered how there could be such magical doctor. He had only needed half an hour to make a person who looked like he was about to die, lively again.

The man sat up and was in shock, but soon, he reacted and touched his pain-free head with joy. That joy was so intense that he was ready to call Ye Mo "Dad". A few decades of headaches suddenly disappeared? Anyone would be delighted.

"Miracle Doctor!" This man said and was about to kneel down and bow his head.

However, Ye Mo stopped him: "I just happened to know how to cure this disease. If it had been some other illness, I wouldn't have a way," he showed too much of himself healing this man, so he quickly found an excuse.

At this moment, both the wife and the two children understood that Ye Mo had really cured the man. The woman was so happy that she was going to kneel down with her husband.

Nobody knew how much trouble this pain had brought upon their family.

Ye Mo looked at this family full of gratitude and felt emotional. He thought that the sooner he killed Qian Longtou, the sooner he would be able to help people by curing some hard diseases. His simple actions could make a family happy for life.

The reason that Ye Mo would be able to stand out in the open after finishing Qian Longtou was because if he could do so, the Song Family wouldn't dare to do anything to him. He had already heard from Wu Xueming that Qian Longtou definitely had more power than the Song Family.

There were incomparable, and he believed Wu Xueming's words. If he had the power to kill Qian Longtou, the Song Family would be wise if they didn't look for trouble.

However, Ye Mo thought that if he could live without hiding, he wouldn't have the time to practice medicine either, so it seemed that he should teach his skills to Yu Erhu. When Yu Erhu learned everything, he would be able to cure people instead of him.

Although Ye Mo didn't want to take too much money, the family still handed over 20 thousand dollars. Ye Mo wasn't short on money now, and the clinic was going well, so he insisted on only taking 5 thousand.

However, no matter how Ye Mo tried to explain that he just knew how to cure this disease, the clinic was still rising in fame and popularity.

Nevertheless, Ye Mo didn't care about this. After briefing Yu Erhu, he left for the desert. After getting off the plane, he found a distant place and recovered his usual appearance.

He was about to go into the desert and didn't want to go in as "Mo Ye", so he switched back to "Ye Mo". After all, if he was suspected of anything there, then he could use the identity of Mo Ye to cover up.

Ye Mo wasn't planning on taking the bus into the desert as he didn't want anyone to know what he was doing. Besides, his Cloud Shadow Step was not slower than cars, and actually, it was much faster than cars in the desert.

As soon as he had left Kuerlei, Ye Mo felt that he was being watched.

He realized that it was three people and, although Ye Mo didn't know why they were monitoring him, this was at the border of the desert, so he wasn't worried at all. If he went into the desert, it would be very hard for them to find his track.

"You, wait!" One of the men rode on a motorbike and stopped Ye Mo.

Seeing that Ye Mo had stopped, he asked, "There's a car, why don't you take it? Why are you running?" Then, he waved towards the two men behind him.

One of them took out two photos and, as he looked at Ye Mo, he frowned. Seeing this, Ye Mo immediately knew he was suspected. He just didn't know what picture they were looking at.

"So what if I run? Move aside." Ye Mo estimated that things would get dirty today.

"I can't tell about the face, but the figure looks really similar to Shi Ying, and that man is called Ye Mo," The person looking at the photo said.

"Take him away first!" the man riding the motorbike said. At the same time, he took out a big knife from his bag.
