

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) novel

Chapter 26

Jennifer was so embarrassed!

Why did he come to see her!!

He acted like he cared about her so much!

At night, the Marsh's building looked dazzling because of the lights. There was a red Bentley parked in front of the main building. Catherine saw Finnley's car in the parking space from the driver's seat.

Getting out of the car, she walked to the company.

A few minutes later, Finnley, who was in the bright president's office, looked up when he heard footsteps. "Catherine, why are you still there?"

"I'm looking for you." Catherine walked towards him. "Do you finish your work?"

"I've just made a plan. Our president pays great attention to the Royal New Year's jewelry project." Finnley said, "I'm ready to leave now."

"I want to talk to you about something private." She asked directly, "Why are Ivan and Jennifer together? They are from different worlds."

"Sorry." Finnley was tidying up his desk. "I never take an interest in the president's private affairs."

"Finnley." Catherine fixed her eyes on him and said, "I came to you because I regard you as my friend!"

After thinking for a while, Finnley said, "Love is about fate. To be honest, the reason that our president hasn't been in love with you for so many years is lack of fate."

"You never loved anyone. You don't understand!" Catherine was a little emotional. "Fate is not unchangeable, it depends on will! Everyone thinks that Ivan and I are a perfect couple. I have only been away for two years. I don't accept the fact that he is married!"

"As you said just now, it's a fact." Finnley understood her feelings because she was his friend. "Since it's a fact, try to accept it."

"Finnley, I only want to ask you one question today. When did Jennifer appear in his life?"

“Do you know that they have children? If so, it was at least seven years ago.”

“The child was just an accident!” Catherine comforted herself, “They got the marriage certificate the day before yesterday instead of a seven-year hidden marriage! When did they meet for the second time?”

“Miss. Collins...” Finnley thought for a moment, “Something that can’t be seen by eyes can be seen by hearts. Do you think the moment is still important now?”

The word not only shocked Catherine but also woke her up a little bit.

Sitting in the red Bentley, she held the steering wheel tightly, staring at the road in the night with cold eyes and recalling what Finnley said just now.

She wanted to stay in the Marsh Group to help him and work hard to share his cares and burdens!

She wanted to stand where he could see, being brighter and more excellent than that woman!

As the night got darker, Ivan and Jennifer were lying on the bed in the main bedroom of Emerald Bay, covered with the same quilt. There was some distance between them.

Embarrassment filled the air.

After a while, the bedroom door was gently pushed open. Alfie came in, with Diana.

“Why haven’t you slept?” Jennifer half supported herself up, forgetting to lock the door.

“Mommy, daddy.” Two children came to the bed and frowned because of the distance between the two adults on the bed, “How can you sleep so far away from each other?”

Alfie climbed into bed and said solemnly, “Daddy, this is your fault. You should sleep with mommy in your arms!” With that, he stretched out Ivan’s arm and pulled Jennifer directly into his arm, then said, “The latest research shows that daddy sleeps with mommy in his arms at night, which is conducive to the growth of children!”

After getting out of bed, Alfie and Diana gestured to them, “Night, night! Don’t separate again!” They also turned off the lights when going out.

Ivan once again smelled the familiar fragrance from her, and Jennifer could hear his breathing and heartbeat.

He kept his posture and didn’t move, and neither did she...

They were even more awkward and seemed a little ambiguous.

“You can go. You don’t need to live here anymore. I’ll give you freedom.”

Just as Jennifer closed her eyes and wanted to sleep, the man’s words sent a chill down her spine.