Chapter 111 In the break area next to the Vice President's Secretary Susan raised her eyebrows and said with a hour to clean up the place.

"Come on!"

Lucia withdrew her gaze and took a deep breath.

Seeing the tool room nearby, she walked straight over and took out a broom and mop from it.

After sweeping all the garbage together and putting it into the garbage bag.

Lucia was already sweating. She was about to go to the her hand and said with a frown, Wait a minute! You can't do it with a mop!

"Lucia took a mop?"

Susan folded her arms across her chest and lifted her chin.

"Mr.Stebbing has just instructed that the floor in front of his office and in the break area must not be mopped, because there will be an odor. You can take a rag and wipe it by hand."

Lucia frowned Wipe it by hand? Even the cleaners in the company would mop the floor with a mop when they did the cleaning.

Why did Ted wasn't he? Susan looked indifferent Do you have any problem with it? Mr.Stebbing said that if you don't want to do it, then go and talk to him!" Lucia had a headache, hearing Susan say Mr.Stebbing once and again.

She gritted her teeth and looked at Susan, saying, "Okay, I'll wipe it by hand.He who has a mind to and now actually asked her to wipe the floor by hand it was obvious that he wanted to see her make a fool of herself But on second thought it was a good thing that Ted treated her this way Once word got our few people would believe that there was any kind of affair between them.

It seemed that Susan hadn't expected Lucia to agree so readily After hesitating for a moment, she immediately followed Lucia and repeatedly wanned, "Don't try any tricks.

You have only one hour, and it you don't for it on time, there will be other punishments waiting for you! Lucia gasped She put the mop back in the toolroom, took the rag and basin and went to the customer When she returned to the break area with water, Lucia squatted down, soaked the rag, and wiped the stains on the floor bit by bit. The break area was right between the President's Office, the meeting room and the Vice President's Office, where people came and went.

August walked to the Vice President's Office.

When he opened the door, he saw Ted leisurely sipping tea on the couch. Hearing the sound of the door, Ted looked up at August with a false smile and said Mr.Stebbing." It was a simple sentence with a hint of sarcasm. Hearing that, Ted chuckled.

Instead of getting up, he patted the couch beside him and said, "Come and sit down, August." "No, thanks."

August's face was sullen and cold.

"I just came over to ask.Since when did the company have a punishment of wiping the floor by hand?"

Ted paused, pretending to be confused Ted smiled and said in a casual tone, "You don't have to be so serious, August.

Since Lucia embarrassed Lisa in front of her colleagues in the desk area of the department, the way they looked at Lucia had a subtle change.

"You know what, Lucia, since you told Lisa to shut up last time, no one in the department dares to gossip about you these days." Lucia stirred the coffee in her cup with a spoon and said absent-mindedly, "Really?"

"Yes!"

Emma nodded vigorously.

"Now I know that our colleagues all bully the weak and fear the tough.

If they dare to gossip about you again, just teach them a lesson!" Hearing that, Lucia couldn't help but curve her lips. The reason why she did that to Lisa last time was that she couldn't get rid of the anger in her heart.

It happened that Lisa deliberately made fun of her, so she blurted it out. Thinking about it now, she found it really cool. Emma took a sip of her juice and sighed, "It's the end of the month again.

We have so many papers to summarize.

It's really annoying." Lucia looked up at the overcast sky outside the window.

For some reason, her mood darkened as well. She was not afraid of the end of the month, but of the endless wait. She had promised August that she would help him take down Ted, but now she didn't even know when he was going to make his move or what his plan was. "Buzz." The phone in her pocket suddenly vibrated.

In the ward, the two men looked at each other.

It was terribly quiet at the moment.

Finally, August opened his mouth to break the strange atmosphere.

"What can I do for you, Mr.Mitchell?"

Mr.Mitchell gazed at him and sighed as his pale lips moved.

"As best doctor for you..."

Before August could finish his words, Mr.Mitchell slowly raised his hand, gesturing for August to stop talking don't need to do that.

Now the only one I'm worried about is Lucia." With that, he raised his eyes and looked at August with mixed feelings. He had married his beloved daughter to August, who was one of his best students, and thought that they would get along well, but unexpectedly... A hint of guilt flickered in August's eye.

He raised his eyes to look at Mr.Mitchell, took a deep breath and said, "I'm sorry, Mr.Mitchell, but I didn't do what I promised you." Mr.Mitchell shook his head.

"All couples don't remain together till the end of their lives.However, I still hope that you can take care of Lucia for me.It would be best if you two can get back together.If not, I won't force you, but I hope you

In the car, Lucia fastened her seat belt.

Next to her, August pushed down the handbrake to start the car.

Watching that, she couldn't help but ask, "What did my father tell you in the ward just now?"

It would be a lie to say that she was not curious.

She had been holding this question until she asked it now. August steered the car without stopping.

He didn't even turn around as he asked lightly, "You want to know?"

After hesitating for a few seconds, Lucia nodded, "Yes."

The car started to run slowly down the road.

August didn't say anything for quite a while as if he was deliberately whetting Lucia's appetite. "He told me to keep an eye on you." She was confused.

"What?" How? August turned to look at her without blinking.

Lucia was a "Really? Do you have a picture? Please share it!" away.

Soon, a picture was really posted.

Although it was blurred, she could still tell that the man and the woman in the picture were a perfect match. Lucia looked at the two in the picture.

For some reason, she had a lump in her throat, feeling a bit upset. Lucia dropped the phone in her hand, picked up her glass and went to the pantry area for water.

It happened that two female colleagues were standing there, having tea and chatting.

After greeting them briefly, Lucia started to boil water and make tea by herself.

"Why, it's the first time that we have seen Mr.Adams with a woman around him!"

"I know. I heard that Miss Kelly is still in his office. It seems that they are quite close."

Can you take me with you?" "No,"

August's face went somber, "Who told you that?" Recently he deliberately instructed those who took care of Jeanne to keep their mouths shut and just take good care of her, but she still knew about it. "My dad told me..."

On hearing this, August frowned slightly, and a few cold lights appeared under on the surface, he was struggling secretly in his heart.

After a few seconds, he said in a deep voice, "No, Jeanne, you go back and get some rest." Seeing his attitude go cold, Jeanne was filled with regret.

She shouldn't have mentioned her dad in front of him! Biting her lips, Jeanne knew it was time to leave and finally let go After sending Jeanne out of the office and watching her leave led by the maid, August sighed in raised his hand and pressed the landline number, calling Burton. "Mr.Adams, what can I do for you?" August dropped his eyes, casually playing with a pen, and asked softly, "Martin has been to the hospital in the last few days?" Burton truthfully reported, "He's been to the hospital twice in the last two days but before the surgery, he hadn't been there, and only Mrs.Kelly went occasionally." Snap! August pressed the pen under his hand at once, knitting his dashing brows. Martin, like a cunning old fox, never did anything useless.

When Jeanne was seriously ill and the Kelly family could not find the right kidney, Martin even gave up treating his daughter.

Now after he had helped Jeanne contact a doctor, find the right kidney, and do the surgery successfully, he showed up How could he not be clear about his intentions? August said coolly, "Transfer Jeanne to another hospital in a few days." Hearing that, Burton said, "Okay August took a deep breath and made up his mind that he would never let Jeanne become Martin's puppet, and that he would settle the score with Martin later Throughout the afternoon, Lucia was distracted, and her mind always came back to the scene of August and Jeanne together. Soon it was time to leave work.

But without saying a word, August pulled the sleeves of his shirt up, carefully picked up the pieces, and threw them into the trash Looking at the man's serious expression and sharp movements, Lucia suddenly felt a burst of warmth. Amazingly, he could do such a thing.

Even when handling trash, he made every movement pleasing to the eye.

The sleeves of his shirt were pulled up at his elbows, just pieces and turned on the faucet to wash his hands.

As soon as he turned his head, he noticed Lucia's burning gaze, so he slightly curled his lips and asked in return, "Haven't you seen enough?" August's voice was full of energy, making Lucia hurriedly avert her gaze, and then a blush appeared on her cheeks. August wiped his hands and followed her out of the room, catching up with her in some steps.

"Lucia, why didn't you come to the appointment today?" COI She promised him, but she changed her mind on the spur of the moment. Being asked by him, Lucia felt some guilty, but when she thought of Jeanne, she was no longer shaken.
