Chapter 44

Chapter 44

Anna Lawson held Yvonne’s hand and ran into the house.

As she ran, she said angrily, “Teddy is too much! I must tell Mom about this…”

Yvonne was dragged along by her, and the black dog was chasing after them crazily.

Teddy had a wound on its hind leg. Two days ago, it accidentally got injured again, so when it chased after Yvonne and Anna, Fred was very worried.

He stared at it for a while and rubbed his eyes in disbelief, wondering. How come Teddy’s healed when it’s running now? It usually walks normally, but whenever it runs, it limps and looks miserable.

Fred even thought that he was seeing things until a surprised voice came from the side. “Teddy’s hind leg has recovered?”

Only then did Fred realize that he was not seeing things, but that Teddy had really recovered.

“Did you apply medicine to it?” Fred turned to ask the man who had just spoken.

The man nodded in a daze.

However, after saying that, he was very puzzled. “I applied the medicine to it normally. After that, it looked no different than before, and its leg was still limping. How did it suddenly recover?”

After hesitating for a while, he said, “Could it be that Teddy was faking limp in the past?”

Someone said, “Are you kidding me? We could see the flesh on its leg. How could Teddy fake it?”

They discussed one after another, guessing the reason why Teddy’s leg was healed.

Suddenly, Fred interrupted them. “Alright now. We’ll find out about this by taking a look at its medicine.”

On the other side, Yvonne was pulled into the room

Anna closed the door and did not let Teddy in

When she turned around and saw the tears on Yvonne’s face, she hurriedly wiped her tears. “Don’t cry, Yvonne. When my mom comes back, I’ll tell her about what happened. Teddy won’t get to eat anything tonight.”

Yvonne also wiped the tears on her face and nodded obediently.

She had been crying with Anna. Now that Anna had stopped crying, she stopped crying too.

After the two little girls calmed down, Anna pointed at a solid wooden cabinet and said to Yvonne, “Those are the two. flowers you gave me previously. My mom put them in a vase. They haven’t withered yet!”

Yvonne looked in the direction she was pointing at. The first thing she saw was a beautiful vase. Just as she was about to look away, she was attracted by a large rectangular photo frame on the wall

There were many people in the photo, but it was the woman in the middle who attracted Yvonne.

She was wearing a purple dress. She had long hair and red lips, and her skin was fair and tender.

When she looked at the camera, her eyes were cold and calm. She exuded a dignified aura that could not be ignored. Her innate temperament and grace made her stand out among everyone.

Chapter 44

Anna held her hand and asked, “Yvonne, what are you looking at?”

Yvonne took a small step forward in a daze. She pointed at the photo frame with her finger, her soft voice pleading. “Anna, I want to see the necklace on that lady’s neck.”

The first thing that caught her attention was the purple gemstone necklace on the woman’s neck in the photo.

Perhaps it was because of the fact that she was standing a bit far away, Yvonne felt that the necklace really looked like hers.

However, she had not seen her necklace for a long time, so her memory was a little blurry.

Anna nodded and whispered into her ear, “Wait here.”

She let go of Yvonne’s hand and ran to call Marie Tobin, one of the Lawsons’ servants, over. Then, Anna pointed at the photo frame and said, “Marie, could you please help me take it down?”

Marie, who had followed her over, wiped her hands clean and looked troubled. “Ms. Lawson, Mr. Lawson treasures this photo very much. Why don’t we call him and ask for his opinion?”

She was worried that Anna and Yvonne would break it when they were playing if she took down the photo,

Anna shook her head in dissatisfaction. She was very willful. “I must check it out now. Please take it down.”

Marie had no choice but to step on the chair and carefully carry the photo frame down.

The photo frame was clean and spotless. It could be seen how much the owner cherished it.

Marie placed it on the table and stood at the side to watch Anna and Yvonne, afraid that they would ruin the photo.

Anna pulled Yvonne to a chair. Through the glass frame, she pointed at the necklace on the woman’s neck. “Yvonne, is that what you’re talking about?”

Yvonne said excitedly, “Yes!”

The little girl stared at the necklace quietly for a long time, her big clear eyes engrossed.

This necklace looked exactly the same as hers

However, she thought that it looked better on the lady in the photo.

The last time Yvonne saw her necklace was a long time ago. The children in the orphanage liked to try it on. Dani was afraid that she would lose it, so she helped her keep it. Then, Yvonne lost it.

Therefore, she was actually a little uncertain.

At this moment, Anna’s envious voice sounded in her ears, “This lady is really beautiful.”

Yvonne looked away from the photo, her big eyes shining with surprise. “Anna, do you know her?”

Of course, Anna didn’t know the lady. She waved at Marie standing at the side and pointed at the photo, “Marie, do you know who she is?”

Marie walked closer and narrowed her eyes for two seconds before shaking her head. “I don’t know, Ms. Lawson. I think she’s Mr. Lawson’s friend.”

Yvonne was a little disappointed, and the sparkling light in her eyes dimmed.

Anna could not bear to see her upset.

Chapter 14

She reached out to hold Yvonne’s hand and patted her chest with her other hand. “It’s okay, Yvonne. I’ll ask my mom when she’s back tonight, and I’ll tell you when we’re at school”

The disappointment on Yvonne’s face was gone. She thanked Anna softly. “Thank you, Anna,”

Anna grinned happily. She held Yvonne’s hand and walked out to take her to see the ponies at home.

As soon as the two of them went out, the black dog guarding outside the door ran behind them.

It was rarely so lively.

As they passed the fish pond, a fish jumped up and made a big splash in the pond.

Yvonne was attracted. She stopped and did not walk forward.

Seeing this. Anna also stopped and looked at Yvonne in confusion. “What’s wrong?”

Yvonne pointed in the direction of the fish pond. Her voice was a little surprised and cautious. “Look! A fish!”

Anna thought that she was very cute, so she pulled Yvonne to the side of the fish pond.

As they walked. Anna said. “These are my grandfather’s fish. Let me show you.”

It was an ecological fish pond. There were filters and oxygen pumps in the pond, which were placed at the very edge and did not affect the beauty of the ecological fish pond. The content is on En.novelxo.com! Read the latest chapter there!

As Yvonne approached, she was shocked by the number of fish.

There are so many of them!” she exclaimed in surprise and then turned to look at Anna.

“Yeah. We have a lot of these.” Anna enjoyed watching them swimming around.

Then, she asked. Yvonne, is there any one you like? I’ll give it to you,

Initially. Yvonne said no, but the enthusiastic Anna insisted on giving one to her, so she chose a small one.

Marie helped to scoop up two fish for Yvonne.

Immediately after, the two children went to visit the docile ponies.

The horse breeder helped Yvonne to sit on a pony and walk around.

Two hours later, a servant in the front yard came to the two of them. “Ms. Lawson, Mr. Adler is here to bring Ms. Adler back.” The content is on En.novelxo.com! Read the latest chapter there!

Anna reluctantly bid farewell to Yvonne, but when she thought that they would meet in school a day later, she became happy again.

Marie carried Yvonne in her arms, followed by a bodyguard carrying a transparent transport box.

The bodyguard walked to the Adler family’s car and bent down to say, “Mr. Adler, here are two fish that Ms. Lawson has given to Ms. Adler as a gift. Will it be convenient to put the box in your car? If not, we’ll send it to your place. The content is on En.novelxo.com! Read the latest chapter there!

Jeremy nodded and asked the chauffeur to put the box in the trunk.
