

Submit 561

Chapter 561 The Hypocrite

'God! They've seen me!' Lucia got nervous instantly. She eagerly wished to find a crack in the ground at this time. But it was already too late.

The two men came around from the left and right sides. One of them had already seen her and shouted, "There she is!"

Feeling that both sides were shrouded in shadows and the light was completely blocked, Lucia took a deep breath. As soon as she raised her eyes, she saw the two men staring at her grimly.

"No wonder I can't find her, so the bitch is hiding here." One man cursed, reaching out and grabbing her by the collar. He then yanked her out from behind the trash can.

Lucia's leg moved and the wound on her leg was torn open. She felt unbearable pain. She gritted her teeth and said, "Let go of me!" "Hum! No way!" The two men held her arms left and right, pulling her toward Sunshine Plant. But at that moment, there was a bright light coming from behind, followed by the roar of the car. The two men were startled and looked behind them together. But the light was too bright, they could only faintly see the shadow of the car and the two shining headlights.

They unconsciously squinted their eyes, but the car was speeding towards them. The person driving the car had no intention of slowing down. The two men were startled. Seeing that the car was getting closer and closer and about to crash into them, they quickly ducked to the side and ignored Lucia.

With a sharp and harsh sound of tires scraping the ground, the car drifted on the ground, slowing down and sliding forward. It avoided the spot where Lucia was standing. Then the car turned and braked sharply, coming to a quick stop. Soon, someone opened the door, got out of it and quickly walked toward her.

Zane raised his chin at her and said, "Lucia, get in!" As he said that, he quickly stepped forward, walked around her, and caught up with one of the fleeing men. Zane knocked the man to the ground. The other man was controlled by Zane's men and pulled back.

Lucia took a deep breath. Thinking that Garnett was still in Sunshine Plant, she looked in a hurry in the direction of the car. After a moment's hesitation, she lifted her foot, walked over to the car and got into it directly.

eyes narrowed and he asked, "Are you hurt?" As he spoke, his eyes quickly swept up and down her the driver to drive and said, "Go to the nearest hospital." "Wait!" Lucia took a deep breath and said, "Garnett is still under what those bad guys would do to a six-year-old child. She was very worried and could not be reassured at all.

frowned and said, "I'll send Kylan and the others to look

I want to look for Garnett myself!" Lucia was firm and said, "That's a child trafficking criminal guys and are being forced to beg. If we catch those bad guys, the and said seriously, "Lucia, this is not the time to

she firm tone, "I will send Kylan to bring back the child you are looking for. The most important already interrupted firmly. "No buts." After August said that, he turned to look he did as he was told. Lucia sat aside, her chest rising and falling in anger. In her impression, children needed help. Or maybe he was not doing the charity work out of his heart, but simply wanted to create a moral persona for the company. If this was true, he head to look out of the window, and no longer the hospital near West District. Lucia got out and was accompanied by Zane to have her wound treated.

"But

While waiting, she and and did not answer. Seeing her expression, Zane sensed something and said with certainty, "You must know something! Tell me

"There's nothing to