Chapter 320: Serena Sterling's Biological Father

Serena Sterling was stunned, she knew that mysterious girl was her mommy, Seraphina Linden!

But, wasn't her mommy a native of Aethelgard? Old Man Knight said her mommy suddenly appeared in Aethelgard, so where exactly was her mommy from?

Where exactly did mommy come from?

This Old Man Knight turned out to be her mommy's last disciple, and Vincent Langdon was also her mommy's disciple. Judging by the timeline, Seth Sullivan was likely her mommy's youngest and last disciple.

Serena now felt surrounded by mysteries, maybe Seth knew something, but ever since she arrived in the City of Aethelgard, Seth hadn't made an appearance.

She asked Sasha and Iris, being people of the underworld with vast connections, finding someone should be easy, but they had never heard of Seth Sullivan.

Seth had said he would wait for her in Aethelgard and had taken mommy's servant, Aunt Jacqueline, but he had already vanished without a trace from the City of Aethelgard.

Everything had become even more bewildering.

Old Man Knight's expression grew complex, he murmured, "I greatly admired my master; her medical expertise and unique ideas made me revere her like a deity. But soon, we had disagreements. She said I was feudal and obstinate, drunk with power, straying off path, lost in a madness. She warned me repeatedly, but I didn't listen, and later she said... said she wanted to clean her own house by her hand, and so, we became enemies."

So, there was such a twisted story between mommy and Old Man Knight. Although Old Man Knight made it brief, Serena still found it thrilling.

The Knight family in Aethelgard had been practicing medicine for generations, each successor held innate talent in medicine, which was why Seraphina Linden took Old Man Knight as her last disciple.

However, back then, Seraphina Linden didn't expect that Old Man Knight would gradually steer off course, and as one of the four deeply-rooted, flourishing families in Aethelgard, the Knight family fiercely counterattacked. There may have been other powers involved back then, but now it's unknown. Ultimately, Seraphina Linden and the Knight family's battle ended with her leaving the City of Aethelgard, while the Knight family almost perished. It took them twenty years to recuperate, and this generation they produced the poison-skilled Felix Knight.

At this moment, Old Man Knight turned his head and looked at Serena, "I understand now, I understand why you seem so familiar to me; because you seem to carry her shadow!"

Serena thought Old Man Knight was stating the obvious, she was her mommy's daughter. Of course, she carried her mommy's shadow.

But now, she could not reveal her identity. Serena didn't want to get involved in these whirlpools; her primary goal was to quickly get the second treasure box left by her mommy.

There was also another very important thing, who exactly was her biological daddy!

Aunt Jacqueline and Grandpa Summer were mommy's intimate people, yet they didn't know who her daddy was. They could only tentatively conclude she was conceived with stolen genes, perhaps her daddy didn't even know of her existence.

Now that Old Man Knight was right in front of her, being mommy's last disciple who was always by her side, did he know her background?

Serena's heart became excited, jubilant, but her expression remained calm, showing no ripples, "Old Man Knight, the person you mentioned, I don't know them. Perhaps she left descendants, you could try finding them."

Mentioning descendants, Old Man Knight withdrew his gaze, "Indeed, my master had a daughter back then, I've been searching for her whereabouts all these years, but didn't expect..."

"Then you might look for leads starting from the daughter's biological father!"

"Nonsense, the young lord doesn't even know..." Old Man Knight abruptly stopped, raising his head; his muddy eyes sharply fixed on Serena.

He almost let it slip, Old Man Knight stared guardedly at this girl before him, feeling a thin layer of sweat covering his palm.

Serena felt it was a pity, young lord? Which young lord? Who was the young lord Old Man Knight referred to?

Serena was sure, this young lord was her biological daddy!

Indeed, her guess was right, this Old Man Knight was in the know, he knew about her origins!

Now, Old Man Knight glared at her vigilantly and fiercely, as if wanting to bore two holes into her face. Serena smiled softly, her clear almond eyes looking at him innocently, "Old Man Knight, what's wrong with you?"

Earlier, Old Man Knight suspected she was trying to trap him, she slowly broke down his psychological defenses, almost inducing him to reveal that secret.

That girl's background definitely couldn't be exposed.

But now, Serena looked at him innocently and frankly, with slight surprise, as if she had done nothing at all, making Old Man Knight hesitate.

No matter what, Old Man Knight wouldn't allow Serena to enter the Academy of Sciences, and even wanted her to leave the City of Aethelgard!

"Serena Sterling, I'll still say what I said, you won't get into the Academy of Sciences."

"Old Man Knight, let me tell you this, I will definitely get in the Academy of Sciences, you can't stop me. If there's nothing else, I'll be leaving now."

Serena turned around and left.

Old Man Knight watched Serena's graceful departure, sneering, too ambitious for your capability.

Old Man Knight also walked out, instructing his subordinate, "Bring that girl Tiana Ford by Serena Sterling's side, tell her I'm looking for her."

...

Serena Sterling wasn't as optimistic as she seemed; she had a fallout with Old Man Knight, who was now the director of the Academy of Sciences. Without his approval, it was really hard for her to get in.

What method should she use to enter the Academy of Sciences?

Just then Serena noticed Tiana was missing, she asked a classmate, "Have you seen Tiana?"

"Serena, Old Man Knight just called Tiana over."

What?

Serena's long eyelashes trembled suddenly, she turned and headed to find Old Man Knight.

But as she rounded the corner, she bumped into Tiana coming out of Old Man Knight's office, "Serena, who are you frantically looking for?"

"Tiana, I was looking for you. Did Old Man Knight trouble you?"

"No, Old Man Knight just gave me A University's student ID ranking and the entry sequence list for later."
Tiana waved the list in her hand.

Is that all?

Serena felt something was off, "Tiana, let's leave and talk elsewhere."

"Okay."

The two girls lifted their feet to leave, Serena had only taken two steps when she suddenly felt a pain at the back of her neck.

Her vision quickly turned dark, her whole body went limp, and as she fell, she saw Tiana standing behind her, holding a silver needle.

Serena collapsed on the ground.

The selection at the Academy of Sciences officially began, but the students from A University noticed that Serena Sterling was suddenly missing,

"Where's Serena, have you seen Serena?"

"Didn't see her, what should we do, Serena's supposed to appear soon. If she misses this Academy of Sciences selection, she'll have to wait until next year."
