Chapter 163: You're My Little Princess, and I'll Always Spoil You

Serena Sterling took out her phone to post on Weibo, without any caption, she just threw in a link to the live stream room.

Silent for the entire afternoon, Serena suddenly appeared in Leah Thorne's live stream room, causing an uproar across the internet.

The assistant excitedly watched the number of viewers in the live stream room soar, "Beauty Thorne, Beauty Sterling, you're truly amazing."

Leah Thorne took a sip of water, "Let's start the live stream room."

"Start now? Shouldn't we wait a bit longer?"

"No need to wait, once we're live, we'll definitely beat everyone on the block."

"Alright."

The assistant opened the live stream room.

Leah Thorne's charming eyes held a subtle smile, reminding Serena Sterling, "Serena, look at the comments, they're coming, here they come!"

Serena looked up, and the comments in the live stream room exploded instantly,

"Serena Sterling, do you still dare to show your face?"

"Serena, is the divorce agreement already in your hands now that Mr. Crawford is with Yasmine?"

"Leah Thorne, why are you still involved with someone like Serena Sterling?"

"Serena, get out of Bayside!"

Leah Thorne reached out and patted Serena's smooth shoulder, "Serena, are you okay?"

Serena's bright eyes shifted around playfully as she blinked, "Don't worry, I'm fine."

As she said this, her delicate fingers landed on the keyboard, "Let me respond to them."

In the neighboring live stream room, Erica Hawthorne was watching Leah Thorne's live stream comments with a small account, and she laughed loudly, "Yasmine, this Serena Sterling is truly shameless. She actually dares to appear in Leah's live stream room, look at how they're cursing her to the heavens."

Yasmine Sterling had been humiliated by Hayden Crawford, feeling gloomy, but now her mood brightened up, showing a proud and vicious smile, "Didn't expect Serena to enjoy self-humiliation, let's just watch her joke."

"Yasmine, the patrons are tipping, wow, there are so many!" Erica said happily.

Now Yasmine Sterling is the famous genius girl in Bayside, and both livestreams hadn't been going for long when Serena's side was already engulfed in curses, while Yasmine's side received numerous tips with everyone calling her a "goddess" in the comments.

Yasmine smiled with satisfaction, even though she couldn't conquer Hayden Crawford, she had conquered everyone else.

Erica quickly said, "Yasmine, look, Serena actually responded."

Serena really replied with a message saying, "All you monsters can leave, Mr. Crawford is mine!"

She directly addressed the rumors of the marriage crisis, quite boldly, declaring her ownership.

Very soon, the comments were filled with a new round of cursing,

"Serena, you're still acting high and mighty, where's your face?"

"Who's giving you the confidence, isn't Mr. Crawford with Yasmine now?"

"Compared to the genius Yasmine Sterling, who would choose a country bumpkin from a rural area?"

Erica was thrilled, "Yasmine, Serena's reputation is already ruined, we don't even need to do anything."

Yasmine contentedly watched the comments, wondering how Serena could compete with her!

At this time, with a "ding," there was a brilliant display of fireworks in Leah Thorne's live stream room, a wealthy patron had appeared and tipped a huge amount.

Erica froze, "Yasmine, a particularly wealthy patron appeared over there, tipped a huge amount, the tips we received here are pathetic in comparison."

Yasmine also paused, just moments ago she was delighted with the tips she received, but now with the wealthy patron appearing in Serena and Leah Thorne's live stream, the tips they received became a mere fraction.

Who is this wealthy patron?

Yasmine fixed her eyes, this wealthy patron's name was Mr. Crawford, Hayden Crawford had come!

Who is Hayden Crawford, he is Bayside's big figure capable of overturning the skies, he suddenly appeared in a small live stream room, oh my!

Mr. Crawford responded online in the live stream room to Serena Sterling saying, "Yes, Mrs. Crawford is mine too."

Serena said, "Mr. Crawford is mine."

Hayden Crawford replied, "Yes, Mrs. Crawford is mine too!"

This unexpected wave of affection slapped everyone in the face.

Serena never anticipated Hayden would enter the live stream room, he never engaged in this kind of activity before, but for her, he downloaded WeChat and Weibo, with only her as a contact.

Leah Thorne blinked at her ambiguously, "Wow, your man is here backing you up."

Serena's mouth tasted sweet like sugar, she replied to Hayden Crawford, "Mr. Crawford, they all say I'm a medical failure!"

Such a pitiful tone, complaining to Mr. Crawford in front of the whole internet, was truly audacious.

"You think you're anything other than a medical failure?"

The entire internet was furious, but their faces had been slapped by Hayden, so now they dared not speak out, the once curse-filled live stream room was now dead silent.

The number of viewers in the live stream room was also skyrocketing, easily catching up to Yasmine's side.

Very soon, Mr. Crawford's reply came, "No worries, you are my little princess, I will spoil you."

The entire internet, ...

Hayden Crawford actually spoils a so-called medical failure like this?

Everyone who anticipated Serena to be divorced and abandoned felt their faces slapped again, this time directly swollen.

Leah Thorne smirked, thinking this couple both were impressive, today was like a mixed double match pounding everyone senseless.

Seeing the opportunity, Serena prepared to get back to business, today is the big day for the genius Yasmine Sterling, she still hasn't sent her congratulations!

Serena sent a third message, directly manually @-mentioning Yasmine Sterling, "Yasmine, there's something I want to tell you, you owe me twelve billion, time to pay up. Although the twelve billion was given to you by my husband, Mr. Crawford, I'm now asking for it back in the name of Mrs. Crawford, to reclaim our marital joint property of twelve billion, please return the money immediately!"

Gasp.

The entire scene fell into shocking silence.

What is Serena Sterling doing... doing?

She actually openly demanded Yasmine repay twelve billion?

A while ago Hayden Crawford had invested twelve billion to welcome Yasmine back to the country, now Serena in the identity of Mrs. Crawford came to ask for money?

At this point with a "ding," a trending notification came from Weibo, everyone quietly took out their phones, the Crawford Group just posted on Weibo.

It was a lawyer's letter issued by the Crawford Group, essentially the lawyer had been commissioned by Serena, Mrs. Crawford, officially to pursue Yasmine for marital joint property of twelve billion. If Yasmine cannot repay within the stipulated time, she would be prosecuted for civil disputes, extortion, among other charges, bearing the consequences herself.

The whole internet was stunned, the moment before Serena was asking for money in the live stream, the next Hayden issued a lawyer's letter, this couple took cooperating to the extreme.
