

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 388

“Are you StaRise?” Pippa was shocked after listening to her, gaping at her in disbelief. “You are the most mysterious, famous dubber, Mrs. Marsh?”

“I’m not the most famous one. I just love this job.” Jennifer was shy upon hearing her compliment.

“You are indeed low-key.” Pippa still hadn’t returned to her senses. “My goodness!”

“My friend asked me for a favor, so I’ll dub for the soap opera today,” Jennifer explained, “Ivan asked me to take someone with me for safety, so Auntie Aubree recommended you.”

Pippa finally understood, wondering why Aubree had done it.

Aubree didn’t give her any reminder before letting her help Jennifer.

Gripping her hand, Jennifer added gratefully, “So, thank you in advance, Pippa.”

“You are welcome.” Pippa had an all-teeth-showing smile, looking excited. “I like StaRise very much, so I pay attention to the news in the dubbing industry. You are my idol. Do you believe me?”

Jennifer believed her. Many netizens were fond of StaRise and discussed her in countless posts on online forums.

She was pleased. “Please help your idol. Your idol will pay you well.” She thought Pippa was indeed a good girl.

“Jennie,” Pippa said solemnly to her, “Congratulations on your marriage.”

“Thank you.”

Pippa believed that Jennifer might be the only one who could make Ivan happy.

Half an hour later.

They pulled up to a building.

When the rear door opened, several crew members received Jennifer. The two women got off the car.

“Good morning, Mrs. Marsh,” all greeted Jennifer politely as Spencer had told them about Jennifer’s identity earlier.

“Please call me StaRise,” Jennifer replied kindly, holding the playscript. “Can you please show me the way to the recording studio? Then you can go back to your work.”

“OK.”

They went into the building together. After leaving Kelsington Bay, Pippa felt everything was refreshed.

The person in charge said while walking, "It's our great honor to have you here, Miss StaRise. After you dub our drama, it'll surely become popular."

Following Jennifer, Pippa felt proud. 'I agree. Mrs. Marsh rocks!'

Jennifer kept low-key. She replied calmly, "I'll try my best. What's your dubbing plan? How many episodes should I dub daily? For the female lead only? Or shall I also dub for the supporting role?"

"Are you willing to dub for the supporting role?" The person in charge felt flattered, and his eyes lit up. He knew she could change into various voices.

"Of course I am," Jennifer answered. "I happen to be idle recently. Since I've agreed with my friend, I can do all of them. It used to be my hobby before."

"That's wonderful!" The person in charge was excited. With a broad smile, he said, "I won't put any time boundary for you. Please do whatever you like. If you want a break, you may take a day off. If you don't want to rest, you can come here for dubbing. Let me know if you need anything. What do you think?"

"That works for me."

"The director is still on the film set. The drama filming will end soon, so he's now busy with the ending part." The person in charge looked at Jennifer while he walked. "He'll talk to you after finishing filming."

"It doesn't matter. You can take me to the recording studio directly. I don't have other requests," Jennifer replied. "I brought my assistant here, so she can deal with the trifles for me. Please relax."

"All right."

After entering the recording studio, Pippa widened her eyes. The room was large, with high-end decoration and excellent lighting. Every detail screamed professionalism.

She also saw all kinds of audio recording equipment and the thick soundproof cotton on the wall.

Jennifer could tell that the crew paid much attention to dubbing, feeling delighted.
