Chapter 731 Lucia's Talent.

"Lucia, it was perfect, you are talented in acting." Leo sincerely exclaimed.

Lucia was flattered. She smiled and replied, "Thanks, but I know you are flattering me. I just acted as a body double. I don't think I deserve your praise."

As she spoke, she pointed to one part of the script and hesitated to say, "Although I'm new, I have a suggestion. If it's not appropriate, please forget it."

Leo could not help but frown at her and motioned for her to continue.

"I think there was a problem with the positioning of the third camera in the last scene. It was very easy to film a substitute's side face, which would cause a lot of trouble for the film editor. It will increase the cost unconsciously, and the film after multiple editing would not be that aesthetic."

She said it in one breath, carefully peeking at Leo's response, only to find that Leo was not angry, but was pondering over her words. Finally, Leo nodded his head in recognition, and earnestly asked, "Then in your opinion, how to improve it?" Lucia spread out the map of the set on one side, circled an area with her finger, and then simulated the movement of the

No. 3 camera.

"I think we can adjust the position of the No. 3 camera. Let the actors enter the scene from the oblique rear, and then shoot along this track. It will be better."

As if she had thought of something else, she added, "In addition, the position of the artificial tree next to the scene needs to be changed. Now the shadow cast by the tree just blocked the light source of the No. 5 camera, and it will look very dark."

Seeing that Stephanie had eased her tension, the agent carefully persuaded her, "Baby, try to understand Leo, and it's good for you. As long as the Christmas Affair 4 is released at the end of the year, you will win many awards next year." Hearing that, Stephanie hesitated for a while, and asked uncertainly, "Really?"

Stephanie Yoder, an actress who was soon at the height of her career after her debut, has already gained a reputation..

She only needed to use a few trophies as her stepping-stone to becoming an international celebrity.

If she can win the awards like "Best Actress in a Leading Role", "Audience's Favorite Actress", "The Most Influential Public Figure of the Year" and so on, it will contribute to her career development.

"Of course!" The agent slapped his thigh and immediately said, "So what you need to do now is to keep in touch with Leo and try to understand him. Although he is a strict director, he will help you earn a lot of money."

Stephanie waved her hand and sneered, "Well. It is reasonable. I will send him a present later to make an apology to him.

Then we will be friends again."

The manager immediately nodded and bowed to her, as if thanking her for her generosity, "I will call the investor soon and ask him to persuade Leo to treat you better tomorrow, in addition..."

"Mr. Hudson of the media company would like to invite you to the restaurant tomorrow to discuss your tomorrow's work." The manager smirked nastily.

Stephanie stared at her beautiful figure in the mirror, and smirked, "Tell Mr. Hudson. I won't let him down tomorrow." In Adams's house, Lucia placed the documents of the selected school on the table and pushed them to Paula.

Finally, Lucia accepted Paula's proposal and chose this seemingly inconspicuous school.

Lucia didn't make this choice because she agreed with Paula, but because she thought that Timothy and Janet always live a comfortable life that other people envy. She hoped that they could integrate into the circle of ordinary people, rather than living in the lap of luxury.

Lucia finally fixed on Betterea primary school. When Lucia came to the cast again, she looked much more relaxed.

Stephanie learned the lesson of the previous day, and she could control her temper. She was sitting on the sofa using her

However, when using the phone, her face looked horrible..

On Twitter, they did praise someone for their kindness and hard work, but it was not about Stephanie,

It's about Timothy and Janet. They were handed a bottle of water to sanitation workers then.

The fans of the "Stealing Kids" found this photo somewhere and praised the two children for being clever and sensible. Although they did not criticize Stephanie obviously, the netizens still realized that she was putting on airs and Lucia heard August's voice. Although it was a low voice, it was very confident. "Don't worry. I will solve it for you." Lucia snitted forcefully, trying to stop herself from crying, and then bowed to Leo. "Mr.

you. Please continue shooting."

Leo felt pity for both Lucia and Janet. He originally thought that he would call it a day today so that Lucia and Janet could go home to have a good rest. Unexpectedly, she would take the initiative to continue filming.

"Of course, you should continue. If you are always emotional like this, we can earn a cent." Jonathan slowly said.

He had already walked to Leo's side when he spoke. Seeing his embarrassed face, he patted him on the shoulder and said,

"Is there another similar scene?"

Leo nodded, "But it is not the main plot. We arranged it at the end, and the actors are not here."

In this scene, the heroine's scum boyfriend returned home and found that there were two kids at home. He became angry with the kids and his girlfriends. Finally, she dumped her.

Jonathan's mouth was drawn back into a smirk of triumph, took off his suit coat and left it aside, unbuttoned his shirt, and walked slowly to Stephanie. "It's just a stunt. I'll play it."

Stephanie looked at Jonathan in astonishment and unconsciously blushed.

Although Jonathan has quitted acting, his fans have never decreased in recent years. He was worth billions in showbiz. Many people complimented him on his acting skills. Although five years have passed since he became famous, he was still considered the benchmark among the younger generations.

"It's my honor to act with you." Stephanie looked at him with a dazed face and said in a coquettish voice, "I hope senior Jonathan's smirk became more and more obvious. He stood in front of her with his tall figure. When Jonathan bent down, he glared at Stephanie grimly. He warned her in a deep voice, "I have retired from acting. Mr. Black is ok." Stephanie did not expect that Jonathan would change his attitude towards her so quickly. His grim voice and solemn

"Of course not..." Lucia muttered to herself, suddenly realized what he meant, and pushed his hand away with disgust.

"You guess wrong. I won't be like that."

August smiled and responded softly, "Don't worry. I will avenge Janet's injury."

A few days later in the morning, Lucia urged the two kids to go out. Unexpectedly, she was told that they stopped making the film. Lucia had to use her phone to watch videos with Timothy and Janet at home.

Lucia did not log in to Amecan's Tik Tok account for a long time. When she logged in again, a large number of private messages almost blocked her mobile phone.

Lucia hurriedly sent a long text explaining that she had returned home and would not update Amecan's private account in the future. She told everyone that they could learn about the daily lives of the two kids through the domestic entertainment news.

After she solved this problem, she saw a popup of foreign language news, reported that a domestic female celebrity's messy private life. She even took the initiative to seduce the directors to get the chance for the movie so many times. Although the indecent photos were blurred, they can still recognize that the woman in the picture is Stephanie. The scandals like selling her body, and being rude to the movie staff were exposed. In addition to indecent videos, there were even unknown transaction records and voice records.

This female celebrity, who was at the peak of her career, lost her reputation overnight. All brand suppliers terminated their contracts with her. They banned unreleased TV dramas and movies.

Hearing the footsteps, Lucia looked up in surprise, "August, did you do that?"

"I just let the media report the news realistically. I'm not interested in anything else." He responded calmly.

She couldn't help swallowing saliva and murmured, "It's so horrible. August can't be provoked. If someone touches him, he can drive this person out of Austos City."

Chapter 736 New Actress

The agency had specifically told her to be quiet and retire for a while to avoid the limelight. As soon as this groundswell passed, she could turn over a new leaf, so she came with the agency today to cancel her movie contract. But she didn't expect to see Lucia here, and had no way to control her emotions.

Once Lucia sent out the video, public opinion would instantly overwhelm her then she would really have no chance to turn around. Thinking of this, Emila calmed down immediately. She indignantly glared at Lucia and said, gritting her teeth, "Ms. Mitchell, I apologize for my impulsiveness, please forgive me."

Lucia took a look at the time on her phone and thought that she had no time to dwell on Emila, so she asked the security guard to drive Emila away and then stepped into the elevator on high heels.

The atmosphere in Jonathan's office was very oppressive, with the head of the agency sitting at one end and the unruffled Adeline at the other.

"Motionwalk Films actually sent a woman to talk to us about the termination of the contract. That's a lot of contempt for us. They are trying to make us look bad." Mr. Robinson, the head of the brokerage company, said in a stern voice. Lucia pushed the door in and just heard those words. She slowly stepped forward and sat beside Adeline, looking at General Manager Robinson and asked in a cold voice, "We hold equity and positions in the company. Why can't we speak on behalf of the company?"

"And who are you?" Mr. Robinson immediately glared at her, "We are discussing the matter of cooperation. Anyone Irrelevant gets out of here."

"Is it a cooperation or a termination of contract?" Lucia asked with a smirk, while putting her business card onto the table, "Well, unfortunately, I am the head of the Lion Group, and I am also here to discuss the termination of the contract with you."

Mr. Robinson got a grim face, looking at the two women who were impressive. Suddenly a chill arose in his heart, but he still defiantly cursed, "What do women know about business? there is no need to talk about the cooperation." He said, picking up the contract indignantly and got up to leave.

Lucia gave Burton, who was behind her a look. He immediately got her and took steps forward to push Mr. Robinson back to sit on the sofa, warning in a cold voice, "These two are Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Black. You'd better get your attitude right."

Adeline saw that Lucia kept staring at that girl so asked curiously, "Do you know her?"

"No. I just think it's so sweet." Lucia also unconsciously showed a smile, "Seems like you know this little girl." Adeline nodded slightly, "Motionwalk Films intends to dabble in the agency chain, so we started a talent show to cultivate new stars, and she is one of the contestants."

Lucia nodded thoughtfully, then smiled, "I think this little girl has a good vibe and can be considered for early debut." Hearing this, Adeline looked at her with some confusion.

"Instead of spending a lot of money to cooperate with the brokerage company, we should use our own artists. On the one hand, it's a great cost saving. On the other hand, we can stop losses in time and reduce unnecessary losses and troubles." Said Lucia.

Seeing her confident look, Adeline couldn't help but frown and hesitantly asked, "Lucia, is this really a viable way?" With a shrewd glint in her eyes, Lucia responded playfully, "Why not give her a chance? Just do it."

In the end, Motionwalk Films still decided to use this little girl. As soon as she was brought to the set, Leo was immediately surprised. After all, this little girl's youthful and sunny temperament fit the image of the heroine in his mind. The shooting went smoothly and there were no more small accidents.

Emila was jointly downplayed by several companies, and finally the agency had to hide her. And with the rapid changes in the Internet trends, she disappeared from the public eye in just a few days.

"She's right! Timothy and Janet do have something to show, right?" Said another child's mother, and another burst of malicious mocking sounded.

Lucia gave them a glance with a spurious smile and responded in a deep voice, "The children are free to perform what they like. If they are not willing to go on stage, I will not force them."

The first women heard and thought how she had just pushed her kid onstage with a cold face. She couldn't help but slightly get irritated, frowned and said, "You have let the children on the TV performance program. Now you're here being high-hearted?"

Timothy, who was sitting nicely on the side, suddenly inclined his head and looked at Lucia with an innocent face and asked, "Why would mommy support me and Janet to act?"

Lucia knew that Timothy was relieving herself and felt warm. Her gaze also softened, "Because mommy have to respect you and Janet's dream and your decision."

The heartwarming picture of a amiable mother and filial children unknowingly stung the hearts of those women. They made a fuss all day long in order to force their children to study, yet Lucia could easily say such grand words as respecting their children. To them, Lucia was doing nothing but being patronizing.

A smile appeared on Timothy's childish face. He took Lucia's arm with his fleshy little hand and said, "Mom, I also wants to perform on stage."

Lucia's eyebrows tightened slightly, thinking that Timothy was making such a decision for herself, so she immediately refused, "Don't force yourself to do something you don't like."

August had personally collected the evidence. He had broken their relationship for so many years for the sake of Lucia who had already left the organization, and he had also personally driven Currer out of the organization that was more important than her family.

"You actually hurt me so much for Lucia? Where exactly am I inferior to her? Everybody knows I am the most suitable

A cold light flashed in August's eyes, making her shrink her neck and immediately shut her mouth tight.

Topics such as "#SingleMomLucia" and "#Adams MarriageCrisis" were already marked red on the trend, and many twitterers were frantically sharing pictures of her at school alone with her children.

"Last time I saw them on a parenting show and they went well. How come they were divorced?"

"This is Lucia's third marriage, right? I wonder if we have any luck to see the fourth or fifth. Can we call her a divorce-lover?"

"I thought I had shipped true love, but it turned out to be a lie. Love is really unreliable. Money is the only real thing." "Poor Timothy and Janet. They're too young. They need Fatherly love.

"Do the children need a father? Although I am also a girl, I am certainly more reliable than that big scum August Adams.

Lucia, pick me! Pick me!"

Lucia read these top comments and was speechless. She finally threw her phone to Paula and said, "Stay away from these non-nutritious things. I'm not some popular star, what's the point of hanging on the trend?"

"If this continues, you will be even hotter than the stars." Said Paula, and this once again got Lucia rolling her eyes in return.

"Are you going back to the Thomas family mansion today? I'm afraid you won't see Paul if you don't get going now."

Lucia changed the subject.
