Chapter 302 Gabriel didnt understand yet , but that was fine he would in time 64 %
Tinley was a woman who was not interested in men .

Her world revolved solely around Yvonne and performance metrics .

No matter how handsome a man might be , mistakes were treated with impartial severity .

Unless , of course , Yvonne had put her in a good mood .

After all , no one was perfect .

Mistakes were inevitable .

Moreover , there were too many things to manage , so many people , so many minds , that there was no way to control everyones thoughts , so the probability of making mistakes was even greater .

Mistakes couldnt be avoided .

Reprimands couldnt be endured .

Thus , the only solution was to time their confessions carefully , waiting for those rare moments when Tinley was in a good mood .

Her usual demeanor was calm , steady , neither warm nor cold .

Before Yvones return , her mood had been particularly somber .

Back then , even ordinary conversation required bated breath , let alone admitting faults .

Those days had demanded extreme diligence , with everyone overseeing even the smallest tasks personally .

But now , since Yvones return , Tinley had softened .

No longer did a visit to the Holmes estate feel like a death march requiring hours of mental preparation .

If , on that day , Yvonne happened to have coaxed her into a good mood , then they had even less to fear .

Occasionally , Wendy would give them a heads up in the WhatsApp group .

When she did , theyd flock to the estate en masse .

just like tonight , seizing the chance to confess and often escaping unscathed .

After apologizing , they would come out feeling very relieved .

If they ran into Yvonne on the way , they would seize the opportunity to snap a few photos.

They would then post photos in the group , and everyone would unanimously thank Yvonne for her generosity .

To them , she was nothing short of a heaven sent angel , delivering them from peril No wonder colleagues loved to go find her to play after they arrived .

With this lucky charm around , who wouldnt want to over and say hello ? Although she was Tinleys biological daughter , their personalities diverged wildly .

She was so cute , adorable , and soft , and being near her , they might even get some snacks and delicious fruits .

Therefore , loyalty to Miss Yvonne didnt know what everyone thought of her .

She was about to tell Tinley that she wanted to go to bed , but two men came to see Tinley The sensible girl didnt want to disturb their work , so she didnt say anything .

She sat alone in her room , waiting for Tinley to come back and hold her to sleep after she was done .

But Yvonne waited and waited , but she didnt see Tinley for a long time .

She heard voices downstairs , so she walked to the window and looked down .

She scaited until she fell adeep , but Tinley will didnt come Yvonne fell asleep by the bed , and the visitors who walked out from downstairs smiled brightly Even though it was evening and the light was dim , people passing by could still see their big white reeths as they smiled happier than if they had won the lottery .

As soon as they left the Holmes residence , the group chat was flooded with messages again .

All in unison .

[ Loyalty to Miss ! ] Yvonne , who was sleeping alone , sneezed half awake .

It was her blessing to have such an unreliable group of employees .

After the last person left .

Tinley glanced at the time .

It was almost forty minutes past Yvonne's usual bedtime, She stood up and asked Wendy to let everyone know that they could find her tomorrow if they needed anything , then she went back to find her sleeping little girl .

Those who dallied too long could only watch in bitter envy as the successful confessors celebrated in the chat .

They silently shed sad tears , cursing in their hearts why the roads in Strate City were still so jammed up late at night Damn it ! Who knows how long until the next opportunity ! The longer they delayed confession , the worse the consequences when Tinley eventually discovered their mistakes .

Next new moon , I'm visiting the temple praying Yvonne grows even cuter , enough to melt Tinley into a puddle After all , they couldn't change themselves , so they could only pray for Yvonne to change Tinley .

a good day for them .

That way , every day would be a p May Yvonne grow ever more adorable .

Amen ! Nightfall .

The lights were on in the Jones villa .

Carlson paced back and forth in his study .

The minute hand went round and round .

but he couldn't sleep at all .

Not to mention sleeping , he couldnt even sit still now .

Ever since noon , when his assistant , the one liaising with those professional errand runners , reported the missions failure 2/6 IZ 3 : 64 % Chapter 302 and the returned compensation , an unshakable dread had taken root Since the then , his heart had been in a state of extreme imcase .

The assistant kept comforting him , saying that it was forbidden for people in this industry to disclose any information about their employers .

And when the employer contacted the errand rummer , they also used a virtual account processed by the platform .

Beyond mission parameters , the runner couldnt possibly trace them .

Follow new episodes on the

It seemed that even if the mission failed , they didnt have to worry at all .

Their safety was absolutely guaranteed .

Just like they didnt know the runners information , the runner didnt know theirs either .

But even so , Carlson was still furious when he learned that the mission had failed .

He roared in disbelief at the assistant on the other end of the phone , Didnt you tell me that he had never failed before How did it fail ? The assistants tone was innocent and nervous .

He quickly cleared his responsibility and said , Thats what the information above says .

I dont know why he suddenly made a mistake Then , he quickly added , After all , the Holmes family attaches great importance to their daughter .

From what Ive gathered .

Tinley was present that day with a man whos likely the current seventh on the global assassins leaderboard , the Anonymous .

He referred to a real time international ranking system where assassin organizations registered their operatives , though scores were calculated individually .

The person the assistant mentioned was previously the ace of an assassin organization in the country .

He was controlled by someone and had been working for the organization .

He had taken on countless orders and was one of the top three people in the country who had climbed to the top of the assassin leaderboard .

His real strength was unfathomable .

However , there had been no activity from him on the website for five years .

It was like he suddenly disappeared .

The organization claimed he no longer belonged to them , as if scrubbed from their records .

Rumors from within the killer organization said that he was bought by someone for a high price .

Because he hadn't taken on a mission for five years , his experience kept dropping , and now he had fallen from third to seventh place in the annual ranking .

Even though he'd ranked seventh , no one dared to underestimate him .

If he was really bought by Tinley , then it would be understandable why the professional errand runner they hired failed .

The assistant went to investigate as soon as they learned about this .

Rumor had it that he was indeed bought by Tinley , and as soon as he joined , she gave him a small island .

He now lived with a retired sniper from the country who was injured in the line of duty .

The place was remote and secluded , so outsiders had not been able to find him .

Over the years , the two of them have probably been honing their martial arts skills , and their strength should be even more terrifying than it was five years ago . Fortunately , Frost and Grave remained blissfully unaware on their island , immersed in carefree leisure .

They'd have found these rumors laughable .

Carlson frowned , he was the typical unreasonable boss . No matter how much his assistant explained , he felt that his assistant was shirking responsibility .

He didn't care about the hardships and setbacks , he only wanted to see results that satisfied him .

He didnt know what third or seventh place on the charts was , he just wanted to control Tinley and make her experience the taste of pain .

Professional couriers were supposed to be airtight even if caught , theyd reveal nothing , knowing nothing .

Thats why he asked his assistant to contact these people , but he didnt expect to fail the first time .

He was angry .

Hut more of it was fear .

If the Holmes family couldnt trace this back to him , fine .

There were too many people who didnt like the Holmes family .

and Tinley might not be able to trace it back to him , If he were found out , he was doomed .

His assistant , who was in cahoots with him , was also afraid .

After all , if the Holmes family really wanted to follow the trail of the errand runner , he would be the first to be found .

Because he was always the one who contacted the errand runner .

To be honest , he wanted to take the money and run abroad now .

So he was no less nervous than Carlson at the moment .

He wiped the sweat off his brow and spoke into the phone , not knowing whether he was comforting himself or Carlson You know Tinleys temper .

If shed uncovered us , wed already be dead .

With powerful figures , no news is good news .

Carlson calmed down a little .

Maybe it was really his words that worked .

All right , keep asking around and report back to me as soon as you hear anything .

After giving the order in a deep voice , he immediately hung up the phone .

But Carlson still couldnt sleep .

He sat quietly in his study , thinking .

It wasnt until the cell phone on the desk suddenly rang that he was pulled back from his thoughts .

Before he even looked at the message , he frowned , a little displeased .

The message notification just now really startled him .

He opened his phone and saw who had sent him the message .

His wife , or rather his ex wife now , because they had agreed to divorce .

The contract was signed , but the divorce certificate had not yet been issued .

Chapter 202 She asked if he was there so late , her intention was self evident .

A look of disdain and mockery faded in Carleons eyes He knew it the lad owed to divorce him two days ago and said the wild never regret it .

I had only been two days since she left him , and she couldnt take it anymore , and came back to necemeste with him .

He had his assistant inquire about her , and learned that she had not returned to her parent in Trs house in the early days after the divne , It had rented a very small home It was so small that she didnt even hire a butler Everything was done by her anf Enry She had been a pampered rich wife for so long , so how could the stand in So after he learned about this , he asserted that within a week , the would definitely come back to beg him to get back together .

It seemed that his guess was right , and now she couldnt bear it anymore and came to him .

The displeasure he felt just now vanished , replaced by arrogance and disdain .

[ Whats the matter ! ] he typed coldly .

There was a pause on the other side , but the remark at the top of the chat box kept showing that she was typing .

He was very patient and did not swipe away , but kept waiting .

About ten seconds later , the message from the other side came over .

I want to come over and pick up Kevin tomorrow .

] Carlson was a little surprised that it wasn't what he had imagined , but then he thought with certainty , She must be too embarrassed to say it directly , so she's playing hard to get . He knew women's little tricks too well .

She must have felt ashamed to come back in such a sorry state , so she wanted to use the excuse of picking up her son to come back to him and get back together.

Carlson smiled , and his unpleasant mood all day was finally relieved at this moment .

He was happy now and could tolerate this little trick .

So he sent : [ Sure , you can come over tomorrow .

Lets see how she pretends tomorrow ! Carlson made up his mind that he must teach her a lesson this time and not forgive her so easily .

He wanted to let her know that while anger was understandable , certain rules couldn't be broken .

In this family , only he could file for divorce ..

He was very unhappy that she had tried to scare him with the divorce agreement .

Sulking was acceptable , but they were both adults and should act their age .

The divorce agreement , although he had signed it , was not something to be thrilled with .

5/6 16:36 Sat , 12 Apr N HN Chapter 302 He decided to ignore her attempts to reconcile and let her take their son . His son had to go to school every day and drive .

He was accustomed to a life of luxury and wouldn't last a few days in that shabby little house before begging to come back . When that happened , the woman would have to swallow her pride and beg him , even if it was just for their son .

Once his anger subsided and she promised not to do it again , he would relent and let her take their son and laughter back . After his reply , his phone fell silent , but Carlson didn't mind .

His imagination was already painting tomorrow's scene .

Even the bad mood because of the failure of the mission tonight has improved .
