

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 91 Tournament Rules

While Jake and the rest waited in the hall for further instructions. A group of soldiers entered the room. Each of them held a fairly large sack that was filled with something unknown. They then began going round the room handing out bracelets from the sacks to each and every one of the contestants.

Not much was said about the bracelets. They were just told to wear them if they want to participate in the tournament.

The bracelet was clear as glass and slightly larger than an adult fist. When the bracelets was put on their wrist, it shrunk down to a perfect fit.

After waiting a little while longer, a Sergeant entered the room. It was sergeant Lee that entered the room. When Lee was ready to speak, the room fell silent to listen attentively.

"Good morning, everyone! I'm here to tell you all about the rules of this tournament. The first order of business: Will ranks 1 to 3 of the third year students please come forward?"

Three students whom Jake had never seen before went over to where Lee was standing. Actually, on closer look, Jake recognized one of them which was Harry; Sebastian's elder brother that wanted to harm Jake and his friends when they were in their first year on the pretense of teaching them an important lesson.

"Next, will the rank 1 to 3 of the second years step forward?"

Jack, Sophia and Peter went over towards where Sergeant Lee and the third years were standing.

"The 6 students standing here, will be seeded. They will not participate in the first round and will go straight through the knockout stages."

"You might be wondering what the devices on your wrists are for. In a moment, you should all see a number display on it." Lee said ignoring the mumblings of the crowd after announcing those that will go through to the knockout stages.

As Jake looked towards his wrist, a green figure could be seen "100 HP" written across the bracelet.

"The first round of the tournament will be a battle royale style. The second year students will participate first. The last seven students left standing, will go on to the knockout stages." Lee then raised one of the bracelets in the air.

"This is your winning ticket. In the battle royale style, you will only be permitted to use the regular training wooden equipment. For each hit you take, this number will go down. When the number reaches zero, you will be eliminated from the tournament."

Lee looked at all the students there then he pointed at Kate.

"Miss Kate, will you please join me?" She said.

Kate quickly rushed over to sergeant Lee's position.

He then handed Kate a wooden bow and a blunt wooden arrow.

Lee then started to look at the second-year students that were lined up and pointed at a large build student.

"Big guy, you look like you can take a little bit of pain. I want you to stand in front of Kate and let her shoot you."

Doing as asked, Kate readied her bow and aimed at the student's stomach. As the arrow left the bow, it landed on the student's stomach and bounced off.

"As you can see, the student has taken no damage but if we look at his bracelet, it now displays 90HP. We want the students to show their skill in the first round not their wealth or luck."

"This will put you all on an even playing field. The first round is all about skill. Now Kate, will you please take a shot using Qi?"

Kate again took a shot but this time infusing Qi into her bow and arrow.

"Now his bracelet should be displaying 70HP..."

"The stronger the attack, the more HP is taken. If this student had blocked using his Qi, it would counter attack and display the usual minus 10HP. That is all you need to know about the first round." Lee said.

The students were all asked to put all their equipment in a storage room and then meet back in the room. This included Jake who had his intermediate sword with him. So he was only allowed to wear his intermediate armour he bought from the blacksmith before the tournament and his boot.

Looking around inside the storage room, Jake could see a wall lined with wooden equipment and all types of weapons.

Axes, maces, spear, bows, everything...

Jake went over and picked a regular wooden sword. Swinging it around, Jake liked the weight of the weapon and its feel so he took it.

The 6 seeded students were then taken somewhere else since there was no need for them to be there.

From the hallway, they are further escorted down a huge tunnel. The tunnel went on for about five minutes and at the end of it, they could see a bright light.

As soon as they went into the bright light, they were welcomed with loud cheers. It felt like the whole ground was shaking. The whole arena was completely packed with people and not a single seat was left empty.

The arena also had a special seating area where the 3 Head Generals and six Generals sat. Just underneath them, were two instructors that Jake was familiar with. Instructor Thompson and instructor Jim. They were holding onto a microphone.

"Welcome ladies and gentlemen!"

"We will now begin the opening round of Aurora Academy's tournament." As instructor Jim spoke into the microphone, it was being magnified so the whole audience could hear him.

The students were asked to spread out all over the arena. There were around 100 contestants in total on the ground floor. As Jake went into his open space, he couldn't help but shake the feeling that some other players were looking at him. He could feel their eyes piercing into his skull.

'What are they up to?' Jake thought.

"The first round, will be a battle-royale style tournament. The last seven students remaining, will go onto the next round." A screen suddenly appeared over the fighting arena.

"As you can see, the audience are able to see the HP of every single contestants. Once the HP counter of a contestant reaches 0, they will be eliminated."

"Now let's get ready to start in..."

The whole audience started to count down together.

"3...2...1..."

Chapter 92 A Powerful Jake

As soon as the fight had started, the five people closest to him dashed towards him. Jake had a feeling that some contestants were watching him and he was right. They had planned to attack him together not wanting to take any chances.

As the first man swung his sword towards Jake's stomach, Jake quickly pivoted sideways and then kicked him in the shin very hard, not even withdrawing his strength a little bit. Then the second man was already behind Jake and he swung his sword on Jake's back that landed successfully.

Immediately the hit landed, the number on Jake's bracelet changed and displayed 90HP. Although the hit didn't hurt Jake, the system still counted it as a hit.

Jake then quickly turned around to the other person that had hit him with the sword then he used his sword's butt to whack him across the face so hard that he went flying towards his allies.

The crowd of spectators were now on edge, they were watching the fight between Jake and the five people. Although some of them thought that Jake was being brutal in his strikes, they couldn't deny that he was quite strong.

Even Jim was now watching all the fights happening intently. 'If that Kid with the orb is really in the academy, he should be here fighting. So I just have to identify him quickly before he gets away.'

Now almost everybody's attention was on Jake wondering if he could pull through this obvious ambush.

The third person was now upon Jake with an axe kick coming from above. Jake quickly rolled over then he swept the person off his feet therefore causing to fall off balance. Then he did his own axe kick that landed on the man's stomach knocking out the air from his stomach.

On the display screen, they could see that the man's bracelet was now displaying 0. Immediately it did, the man was teleported away then Jake went back a bit confused why five people were attacking him.

Squinting closer, Jake could finally recognize them. "Sebastian." Jake said under his breath. The men attacking Jake were Sebastian and his friends.

Jake just kept his head low while his fists were tense in anger. He started mumbling under his breath. "Why... Why are you all ganging up on me? Is it just because I decided to take revenge for my family?"

"I'm not gonna let this slide away now." Jake then just lifted his head in time for a sword strike was heading towards his face then he quickly used his own sword infused with Qi to block the strike.

Then Jake used the Triple Threat technique to get behind him and gave him a roundhouse kick that landed squarely on his head therefore sending him crashing down and his bracelet showing the number 0 and him teleporting away.

"One hit and they are out! How does he do it?" Thompson commented.

A spectator exclaimed, "What's going on? He's taking down opponents with ease!"

"He's a beast! That kind of strength is unheard of!." Another person said.

In the viewing area for the Head Generals and other authorities, they were also having their own talk about Jake.

"How is it possible that a student like this is in this school and we don't know about him?" Head General Gunther asked. He was a man that looked to be In his late forties with his brown long hair tied in a ponytail and he was looking fit enough like someone who fought a lot of battles to get to his position.

"I think he just went off the radar." Head General Rowan replied. Rowan was a man that had a kind of mysterious look to his eyes. He looked like a man in his late thirties with a large and muscular build. He had his black hair swept back neatly.

"Do we have any information about this kid?" Head General Humfree asked. Head General Humfree was the oldest among the Head Generals with his white hair neatly swept back and some wrinkles showing on his face. His beard was even white in colour but even though he was old, he had this powerful look and aura around him that would make people think twice about antagonising him.

Together, these three rule Aurora Academy.

"Yes." General Paul replied. "His name is Jake Lucas, he came into the academy as a low level. His strength was around number 20, the lowest number a student could have, therefore he earned the power level 1 and the rank 200 in the combat training rankings."

Gunther leaned forward. "And what's his current ranking?"

"He's currently the rank 4 of the second years." Paul replied to him.

"How's this possible?" Rowan almost shouted. "He grew so strong over the year. Even if he was very dedicated or determined to grow stronger, it should have taken years to do that. So how come he managed to grow strong in just a year?"

"Was he on our radar?" Humfree asked.

"Negative." Paul said. "Those that had potential are the current number 1 to 3 of the second years. They were the ones we were told to keep an eye for."

"Well the kid is certainly good." Gunther said. "Let's just see what else he can show."

Currently in the arena, there were three people remaining including Sebastian that were now surrounding Jake looking for an opening for an attack.

"I can see you have grown stronger over the past year." Sebastian said, still circling around Jake. "And so have I."

Sebastian dashed towards Jake with full speed along with his two remaining friends for an attack while Jake readied himself to defend from the attack with his eyes scanning and watching their movements while Jake's brain was coming up with counter attacks.

And then in less than a few seconds, they were now upon Jake. Will they defeat Jake or will Jake manage to pull through this ambush.

Chapter 93 Rise of the underdog

Currently, in another viewing booth where the seeded students were, the second year and third year students were split by some sort of barricade. There, Jack, Sophia and Peter were watching Jake's match intently.

"Do you think Jake will be alright?" Sophia asked.

"Are you kidding me right now?" Peter shouted. "Are we watching the same thing right now? You can see how Jake is hitting them with one hit therefore eliminating him and you are doubting him?"

"But how's he doing that?" Jack asked. "How is he able to defeat his opponents with just one hit and I don't think he even used Qi at all. That is just purely his strength. So how is this possible?"

"Well, I knew Jake was strong ever since that day in the forest. The way he went toe to toe with Kilberg, a C rank adventurer. That was when I knew he was strong but how he became this strong, I don't know." Peter said.

"Exactly my point. We all knew Jake was the weakest among us in our first year. He was ranked 200 and also received the power level 1 so how on earth is he this strong?" Sophia asked.

"Well whatever it is, I am glad he's my friend and on our side. Because I would hate to make him an enemy or fight with him currently." Jack said.

At the same time that Jack and the rest were talking, the seeded third years were also having their own discussion. Enjoy exclusive content from empire

"Harry, so do you think your brother can defeat this dude?" The rank 2 of the third years named Emily onyx asked.

"I'm not sure." Harry shrugged.

"Why, what do you mean?" Emily asked.

"Because, when Sebastian was ranked 20, that guy was ranked 180 and he managed to defeat Sebastian quite easily although he didn't come out unscathed." Harry said.

"So I can't say the same thing now. He is currently ranked number 4 while Sebastian is the rank 7 of the second years so I don't really know. And there was even a time when I wanted to get revenge on him and we fought. He was really skillful then, skillful enough to land a hit on me."

Hearing this, the rank 1 of the third years and possibly the strongest in the academy turned around. "You mean that guy managed to land a hit on you." Alexander Slade or otherwise known as Alex Slade a huge, bulky guy that had a giant sword strapped to his back and also red fiery hair.

"Yes, he was very skillful then and he was just a first-year at that time. I don't know how much he has grown since then."

"Well, he has apparently grown strong enough to defeat your brother's friends with a single hit." Alex said with his heart thumping louder by the second and his eyes showing a sense of excitement.

Alex always loved to fight strong opponents. People he thought were strong so he could improve himself more. And now hearing and seeing that Jake was a strong person, Alex just wanted to jump down to the arena and fight with Jake but he just sat down patiently and prayed to match up with Jake in the tournament.

Back at the arena, Jake was currently surrounded by Sebastian and two of his friends. And then, Sebastian dashed towards Jake with full speed throwing a kick towards his face but Jake leaned backwards avoiding it then he slid down while slashing at Sebastian's legs which removed 10HP from Sebastian's watch.

Then one of Sebastian's friends was now upon Jake with a large wooden hammer weapon about to smash on Jake but Jake quickly rolled over and kicked him hard in the hand making him drop the hammer then Jake quickly stood up and smashed his face with an elbow hard that flung his head backwards and then he fell but he didn't teleport for his watch still had 20HP left.

Then another one with a spear came at Jake with a thrust but Jake used his sword to block it. Unknown to him that his opponent was using Qi making him drop his sword because of the strength of the thrust. Seeing as he was defenceless, Sebastian decided to strike from above but as if sensing it, Jake bent down forward therefore avoiding the strike.

And then Jake quickly used the Triple Threat technique to get behind Sebastian then he kicked him hard causing him to crash on the floor. Before he could move again, a thrust was heading towards his face again.

Annoyed by this spear user, Jake grabbed the spear which caused a slight cut on his palm and removed 10 HP again leaving Jake with just 60HP in his bracelet. Then with his Qi coursing to his hands and strengthening his hands, Jake snapped the spear in half.

Seeing this, the spear user stepped back in fear of Jake. "You... you are a monster!"

Jake just smiled and stepped forward to get closer to him. "I'm a monster? If I'm a monster, what should you guys be called? You decided to attack someone five on one and you call me a monster?"

The whole crowd including the Head Generals could hear what Jake and all the others were saying because microphones were placed on every corner of the arena including the contestants bracelets so the spectators could hear everything being said.

"What did I do wrong?" Jake asked, continuing his words. "Just because I challenged Sebastian to a duel and I won, you guys decided to gang up on me today. What about when he challenged my best friend, Vynn to a duel and won while leaving Vynn in a terrible condition? None of you saw that."

"Ask Sebastian what he gained by challenging someone who was ranked 200 and he was ranked 20 to a duel. You know, my family were murdered by werewolves and coming to this academy, I trained day and night so I can have the strength to protect myself and avenge my parents. But I managed to make new families and Sebastian decided to harm one of them."

"No, I won't let that happen. So if I'm a monster for trying to protect my new found family, then so be it." Jake dashed forward with all his speed that he was in front of the spear user in less than a second and then he punched him hard that his bracelet which was displaying 100HP, was now displaying 0 and he was even unconscious.

The crowd hearing everything Jake said, were sympathizing with him. Many of them there, the werewolves took some of their family so they knew the pain of losing someone close to them. And now, they could see Jake walking slowly towards Sebastian.

Chapter 94 Prophecy unveiled

After defeating all of Sebastian's friends, Jake was now walking towards Sebastian with an angry expression on his face and his fists clenched tightly. While Sebastian just stood there looking at Jake with a grin on his face as if he wasn't scared of Jake at all.

Jake then stood two metres away from Sebastian. This surprised Sebastian and everyone else because with the way Jake was walking, they expected that he wouldn't stop until he beat up Sebastian but then he suddenly stopped one metre away from Sebastian. Enjoy new tales from empire

Then Jake lifted his head and smiled. "You know nothing about me. You don't know what I have been through to get strong. That is why I will say this, you are nowhere strong enough to push me to my limits. Only your elder brother might give me a little bit of trouble."

This proclamation was heard loud and clear in the stands, viewing booths and by everyone else. "This guy is gutsy. I really like him and his guts." Alex said.

"Well, I can't wait for the time to pound his smug face in." Harry said.

"This kid sure has a lot of guts. I wonder how he's going to do what he claims." Gunther said.

And then, Jake quickly used step shift to get in front of Sebastian and then he threw a Jab towards Sebastian's face but Sebastian quickly ducked avoiding the hit which came as a surprise to Jake because the move was quite fast especially with him using Step shift but it was still avoided by Sebastian.

Then Jake quickly kned him in the face that managed to bring Sebastian's head up then Jake quickly swept Sebastian off his feet causing him to fall down. Then Jake lifted his foot about to hit Sebastian with an axe kick but Sebastian quickly rolled away avoiding it.

Then Sebastian quickly stood up and dashed towards Jake with full speed but it looked like Sebastian was moving slowly in Jake's eyes. Sebastian threw a punch towards Jake's stomach. Jake didn't do anything, he stood there taking the punch that was infused with Qi.

Jake didn't even move an inch he just stood there smiling at a dumbfounded Sebastian who was shell shocked. It felt like he was hitting a metallic boulder with his fists. Although the hit didn't hurt Jake, the bracelet still removed 20HP from Jake.

Grabbing onto Sebastian's hand, Jake looked him in the eye. "I told you, you are nowhere near my level." Jake then lifted Sebastian by holding his hands and then he slammed Sebastian down with all his strength that caused dust to be raised everywhere and obscured everyone's view for a few seconds.

The dust settled and now Sebastian could be seen standing up with blood trickling from his mouth. He even coughed out huge amounts of blood. Glancing at his wrists, Sebastian heaved a sigh of relief for Jake's hit only removed 30HP meaning, Sebastian currently had 40HP to spare.

Sebastian lifted his head to look around for Jake but he was nowhere to be found. That was when he felt a breath on his neck. "You can never meet up with me. I'm sure this is how you made Vynn feel that day."

Turning around, Sebastian could see Jake lifting his wooden sword and infusing it with Qi then Jake was about to swing it when a loud buzzing sound stopped him. Looking around, Jake could see that the arena was somewhat empty with only a few contestants standing there.

"Congratulations to the seven students that have made it to the next round." Jim said through the microphone.

"Woah! That was an intense match right there." Thompson commented.
"Contestant Jake sure did surprise everyone here."

Everyone was so focused on Jake's match that they didn't notice the other people that were fighting. Because of Jake's friends, the other contestants were eliminated quickly. They didn't really stand a chance with Cindy and Kate taking the charge. And then after a few minutes, there were only seven contestants standing in the arena.

The students that passed the knockout stages were; Jake, Sebastian, Kate, Vynn, Cindy, the other student that Jake hit away but had his HP still in number 20 and the large student that was shot an arrow by Kate when they were in the hall.

Currently, in the viewing area of the Head Generals and other high ranking officials, they were discussing Jake. "The kid is quite strong, strong enough to do that to 5 students and even defeat some of them in a single hit." Humfree said while stroking his beard.

"Could he be the one?" Rowan asked.

"Impossible." Gunther shouted. "We are the strongest in the academy, we have the big three and also some strong guilds and you wanna believe a stupid prophecy about a saviour?"

"I'm just saying." Rowan said.

Which caused Gunther to scoff. "Just because someone managed to defeat four weak students, doesn't mean he's the one in your stupid prophecy."

"Gunther has a point." Humfree said, still stroking his beard. "But we can't rule out the possibility so let's just wait and watch what happens."

Chapter 95 The Bracket of Fate

After seeing Jake fight, Alex was itching to fight with him more than usual. He was even itching for a fight recently but he just composed himself and waited for the next event that was about to happen any minute from now. Right on cue, the announcers started to speak.

"Ladies and gentlemen thank you for waiting. It is time for the next event to begin. It will now be starting in 3...2...1... go!"

The match had now begun and everyone's eyes were now focused on the match going on below.

As the match started, many third year students were getting eliminated. Just like with the second years, there was a large difference in power among the third years.

And then after a few minutes of intense fighting among the third years, there were now seven winners that will be going onto the next stage.

"Ladies and gentlemen, we have our seven winners!"

Currently standing in the arena, were the seven contestants that will be going through the elimination rounds. There were seven third year students standing. One of them was Charlotte, a third year student that used a whip as her choice of weapon.

She always stays a little bit far away then she always uses the whip to hit opponents a little farther from her. Then the second person was another girl that used a bow and arrow. Her name was Ruby and she was quite skillful in using the bow and arrow.

The third person was someone named Geo, a huge guy that looked like a giant for his age and his main weapon was a two-handed axe. There was also a male contender named Simyon that used daggers as his main choice of weapons.

There was another male that used a longsword there, his name was Gary. A female named Jasmine used a Tachi blade as her own choice of weapon.

The last contender was a spear user named Dan. Together, all these were the ones that will be going onto the next stage.

These were the five people going onto the next stage. The first round of the tournament was over and the third year students were taken to the medical bay just like the second years earlier to check their injuries up.

Once everyone was healed up, they asked the ten winning students from each year to meet back up in the arena. Currently standing in the arena from the second year students were. Jake, Jack, Sophia, Cindy, Vynn, Peter, Kate, Sebastian, the student that Kate shot an arrow at back in the hall named Lan, one of Sebastian's friends that was hit by Jake named Cole were all in the arena.

Jake and his friends looked at each other with smiling faces because they did it, they managed to get to the top ten together. Standing on the other side were the third year students.

Alexander, Emily, Harry, Charlotte, Ruby, Geo, Simyon, Gary, Jasmine and Dan.

That was when an hologram appeared in the arena and General Paul was being displayed on it.

"We are here today to congratulate this twenty fine students. The best of the best at Aurora Academy!"

Immediately all the people in the stands started cheering loudly at General Paul's words. Why won't they cheer, after all each of the students here had displayed amazing skill. The audience thought that these were the best and strongest students they had seen at Aurora Academy.

They hadn't even seen the top 3 fight already but based on what they were seeing from the other ranks, they were very impressed and one name was on all of their lips and mind which was "Jake the underdog!"

Paul cleared his throat before he continued speaking.

"For the next round, we have a surprise for you all. The second-year students have all exceeded our expectations. And they have been the best that we have ever seen since the start of Aurora Academy."

There was no doubt on the minds of everyone after what they had seen today. If Paul had said all these before they had seen the second-years fight, they would have thought he was bluffing. Out of all of the second-years standing there, there was only one student which they all wanna see more of.

And which was Jake. Even someone in the crowd was just looking at Jake intently and blushing. "Miss Helen, I can see why you have a liking for the guy. He's very strong." Berg said.

"Yes. I knew that my prince charming was strong but not this strong." Helen smiled and now they were focusing on what Paul had to say.

"We have decided to change things from the usual routine of past tournaments. Behold!"

Paul pointed behind him and another large holographic display appeared behind him. Then a bracket sheet had appeared with each and every one of the students names and who their was that they were facing.

The holographic screen displayed this:

Alexander vs Jack

Emily vs Sophia

Harry vs Jake

Geo vs Peter

Garry vs Sebastian

Ruby vs Kate

Charlotte vs Cole

Jasmine vs Cindy

Dan vs Vynn

Simyon vs Lan

Most of the second year students eyes looked like they were about to pop out of their skulls looking at the list.

Looking at the list, Jake was happy that he would get a chance to face off against Harry. He couldn't help but think that this was done on purpose by the academy. And it was true, after hearing what Jake said to Sebastian, they decided to set up his next match against Harry.

"The first match will begin tomorrow at midday. Please enjoy your time in the city everyone hey a good rest."

The joyous mood between Jake and his friends were now replaced with seriousness. Everyone had their opponents on their minds. The walk back to the dorm was near silent.

When the group eventually reached the academy, everyone started to split up in several directions, saying they needed to train.

*****

In a far away distance far from the academy and Aurora city, in a desert of some sorts, a portal opened up and close to two hundred men poured out of the portal with a man standing in front of them all with a serious look on his face.

"Get ready, go into the city, act like a normal citizen and wait for my signal. Because soon, Aurora Academy will experience blood bath." The man said.

Chapter 96 Academy's Strongest

It was finally the next day, Jake woke up early as usual to complete his daily quest and probably warm up a bit. After completing his daily quest, Jake went back to his dorm to freshen up and in an hour, everyone was ready for the day and tournament.

Then they decided to head to the arena together again after having their breakfast. They walked for a few minutes in silence because they were all contemplating how they will take their opponents down today. Although Jake wasn't showing his worries on the outside, deep inside he was worried.

'I wonder if I'm strong enough to take down Harry.' Jake thought. 'I remember him besting me when I was in my first year. If it wasn't for Jack, I would have been terribly injured. But a lot has changed, I'm now a different Jake from before. I think... no, I know I can hold my ground.'

Just then, they finally arrived at the arena. The students going through the next round, were told to go to two separate waiting rooms before the event started. One contained all the second year students, the other one contained all the third year students.

When entering the room and seeing the others, Jake and his friends went to sit somewhere patiently while some were warming up before their next fight for the day. Before they headed out, everyone checked their equipment because for this event, they were allowed to use their real weapons.

After a few minutes of waiting, it was finally time for the next round of the tournament. The ten second-year students walked into the arena while the ten third-year students walked in from the other side. As the two teams entered, there were gigantic cheers from the crowd but one name was being chanted after a while.

"Underdog! Underdog!"

"Jake the underdog!"

The cheers were getting louder and louder.

"Wow! Look at who got himself some fans." Peter commented but Jake didn't pay him any attention because he was more focused on his fight.

"Will everyone please look at the display in the middle of the arena?" Paul said and everyone looked at the holographic display that was randomising between all the contestants' images.

After a few seconds of shuffling, it finally stopped.

"And it looks like the first Battle of this evening will be between the number ones of the second and third year students. Jack Dem vs Alexander Slade!"

Jack and Alex approached the centre of the arena while the rest of the students watched with eager anticipation from the outside.

The rules for this round were different compared to the previous round. Contestants were allowed to use real equipment for this fight. There were no longer any bracelets on the contestants.

Instead, two Generals were on standby, Paul and Wilfred. If a contestant was about to take a fatal blow, Paul and Wilfred will do everything in their power to stop the hit. Therefore declaring the other person the winner.

If it was obvious that one person was stronger than the other, at any time the Generals had the power to stop the contestants and declare the other person the winner. If a contestant was knocked out or forfeited, this too will also count as a win.

With the rules explained, it was finally time for the fight between Alex and Jack. Alex just calmly unbuttoned his shirt to reveal hard rock abs like as if it was carved from stone then he pulled out his giant sword and looked at Jack with a bored expression.

"It's not you I really want to fight." Alex said while looking towards Jake's direction.

"Is it me or is that guy looking right at Jake?" Vynn asked.

"Yeah I think so too." Kate replied. "But why will he say he wants to fight with Jake?"

"Who knows." Jake shrugged.

"Anyway," Alex continued. "I just hope you don't bore me."

Alex then took a stance so did Jack as he gripped his sword tightly while looking at Alex intently.

The centre of the arena was slightly elevated compared to the rest of the arena this time. And currently, Jack and Alex were on the elevated arena.

"And the first match of the day will start in 3...2...1..."

The warhorn played signalling the start of the first round.

Jack just stood there in a stance wanting to observe Alex more but Alex was just planning to end the fight as soon as possible unless Jack was a decent enough opponent for him.

Alex didn't waste any time in dashing towards Jack with full speed then he swung his sword fast and hard towards Jack's neck but he quickly used Triple Threat technique to get behind Alex then he swung his sword again which was coated in Qi towards Alex's back.

But when the sword struck, it felt like Jack was hitting steel for Alex's body didn't have a cut on it. Not even a scratch on it.

This stunned Jack and everyone watching. "What! Is his body made up of metal or what?" Vynn shouted.

"I think he just has a large amount of Qi." Sophia commented.

"Well if it's true, then that means we shouldn't take any of our matches lightly." Kate said.

"I wasn't planning to." Jake said still not taking his eyes from the match.

Seeing as his sword didn't penetrate Alex's body, he quickly moved back to create space and it was just in time for Alex's sword was now heading for the spot he was standing in not too long ago.

When the sword crashed into the ground, it caused a lot of dust to be raised and blown everywhere. Using this opportunity, Jack quickly dashed forward into the dust so Alex won't be able to see him but when he got there, he was now struck In the chest by a powerful blow from Alex that sent him flying.

Walking calmly out of the now settling dust, was Alex with a frown on his face. "You are so weak and not even worth my time."

'If only you know who I am, you won't even think of talking to me like that.' Jack thought with a smirk on his face as he was getting up.

Dashing towards Jack, Alex swung his sword towards his head but Jack quickly rolled over avoiding the hit then he quickly stood up and moved his Qi to his legs to give him a speed boost.

Then he dashed towards Jack with full speed and quickly switched his Qi from his feet to his hands to give him a strength boost. And then he swung his sword that was coated in Qi so fast that Alex was stunned and unable to avoid it.

The strike hit Alex in his chest and what everyone saw including the third years was shocking including Alex. Ever since Alex learnt about Qi, he was always so talented that he could switch between all the stages and coat himself with it in less than a second and no one will know.

He had so much Qi and his body was able to handle it without exploding. So ever since then, Alex didn't need to get an armour for his body was capable enough to shield him from any attack. Even the third years couldn't even cause an injury on Alex's body and that was why he was currently the strongest in the whole academy.

But now, they were seeing a second year causing a white mark on his body which even the third years couldn't do. Although to Jack, this was not impressive in the least.

'All the speed and strength all for what, just to cause a white mark on his body? Are you kidding me? What type of body does this guy have?' Jack thought annoyed.

"Well you are quite strong but I'm sorry, I need to end this now." Alex said as he quickly gave Jack a quick kick in his stomach that sent him flying and crashing down. The kick was strong enough to not even let Jack stand up because he was still feeling the pain of the kick and he was coughing violently.

Until some soldiers came over and took Jack away to the clinic then Paul took Alex's hand and raised it up as if they were in a wrestling ring.

"Ladies and gentlemen, here is your winner for the first match!" And immediately, the crowd cheered loudly.

But this loss, was not so surprising because they had expected it after seeing the strong body Alex had or the strong Qi he had. This situation made some of them worried. How were they going to be able to defeat the third years if all of them are monsters like this.

But they didn't know that Alex was one of his kind and the second years definitely knew now that he truly deserved his position as the academy's strongest. But this was not going to stop Jake for he was going to take down Harry no matter the cost.

Chapter 97 Fierce clashes

The next match was between Emily and Sophia and now, they were both in the middle of the stage staring at each other. Emily was a girl who had fiery red hair and a cold face just like Sophia. They both held their swords with Sophia holding her scimitar and Emily with her Katana blade.

After the warhorn resounded, Sophia didn't take any chances as she dashed towards Emily who was calmly taking a stance. And in less than a second, Sophia was already in front of Emily with a downward slash that almost caught Emily off guard but she quickly used her blade to block the hit.

Sophia quickly acted fast, quickly moved back just an inch and then came back with a roundhouse kick but it was blocked by Emily with her own roundhouse kick. Emily then threw Sophia away with her leg and then dashed forward with a sword strike from above but Sophia quickly blocked it with her sword while the strike was pushing her down on her knees.

But she gritted her teeth and poured her Qi into the blade and her arms then she managed to push Emily away but it only caused her to move just an inch but it was enough for Sophia who quickly stood up and swept Emily off her feet causing her to stumble and was about to fall.

But Emily quickly used her sword to prop herself up. But before she could stand properly, Sophia was already upon her with a strong axe kick that sent Emily crashing down with much force.

Then Sophia quickly drew her sword and struck at Emily's neck but she was stopped by General Wilfred who held her hand and declared her the winner therefore awarding the second years their first win for the day.

Emily was whisked away to the clinic to check herself up while Sophia slowly made her way back to her friends. Seeing Sophia walk back towards them, they were just cheering her on.

"Woah! For a second there, I thought you were going to lose to her." Vynn said.

"Were you doubting me?" Sophia asked.

"No, it's just with the level of skill which the third years have shown so far, I thought we didn't have a chance." Vynn said.

"Well speak for yourself." Sophia said while going over to her spot.

In the Head Generals viewing booth, they were really impressed by Sophia's win.

"Well, obviously she was going to win after all, she was on our radar." Gunther said.

"But even the rank 1 of the second year was also on our radar too." Rowan said.
"And he still lost."

"Well, I think he was holding back." Humfree said, stroking his long white beard.

"What do you mean?" Gunther asked.

"You don't know anything about who that boy is." Humfree said.

"Will you tell us who he is?" Rowan demanded.

Humfree just sighed. "You fools! What was his last name called?"

"Dem wh..." Rowan stuttered as his eyes widened in surprise.

Even Gunther quickly realised what Humfree was hinting at. They hadn't realised it earlier because they thought anybody could have the last name Dem but since Humfree was putting emphasis on it, they now realised.

"You mean..." Gunther didn't want to say it out loud.

"Yes." Humfree replied. "Jack's family are part of the Big three and I think he's a direct descendant to them."

"Well that is shocking." Gunther said. "Well, I wonder what the Big Three are planning for them to send their children here. Don't get me wrong. I don't have anything against them sending their kids here but it's still confusing because they could also train their descendants themselves so why send them here?"

"Exactly." Rowan said. "Two of the Big Three Kids are here. I wonder if the last one will also be here too."

"Anyway, I think we should focus on the match for now and worry about the Big Three motives." Humfree said as the next match was starting.

The next match of the day was between Geo and Peter, two students who used a two-handed axe as their choice of weapon.

As Peter made his way to the centre of the arena, he couldn't help but feel a little nervous. Who could blame him? After all, the third year students were beasts in their own way. Thinking about beasts, an image of Jake appeared in his head.

Somehow, anytime it seemed like Jake was cornered, he always managed to pull through and win his fight. Currently, Peter knew that Jake was stronger than him in every way. He wasn't ashamed of admitting it. But now, he has to focus on his match because currently, Geo was already in the centre of the arena waiting for Peter.

Peter now stood confidently in front of Geo and then the war horn was blown signalling the start of the fight between Peter and Geo. Peter didn't charge first, rather he waited and baited his time for Geo to attack first and which he did.

Geo dashed towards Peter with full speed which was surprising because he had a full set of armour on his body which seemed heavy and coupled with his huge size, many would have thought he wouldn't be able to run that fast, but he did.

Charging right at Peter with a speed that seemed inhuman, Geo was already in front of Peter while swinging one of his axe towards Peter's head but Peter easily ducked avoiding it then Peter slashed at Geo's stomach with his own axe but it just made a clang on the armour not even damaging it in the slightest.

Currently, Peter's axes were at the advanced tier and he was even coating it with his Qi so it was sharper than normal but it didn't damage it one bit. Which means either Geo's armour was of a higher tier or it had a skill that made it more durable.

Weapons or armour at the higher stage like an advanced weapon and above, tend to have a skill which is called an active skill. It could range from offensive skills or defensive skills. Peter was thinking along the right lines.

Geo's armour had an active skill that allowed it to be 5 times more durable and also feel lighter on his body making him not feel the whole weight of the armour. After seeing his strike didn't work, Peter moved back a bit but Geo quickly moved forward and swung his axe towards Peter's chest.

Peter quickly used his own axe to block the strike but the strength of the hit sent Peter skidding a bit. 'Darn it! These third year students are no joke.' Peter thought, gritting his teeth.

Then Peter managed to push the hands away with all his strength but the next thing, a kick smashed into Peter's head sending all his whole body tumbling and bouncing around on the arena.

Where the third year students were, they just scoffed at the second years. "Pathetic, if all of them are like this, we have the win in the bag." Jasmine said.

"You should learn not to underestimate your opponents." Alex said. "Remember, a second year student managed to defeat Emily who is the rank 2 in the whole academy."

Hearing this comment, Emily just turned her face away because she was ashamed of her loss. She couldn't believe that she lost. She is the second strongest in the academy and she was bested by a second year student.

Meanwhile, where the second year students were standing, they were also having their own discussions.

"Do you think Peter can win?" Cindy was obviously worried for him with the way she was seeing Geo toy around with him.

"Tch." Sophia scoffed. "Even if Peter acts like a fool sometimes, he is still certainly strong. Strong enough to defeat a D rank adventurer that ambushed him and Jake in the forest."

"So now tell me, between a D rank adventurer and a third year student of an academy, who is stronger?"

Cindy didn't answer because the answer was very obvious and now, they were now watching the fight.

After being kicked on the head and crashing on the floor, Peter was laying on the floor unmoving which got some people in the crowd wondering if he was dead or not. Geo just calmly walked towards Peter and then bent down to get a good look at Peter.

"So pathetic." Geo said as he raised his axe to strike Peter's head but Peter quickly rolled over a little bit to get away from the axe strike then he backflipped while in the process kicking Geo's head very hard sending him falling on his butt and partly hitting his head on the floor.

Standing up, Peter walked towards Geo who was now getting up from the ground but then Peter quickly used the butt of his axe to whack Geo hard on the head and then he pointed his axe towards his neck which made General Wilfred come over and announce Peter as the winner.

Geo was taken to the clinic so was Peter who sustained an internal injury in his head because of the kick delivered to him by Geo. The crowd were really surprised because twice now, a second year managed to pull out a win.

This has never happened in the history of Aurora Academy where second year students were this strong. Only rarely did a talent pop out once a while but now, they could see that there was more than one talent among the second years.

Which made most of the parents sitting in the stands, want to send their children here next year.

"And now, the next match of the day is between our very own Harrrrrry Thane vs Jakeeee Lucas, our very own underdog!"

Immediately, the crowd erupted in cheers. The crowd were excited about seeing a fight between these two after hearing what Jake had said the previous day.

Leaving his friends, Jake walked confidently towards the centre of the arena with his gauntlets equipped in his hands, his sword in his hand, his advanced tier boot that he had crafted again from the wolf beast and some pieces of intermediate armour on his body.

Immediately Jake walked out, the cheers erupted again making the arena feel like it was shaking from the sound. Then after a few seconds, Harry walked out and now, Jake and Harry were standing opposite each other while staring into each other's eyes intently.

"And the match will begin in 3...2...1..."

Chapter 98 It's time to end this!

After a few intense matches between the second and third years, it was now finally time for the match which everybody had been anticipating. The match between Jake and Harry and everyone watching, were very excited. Even the Head Generals were now excited about this match up.

"So who do you think will win?" Rowan asked.

"Obviously it's Harry." Gunther replied.

"I was thinking Jake will win." Rowan said.

"Pfft. What on Earth will make you think that?" Gunther said.

"We all saw what Jake did in the knockout stages." Rowan said.

"Just because someone knockout five weak second years, doesn't mean he can defeat a third year. And Harry Is not an ordinary third year." Gunther said. "Or do you want me to remind you who he is?"

"In case you have forgotten, let me remind you." Gunther said. "There are five strong independent Guilds that have the potential of joining the Big three table or rivalling them if they come together which they can't because of their differences. And Harry along with Sebastian are the children of the leader of the second most strongest independent Guild."

"Now tell me, how do you think a no name like Jake could defeat Harry?"

"I think the young boy is going to surprise you all more than you think." Humfree said stroking his beard which was a habit of his.

"Meaning?" Gunther raised an eyebrow.

Humfree just chuckled. "How about a friendly bet among us three about who would win."

Gunther and Rowan's mouth were now wide agape. "Are you alright? Did you hit your head on something or what?"

Humfree just chuckled again. "It's just a friendly bet nothing else."

"Well, I'm in." Gunther said. "5000 credits on Harry to finish him off quickly."

"3000 credits for Harry to defeat Jake but Jake will last a little more longer." Rowan said.

Humfree just chuckled again. "10,000 credits on Jake winning this match."

Gunther and Rowan's eyes were now widened in surprise. "What are you planning old man?"

'Betting 10,000 credits on Jake winning was no small money. 10,000 credits is equivalent to a King tier beast crystal which is the second to strongest beast that has been discovered or it's equivalent to 10 advanced tier crystals.' Gunther thought.

'So why is he betting so much on Jake like that? Did he see something aside Jake beating up five people that we didn't? Whatever the case it is, I'm sure that Harry will make quick work of him.'

With the bets placed, there was no more arguments or discussions for the match between Jake and Harry was starting now.

Jake stood opposite Harry in a battle stance while Harry just stood there calmly with his hands crossed around his chest waiting for the match to begin.

And then, the warhorn sounded signalling the start of the match and everyone were watching the match intently.

Immediately the match started, Jake dashed towards Harry with incredible speed that it was like Jake teleported from one place to another that was how fast Jake ran to get to Harry's position in a blink of an eye.

Then Jake swung his sword from above towards Harry's head but he quickly used his own sword to block. What Harry didn't expect was the strength behind the strike which almost made Harry tumble to the ground but he quickly used Qi to strengthen his hands and managed to push Jake away.

'What kind of monstrous strength does this guy have? Is that his real strength or is he strengthening his hands with Qi?' Harry thought.

Jake didn't give Harry time to formulate a plan as he quickly ran forward again then when he was at Harry's position, he threw a roundhouse kick towards Harry's face but Harry quickly ducked avoiding it then Harry rolled over forward and then quickly stood up and unleashed a flurry of kick towards Jake's face.

But Jake was doing well blocking his vitals from the hits. Once a while, the kick was connecting with his body. 'Shit! This feels a lot like when we fought back then at the assembly hall with him overpowering me.' Jake thought.

In order to get a breathing space which Harry wasn't giving him enough of, Jake quickly activated Stun strike to make him pause for a second which was more than enough for Jake to quickly use. Triple Threat technique to get behind Harry.

Then Jake quickly threw a strong axe kick towards Harry's head that connected successfully after Harry managed to free himself from the Stun strike effect and then he felt his head smashing to the ground hard.

When Harry lifted his head back up, his face was met with a kick that sent his head flinging backwards and he fell on the floor. Then Jake walked towards him slowly but all of a sudden, Jake stopped dead in his tracks.

His feet were not responding to him making him not move even one bit. Looking up at Harry, he could see him standing up with a trickle of blood dripping down his head from the earlier hit.

"This, Is the difference between us third year students and you second year students. You have only been taught the two stages of Qi whereas, we have been taught the three stages." Harry smiled.

"Honestly, I don't know why does din don fools, lost to some of you. They had the three stages of Qi but they chose not to use it. They purely wanted to use their silly skills and thus, they underestimated you all. But I won't make the same mistake as them, I'm gonna use everything I got to take you down!"

Harry dashed towards Jake with incredible speed that in a moment, he was in front of Jake and then he swung his sword at Jake's stomach with all his strength that it made Jake fly back. When Jake managed to stand up, he noticed that his armour had all broken and fell off his body therefore leaving him with his sword, gauntlet and boot.

Looking up, Harry was already in front of him with a swing from above but quickly acting fast, Jake activated Step shift and suddenly he was two metres away from Harry who just swung his sword and noticed it struck air.

Everyone were pleasantly surprised wondering how Jake managed to get away. Some people in the crowd dismissed it as a skill possibly taught to the students at the academy.

But the academy including the Head Generals knew that hadn't taught any students this skill for they themselves know nothing about it so they dismissed it as Jake learning it on his own.

But someone else hadn't dismissed it because he knew what it was. "That was the skill the wolf hunter used in the game." Jim said quietly having recognizing the skill.

"The wolf hunter used a skill that belonged to the powers of the orb but that skill was weak whereas this one has become stronger."

"Hold on, I knew that the kid with the orb was in this academy that's why I disguised myself and came here and I found out he was playing the game. It can't be a coincidence that this kid and the wolf hunter are using the same skill which means that Jake is the wolf hunter and the kid with the orb I have been looking for."

Jim was now smiling. 'I have finally completed my mission. And with me knowing what you look like, you can't escape from me.'

Even Jake friends had recognized the skill he used. "I guess he's going all out against Harry and since he's going all out, that means Harry doesn't stand a chance." Peter said which caused Sebastian to laugh out loud.

"You seriously think my brother is gonna lose just because your friend managed to avoid the strike coming from Harry." Sebastian laughed again.

This laughter or mockery didn't make Jake's friends laugh or anything, rather they laughed back at Sebastian.

"Do you remember when we said we were attacked by members of the Iron Fist Guild?" Peter asked.

"And so?" Sebastian raised an eyebrow.

"Well, one of them was a C rank adventurer and Jake managed to defeat him." Peter smiled.

"So tell me, who is stronger between your brother and a C rank adventurer?" Peter now turned back to watch the fight.

But what he said got Sebastian thinking. 'Did Jake really do that? Did he really defeat a C rank adventurer? But how? Nah, stop overthinking Sebastian, it's not possible. They might just be hyping their friend nothing else. Even Harry will struggle against a C rank adventurer.'

'They might have defeated the C rank adventurer together. Harry has nothing to worry about and he's not going to lose.' Sebastian thought as he watched what will happen next.

Meanwhile, after using the Step shift, Jake was now two metres away from Harry then he activated Melee combat, Frenzy strike and lockdown skills together.

"It's time to end this now." Jake said as he used Step shift again to get in front of Harry...

Chapter 99 An Emergency

After using his Step shift and wowing the crowd, Jake activated his Frenzy strike, melee combat and Lockdown Jake was now in front of Harry by using Step shift again to get In front of Harry. Then Jake quickly used his sword and started rapidly swinging at towards Harry who couldn't move because he was frozen by Jake's Lockdown skill.

Jake kept on attacking everywhere he could attack with all his strength causing cuts all over Harry but it didn't go in deep for Harry was using Qi to strengthen his body very well. This confused the crowd for they could only see Jake striking while Harry was standing still, not moving one bit.

After 11 seconds, both Frenzy strike and Lockdown wore off and Harry could finally move again which made Jake activate step shift to get away from Harry to observe his condition. Currently, Harry was stumbling on his feet and his body was riddled with injuries from head to toe but he was still standing strong looking at Jake.

Everyone in the crowd were awed by Harry's resolve in not giving up and Jake's vast pool of skills.

Harry was now gritting his teeth in anger. "Enough is enough!"

Harry now was spilling with energy that everyone were familiar with known as Qi. The Qi was spilling from his body and was now showing visually, this was the start of using the third stage of Qi and now, in less than a second, shards and arrows were now floating around Harry.

"I told you, there's a difference between us and this is it!" Harry shouted as he shot out all the shards and spears made from Qi towards Jake.

This move by Harry, was worrying to everyone watching.

"Isn't he taking this too far?" Humfree said worriedly.

"What? Are you worried that you are gonna lose 10,000 credits and your favorite to win is going to lose?" Gunther said while smirking.

"You fool, that's not what I meant." Humfree said. "If Jake is unable to avoid the shards, he's going to die and the crowd and everyone will be angry at the academy for allowing a death of a student to take place which will make us lose public support."

Gunther listening to Humfree now realized the truth in what he was saying. "Should we call of the fight now and declare Harry the winner?"

"No, I don't think Jake has given up and I think he has a plan." Rowan said who hasn't taken his eyes from the match one bit.

They could all see Jake taking a stance and drawing his sword out then he opened up his system then went to his equipment.

"Activate lighting sword's active skill" Jake called out at the system and immediately, his sword started sparking and currents could be seen running around the sword.

'Kilberg couldn't use this skill against me because I didn't give him the chance to but thanks to him, I have something to help me.' Jake thought as he swung his sword and called out.

"Lightning strikes." Jake said and pointed out the sword towards the shards heading his way and immediately, three lightning bolts came out of the sword and headed for the shards then it shocked it rapidly therefore making all the shards and spears disappear.

The crowd cheered at the sight of this display and they were now shouting.

"Underdog! Underdog! Underdog!"

'I was forced to use that skill. Now I only have two more times to use that before the cool down activates.' Jake thought as he remembered the description of the active skill when he had used his Inspect skill on it.

<Lightning sword: This sword was forged from an advanced tier beast that had the rare attribute of lightning.>

<Active skill: When activated, the user has a total of three shots to use it and each times, three lightning bolts will shoot out.>

<Cool down timer: 4 hours>

Jake was impressed by the sword and the attributes and couldn't wait to try it against his opponents and he just got the chance today in the tournament.

When Harry saw that his shards didn't work, he kept on shooting more shards and now a dozen of them were heading towards Jake.

'Let's see you destroy these.' Harry thought with a smile.

'Darn it! Even if I use the sword to destroy it, it won't be enough to. What do I do now?' Jake thought worriedly.

As the shards were approaching Jake, he could only do one thing that came to his mind. Jake quickly used the second stage of Qi to create invisible shards and then he quickly shot them out towards Harry's strikes.

Jake had to shoot two strikes for one of Harry's one shard which made him shoot out two dozens of shards towards Harry's shards and then, they all fell down to the ground.

Jake was so focused on the shards that he hadn't seen Harry move and when he lifted his head up, Jake could see a fist heading towards his face that connected successfully with his nose therefore blurring his vision for a bit.

It was more than enough for Harry charged right towards Jake and started slashing and swinging his sword towards Jake who was now trying to block or avoid the strikes blindly.

All of Harry's strikes connected successfully therefore causing a whole lot of injuries on Jake's body. By the time Jake could finally see properly, he was now a bloody mess and Harry had created a bit of space while panting hard.

Jake was now somewhat tired and feeling pains all over his body even his eyes were somewhat closing in and out and he was about to lose consciousness because of blood loss. But a thought crossed his mind.

'If I'm gonna lose, then I need to at least deliver a good hit on him.' Jake thought as he sheathed his sword and took a stance while looking at a now tired Harry.

Even though Harry was good at using Qi, he had been using it for long and was about to run out of Qi now. Normally, Qi users could go on for some time before they needed to rest as long as they had more Qi in their core but due to Jake's strength and skill, Harry had to expend more Qi.

Harry now took a stance with his sword in his hand and looking at Jake. Then Harry charged right at Jake with all the strength and speed he could muster. And so did Jake, Jake used all his 61 points of Agility together with the boot to dash towards Harry.

To the crowd, it looked like Jake teleported again and in less than a second, they met in the middle with Jake having activated Melee combat again and then Jake jumped up, rotated his body and delivered a strong hook towards Harry's head while Harry also swung his sword towards Jake's stomach.

Jake's fist hit Harry successfully on his head and sent him crashing down with full force therefore causing dust to rise up. But before he went flying, Harry had managed to make a slash towards Jake's stomach that made a deep cut on it because there was no Qi protecting his body.

Then Jake heard a ding in his head.

<-8 HP>

"That strike was strong enough to remove 8 HP of health from me." Jake said as his body now hit the floor the same second Harry fell down due to exhaustion and his eyes were now closed.

Paul, Wilfred and some soldiers quickly came on stage and then the soldiers took Jake and Harry to the clinic because they were now unconscious meanwhile Paul decided to announce the results.

"Due to there being no winner or last man standing, we have decided to call this a draw. There's no winner in today's match." Paul said which made the crowd boo angrily because there was no doubt in anybody's mind that Jake was the winner of the match.

But Wilfred managed to calm them down and then they were now given a break to prepare for the next match. Some people left the stands to get some snacks or use the restroom before the next match.

Meanwhile Jake's friends quickly rushed to the clinic to see if Jake was alright.

Meanwhile, the Head Generals were still in their viewing booth sitting down.

"Well that wasn't the result I was expecting." Rowan said.

"Yeah, I didn't expect a draw between them." Gunther said.

"But Jake certainly made an impression on the people's minds today." Humfree said chuckling.

"If some of these second years are this strong, I can't wait to see the next mat..." Rowan stopped as they all heard three beeps coming from an electronic device kept on them.

Rowan's eyes widened. "What do they want now?"

"Whatever it is, I know it's an emergency that's why they are calling." Humfree replied getting all serious.

"We need to inform the generals." Gunther said as he called Paul over.

After a few minutes, Paul was now standing by the Head Generals side.

"There's an emergency, we won't be here for the next matches. Heck, we won't even be in the academy for some time so take care of the academy for we will be taking some Generals along." Humfree said and then he dismissed Paul after saying what he wanted.

Chapter 100 Chaos Unleashed

Jake was currently being carried to the clinic and when he got there, he was laid on the bed while nurse Hayley quickly tended to him.

'Darn it! With this tournament of a thing, I just got assigned more work and it's really exhausting.' Hayley thought as she was now Checking up on Jake and patching up his injuries.

Hayley rubbed her hands hard and then a soft yellow glow emitted from her hands as she placed it on Jake's body checking everywhere for any internal injuries.

'I see, he somewhat depleted his Qi, I can fix that.' Hayley thought as she kept on using her glowing hands on Jake. 'All I have to do is to input a little bit of my own Qi to help his own Qi regulate and heal himself up.'

Hayley closed her eyes as she concentrated hard and then looking into Jake's body, she could see a type of yellow aura going into Jake's body and moving it around trying to get his own Qi to work.

After a few moments, Hayley removed her hands from Jake's body then she wiped the sweat off her face.

"ooff. I'm already running low on Qi with the way things are going. Well the good thing is that he will be alright in an hour or so." Hayley said as she went to check up on the next student and that was when the door swung open and some students walked into the room.

Looking at them, Hayley recognized them as Jake's friends then she directed them to where Jake is and she left them be to go check up on the next student.

Sitting down, Kate held Jake's hands and was currently rubbing it back and forth.

"I can't believe Jake has grown so much stronger that he managed to get a draw between him and Harry." Peter said. "It shouldn't be wrong to say he is currently stronger than me."

"Yeah, as much as I hate to admit it, Jake is also stronger than me." Sophia said.

"So who's having a match next?" Jack asked.

"I think it's Vynn." Cindy said.

"Yeah, the match is gonna start anytime soon." Vynn said nervously.

"Don't worry, there's no pressure on you. Just do your best besides you're also strong you managed to rank up from rank 200 to 10 in a year. That in itself is a testament of how strong you have become." Peter said trying to calm Vynn down.

"Exactly, you are no more the weak Vynn that we once knew." Sophia said. "In fact, none of us are as weak as we were when we got to this academy so I want you to go out there and show them that even if we are a year below them, we are not to be trifled with."

"Thanks for the word of encouragement guys, I promise to try my best." Vynn smiled. "And I think that Jake has already proved to them that we aren't so weak."

"That's right, Jake certainly proved that we are also a strong force in his own way by defeating the academy's rank 3." Kate said.

"And he also got the crowds support and love by this." Cindy added.

"Anyway, I need to go now and get ready for my own match." Vynn said as he made his way to the door and exited the room.

"You guys should go and support him, I will stay with Jake till he regains consciousness." Kate said.

They all looked at each other with uncertainty before they left Kate and Jake together in the clinic.

They all got to the arena in time because the announcer was now announcing the next match and Vynn was making his way to the stage. While the crowd were all making their way to their seats. But it looked like they were much more many than usual as if it was two times the normal size of crowd that were there but no one thought much of it.

"Go Vynn!" Peter shouted with his hands cupped around his mouth.

"Yes, show them what we are made of." Sophia shouted also.

Vynn turned around and smiled at their gestures and words. Meanwhile the third year students just scoffed at their words.

"Even though Dan Is ranked number 10, he is still strong and they think their own rank 10 can do anything? Pathetic." Ruby said.

"I told you not to ever underestimate your opponents because that will be your downfall but you won't listen." Alex said.

"Emily is rank number 2 among us and she lost her fight fairly quickly against their rank 2 because of over confidence. Do I also have to remind you guys that Geo also lost his match and Harry, even though the authorities said it was a draw, there's no doubt in our minds that Jake won that fight."

"So far, we have lost three fights with only one win on our side which is because of me." Alex pointed at himself.

Hearing Alex's words, Ruby just scoffed and folded her hands towards her chest and continued looking at the fight that was about to take place.

Standing in the centre of the arena, was Vynn and his opponent from the third year, Dan. They both were spear users and it was like as if the academy set this up on purpose.

Vynn stood a few feet away from his opponent and took a fighting stance and looked at Dan intently.

The next moment, the warhorn sounded again signalling the start of the fight. Vynn rushed forward with a thrust to Dan's stomach but he quickly pivoted sideways avoiding the thrust then he also made his own thrust towards Vynn's arm.

The strike managed to pierce Vynn but it didn't go in deep. Vynn gritted his teeth and decided to bear the pain and then he pushed off strongly from the ground then he spun around and came back down with a hit from above while holding his spear as if it was a staff he was holding.

Dan quickly used his own spear to block the staff but then he suddenly felt a shooting pain in his legs. Looking down, Dan could see blood trickling from his legs.

Unknown to Dan, when Vynn had pushed off from the ground, he had already used the second stage of Qi and shaped a few invisible shards then he had hit Dan and noticed he was blocked, Vynn sent the shard into Dan's legs to make him stumble.

Vynn didn't waste any time as he quickly did a thrust towards Dan's stomach but he still managed to twist his body sideways but the spear managed to make a cut on his cheeks drawing blood.

Dan managed to get up then he charged right at Vynn and swung his spear very quickly as if he was holding onto a staff and it hit Vynn across the face sending him tumbling backwards from the force of the hit.

Dan quickly followed up with another strike but this time, it was a thrust to Vynn's stomach that went in deep drawing blood.

"You guys made a mistake thinking you could win against us." Dan said still with the spear in Vynn's body.

Vynn's friends at the back were now worried for him seeing the critical hit that landed in his stomach.

"Isn't this going too far?" Peter said.

"Where are the Generals? Why aren't they stopping that crazy third year?" Cindy shouted.

The Generals had seen the strike that Dan wanted to make but they didn't think it was going to be fatal or critical so they hadn't moved in like they usually would before the fight got out of hands.

Meanwhile, Dan just pulled out his spear from Vynn's body allowing him to fall on the ground on his knees. His eyes were about to close.

'I'm still so weak even after this past year.' Vynn thought. 'I just failed my friends that believed in me. Will I ever be able to catch up with them?'

Vynn managed to muster enough strength and he shot another Qi shard into the injury he made on Dan's leg which made him fall on his knees in pain.

Now, Dan was kneeling in front of Vynn who because of his resolve of not wanting to disappoint his friends that believed in him, managed to whack Dan hard with all the strength he could muster in his current condition.

But Dan just used his hand to block the strike and was about to hit Vynn again when he stopped moving and then, Dan dropped on the floor limply and wasn't moving.

Everyone in the crowd were confused by this, they could all see that Dan managed to block the hit so he couldn't have been that hurt and suddenly, he was on the floor not moving.

Vynn was the most shocked out of everyone. Looking closely, Vynn could see that Dan was dead not even a single heartbeat was heard from his body.

Vynn used his Qi to strengthen his cells more and sealed the injury made in his stomach a little bit then he moved closer to Dan and saw what killed him.

Vynn saw something like a long nail in his head. It only took a second for it to click in Vynn's head and he quickly looked up to inform the Generals but it was too late for chaos had erupted among the crowd.

Vynn turned to look at his friends who were confused by why the crowd were now fighting against each other all of a sudden. Then Vynn cupped his hands around his mouth and shouted at his friends.

"Run guys! Save yourselves, we are being attacked by werewolves!"

Also, happy new month to all my fans, I hope this month brings us good tidings. I would have said all these in the author's thoughts but it won't be able to contain what I want to say so please bear with me.

Please guys, in this new month, your gifts, stones and Golden tickets will be very much appreciated. Please y'all help my book gain the recognition it needs.
