Chapter 209: Pregnant

Serena Sterling looked at Lillian Sterling, "Lillian, where have you hidden Grandpa? Are you feeling guilty, afraid that when Grandpa wakes up he will reveal the truth from more than ten years ago?"

"Truth? Serena Sterling, I don't understand what you're talking about. It was clearly you who pushed the old man down the stairs more than ten years ago. We won't let you see the old man for his safety. Besides, your father handled this matter himself. I advise you not to focus on Grandpa, just leave quickly!" This time Lillian Sterling was tight-lipped, firmly accusing Serena Sterling of pushing the old man down the stairs and issuing an eviction order.

Serena Sterling didn't continue to entangle further; she turned and went downstairs.

At this moment, a maid walked out of the kitchen carrying a bowl of medicine, "Madam, it's time for your medicine."

Serena Sterling passed by the maid and stopped, looking at the bowl of medicine.

Lillian Sterling's face changed, she cursed and went downstairs, giving the maid a slap, "Little wench, who told you to bring the medicine out, take it back quickly!"

The maid was about to cry, "Yes, Madam."

Serena Sterling looked at Lillian Sterling again, this time with an investigative tone, "Lillian, are you sick? How about this, I'm a doctor, let me give you a free pulse check."

Lillian Sterling was startled, she stepped back to avoid Serena Sterling's pulse check, "Serena Sterling, just hurry and leave! If you don't leave, I'll have you thrown out!"

"Lillian, then take care of yourself, I'm leaving." Serena Sterling left.

Serena Sterling left the villa and stopped to look back. She had smelled the scent of the herbal medicine in the bowl; if she guessed correctly, it was a pregnancy stabilizing medicine!

Lillian Sterling was pregnant!

Actually, Gregory Sterling always wanted a son. Lillian Sterling had given him two daughters but couldn't produce a son, which always been a regret for Gregory Sterling.

Unexpectedly, even though Lillian Sterling was quite old, her desire for a son hadn't died. Now she's almost fifty and has successfully gotten pregnant for the third time.

It's clear that Lillian Sterling values this pregnancy very much, probably afraid she'll sabotage it, and doesn't even want her to know. No wonder the Sterling family has been so quiet lately; it seems they all want to peacefully stabilize the pregnancy to have a son and turn things around.

At this moment, "ding", Serena Sterling's phone rang, a message came in.

It was sent by Shania.

Shania sent a photo directly: Serena, when I was shopping, I met someone, look, is this your dad?

Serena Sterling opened the photo, it really was Gregory Sterling, but Gregory Sterling wasn't alone. There was a youthful beautiful figure beside him, looking very familiar. Serena Sterling remembered, it turned out to be Serena Sterling's former friend Zoe!

Gregory Sterling was taking Zoe shopping, carrying large bags, having spent quite a bit. Zoe was affectionately holding his arm and even kissed him.

Shania: Goodness, Serena, your dad actually has a college girl as a mistress outside.

Serena Sterling had been a bit busy lately and hadn't managed Gregory Sterling's affairs, didn't expect his life outside to be so comfortable and lavish, even raising a mistress.

The flag at home was pregnant with a child, yet the flags outside were flying. He isn't afraid of things going wrong.

Serena Sterling replied to Shania, Thank you, you've given me quite the surprise.

Turning off the messaging app, Serena Sterling dialed a number, and soon the call connected, Leah Thorne's soft and alluring voice came over, "Serena, why did you think of calling me?"

"Leah, I'll tell you something interesting — Lillian is pregnant, and Gregory Sterling has Zoe as his mistress."

"Is it really that explosive?" Leah's gossipy soul ignited, "Serena, what do you plan to do? Collaborate with Zoe, the enemy of an enemy is a friend?"

Serena Sterling shook her head, "Zoe isn't a good person, not worthy of being our ally. Now the chips are in our hands, we can strike and catch them off guard. Lillian may have committed many offenses, but the child in her womb is an innocent life; I don't wish to make a move, let them fight amongst themselves. We'll sit back and watch the show."

"Alright Serena, as you say, you should have taken down this Sterling family much earlier!"

At the Sterling family, Lillian barked harshly at the maid again and then hastily drank the pregnancy stabilizing medicine.

At this moment, a call came in, it was from Yasmine Sterling.

Lillian Sterling quickly connected, "Hello, Yasmine."

"Mom, have you been drinking the pregnancy medicine on time? This pregnancy is crucial; Dad has always wanted a son. I found some effective remedies for having a son for you, and I'm ninety percent sure it's a boy you're carrying; as long as you safely deliver the son, Serena Sterling won't be able to shake you."

Listening to Yasmine Sterling's earnest warnings, Lillian placed her hand on her stomach, smiling happily, "Yasmine, don't worry, I've been drinking the pregnancy stabilizing medicine on time, I will definitely deliver this son!"

"By the way Mom, is Dad at home, is he keeping you company?"

Mentioning this, Lillian Sterling's face turned cold, like a deep-brooding housewife. She had been relegated to the cold palace by Gregory Sterling; no matter how she pleases him and uses all her tricks, Gregory Sterling just isn't interested in her anymore. They are now living separately, he sleeps in the study at night, never comes to her room.

Gregory Sterling wasn't like this before; as long as she served him diligently, Gregory Sterling was still happy.

"Yasmine, your dad has no conscience; he hasn't been coming home often lately, didn't come home last night, doesn't show me a good face," Lillian complained.

"Mom, Dad having a temper is normal. He doesn't know you're pregnant yet; when he does, he'll surely be happy. It's Dad's birthday soon, so bear with it for a few more days and give Dad a big surprise then."

Lillian could only agree; after all, she had no bargaining chips to turn the tide now, "Alright."

"Also mom, Grandpa's whereabouts must remain hidden from Serena. Serena has visited Grandpa several times before, and I suspect she gave Grandpa acupuncture, because I saw Grandpa's fingers move!"

Gregory Senior's fingers moved, which scared Yasmine and Lillian badly. They convinced Gregory Sterling overnight to move Gregory Senior somewhere else.

Lillian Sterling agreed with a serious expression. She knew this matter was significant. Gregory Sterling may be traditional and selfish, but he's truly filial; if he finds out it was her and Yasmine plotting to push Gregory Senior off the stairs to frame Serena Sterling, the consequences are unimaginable.

This secret must be kept!

After hanging up the phone, Lillian Sterling returned to her bedroom, took a shower, and prepared to go to bed.

Then, "ding", a text message came.

She opened the text; it was a photo from an anonymous number.

Lillian opened it, and it was photos of Gregory Sterling accompanying Zoe shopping, and going to a hotel with Zoe.
