Chapter 321: 319. Pinky Promise

"Really?! I am hungry, Madam quick call Si-si??!! Wait, why?! Please don't, She would punish me for sneaking out alone of the manor."

White's face lit up when Alex patted her head gently and talked to her with his soft tone.

Then she heard he also cooked for her meaning she did not have to be hungry or just eat toffees to quench her hunger, She was excited about it.

She quickly reacted by asking her Madam, Isabella because of course who is here can be called aunty other than her dear head of family?

So she hurriedly asked her to do it. How can she not take the unintentional shot at the poor Isabella who just wanted to avoid the heat this airhead was pulling up.

If not for Isabella was in shock and hurt when she heard Alex calling her aunty, She would have thrown hands long ago as there is no way all this time she did it by coincidence.

Well White has no survival instincts, So she did not notice the flame of fire shooting from her eyes directed at her at all.

She was so happy and hungry to care about anything else, So she quickly blurted out to Isabella not even thinking twice about what Alex said.

But of course airhead as she maybe, She is not that dumb to not realize what Alex had said.

While talking in mid speech she realized that he asked for her sister to be here. Her sister is the most feared existence of hers in this world.

And that too for these reasons, She still remembers she sneaked out of the house and if her sister finds that out, Who knows what her punishment would be.

She was terrified of the news of her sister knowing this as so in panic she couldn't understand why Alex called her sister out.

If she was normal she would have thought she did something wrong and hence why her sister was being called here to inform her and ask Black to give her punishment.

But is she normal? She did not think or understand what she did was something wrong and so she was only terrified of the fact Black afraid of her sneaking out and nothing else.

"Hey hey, Chill out, I give you my word that 'she' would not punish you for sneaking out, Rather I would even arrange to reward you for it."

Alex quickly calmed down the panicked White, And gave her the confirmation that she would not get punishment from her sister Black.

After all, how could he? This White is not only cute but also the goldmine for him and if he thought it was right, Black would also not be any different.

Meaning this double jackpot as not only he gets the twins but also the benefits from them are also be immense.

Of course, He has an alternative motive behind it, That is to check his theory regarding about their twin nature.

"Really? Do you promise she would not punish me? Promise promise? Pinky promise?"

White hearing Alex stopped being panicked for while, Her two big innocent eyes stared at Alex through her White face mask with nothing but purity.

Seeing that for a second even his heart skipped a beat, It's like looking at something pure and beautiful even the thought of ruining it is considered a sin.

She also was so genuine in her question, like she really trusts the man she met not long ago, Not even knowing the full name wholeheartedly without even an ounce of doubt.

No wonder her sister keeps her homebound. There is a really high chance that someone is using her innocence against her to do something not so innocent.

Ahem He is not using her innocence to trick her, He would be using food for it, That is different.

"Okay, Here, I give you the pinky promise, I would not allow 'her' to punish her."

Alex looked at the outstretched soft pinky finger of White towards him, He really didn't have the heart to deny her childish antics.

This may be how she survived this long. No matter who she provokes, seeing her innocent nature and her antics, they are not able to punish her.

Her sister may be the only one who is immune to her charms. Maybe she took a sample of tears and built up immunity against it, Like people used to do with mermans.

So he outstretched his slender pinky finger and then wrap it with her soft one and then wholeheartedly promised her that he would not allow her sister to punish her with a sly smile on his lips.

Yeah just her sister, He did not promise about anyone else.

Hey don't get him wrong, He is a villain after all, Catching an innocent maiden in his traps is his nature and job, He is just doing his appointed duty.

If you wanna blame someone, blame the protagonist for lazing around not doing its job to protect them from the clutches of big bad wolf.

"Okay, I'll call her right away."

White when Alex gave her the pinky promise, Which in her eyes consider the top most validity ever is.

So she just accepted his words without even asking or thinking about how he was able to make sure her sister can't give punishment to her.

She was just happy that Alex gave her the pinky promise and so she happily pulled out her phone that is given to her for emergency by her sister and called her with a click as Black number is on the quick dial.

Beep *Be- *

"Where are you? Wait, never mind, just keep being where you are and keep the phone on, I am on my way."

When White dialed a call, It only rang the one ring and before the second ring could come, Black on the other side picked up the call.

There was a calm but hurried voice coming from the other side of the phone. She wanted to ask the whereabouts of White but then knowing it was her sister she was talking to drop the idea.

She just asked White to stay where she is and before White could say anything she dropped the call. There is a live location option on the phone, So Black could know where she is and would come in no time.

'Okay now just wait for her, Tonight will be wild.'

Alex looked towards the door while thinking to himself.

(A/N: 16th one o to go Yeah [])

Chapter 322: 320. Unlike Her Twin Sister

Few moments ago below dormitory --

"Sigh I don't understand why Madam had to come here late at night? He may be boyfriend of eldest miss of Miller but it did not seem black rose of the market care about her plaything that much.

Why can't madam just throw money at his face and be done with it? Wasn't he rumored to be a money hungry man? Why waste her precious time on nobody?"

Black was sulking in the car parked below the dormitory building of Alex.

She looked at the still lit lights of the dorm which she guessed had to be the dorm of Alex, Where her madam had gone to make a deal with a green tea man.

She could not comprehend why did her madam was doing this? She is head of the Gayler family, How can she lower herself so much to go in person to meet boyfriend of eldest miss Miller.

Even if it was Alia herself was there, By the ethics and elder status of her madam, Alia should be the one to go to and meet her.

If not, At least they should choose a neutral place like at room of private restaurant or some club or so. Not like this to go into the house with them to talk.

This action directly puts her madam lower then the boyfriend of that miss Miller.

By coming here at this late hour her madam doing nothing but humiliating herself and the whole Gayler family just to beg support of the Millers And for what?

"I still don't understand, Eldest miss has all the qualifications, networks, connections and top it all off, The birth right to be the head of Gayler family, So why Madam is still insting of making that good for nothing as the head of the family?

First of all, he is just a spoiled young master knowing nothing but to act willfully. If not for my airhead sister foolishly falling in love with him, I took the side off eldest miss on heart beat.

Oh, and there is my sister, Who knows what she see in that good for nothing, and ends up giving her heart to him, dragging herself and her into the family politics that I didn't want to be part of."

Black in the car talking to herself expressing her dissatisfaction to the acts of her airhead twin sister, Who always makes trouble letting her clean her aftermath of it.

Like her expressing she is with young master Nathan, Before Black decided no matter what happened she would not choose either of side in this conflict between Gayler siblings.

After all, They are siblings. Even if they were fighting for the right of inheriting the head of the family, they would not go around slitting each other's throats.

Oh don't get it wrong, It's not their sibling bond stopping them, It's just they wanted to but they just can't because of the rules and regulations of family law.

If they get caught trying to eliminate others by unaliving them, Then they by default lose the right to inherit the position of the head and the other siblings get it.

Both of them know this hence they should be prepared for it. The moment the other sibling decided to do this foolish act, They would grab the chance of exposing them, hence getting the next position of the head.

And let's say one is somehow able to succeed in it without getting caught. Even then they would be the prime suspect of the crime and so it would be nothing but creating trouble for themselves.

So the siblings would not try to kill each other but it does not mean they would not go for the support of their siblings by theory of if you can't kill it then make them so cripple that they can be a threat no more.

Hence why she was avoiding associating with any of them as she knew how dark one's heart can be. People like her would be the first target to weaken and test the waters by those siblings.

After all, no one bats an eye if someone like her got killed by the ones on the top, Rather her death would be nothing but to see how others would react, So they be prepared to target bigger and essential support of each other.

She knows this too well as unlike her twin sister she can see the darkness residing in the hearts of these selfish people, Nothing other than their interest matters to them and for which they can cross any line.

They do not even hesitate to mess with children's health and food just to earn extra, And that is not even the bottom line as there are literally merchants of death profiting from the war and misery of others.

So Black for the right reason was staying away from family politics or at least creating a persona of being so as she also knows the iron rule of elites, which is "If you are not with us, Then you are against us."

She already decided to be in the group of eldest miss as she has the most potential to be the next head of the Gayler family and she too agrees.

But then before she do any of that, White go around declaring her unyielding loyalty to that good for nothing waste of oxygen Nathan in the family meeting.

This act of hers nearly gave Black heart attack not because she chose Nathan as she already guessed this would happen and was preparing in advance to deal with it.

But that airhead tropple or plans when she announced in the family meeting hall, A place she was not supposed to be going in the first place but was dragged in by Nathan.

It was okay if White wanted to support Nathan but there was no need to announce it in front of the eldest miss and the elder who hate the idea of putting Nathan on position of head of the family.

Doing so White just put on big target on her back as her act also slap in the face of opposition of Nathan, If not for her making sure white would not do anything stupid or leave the manor unattended, That airhead would have become fish food long ago.

After all, No matter how low and worthless they think of their lives but if something happens to them under their roof then it puts a question on their family name.

The 2nd most valued thing by them after their interest, Their superficial reputation.

"O'Lady, Please make sure my twin does not create any more trouble for me."

Black broke out of her dark thoughts and she prayed that White do not cause any more trouble as the trouble at hand is already too much for low level like to handle.

"Dumb ways to do, There are so many dumb ways to die~"

Suddenly the phone of hers in the pocket started ringing creating the sudden sound making Black alone in the car at night jump up in fear making her thoughts run wild.

"Ghost!!"

(A/N: Sorry for the delay, I had a cold and it took more the expected time for me to recover, Now that I am feeling a little better, I expect regular updates, 2 chapters a day. Just today would be this one.

I once again apologize for it.

Oh and there is good news as there going to be 10 chapters mass releases on 12th May so keep that in mind, I would upload all 10 at once that day too.

Next chapters would be R-18, So be ready

Chapter 323: 321. Little White Rabbit

".... It's just a phone ring."

Black who calmed down after the shock, felt the phone in her pocket vibrate and realized that it was a sound coming from her phone, not some ghost as she thought.

"No one saw that right?"

She quickly looked felt and right trying to see if anyone saw her embarrassment, After all had created a certain stoic persona around people. She didn't want to ruin it.

As not only this persona keep her and her twin out of trouble but also make sure others would be wary of her thinking she has some deep thinker and not mess with her.

Though it is just a facade, which can fall apart if someone really tries to test it but thankfully it is working out of her till now and she hopes it will stay this way.

"Phew, No one saw it, wait who changed my ringtone to this?"

Black sighed in relief after confirming no one saw it, which was not a surprise.

Rather she would be terrified and would have gotten a heart attack if she saw someone here at a secluded parking place, That too this late at night.

She then realized she was shocked because her ringtone was changed making her not recognize it which led to this embarrassment of hers.

She wanted to beat the one who changed her ringtone, Just she didn't know who it is.

But after thinking about it, Who else could it be other than her twin sister?

"I am not going easy on her this time."

Black said to herself as she was quite angry, she said countless times to White never touch her phone as there is quite sensitive information in it.

And her being here, There is no saying what White would do with it, Black already warned White never to do it but guess she forgot about it.

So Black decided to teach White in a language she understands, Which is punishment.

This time Black decided to give worse of the punishment she given to White.

"What an inconsiderate huwomman being calling this late at night, There someone better be dying."

Black who was already pissed off by White's stunt, diverted her wrath towards the one who calls someone at this late hour at night.

She in rage took out her phone from her pocket and wanted to barrage them with flowery words addressing all their 18 generation of ancestors.

But her thumb which wanted to press pick up halted as she read the caller ID.

"Why is she calling me?"

The moment she read the name of the caller, a storm set off in her heart.

She knew this person does not do anything without any reason. She has the eye of a vulture,

When she reveals herself like this. She already caught you by the throat and just wants to dig in.

Press pick up

"How can this nobody help you, eldest miss?"

Black after making sure her emotions were controlled, pressed the pick up call and without waiting for the other end to respond spoke first in a surprisingly stoic tone.

There was no emotion in her tone as if she would not care even if heaven and earth had a chance, she would still be like tall mountain unbothered by it's surroundings.

Of course it is her facade, A persona she created taking control.

In her heart she already panic fearing what mistake she made that the eldest miss of gayler directly called her on her personal number.

She was sweating buckets in the car here even though AC was on in the car, Thankfully her facade is not that weak to be broken under such pressure.

Still Black makes sure to show weakness right away as she does not want to fight off with a behemoth like Eldest Miss Gayler.

She knows there would be no good end for them if she ratted this out to Isabella, Her madam as how could Isabella punish her own flesh and blood for an outsider like them?

Black even believes if this eldest miss killed them, Isabella would just look otherside pretending that they never even existed in the first place.

Though Isabella was not able to behave like that even if she wanted to thanks to the White Lotus Heart of hers but Black was not aware of it, In her eyes everyone is evil and has ulterior motives behind their action though she is not wrong in thinking that way.

"Scoff I don't have anything for you to do for me "nobody".

Just called to inform you that your little rabbit ran out of the safety of her den a while ago. As an active member of society and the future head of the Gayler family, It's my duty to provide every member of the Gayler family safety no matter how low their status was.

It just seems that no matter how much they care for them, They just like the freedom of the outside world. Ignoring freedom comes in exchange for the protection and safety provided by us.

There are many predators and threats in the outside world. Who knows what happened to that little airhead rabbit of yours, I am sure she would dive head first into the first trouble she can find.

It would be a pity to lose such a little rabbit."

From the other side of the call, A very feminine voice filled with lots of sarcasm and naked threats come out making Black hell of confused about what this eldest miss was even talking about.

"....Miss are you high? It's not good to do drugs."

Black though as critical of her as others, The mental gymnastics is not her forte, So she legit thought this eldest miss her talking about a rabbit and so as politely as she can remind her not to do drugs.

"..... You two are related alright."

The eldest miss of Gayler on the other side of speechless for a second and then couldn't help but to realize these White and Black are indeed identical twins, This level of stupidity can only be found in their species.

"Huh?!....Wait!? Are you talking about White?"

After the remark of the Eldest Miss of Gayler, It suddenly hit Black this woman may be talking about White as she is the one who always sneak away from the house.

And the moment Black realized this, face color drained of her face or at least that would be the case as she too was wearing the black face mask to cover her face.

"What do you want from me, Miss?"

The stoic persona of Black almost collapsed as she already knew what that woman wanted yet she was helpless and had to do it with a heavy heart.

(A/N: Sorry for the delay guys, I didn't know what happened, I just felt extremely tired these days with body pain like I ran kilometers to escape from street wild dogs.

Hence the delay, Still I am feeling kinda better now and so I would at least maintain daily updates. That is because the next chapters would be R-18 and those take lots of time to write.

As it's hard to write then you know [], Well anyways, there is that.

Chapter 324: 322. Green Girl, Rage Bait

"It's funny you think, I need something from you, A thrown away nobody? The only reason why I bothered to inform you is that if anything ends up happening to her, That dear mother of mine would put it on my head, I tell you. I would have nothing to do with it.

After all, It's really hard to hate that little airhead, So be a good girl and fetch me that little rabbit."

A very charming confident voice responded to the Black's question with a touch of mockery, making even feel self-conscious as it hit directly to her self-esteem.

Yeah, who is she? How can she think that the candidate for the head of family of Gayler would want something from her for which she even has to use such tactics?

Black couldn't help but face the fact that she is no one in front of these giants. If they are willing they no need to play games, They can just squash like an ant she is.

"Hey wait a minute!? Hold on, Miss if you are not forgotten. I am not only the bodyguard of the current head of the Gayler family but also her personal secretary.

I AM NOT THE THROWN AWAY NOBODY!! Huff So I expect- No! I demand my due respect from you, Elder Miss."

Black who was felt defeated by the words of Eldest Miss before, didn't know what come over her. When she realized the thrown away remark was back at her being abandoned by her birthers, She just snapped.

As she come to understand that she is not nobody, She is the closest person to the current head of family, Which already giving her head ups against this green girl as though smart never faced the actual difficulties.

Oh Black aware of that, When it comes to her own flesh and blood against a mere secretary, Isabella of course is going to choose the formal, Which is the reason why she had not dared to talk back.

But the remarks grabbed directly onto her paining nerve making her snap and talk without thinking twice.

"Ohh, This cat has a claws it seems, Okay okay alright then, Miss Black, The personal secretary of my dear old mother, Now that you are something, Then I did a favor for a big shot and so now you owe me one."

On the other end of the phone other than angry slurs and a rant, A melodies almost like a giggling in a joy voice come out without even a hint of ill motive.

Or at least Black thoughts so, But if she was someone who stepped into the world of superpowers, she would have felt how terrifying the other end of existence was as even through the phone, a sharp killing intent can be felt.

Though the hair on Black's body rose up in goosebumps, But she scratched it off thinking she was just afraid to make a behemoth like her too angry. Her being emotionally excited also didn't help her case.

"Yes of course, You helped me and so I owe you one, Do you think I am ungratef....shit." Black still emotionally excited, was even more flared by the conceding tone, So when she threw out a bait, Black like a good girl she is, caught it and fell in the such obvious rage bait. Of course Black being not White realised how big she fucked up but when that happen it was too late for her to do anything.

She as the bodyguard and the personal secretary of head of Gayler family owes a favor to a woman who considers by all definitions there is an enemy of her madam.

Just thinking about how badly she fucked make her even forget about the White's issue as if this thing come out, This would be consider no less the treason.

'I am fucked up, Aren't I?'

Black who calmed down as the news of this washed over her like someone thrown ice cold water on her couldn't help but to say it to her mind.

"Oh, You indeed fucked up, Anyway remember you owe me one, And yeah when you see my mother next pass down the message to her, Which I emailed you, That's it for now, Have a good day, Miss personal secretary Black."

When Black wanted to salvage the situation anyhow, That same melodious voice come out from the phone's front speaker halting her actions.

Though the phone was not on the speaker mode, Black felt that this voice was loud enough that it was reverberating in the car.

Especially the end statement of hers directly hitting where it hurts.

"Wait miss, I...I didn'-'"

Hung Up

Black though felt humiliated, She knew she had to do something, Who knows what this eldest miss would ask her to do in return, she had to make terms and conditions clear.

After all, She can't retract her words as she is a woman of her words. Once she says something she would do then nothing can make her change her mind except of course her airhead sister.

But before she even get the chance to say it, the call was hung up by the other endon, leaving behind that eerie silence.

"This girl is scary, I should have been on her side not in opposition, It's all because of Whit- Wait!? White, Where is that phone?"

Black took the phone of her phone and sighed looking at the black screen of it.

This talk with the Eldest miss Gayler once again reminded her that being in her group was the right choice.

And if it was not the option, She didn't wants to stand against her but her sister had the other plans and so now she is against this witch and already fallen into her trap in the move.

Black was feeling sorry for herself when she remembered about making her put all those thoughts aside for now.

She is worried about her sister quickly trying to search for the separate phone she has for her sister's emergency.

In anxiousness she forgot for a moment where she kept her phone, Then her eyes fell onto the glove box, and quickly opened as it is where she kept that emergency phone.

Ring Ri-

Black quickly reached out and was about to make a call when the screen and keypad light of the phone in her hand lit up as she saw the incoming call.

Seeing her sister call, Black's heart becomes heavy with fear and anxiety. She little hesitate to pick the call because of it but she quickly comes over it and picks up the call in the middle of its second ring.

(A/N: Sorry for the delay of all these days. All some of you know I was sick and then there was body pain afterwards, (Happen after a cold like this one), So I was just laying in bed these days.

Now that I feel better, I am starting the regular updates. Of course there would be one day off as we are having national elections here, So I have to go and vote (Quite a long line to do it).

Oh just quick question, Do you would be alright if it is the group R-18 right? Twins, Milf, Incest, Kink and Vanilla would be mixed here, so it would be fun and of coure hard to write it,

So bear with me.

Chapter 325: 323. The Eldest Miss Gayler

"I don't understand, Miss, Why did you do her a favor? I don't think we ever gonna need to use that favor to do something for us. If we want the head of the family to do things or spy on her, We can just activate sleeper cells networks. They would be efficient and most likely to be successful."

Just as the call dropped, A hooded woman in a barely lit room turned towards the feminine figure in the dark seated on the boss desk chair in the middle of the room while asking a query in a confused tone.

The room they were in looked like some underground bunkers with light red bricks visible in the walls peaking out of plaster and so flakes of colour falling from the walls.

This place looked like some rundown survival fallout bunker known for their rigidity and toughness capable of protecting survivors even from the blastwave and nuclear fallout.

This place can be considered one of the safest place a mortal can be in or at least that's what the owner of this place wants others to think about it.

As this is the private quarter of the eldest miss of the Gayler family, not the interior of the fallout shelter, She just paid extra to make it look like one.

Though this place has adequate security worthy for the eldest miss, It is not strong enough to handle even the 10% of damage actual shelters can.

"There are two reasons for why I did what I did Ava.

One being as you said Sleeper cells are quite good and efficient in their job but because of that it is crucial to use them only when it's the last option.

My dear mother though going senile because of her old age. She is still sharp about the things regarding spies and all, So there may be only one chance we get to use those cells before she weeds them out.

So I do not want to use it until it is absolutely necessary. Of course that time would be coming soon, I can feel it in my bones as conflict is approaching.

It is where Black comes, Though she thinks she owes us one favor but I know how to push her buttons to command her like the horse on the leash."

The eldest miss of Gayler lay back in her comfortable office as she enlightened her close comrade, Who stood with her since childhood outspoken about the difference in treatments of her mother of her so-called brother and hers.

Though her mother never sees it that way, she always considers herself to be fair in treatment of them as in her eyes, Nathan being younger and physically weak needed more of her attention than older and mature to her age daughter.

Looking past every attempt and tantrum of her daughter to get the attention as her being just spoiled ignoring her ignorance of how much her action causing hurt to her eldest kin.

"What is the 2nd reason Miss?"

Ava asked the eldest Gayler with curiosity trying to understand the 2nd reason behind her actions.

She is already convinced with the first reason. Yeah those sleeper cells are quite good at their job but once they activate them, Madam Gayler would realize their existence and so there would be mass termination.

And of course it would be nearly impossible to build that network once again as Madam would be on high alert, Not to mention cost and woman power behind doing all of this.

It was already hard to implement it before, not to mention how doing so drained their funds so thin. They can't even afford to light this whole place for Gaia's sake.

All the funds and pocket money which was being provided to the eldest miss by family was being spent into laying their underground sleeper cells network around Madam and Gayler group.

They barely have the funds to buy ration for a month, The Eldest miss of Gayler family, The behemoth of the trading market of the Berlin city can't even afford to feed her team.

It's not even because of lack of money either. If Miss goes and asks Madam, She would get the money but doing so would already alert Madam suspicion of uses of finds.

It's better if Miss directly goes to the Madam and says that she wants money from her to fund a sleeper cell network around her, So she can use it against her at the right moment.

So Ava is really curious on what would be the 2nd reason for it, that is as important as the network they have built.

"Oh, nothing much, I just felt in my heart to do a good deed in my heart for her, Take it as I am doing charity."

Eldest of the Gayler family was slightly taken aback by the question of Ava as she really didn't think about it when she did it.

Her heart just felt like doing a good thing and so she did it without thinking, which now she thought about it is unlike her.

She never likes to do something she has not completely thought it through but here she did it for some weird strange reason.

Of course, She can't say that to her subordinate. They blindly trust her because they have firm belief she would not do something she is not sure about.

If she said she didn't know, It would shake that faith they have in her, Which is no good for her at all, And so she makes up a reason on the spot and says it to Ava in her normal firm stern yet touch of childish voice.

"Oh, That's good, what goes around comes around, I hope this saying is true because from the look of over funds, It would not be that long till we are the one who would need a charity-!!"

Ava quickly spoke up hearing the reason of her Eldest Miss as her training kicked in, Though this training was given to annoy their Madam but this became her second nature and when she heard the opportunity, She by instinct took a jab at it.

Of course she realized it as soon as those words escaped from her mouth, she slowly turned to looked at her Miss with guilty look as she knew she fucked up.

"Miss that's not I mea- "

"Save it Ava, I know what you mean, Don't worry about funds, We will get the funds very soon, Just pray that little bird really does not learn to fly or die from our such breathtaking efforts, My dear mother would not pay us if we broke her beloved thing."

The Eldest Gayler lay back on her seat in relax manner as she responded to Ava in a smug tone with the touch of sarcasm but in a dark shadow where her face was still not visible on her rosy seductive lips there were murdered grins as she talk about the "thing".

(A/N: I know I am late and I am sorry. I tried but couldn't because my brain was foggy because of the sickness. Anyway now I am feeling a little better. So I promise to do the daily upload starting May 1st (Just one day away), Once again sorry for delay guys .

Oh, I watch Orville in this off time and love it. Do you guys have any recommendations for similar shows? Don't worry it will not interfere with the upload schedule.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day.)

Chapter 326: 324. Good Girl

Bang *Kicked Open"

"Freeze, It's police, You are surrounded by all four sides, It's wise to surrender and give up the hostages."

Black kicked open the Alex's dorm door, As she rushed in the room holding a black long Murican freedom pointing at the occupants in the room.

Everyone in the room turned towards the new visitor with looks of confusion, disgust, anger, indifference and amusement.

"Psst- brother, Do I do something?"

Amara leaned into Alex's ear and whispered slowly while swiping her thumb on her neck, Which is a universal understood single, completely disregarding that black long thing's deep hollow muzzle pointed at them.

After all, She is an S-Rank. She can even tolerate and take full power of Nuclear blast, This punny little lead thing is not even worth her attention at all.

The only reason she was even offered to take care of this mentally incapacitated girl.

Yeah mentally incapacitated as who just barges into someone's house then points the freedom at them while saying they all are surrounded, Which in fact is a lie.

She was monitoring her surroundings all this time to prevent unexpected troubles, She found there was no one surrounding them.

The only reason why Black even able to make her way through here is that Amara thought this girl was a security personal or secretary of Isabella.

If she knew this girl was coming here to cause trouble, Black would have been passed away by natural causes such as gravity or maimed.

"No, She is alright."

Alex who was amused by Black quickly spoke to Amara fearing this sister of his might really do it.

He looking at Black can confirm that she and White are indeed twins, Though the mask was covering both of their faces but that slender yet curvy body was identical without any difference at all.

He looked at a terrified anxious Black who was pretending to be serious looking at everyone in the room.

She was so afraid that she did not even notice the super angry Isabella, Her Madam throwing daggers at her in her gazes.

All Black knew that her sister should be here as the location of her phone was indicating her whereabouts to be in the room.

"Hey, what is that black thing she was holding?"

Liora, confused, couldn't help but ask Alex, also ignoring that black muzzle.

She never saw that thing in her life, Which is understandable given she spent most of her life in the jungle far away from society.

"Oh, It's just a simple deterrent tool, Don't worry about it Lio."

Alex turned his towards Liora who also asked him in curiosity, making him relax his mind.

He was not sure before how Liora would have Liora reacted if she knew that Black was holding a gun and threatening them.

She, unlike others don't have the pride or hypocritical morals. All she follows is that once someone threatens her, No matter how weak or small they are, She does her best to eradicate them.

This is the law of the jungle, be it hare or elephant, When the tigress go to the hunt they give their best without holding back to hunt that prey.

Thankfully Liora is not aware of modern weapons, If he knew he would have to deal with this crazy plus blood lust woman.

Alex was glad about this was not the case as he have no idea how he would have stopped her from put Black into the eternal sleep.

And so because she behaved like a good girl, By instincts he stretched his hand patted and rubbed her head lovingly.

"Hummm...Okay"

Liora closed her eyes enjoying the gentle hand of Alex rubbing her smooth hair and head completely becoming docile and just followed what Alex said.

Alex also was happy with her reaction and so he continued his rubbing and patting of her gently. For him it was like a fidget tool.

But he did not notice when he did that both Rita and Isabella looked at them with envy and jealousy. Then both of them shared a look and nodded, Who knows what was cooking in their head.

While White just wanted looked at it with yearning as she so wants to experience it.

"Black what's the meaning of this? Lower your weapon right now or I would consider you as betraying the Gayler family and declare you as a traitor."

Isabella, who was super jealous and anxious but also frustrated that she can't do anything, turned into a angre and poured all that onto the Black who stood there stupefied.

'Do these two siblings decide to ruin my life forever or what? I just want to spend time with Alex. Is that too much to ask? Why are they always inferring?'

Isabella couldn't help but to think in her mind. First there was White who for some reason came here, halting on what she was waiting to do all day.

And when it was over another one popped up, Finally when things calmed down, This other sister came to cause trouble.

Now she just hopes that Alex would not get even more angry then he already is. She already decided to punish these twins for acting stupid and so making her look stupid as well.

"Sister, what are you doing? Put that lighter down, Didn't you be the one who taught me never to play with fire, water, air and so such natural elements?"

White who was standing behind Alex in fear of her sister, finally decided to come out and speak out but being her, she thought her elder sister was holding the lighter to light a cigarette or something.

"You- Care to explain why you are here? Didn't I say you are not allowed to leave the Gayler manner, So why do you sneak out? What happened to taking care of young master huh?" Black was ignoring anything and everything, she even ignored the harsh words of Isabella, Her Madam as she was more concerned about her sister.

And so when she saw her her heavy heart finally calmed Whin.

While she was rushing here, she thought too many possibilities, Even considering that the Elder Miss is the one who kidnapped White and was using her as a hostage or worse. Thankfully it seems not the case and so worry of hers lowered but it was replaced by the rage as she said too many times to White never leave the manner yet here she is wandering outside

Black already deciding what punishment she should give this airhead sister of hers.

"Oh- That, Don't worry about the young master, He is in the good hands, I make sure to let Number one and two look over him, So the young master is safe and sound."

White once again sneaked behind Alex answering Black in a guilty but confidence voice as she was sure of that those two would take good care of her young master.

"You let bodyguard no. 1 and 2 to watch over the young master alone?"

Black who was ready to lash out on White and give a stern warning but was stunned hearing what her twin just said.

How can she be this naive? Young master would have been safer in the room filled with packs of hungry wolves than to be with those two.

Ding

Black wanted to say something but sound of notification from her phone stopped her, She quickly took out the phone and was stunned reading the email she received from the Eldest Gayler.

(A/N: Next would be 2 chap daily updates, Sorry for the delay

Chapter 327: 325. First Flying Lessons

"Madam, I think we should leave, I mean we should leave right now, Right at this second."

Black after reading the message couldn't able to say anything other than try and hurry back home with Isabella as soon as she can.

After all, What she read in the email made her feel like someone yanked the ground below her feet.

She knew how wild those underlings of the eldest miss can be but she never thought they would go this far.

Even she who do not give a fuck about any of these two siblings felt bad for the Nathan right now.

I mean can these people have a heart? That man is already bedridden because of all of his broken bones, they do not need to add more to his misery.

"First of all, put that thing down and know that I am not going anywhere even if the world was burning outside, And second, have you forgotten the ethics and rules of the Gayler family? Before you start to panicking like the sky is falling, You have to tell me what spook you."

Isabella, who was already pissed off by the other twin, was pushed to her edge when Black reading something on her phone starts to panic.

Not only did she panic but she did so in front of Alex. What is he going to think now? She is surrounded by incompetent people? What does that say about her judge of character and value?

White already shown how stupid people around her are. At least Isabella least taking in solace that she can say White is just a handy maid there because she is the sister of her more competent big sister.

But here is that more competent sister, Who for some reason is also being stupid.

Not only was she swaying a loaded gun around like it was nothing breaking the most basics rules of gun safety but she even had the audacity to ask her to leave Alex dorm. That is crime equal to treason in her eyes.

'Are they doing it on purpose? Do they know about me and Alex?....No it can't be, I didn't sense anyone spying on us before, Even if I somehow missed it, This S-rank weirdo sister-in- law of mine definitely was able to sense it.

So it can't be that anyone knows it, But that means they are stupid, I am surrounded by stupid incompetent people, Why I didn't see it before, No I have to fill some competent people it in, If not, This pervert woman is definitely going to make fun of me.'

Isabella couldn't help but to feel sorry for herself.

Her soon to be sister-in-law already hates her and calls her old hag and a pervert, not to mention how she does not hide her disgust towards her liking Alex.

In Isabella's eyes its pot calling kettle black, Like yeah she is old and like young Alex but at least she is not blood related to him like she do, How can that weirdo call her a pervert.

It doesn't matter even if Amara is Lala and into the woman, she is doing that just to comfort Alex.

Oh yeah, Isabella still believes that Rita and Amara are in the relationship even when she shares Alex with Amara passionate sex already.

Well what can it be said, These woman's have way higher tendency to be delusional, Not to mention Isabella herself is the trope of White Lotus known for their delusional persona, So it would take time for Isabella to accept Alex and Amara being together.

Still Isabella is trying to have a civil relationship with Amara as Alex does also care about his sister.

Wait, that doesn't make him a pervert, It just shows how much he cares about others and makes sure he also gives it back. If asked her, she says he has a big heart, And that is not the only big thing he has.

Black here, taken aback by the stern response from Isabella, Her madam never did this before because Isabella herself said in past that if the safety of the young master is in the question, She didn't have to explain it and just tell her where to go.

So the response of Isabella is not what she expected but being trained as she is, She quickly stabilize herself and quickly make up an excuse making sure to clarify its about Young master Nathan.

"Miss the matter is little sensitive that's why I didn't say it before but its about the young master"

Black responded to her in firm but also hurried tone. After saying it she was ready to turn around and leave as she was anticipating learning that it's about Nathan, Isabella would quickly stand up and leave with her.

"No one is a stranger here, You can say what is happening with your young master Nathan." But contrary to the Black's belief, Other than standing up and rushing out of the door like she always does learning about Nathan is in danger, This time Isabella just asked her in a concerned tone.

Yeah there was a lot of worry in her voice but this reaction was far from what Isabella used to do.

She used to go crazy and rush back home in rage of a daddy bear. At that time anyone who came between her and her son was used to getting trashed.

Even usually willful eldest miss dare not to venture near her when Isabella is used to being like that but Isabella showing nothing of her craziness.

Even if she didn't want to lose face here, There is no way she would be just sitting there and asking her what is happening in this manner at all.

'Your young master Nathan? Since when did that waste become mine anything? Wait! Why madam even saying that? Didn't she always love to flaunt that Nathan is her son?'

Black who already left her Madam, was acting weird and felt even strange when she heard the way Isabella described Nathan, Her own beloved son.

Black was sure Isabella definitely took the wrong medicine today, And so acting this strange.

"Come one sister don't be mum, Out with it, What is happening with young master is he alright?"

White who was standing beside Alex spoke in a concerned manner breaking Black's chain of thoughts.

The moment White learned about the news is about her young master, She became concerned and guilty as if something happened to him, she blamed herself for leaving him to come here. Black hearing urging of her sister once again looked at Isabella as if asking whether she really say it out loud in front of everyone present here.

"Why are you not speaking? Go on and say."

Isabella who already frustrated responded to her in annoyance urging her to come out with it already.

Of course, She did not realize the change in her nature nor if she was in the condition to do so.

All her thoughts were occupied by the thinking of ways to ask for Alex forgiveness and coax him back.

"Sigh Okay then, I would just play the recording attached to the email."

"Ahem Dear, Personal secretary Black, I am requesting you to relay this message to my dear beloved big hearted smooth intellectual life giver is that,

I am pleased to announce her the news that my dear little brother is getting his first flying lessons on his utmost instance.

Though he just has started learning it, But don't worry bodyguard No.1 and 2, gently making sure my dear brother does not get hurt as they pushed him off the first floor with his wheelchair but he just dropped flat on his face before they could even give him instructions on what to do.

Oh don't worry about damages, I myself was given the order to build that wheelchair with the carbon fiber in advance, foreseeing such events, so the wheelchair survived the fall without a scratch.

It's just that my brother got cold feet after failing to fly in the first attempt and so tried to resist to do it again but how can a cripple warped in the plaster can resist those two highly trained individuals I made personally for the safety of my brother?

They lovingly overpowered him and then carefully lifted him back up and with utmost care carried him back up but this time they carried him to the 2nd floor. Put then him down on his wheelchair as he was still covered in that white hard stuff.

Anyway, Then they once again slowly pushed him off from the 2nd floor, But it seems that my intellectually disabled brother, Oh I forgot the old school like you, You should only know the medical term of such hard word, Which is retarded.

So my retarded brother didn't follow what those two said, which was also simple instruction of just do not fall but he just yelled or tried to yell as that hard white stuff also covered his jaws too and just fell down once again.

But don't be discouraged, Those two are very loyal to my dear brother. They will make sure he knows they are willing to try as much time as they need till my dear brother learns to fly.

Anyway, Who didn't fail their first bicycle ride?

Well I didn't but I know you would have known that right? After all it would be impossible for my dear loving mother to not remember her daughters such a milestone.

Anyway it's not about me, It's about my dear brother. Those two now strongly believe that as great as my brother is, He might really start to fly like a bird, They just need to increase height to push him from to create lift force and time,

So they carried him to the 5th floor to thro- Ahem push him off."

The whole room fell into the pin drop silence as they continue hearing the voice message.

(A/N: Sorry for the delay, Lot of stuff happen which I better not get into. Anyway now that I am feeling better I try to upload daily. Yeah try because last time I promised I jinxed myself, Not taking any more chances with it now.

Chapter 328: 326. Liora, Pitiful Woman?

"That's sweet, Young master getting his first lessons on how to fly, I know I made the right decision putting those two in charge of looking after Young master, We should all celebrate such a milestone."

The deathly silence got broken by the loud excited shriek of White who excitedly jumped and happily clapped for the news that she just received.

After all, This girl could not comprehend the sarcasm nor have the cognitive ability to deduce that this was an open threat from her eldest miss.

All she gets from the message is that the eldest misses doing something good for the young master, Completely overlooking the fact that huwoman's are not birds and can't fly.

"What's the big deal about it? I learned to fly when I was 11.

It was when my mother threw me from top of the Death Valley mountain along with my elder sister when I was 9, Which helped me survive there.

So in my suggestion they should throw that man from the cliff."

Liora, who was just sitting in front of Alex fully immersed in the comfortable invisible aura surrounding Alex, making her ignore her indifference towards huwoman's resulting her to speak up when she heard White was excited about such a trivial thing.

In her eyes, what's a big deal about learning how to fly?

Rather it is embarrassing to be this old and still not know how to do it.

Beside her Amara was not paying any attention to the email content as she didn't give any heed about the well being of a man constantly belittling her dear brother.

Rather she was glad finally that boy was getting his due, As she herself was forbidden by brother to make any move against that bastard.

So she was super glad that finally that woman decided to take action against her brother. Though Amara could not understand how an elder sister would be this against her younger brother to the degree of mortal enemies just for the position of head of family.

She here couldn't able to wait give her heir of position to Alex before.

Even now technically she is stand-in heir of the Winchester family in the absence of Alex and can even take the permanent position if she wishes.

But she not even thought about it, Rather she could not wait for to drag her brother back home and obediently make him receive the blessing of being heir of the family.

So she couldn't comprehend the drama between these siblings. Rather if it was someone other than Nathan, She might even have felt disgusted by his sister for not willingly handing over her position to him.

"Did Aunty throw you off from that mountain when you were 9 years old? Also since when do you have a sister, Why don't I know about her at all?"

Amara's thought chain was got broken hearing the words of Liora couldn't help but ask her out about it.

It can be said that she and Liora are on extremely friendly terms, And so know pretty much everything about the other party as their families also have no enmity, Hence can be considered as friends.

So it was a shock to her knowing that Liora also had a sister, not just a sister but also an older one.

The news of aunty throwing Liora when she was 9 also took her aback but knowing the family of Liora, Which only follow the rule of survival of the fittest, It was not out of ordinary for them to do.

"Hey Amara you got it wrong."

Liora, seeing her dear friend misunderstood her, decided to clear her misunderstanding.

"Wrong? But didn't you just say-"

"Yeah I did say that I was 9, But I was not 9 years old but 9 months old.

So as per family tradition my mother along with my elder 11 month sister threw us from the peak of forbidden mountain in the pit of Death Valley below.

This is the ancient test of my family. Only those who come out of the Death Valley would consider it worthy to be part of the family and so get resources and benefits of the family.

As for my elder sister, I don't know about her, Only I came out from Death Valley."

Liora was in surprisingly in a good mood being around Alex, So she answered Amara as best as she could.

This tradition is similar to the anc story of Lioness throwing cubs from the stone bridge in the valley to test and see who would preserve in life and climb back to her.

Though Liora did not like her family, she also firmly believe in their belief of survival of the fittest.

"...Tha- So about this email, What do you want to do Isabella?"

Amara was speechless, Though she knew about what the family of Liora believes in, she still taken aback when hearing they throw babies from the mountain peaks to see who would survive.

At this moment she had the urge to grab this airhead woman named White and ask her about whether or not she still thinks babies are narcissists.

But she dropped the idea as there is a high chance this airhead forgotten about this topic she herself started before.

Anyway, Amara felt uncomfortable to continue throwing babies of the cliff topic, Especially after it was sure that sister of Liora is died in it.

She did not wanted to open that can of jar, So she changed to subject and pulled topic back on the Isabella who was sitting still on the dining chair with serious contemplating expressions like she was about to make a life and death decision.

'Is this woman become delusional because of the loss of her sister in childhood? Such a pity, but again I too would go insane if something happen to this airhead sister of mine.'

Black who was ready to rush out before could not help but think of this after hearing the story of Liora.

Though she does not know this woman but hearing her story she sympathizes with her.

She does not know about the hidden world and their strange customs, hence why she comes to the conclusion that this next door mature sister looking girl in trauma and so made up false

Black from the bottom of her heart feeling pity for Liora.

She fortunately not have to feel the loss of the siblings but she can imagine how hard that can be to lose once such a closed flesh and blood.

She would rather lose all her limbs and mind than go through that experience.

If not for the fact that she knows her Madam would at any moment would ask her to rush back home, She really wanted to give a hug to such a pitiful woman.

If Alex knew about her wish, He really ask Black why she did not wish to live anymore.

After all, Liora looks domicile under Alex's beastmaster aura but a Huwoman, The lesser beings in her eyes dare to touch her, Then it would really be a bloodbath.

Now that is mentioned, Alex behind Liora strangely looks at Black.

Chapter 329: 327. White Eyed She-Wolf

[Ding! World choice is detected....

Selection function is triggered...

- [1] Atmosphere in the room is becoming unstable and harem is about to cause trouble, If the host does not handle it well, Asura field is imminent

Task: Avoid triggering Asura field and as a result dropping the newfound little harmony in the harem.

Reward: Skill "Gentle Breeze"

● [2] How can the host not take advantage of everyone being in the same room?
Please go tame them, raid them, ride them fuck them, Go all out tonight.

Task: Provide everyone in this room a pure bliss by any means the host can.

Reward: ???

(Note: Rewards would be given based on the degree and the way of task completion.)

• [3] How cruel-hearted are you? Nathan there being tortured and here you were thinking about how to bang and play with his beloved mother along with others?

Task: Show some compassion and send Isabella and others quickly home to rescue Nathan.

Reward: Title "Nothing greener than my head".]

System voice fell in Alex voice as his selection task was distributed.

Alex couldn't help but think the system was being bad again seeing the last "reward" of the selection task.

But he did not say anything as it is logical, If he allows Isabella and others to go back now then he is definitely going to get green.

Of course, Not from the Isabella as she is protected under the Harem Halo, So no matter how much gymnastics Nathan's protagonist luck would do, It is impossible to open the mother- son branch in his life.

But there is no such protection on White and Black, They are highly susceptible to the luck of protagonists.

Now seeing that Nathan is being hit hard, injured and having a hard time to do anything the protagonist is supposed to do.

These two who mid-late plot harem members may be joined early to help Nathan to turn the tide.

How so?

Simple, these two twins of course are no normal huwomans They have secrets hidden in them.

'How to do it? One sister pulls negative emotions out, What does this one pull?'

Alex looked at the Black and couldn't help but wonder and headache.

White is extremely pure of heart and so when she is in contact with others their negative emotions rush out like moths to fire.

He first hand saw how terrible her effect is, She made monsters like Liora cry.

So when he saw the first option of the system he knew it's Black turn to show off, making his heart miss a beat.

Though both of them are not aware of their effect on others for some reason, that just makes them more volatile and dangerous factors.

Especially this Black now, As she is filled with negative emotions and only sees the world as bad and evil, Thinking everyone has some ulterior motive behind their actions being completely opposite of White who only see good in everything.

Alex didn't know what kinda effect her passive would have on others.

To be honest Alex was eager to make her go down back in her car before notification of the system popped up.

After all, She is a walking variable, He did not want a variable around someone as volatile as Liora here.

If something really ticked her off, she would not think twice to flatten the whole city.

Her nature is that of being afraid of no one, Not even the infamous "Nobles" of whom other S-Rank are terrified of.

But after seeing the 3rd option reward, He can't really do it.

'Fuck it, Just bite the bullet and let's go, If worse come worse, Just use legendary protagonist experience card.'

Alex thought for a second contemplating his choice before he decided to do it.

Yeah he would prefer not to take a risk nor use that card here to save the day but gain is out weighting the loss.

The legendary protagonist experience card is indeed precious and he actually needed it to get that ancient cultivation technique from Jake.

But it's not necessary for now, And it's also not like that is a one time use card, He can use it indefinitely just he had to pay RP for per use, That's all.

On the other hand gain is uncertain but it's system reward, of course it would not be anything cheap or useless seeing its past history.

So Alex decided to take a risk and act quickly, Anyway he is sure that at best he would lose just free use of the card, Which though be pity but would not be that big of a deal.

"What are you doing seating their aunty, Come go and take a look what is going on with Nathan, He may need you there."

Alex quickly looked towards Isabella and said in a concerned manner, fully showing off the might of the God-Level acting skill.

"....Huh?!"

Isabella who was contemplating about whether to stay here and have dinner with Alex or go back to save her son, who was about to be pushed down from the rooftop again.

It was indeed a very hard decision for her to make, She was caught in between tug war to either choose her son, her own flesh and blood or love of her life, Whom took her soul away in their first meeting.

She was already tilting towards Alex and was thinking about staying here as she would get to eat Alex's heavenly cooking plus she didn't have courage to ask him permission to leave.

She hesitated but with a pained heart was about to tell Black to not worry about this matter as she knows her daughter would not go too far to hurt Nathan too much.

But then she heard Alex's words taking her back. She turned to look at Alex and saw his concred face and caring tone.

This warmed her heart. She couldn't help but blame Alex for having such a big heart. How could he be showing such compassion to a man who is always blaming and making trouble for him.

At the same time she couldn't help but feel resentment towards her own son as she felt angry on behalf of Alex, He is so good to him but all his goodwill is fed to a bitch, Her son is a proper

White eyed She-wolf.

"Then Alex I should-"

Isabella still hesitates but thought about going back as there is no guarantee of her daughter not daring to hurt Nathan too much, Before she was just gambling that she would not dare. Though regretful and sad she opened her mouth to tell Alex about her decision but as she was speaking Alex's words cut her off.

"Yes you should go, After all Nathan is your son. He is more important to you than me, nobody."

Alex looked at her with endless love in his eye with a touch affectionate smile looking like a sweet dedicated man in love from every woman's fantasy.

But if one looks at those captivating starry black eyes of his, They may see the emotions of struggle, pain, defeat and finally defeat in them.

Crack

Shatter

Chapter 330: 328. Mother Blue

Isabella just stared at Alex with unbearable pain in her eyes.

Her heart felt tump like someone smashed a sledgehammer on it crushing into the pieces. A coldness spread in her body as she felt unending pain like she never felt before.

She looked at the young boy in front of her and wanted nothing but to tightly hug him, Took him in her unworthy but warm embrace and kept him there forever.

'He must be feeling wronged right? I kept choosing Nathan over him again and again, Even now when he is angry at me.

Rather than coaxing him, I am once again running back to Nathan without even touching the food he meticulously made.'

Isabella couldn't help but over thinking as she looked at those starry black eyes looking towards her in pain.

For a moment she forgotten about Nathan is not some third man she is ignoring a good boy like Alex for but her own flesh and blood son.

She even outright ignored the severity of two things, One is just dinner with lover and a few other uninvited guests.

While the other is a matter of her youngest son's life and death, He is already hurt so badly, If they really throw him off the rooftop of their 5th story mansion even if Nathan would not die, He would be disabled for life.

But this thought did not pass through Isabella at all.

The cocktail of her favorability which crossed the 100 mark on top of it was an effect of the passive of an Peach Blossom Eyes then there was birth of resentment towards Nathan along with pity emerged in her White Lotus Heart, She couldn't see reason at all.

All she knows was Alex is being wronged and the reason is Nathan, And because of that there was inexplicable hatred arose in her heart.

Maybe for the first time in her life she hated Nathan for existing, As he was hurting the men she loves.

Her White Lotus nature was full of control of her emotions.

At this moment all hurt and pain she was feeling seeing Alex like that was put on Nathan's name, Making him responsible for everything.

'I think I spoiled Nathan too much. It's best if he gets some tough love.'

Isabella who was hesitating before having pained heart to leave Nathan to right not have such concern at all.

In her mind she already made up a good enough reason for herself to leave Nathan on his own. Anyway, like she said before, She 90% sure that her daughter would not do too much.

"Black stop and sit down, There is no need to go back home, This is good for him."

Isabella after she decided she just spoke up in her same righteous tone like what she was doing was not for herself but good for Nathan like a typical holier-than-thou White Lotus.

And yet when Alex heard it other than being disgusted by it he was ecstatic as the moment her words fell, A system voice rang in his head.

[Ding! It detected the host 69% break off the love (motherly) between the mother and the protagonist, And birthing hate towards him, Doing so destroyed the early backer of the protagonist....

The Host received the achievement of "Mother Blue"....

The Host received the title of "Mother Blue"....

Mother Blue: As one can understand from the name of the title, This title is a must have for the Netori master especially for the ones who have a mature strong taste.

Effects:

[1] Any mother in range would be 50% more sexually and emotionally attracted towards the possessor of this title.

[2] Any mother who already has a relationship with the host would be 75% more susceptible to the believing host's words against their son's and then abandoning them for host.

[3] Any childless woman who is the age of average mothers, Would also be 25% more feel desired to give birth to the host's babies.

At that time regardless of the average age of species or being, Any adult (by species standards) would be affected by this title by the average age of host species (Huwomen).)

(Caution: The Host please keep in mind that all effects of this title are stackable with other titles and passives.).]

System voice rang in Alex's mind notifying him that just now he nearly broke off the relationship between Isabella and Nathan making him excited.

After all, Isabella is the biggest backer of Natahan, the protagonist of this world in the novice stage.

Though he does have other backers, but they were inconvenient to take action in the early stage for one reason and another.

Like his master can't come to wipe his ass after he cause a trouble in the early plot as she was in closed door seclusion trying her best to attack SS-Rank but of course she would fail at it as the protagonist was not strong enough to deal with that level of mess in the novice stage.

Then there is of course his mercenary friends but again they can't be come back to the country any time they want as most of them are wanted for war crimes.

It was only when Nathan actually made a name for himself and got power, he was able to bring them in the Berlin to do a dirty work for him.

Of course like any other Xiao Bai protagonist, There were heroines help but most of the help given to him by his mother through a Gayler family.

And now he pretty much snatched her away from him, Taking his big backer pretty much making him a toothless tigress which both figuratively and practically true as he does recall his shoe indeed broke most of Nathan's teeth as he shoved in his mouth.

'Wait?! What do you mean by caution?'

Alex wanted to ask more but then he noticed the warning from the system.

[Ding! Host the title and skill were received from the system are mostly stackable, boosting the overall effects of your already high to even more.

It's detected that most of the Host's skill effects are oriented around mature women and with this new title your attractiveness towards them has reached sky high making you irresistible for mature women's.]

System quickly jumped out and explained the cause of the warning to Alex.

Alex too thinking about his raiding target preference before, It seems it was reasonable that mature women related the title and effect he accumulated.

'Wait! Didn't all of my titles and effects make me irresistible to pretty much all women?'

Still he didn't understand why it would be the cause of such a warning from the system.

Cause yeah he has mostly mature women related titles and effects but there is also abundance of other titles and effects too, They too should have crossed the limit making him irresistible to pretty much any woman in this world.

So he couldn't figure out why the system single out milfs like that, System does not have any prejudice against it right?

[Ding! Back to the host, Yes the host also has other titles and effects which make you irresistible to other women in the world too but the host might be overlooking a critical fact and that is, Host just thinking about your effect on the heroines and plot related characters. For any other normal huwoman, They do not have any resistance to you at all.]

System hearing Alex is misunderstood quickly to point out why it warned Alex.

The reason why the title and effect of his feeling weak is because the protection of the heroine and other characters in the plot also had slight resistance to it.

If there was any normal huwoman here, They would have been like dog in heat jumping on him on sight.

Of course the system having the safety functions make sure to control the effect if his passives so only the limit others can handle be affected but it would still be a lot for these normal beings.

And now the more passive he has the extreme their reaction would be.

As of right now Alex is walking aphrodisiac for normal women, Especially the mature women and mothers.

'I know that system but why do you single out just mature wome- Oh Shit!'

Alex's hearing system explanation understood his effect on the women but he was still not understanding about why the system would just target mature women.

If he goes out now without asking the system to control his passives then he would be definitely get multiple attempts of being assaulted and kidnapped.

And then it hit him, Yeah he would affected others women too. It's just he can fight off and defend himself against younger women with his current stats as they are not as broken as the heroine and female leads.

But mature women are a different story as most if not all of the powerhouse of S-Rank are natural milfs.

And because most of them are not heroines and female leads, But just an passersbys, So they would not going to have even slightest resistance to his charm and passives.

*Gulp In the early plot there are at least 110 hidden S-Ranks in the world right now, All of them are women.'

Alex couldn't help but to think about it, As this is a women respected world, All of these S- Rank powerhouses are women, The only exceptions being protagonists and key roles.

Meaning even if he took out the heroines out of those S-Ranks, There would be still around 60-70 S-Rank for whom he is walking aphrodisiacs.

If got a whiff of his existence they would be madly pursuing him then he would have to deal with that many S-Rank powerhouses.

Not to mention him, Even if his current connections, including Winchesters and others family's come to support him, They would not stand a chance.

Why? Simple as what makes these strong families strong as the S-Ranks, The who is after him.

If he was not able to handle it well, He would single handedly start a world war.

'Thankfully I have a Golden Kidney and Golden Gun.'

Alex after coming to the conclusion couldn't be more glad that the system granted him this divine thing, If not wouldn't he would have been sucked dry?

As for why? Of course he is going to raid those powerhouses too.

System said it before that he wasn't restricted to raid just heroines. He can raid anyone he wants and rewards would be given depending on the target's luck, status, power, looks and such.

If he raids the S-Rank powerhouses, Even if they are just passersby without names in the plot, He can still going to make a fortune.

And he is also going to have the literal die hard army of the S-Ranks behind him, with it he would add more insurance on himself to defend against the protagonist.

As for those powerhouses being old and ugly?

It is physically not possible for them to be ugly, Not just because they are the S-Rank having close to no impurities in their body.

But in this reverse world, It's impossible for women to be ugly or to be fat in this world unless they are related to the Female Lead plot.

The ugliest one would still be 7 on the scale of 10, That too for the mortals, The lowest for appearance for the S-Rank women is 8.5.

So by appearance alone they are close to touching the entry point of heroines, which is above 10 because of course you can't judge heroines with normal standards.

If not for the lack of the charm and aura unique to the heroines, These nameless passersby may even have been able to earn the spot on the Nathan's harem.

Not just be the passersby mentioned in one or two lines in the plot.

'I guess I had to work hard in the future.'

Alex couldn't help but feel excited and defeated at the same time.

As for how he would be able to defend that many women and prevent the asura field?

He did not worry about it because as compared to the heroines, It is surprisingly easy to handle other women's, Xin Yan is living proof of it.

Luck)]

Just as Alex was about to get out of the system space and answer Isabella, Another notification popped into his mind.

But other than being happy, He broke out in a cold sweat.

'Oh no, Not now.'

Alex quickly opened the notification to take another look praying that he just looked wrong but sadly that was not the case.

Nathan indeed lost luck because Alex made Isabella start to hate Nathan.

(A/N: There will be one more update today as I said before.

As for why updates are getting delayed, There are elections going on and of course too much heat here this summer season making it harder for me to concentrate on the story.

Don't worry, This heat will calm down in just a few days from now, So that's a relief.

Also any Idea why Alex panicked receiving notification?

And remember our motto of catch them all.

Chapter 332: 330. Cuckblock Protagonist Halo

[Ding! Warning! Protagonist halo is about to trigger....

Chance of awakening the Special Physique 90%....

Chance of awakening bloodline 85%....

Chance of getting help from a strong 81%....

Chance of getting all of the above 69%....]

[Ding! Villain Halo triggered.....

All the awaking chances of the protagonists halved....]

[Ding! Special mission: Cuckblock Protagonist Halo....

Task: Prevent Nathan from awakening any chances cause of his protagonist's halo.

(Suggestion: Chance of awakening something through the halo can be blocked if power of the halo is diverted elsewhere to protect from imminent danger of the protagonist.)

Time: 1 minute

Reward: Upgrade system rewards yet to be used by the host in the system inventory.
Do you want to accept this task Y/N?]

As Alex feared, The moment notification of Nathan losing his luck felt another notification popped up from the system.

When Nathan got hit on his luck, His protagonist halo overclocked and came to his rescue.

Looking at what system says, If Alex did not interfere and prevent it from this happening, Nathan would receive some broken abilities.

Alex even believes that there is a high chance of Nathan awakening all of the options as that's how lucky these protagonists are.

If not this then at least Nathan would awaken some ancient Special physique as that would also heal his injuries and make him more tolerant to the beating.

Nathan's body already improved by 20 strength stats the last time he beat him. So it's highly possible that it will happen again.

'Accept the task....And tell me how sure you are to control the power level of my Starlight skill?'

Alex was quick on his wits and accepted the task.

Not only because it was necessary to prevent Nathan from spreading his wings, As once that happened it would be harder to suppress him.

But also the reward of this task is quite tempting, He has quite few things in the system he yet to use it as he was saving them just in case.

Now after he earns this reward, Those things would be upgraded, So how come he is not tempted.

As for how to complete the task while being in his room is also quite simple. System already said as long as he put life of Nathan in imminent danger forcing his luck to drop the idea of awakening broken things and work and save the life of Nathan.

If that is the case then all he has to do is to make sure to put him in imminent danger. Before he may have struggled to do it from this long distance but thanks to Liora, He has means to target anyone virtually anywhere in this cosmos.

[Ding! System is 100% sure that it can control the skill power perfectly without any error.] System voice fell, putting Alex's mind at ease.

Though he can use the system given skills without any worry but to avoid any mishaps like using too much or too little power, He directly used the system to do it.

After all, If he used too much then Nathan's halo would just go berserk and pull out even more broken things.

And if he used too little then it would not be enough to divert his luck making him fail the task and also allow Nathan to gain the footing.

So why now directly use the system? Anyway it did not cost him a thing to use his skills using the system.

'System target Nathan.....and Jake using Starlight passive, Make sure to just use the perfect amount of power for the task.'

Alex directly asked the system to do it against Nathan but then he took a pause and also asked the system to target Jake.

Even if Jake was just an bait, He also has too much luck on him, And cherry on top is that he is not as resilient as Nathan, So he didn't have to worry about two protagonist halo triggering.

Anyway he is already using the skill, Why not spend some more and get the wool of his dear brother-in-law too.

[Ding! Targets have been detected....

15,000 RP is deducted....

Starshower skill is being used...

Starlight passive is being used...]

As Alex voice fell, A barrage of system notifications rang in his mind, instantly deducting 15,000 RP and then using his new found skill.

"Mummm- Mummm!!"

On the top of the Gayler's 5th story mansion, Nathan wrapped in head to toe in the bandages on the wheelchair struggling to resist as Bodyguard no1. and no.2 pushed him towards the edge of the terrace.

They even put the two wooden planks on the safety rails of the terrace, of which they are easily able to push Nathan's wheelchair along with him from the terrace.

While all Nathan was able to do was just do a futile struggle to resist as he was seeing he was being pushed towards those planks.

He knows if he really fall from this height, He may not die but he would become disable if not least he would need to be laying in the bead for months.

Unless some magical healing potion or skill is used on him.

'Alex, It has to be that damn Alex, He is the reason I am suffering, Mark my words, Soon I would have my rise and first one to pay for their sin would be that ugly bastard.

I would also get that healing skill of his. It is a waste to be in possession of that lossier, I would also snatch that Alia from, Women like her can only be worthy of someone like me, Not that dirtbag, I would make her beg under me sooner or later, I swore it.'

Nathan was fuming in anger over his helplessness but it's target was not these two bodyguards but Alex.

Nathan wholeheartedly believes that everything wrong happening with him was because of Alex.

Since the moment he met that man, His luck seems to be pulmet, Since when did he suffer like this before?

Even if he was on the verge of dying before, He was never this helpless. He always found a way to survive it, And each time he hit the pot of gold after the difficulties.

But since he came home, Everywhere he goes he is being beaten like a street bitch.

Thinking about how many times he was beaten and goy humiliated, And then seeing he still being humiliated by these two pest, Nathan's blood started to boil in rage.

His skin and bone underneath of the bandage also started to feel itchy as he was being pushed up through the wooden planks.

Nathan seeing this felt even more humiliated, accelerating the Strangeness in his body.

"Huh?! What is that weird aura?"

A few kilometers outside of the Berlin city, A figure in black robe looked up, feeling the birth of some powerful ancient every.

It tried to locate the origin of such power but because it was such a faint energy, It was harder for the figure to pinpoint its location.

But the figure was sure it's a matter of time before being able to find out it's exact location as it can clearly feel this aura is someone awakening their powers.

Meanwhile Nathan was just inches away from the edge of the terrace, and falling 5 storey straight down.

Yet other than fear he was filled with rage, Lots of rage for the man he is sure this all happening because of Alex.

He was being pushed closer and closer to the edge and with each second the Strangeness in his body, Which he was unaware of because of his fury.

This is the same cliché routine of this kinda protagonist.

If nothing happened, The last moment before Nathan was about to fall down, He would awaken his physique and bloodline.

Which is going to alert some power how who would come to the rescue of the protagonist,

Then there would be a faceslap routine.

After which the protagonist starts going around the usual acting pig eating tigress routine.

Unfortunately for Nathan, His motherfucker did not agree.

Above in the starry sky, Two lights twinkled as suddenly they fell down with the speed invisible to naked eyes.

'I would kill them, I would kill them al-!!!!

Nathan was pushed on the edge of the terrace as he knew he would be pushed down any moment now.

Seeing this finally a panic arose in his heart but also the strangeness in his body reached its peak. As at any moment Nathan would burst out with dual awakening of his special physique and bloodline.

Bang Ignite

It's just that, at this critical moment, sometimes as small as a ping pong ball fell from the sky and collided with Nathan instantly making his body covered in the bondage ablaze.

Because of the inertia of the moving object, It also pushed the surprisingly undamaged wheelchair Nathan sitting on off the roof.

"Mmmahhhhhhha!!!!"

Nathan couldn't understand what just happened, The strange feeling in his body on hit dispersed as if it was never there.

It's just in the next second that the chest area of Nathan starts to glow in a quite faint green hue in which some ancient runes are inscribed.

Which then sparde all over his body underneath the bandage creating a thin layer trying to protect Nathan from being harmed by now his ablaze body.

Slam Smash Nathan was in agony by the feeling of being burnt alive in unreasonably hot flames, So he could not even understand what happened when he slammed directly on the ground, breaking most of the bones in his body once again.

But Nathan did not pay any attention to it, As his body was still on fire burning through the bandages on his body, somehow rolling back and forth on the ground.

The green hue underneath trying best to protect Nathan from being harmed but it could not keep it up at all.

At best it can try to save Nathan's life, even that is hard to say much less keep him from being harmed.

All because right now not only the flames temperature exceeded the 10,000° celsius but if that was it, The green power would not even allow it to harm Nathan.

It's just that this green hue was not dealing with just a high temperature flames but also there was a ton of radiation emitted by that object.

Though that object only existed for a fraction of second, The radiation emitted by was in millions if not at least hundreds of thousands of grey directly into the Nathan.

If this power did not reacted quickly and taken the action, Nathan would have died on impact.

Still Nathan was not out of the woods yet as even if green hue was able to prevent most of the radiation from entering in his body, Still large amount of radiation absorbed by him, For which green hue working hard to filter it out to keep him alive.

"Should...we?" Bodyguard no.2 spoke to no.1 with a look of worry as he watched their so-called young master struggling on the ground while his body was still on fire.

"Of course we should, As we are masters bodyguards after all, Let's go down to help him."

Bodyguard no.1 looked down at struggling Nathan, Then at no.2 as unhurriedly spoke to the no.2 after which he turned around to go down for help. "No.1, It's the wrong way, Elevator is here."

No.2 was follow suit in hurry as its okay to torture Nathan but this guy really died then their eldest miss also would not have a good days left in Gayler houshold.

It's just that while he was in a hurry, He saw no.1 making a wrong turn and thought he made it anxiously and so decided to tell him.

"Oh, We would take the stairs as they are healthy, We have to be fit after all to protect our precious young master, Also no running on the stairs."

No.1 didn't even look back, just spoke up as he nonchalantly took the stairs like he was not going to save a man on fire but to go get a walk.

Seeing this action of No.1, No.2 felt like a door had been opened in his mind and thought that he needs to learn more from him. Then he also followed suit behind No.1.

"This should be on the outskirts of the city, So Miller manor would b-AHHHH!!!"

Just after Alex commanded the system to target and attack both Nathan and Jake, notification started to rang in his mind.

When Alex took a look at them, For a moment even Alex, who was pretty much used to the system being broken, was in shock.

He didn't know that he had this much unused stuff in his system inventory, But then again thinking about the fact that no situation arose to use these things.

And now he was glad that he didn't have to use this stuff after all. If not, how could he get these upgraded rewards?

'Spi-Spirit stones? No wait?! Super Grade Spirit stones?'

Alex then got one more shock as he saw that his unused 13 Billion UC turned into the super grade spirit stones.

He is no stranger to this stuff as this things appear pretty much all Xianxia novels.

These stones are filled with spirit powers hence the name and so used as currency amongs cultivators of those novels.

Anyway that's not the reason Alex got shocked as he knew these things would appear in the late plot of the novel.

It's just that the grade shocked him. Even in the last plot there were no Super grade spiritual stones, High grade already was a limit like most of the novels.

Alex didn't even need to read the description of the novel to know that this thing is broken and yet he got just from just upgrading paper currency?

[Ding! Host upgrade is followed by the standards of the system, not the world, So by standards of system mortal words currency's upgrade would be immortal words one.]

System jumped out and explained to Alex about how system standers works opening his eyes. As for the law of equivalent exchange and something? What's that? Sorry this system only follows its own laws.

So reasonably Alex, seeing the first reward, wanted to check other rewards eagerly but controlled himself knowing he still had other matters to take care of.

So he closed the system window suppressing his curiosity. He would have time to take a detailed look at it later, Now it's dinner time.

"This...is it alright madam? Those two may really throw the young master from the mansion top."

Just as Alex closes the system panel, anxious words of Black fall on his ears.

He looked up in slight daze then remember that Isabella just did unthinkable in Black's eyes.

As for the first time she did not run out to save Nathan rather said little beating was good for him.

It was unlike her, How couldnt Black would not be worried?

Don't get it wrong, She really doesn't care about whether Nathan lives or dies.

She is more concerned about if this act led to the direct conflict between her Madam and Eldest Miss then she was damn sure that she would be caught in crossfire.

As she already said she owes a favor to eldest miss, Even if Black thinks with her toe she knows eldest miss definitely cash in that favor to be an internal spy for her.

And the sad thing is she can't deny it nor dare to do it as both of the forces are the ones she does not dare to offend.

So Black really for the first time in her life wanted Isabella to rush back and save that good for nothing like she always does.

But who knows what wrong medicine Isabella took to change her nature completely.

"Do you think they dare?....But still even if they dare it's just a 5th story mansion, He would not get much hurt falling from that little height.'

Isabella, who hardened her heart, answered Black without hesitating at all.

A seed of hate for Nathan already took roots in her heart.

And now even more so as it was between Nathan and Alex, Making her will even stronger.

Anyway it was her who spoiled her son so much before that he even had the guts to provoke S-

Rank before.

If not for Alex then not only Nathan would have gotten himself in trouble but also dragged the Gayler family with him.

Then she had to pay heavy price and connections to quell anger of that S-Rank power house.

So it's now clear to Isabella that Nathan needs to learn a lesson about not everything someone going to come and save him from trouble.

"But madam what if-"

Black is still not willing to give up this easily, she really did not want to get caught in the fighting of these two giants.

It's just before she could say some excuse Isabella cut her off mid sentence.

"How could there be what if? Do you think I found any hillbilly and sent him in the mountains to train? If he can't even survive falling from 5th story then all those years and resources are wasted.

I would need to go and get the refund from that old witch.

But what if he get lucky and really learns to fly? Wouldn't going there would hinder his improvement?

So Black let him be, And by the way put your phone on do not disturb mode, If something very important they can personally call me, Right now I...am hungry."

Isabella didn't know what Black wanted to say but she can guess it was regarding urging her go back and save Nathan.

If Isabella was in normal state of mind she would have instantly detected this change in behavior of Black as it was also unlike of her to care this much about Nathan.

But was Isabella in the right state of mind?

She spending all her brain power on how to show Alex that she can punish Nathan for his crime, Just asking for his forgiveness in return.

How come she is going to take care of what's wrong with Black?

So she quickly give the whatever reason she can think of to Black to shut her off then looked at Alex expectation in her eyes for his love and forgiveness.

Of course she also wanted to taste Alex's meat... Dish which he said is prepared is waiting to be served.

"Ohh yeah, You gals should be hungry, So let's not waste any more time, Snap Here dig in."

How can Alex not know what to do next? It's already late, So he didn't want to waste any more time.

Everyone had already gathered around his dining table before, So he just snapped fingers and brought the dish out of his inventory on the table.

Boom

As just this dish appear out of the inventory, It set off storm in the hall.

Chapter 334: 332. Tidal Wave

Silence

There suddenly was a deathly silence in the dining hall.

The sound of multiple heavy breathing was clearly audible, As they all were heaving cold air. The bountiful mounds of these seductresses rising and falling with their breaths.

If one is paying attention they can even hear the rapid heartbeat as horses galloping in their heart.

Even Black and White who are not familiar with the supernatural world acting like they were enchanted.

It's just when Alex looked at them like this he was confused.

'That's it? I thought they would rush to eat it and there may even be a fight broke out for it, But why are these people just sitting there staring at the dishes?'

He couldn't help but to mutter himself as he looked at eager yet strangely calm figures in front of him.

Though they are acting weird but it was a normal thing for them, Rather they are being too normal seeing his best dish till date.

'Is dish lost its effect being inventory or I messed up using too many additional skills and laws in it?'

Alex couldn't help but to doubt himself seeing such little reaction from them.

He could not doubt the God-Level cooking as he knows how strong that skill is, But he added other things in it.

Though God-Level cooking melts and merges those things using its own laws of cooking before but now seeing the situation it seems he just added too much and messed it up somewhere in the process.

"Bro-Brother what is th Gulp is?"

Finally when Alex was thinking of going and reporting the system for fraud, Amara opened her trembling scarlet lips as she asked Alex in her shaky voice.

She at some point like others subconsciously took the seat in respect to their places without even realizing while their eyes glued on the dish in front of them.

It was nothing but a few pieces of meat in the little gravy in Alex's eyes but for them it was nothing less than heavenly delicacy.

That dish had a shine and glittering effect like in the foods of anime temptations for them to take a bite.

It was hot as steams were coming out from the dishes as if it were just taken off from the heat.

As the irresistible scent of its dish speade in the room and entered in their nostrils, All six women at this time felt like they were possessed by the ghost losing control over their actions.

Blood in their body became so excited that it felt like it would boil over making their body increasingly hot all over giving their snow white skin a starlet hue as if they took ecstasy.

At this moment they wanted nothing but to devour this dish first then give the chef their deep and profound compliments.

Yet they could not move or rather dare not to move.

Even if there is infinite desire in their heart to lick the plates clean but inexplicable fear stopping them from moving further.

They don't why or how but bottom of their soul like yelling urging them to back away, do not dare to move any further.

White and Black both not familiar with the supernatural world but they still by instinct adhere to the warning from deep within.

Rita and Isabella who were familiar with the supernatural world were even more terrified as they were both feeling and understanding the meaning behind these warnings.

They don't know what it is but they know it was not something they can provoke.

And the worst situation was with S-Ranks beauties. As both of them fully comprehend the meaning of these warnings.

Its realm suppression, The aura emitted by higher levels on lower ones with added bloodline suppression in it.

This shocked both of them to the core.

Amara couldn't understand how she was feeling suppression, She is an S-Rank and not just any normal one either, Mighty Beastmaster one.

Her talent is considered the ones in millions, If not she could have not been able to step into the S-rank in her 20's no matter how much heavenly treasures her family used on her.

And yet she was being suppressed meaning either whatever her brother put in front of them was either more unreasonable than her or it was impossible SS-Rank.

Both of which she was not willing to accept, So barely suppressed her urges using all willpower to ask Alex about it.

"Oh, That's what I wanted to tell you that, It's an S-Rank beast Chicken-"

Alex after hearing the question of Amara and seeing others state was finally sigh a relief.

Seeing their condition, The dish he cooked still has its effects. Maybe he refined the meat too much which also strengthened the residual aura of the S-Rank in the meat.

Which after a mixture of other powers let it slip away, Though as the system said before they weren't able to guess the rank of the meat but because of other laws in the food, It's still deterring them to move further.

Alex made a mental note of this to prevent this from happening in future.

After which he truthfully answered Amara as he wanted them to decide what they wanted to do.

Though logically eating this meat would give lots of benefits to the consumer but he also has to worry about their mental state as not everyone is as morally superior as him.

He did not want them to have a physiological shadow of this in their heart as it may bring trouble not only for them but for him too later on.

"Impossible!! It can't be j-just mere simple chic-ken beast."

It's just as Alex uttered this is an S-Rank chicken beast, Liora who unwillingly staring at the dish had an outburst as she strongly denied Alex's statement.

Though her eyes like others never let go the dish out of her vision, But trembling voices still carry her current unstable emotions.

Liora does not care about the rank of being, Be it S-Rank or F-Rank, For her as long as they are strong that's all that matters to her.

Even if Alex right now had said this is a myth of SS-Rank meat in front of her, she would not care about it even a bit.

Because for her being strong is a matter of saying, If there is someone who is stronger then she just becomes stronger, That's all.

It's not that she is boastful, she had capital to say that as she possesses the whooping 89% of purest bloodline of their clan from its foundation in the new age.

Plus she is also unlike others born with her divine physique.

If not for some power preventing beings from advancing into the SS-Rank, She long since stepped into it by doing nothing but simply eating and sleeping.

So it was not an exaggeration to say her worldview was about to collapse being suppressed by the bloodline of the beast in the dish.

If Alex would have said it is a dragon or phoenix meat, She would let it go as it's understandable that those beings can put suppression aura on her bloodline.

As for how he got those mystical beasts and cooked them? Liora does not care about it.

But what he said was this was a chicken not dragon or phoenix?

How can she accept her bloodline was lower than a mere chicken? It's straight up hitting in her face and her whole clan.

So even if she was in a strange condition, she used all her power to ask Alex about it.

Drip

Cold drop of sweat dripped from Liora's face as her willpower was giving it. The tug war between fear and desire was putting too much strain in her mind.

Still she was barely holding back to hear Alex's explanation.

"But it is a chicke- Ahem This is a mysterious meat given to me by some mysterious powerhouse before.

Though I don't rank the beast but it looks like chicken, So I called it chicken, Don't be wary it can't attack you, As I am able to cook it, Aren't I?

Chicken.

But seeing the condition of Liora ready to fight a god, If he really says it's a Chicken, She would lose her mind.

Though she would not harm him as her affection for him is so high but she as a cousin of Belladonna also has a twisted mentality.

There is no saying what she would really do if pushed too far but one thing is sure that it was not good for him.

So with desire to survive Alex just made up shit on the spot and spoke up giving Liora and others explanations for the origin of this meat.

He also quickly used God-Level cooking to shut-off the domineering aura releasing from his dish.

So they stop hesitating around and like shark smelling blood go read to eat their dinner.

Bang

The moment the deterrent aura vanished, The tug war between fear and desire was also got broken qs desire instantly took over their action.

Pleasure which was being suppressed by terror before also overwhelmed their body finally making them forget anything and everything other than the dish in front of them.

So without any delay everyone picked their untisils and quickly took a bite. Seeing this, Alex was both glad and anxious as he braced himself for the tidal wave. (A/N: Like always thank you for reading and have a good day.)

Chapter 335: 333. Pressure Cooker (R-18)

The moment they took the bite of that juicy chicken their eyes shot open as they felt the huge wave of shock hit their body and soul.

The one mouthful of meat piece they took a bite instantly melts in their mouth as soon as it hits their tongues.

The taste of such liquid mixed with their greedy saliva was strong yet gentle, spicy yet sweet introducing their pallets to a dimensionally different level of taste.

They all tried their best to understand this taste but they couldn't understand even a bit.

But one thing they were sure of was that this is the best thing they've ever eaten in their life. White and Black unknown to the cooking level of Alex even birthed thought in their clouded mind to compliment Alex for his cooking but before they could open their mouth, a huge surge of pleasure hit their being caughting them unexpectedly drowning in it.

Slam

Both of the girls suddenly become in sync as they slammed their right hand on the dining table supporting their body to lie down on it.

Their breathing quickened as both of them heaving trying to hold back from completely losing themselves in this newfound sensation.

At some point they also completely tore off the mask from their faces revealing their breathtakingly beautiful faces, Which was no blushing in the tempting scarlet hue.

Their wide forehead had dew of sweat which of one drop slipping down and was hanging on the tip of their delicate noses.

Right now their complete Heterochromia icy blue and scarlet red eyes were staring fluttering their long eyelashes as they stared through their misty vision at the dish in front of them with both deterrent and desire biting down their soft rosy lips.

Alex looked at them in amusement in his eyes as these two twins were seated in front of each other, And because they for some reason go into total sync it looks like a reflection in the mirror.

Two of them were following each other to even minute details from their moments to micro expressions to even their breathing was identical.

'Interesting.'

Alex quickly noticed something weird in their action, Which triggered his OCD of knowing everything as he brought a smiler but cheap dish from the system and started eating it, while paying close attention to everyone.

As for others, Amara, Rita and Isabella who experiencing this before were aware of the aftermath and were prepared for in advance yet they still underestimated it and were swayed away by a surge of intense power flooding in their bodies, teasing their mind and souls.

Rita wanted to hold back trying to prevent the embarrassment once more happening like she did before Alex.

But how could a mere single woman like her stop this unfathomable power?

The moment she swallowed the food, Her body felt like it was set ablaze in eternal fire. Directly putting her pleasure and desire to the roof, The seat she was seating on was already becoming wet from the secretion of the juices coming from her uncharted place.

It's just when the flood gates were about to open, fully soiling the seat dredging it in her love juices, it abruptly stopped.

"Huh...W-Wh..?"

Rita felt mixed. She didn't want to embarrass herself in front of Alex but when it stopped she left unsatisfied.

She unconsciously parted her slender lips wanting to ask but all she was able to utter in bone softling moans as she realized though she didn't reach the climax but was left on the edge of it.

She was like a pressure cooker, Wants to release its pressure just someone just hold her back from releasing.

She just needs a little push to release the build up pressure, If not she thinks she may go crazy. And so thinking so she couldn't help but to reach out and take another bite thinking it would help her with that push.

It was the same with Isabella as she too had mixed thoughts about she would get released as she was being edged by Alex since afternoon.

But it was also the same case with like Rita, It edged her to the peak just a little push away but at the last moment it left her there just like Alex did to her before.

"Grrr....huhhhgrr."

A mature beauty groaned in the injustice of it but thinking also took another bite wanting to get that sweet release.

"Brr...ooo...er"

Amara, even being the S-Rank and was pounded by her dear brother not long ago was having the worst situation of them all.

As S-Rank she clearly felt something strange the moment she took a bite and yet she wasn't able to hold back to eat it.

But the moment she did that it was too late to regret it.

She left like an infinite hot energy pouring into the endless void of her realm wanting to fulfill it.

But Amara could not able to focus on it as her body also like others felt like was on fire filled with ecstasy, Which put her on the edge but not allowed her to climax.

It's just unlike others, Amara was experiencing it hundreds times more, So much that even her S-Rank will power couldn't keep up with her, yielding to try and beg her brother for help.

Yet even in this condition, she still picked up her spoon and took a mouthful like she was addicted to it.

As for Liora, She though not aware of Alex cooking level, She instinctively aware of what would happen yet she followed through with relish.

And when the wave of that kick in she just goes with the flow without even thinking of resisting the new found passion and sensation rushing in her body.

Her milky white skin right now not just had an scarlet hue but also has an thin invisible obsidian aura surrounding her.

Those two gigantic but perky mountain peaks of hers were also swinging with hers, Like trying to hypnotize the viewers in their allure.

Gulp

It was Alex time to become breathless now seeing Liora.

Though he knew she is beautiful but in this state drunken ecstasy of hers adding even more charm.

Her long buttocks obsidian black hairs were set loose, Her big mermaid like eyes were filled with the endless desire and love.

It was so much that Alex even had the illusion of seeing pink hearts in them.

What made his heart skip a beat was that while she was intensely staring at him, she gulped down everything on the plate.

Literally licking it clean with her usually long agile tongue while staring hungrily giving him side eye

'D-Don't fall for it, Its a trap, She is crazy woman, I repeat she is crazy woma- "

Lick

"T-Take of those clothes."

"Yes mam."

(A/N: Sorry for the delay, Other chapters were coming after this very soon.

Chapter 336: 334. How To Train a Dragon I (R-18)

Alex for a moment lost himself in her raw passion and desire filled hoarse voice as she commanded him.

Though say comading but when it came out from her voice it was extremely weak, So weak that it was more of begging then the commanding.

Which was stark contrast to her devil may care attitude, Where she takes what she wants without second thought.

Jump

Even before Alex could react to his blunder, Liora jumped on the unprepared Alex like a cat.

Bang

Because Alex was not prepared for it, He wasn't able to bear the inertia of hers and so the chair tilted back and both of them fell behind on the cold smooth tiles of floor.

"Muahha Muahha Muahha Muahha....."

But both of them didn't care about this small fall at all.

Liora, ignorant of the relationship between woman and man, Didn't know what to do other than bombarding Alex with her slippery wet kisses.

Her soft lips kissed his face, His eyes, His cheeks, nose, temple, head, earlobes, neck, lips and many more leaving the wet trail marks behind her actions.

Still her action did not halted, Her plump body hugged him so tightly like she wanted to merge him with hers.

Her twin peaks erected nipples even through her dress poking Alex's chest.

Liora was trying her best to put out raging fire in her heart, Trying to quench her endless hunger by giving him tons of kisses.

But other than calming that fire down, It was like she was flaming it turning into a wildfire.

As Liora tries to hug Alex more and more in herself, She feels more and more hotter making her use even more strength.

If not for Alex these days getting many buffs and strengthening of the body, This would be his GG, A legendary death by snu snu.

Liora didn't even notice how much strength she was using, All she knew about that was to scratch her itch in her nether region.

She didn't even notice it but her folds were leaking so much of her love juices that it soiled Alex pants through her skirt.

"Huff Huff Wh-Wh...Panting th..."

But suddenly Liora's action halted as she felt something fat, long, hard, extremely hot thing touching her leaking parts.

For a moment her whole nervous system malfunctioned.

She didn't know what it was but the moment it grazed her pee hole, She left like a current ran through her body.

Her tight arms around Alex instantly become soft like an over cooked noodle, laying on top of Alex's body trying to process everything.

She wanted to ask Alex, wanting to know what is that thing which made her lose all her strength.

She guessed it would be some ancient treasure. If not, how can it make her like this?

So in curiosity she parted her soft wet lips weakly but all that came out was an incoherent thing mixed with her breathless voice.

"You did it, Don't blame me now for the consequences."

Alex finally breaks free from this evil woman with ulterior motives clutches and breathes a sigh of relief.

Though he can't be harmed by her strength, he does not have any power to break free from the S-Ranks powerhouses grip.

So all he was able to do was that to lay down and bear the clumsiness of hers as she rained down her wet sloppy kisses.

Heck she even tried to bite with her silver white teeth on his neck and ear, If not for her inability to move downwards because of hugging him.

This beast would not stop, Each part of his body would be either wet by her saliva or covered in marks of her bites.

While all he was able to do was to lay down and take it, How humiliating would it have been to get kisses and love bites from the hot cousin of his psycho fiancée.

Roll

Alex with one swift motion rolls over putting the pulm figure of Liora below him as he lie on her helpless figure.

"Hey, Who would have thought you could also yell in such a cute voice."

To Alex's surprise when he rolls over Liora subconsciously yelps as she suddenly goes from being top of him to below him.

He couldn't help but be abused as his sadistic side started to emerge out.

He looked at unwilling misty obsidian eyes staring at his face full of desire, she did not know how to put out.

A tread of her hair sticking to her wet cheeks, As others were spread out on the ground matching that obsidian black background to her a celestial fairy figure.

Gulp

Alex seeing her this felt his mouth dry, He has to say it that no matter how crazy this woman is, Her figure and looks are top notch.

If she had a normal reasoning brain, She would have been close to the perfect woman but alas that author may have some weird fetish that each of his favored women is batshit crazy.

Still though Alex can't complain as everyone of them are equally beautiful to outweigh their craziness.

Like now, Seeing her like that. Even for him it is becoming harder to control his urges, Wanting tear those clothes and fully appreciate this work of art.

Tear

Alex just reached out and rudely grabbed her huge breasts then tore away the evil dress covering such a sight revealing in front of him huge white twins with pink peaks.

There was no bra at all.

Suck Grab

Alex didn't waste even a second and directly puts her erected right pink nipple in his mouth while grabbed left one founding it and teasing her nipple with his thumb.

"Ahhhh~!!! Mummmmm..."

Liora didn't even know what happen or what it happen, She didn't even know what Alex did to her or why he founding two mounds of fat of hers.

But she didn't care about anything anymore. As the moment he sucked down her erect nipple while rudely grabbing others, She felt like she reached the paramount of pleasure, gaining the higher attainment.

Her body suddenly gained its strength back as her long legs with thick thighs tightly warped around his waist as she held his head down pushing it more in her bosom.

A sensual moans were reverbaring in the room as Alex was training this technology stealing, hoarding dragon down below.

While doing so, His already awakened from its slumber dragon became even more active trying to stretch itself for its upcoming batter.

A trillion of his soldiers of it's also ready for the task as his roaring dragon fuming lubricants for the safe easy journey.

Alex, thinking about their march, reached down his right hand to check if the battlefield was ready for the war.

It was a little hard to reach down towards her slit as her legs were hugging tightly but this didn't discourage Alex.

As he glided his tip of slender finger from her now exposed buttocks making Liora restless as expecting.

A desire to know the unknown and forbidden knowledge bestowed by the man in front of her as she was drowning in pure bliss.

Alex hand swiftly gilded through the outline of her buttocks as it reached down to the place unknown to the outside.

To his surprise, There was also a lack of panties she was wearing, meaning in normal terms Liora seems to prefer commando.

So it was not that hard for him to follow the wet trails of her juices to reach her uncharted slit but he didn't move further rather swirls his finger around it teasing this beauty to the fullest.

"Huhmmm...nnnn..D-....dn....pl...."

Liora couldn't handle such a teasing, She felt like millions of ants were crawling on her body, While the place she know as a peehole having an intense itchy feeling urging her to scratch it.

So she was Alex when Alex reached down there, she was hoping him to help her out, Give her that unknown pleasure sense of pleasure she is unknown of but knowing she needs it.

And why she weakly looked towards Alex with her half closed eyes and couldn't help but try to beg him stop teasing her.

She forgotten about her pride of strong, All she knew was there is something Alex has which she wanted.

But she still couldn't able to form any coherent words, Now she pray that Alex would understand her wants and fulfill them.

"Pop Oh don't worry Lick I know what you wanted, Lick."

her sloppy reddish peak.

Then Alex like an devilish tone wishpared to her like an tempting a innocent maiden to fall into the depth of the abyss as he teasing her pittiful nipple.

(A/N: Like always thank you for reading and have a good day.)

Chapter 337: 335. How To Train Your Dragon II (R-18)

"Ahh~Hummm..."

Liora being teased like this couldn't help but release and sensual moans looking at Alex with her misty eyes filled with resentments.

When did she wronged this way? She always gets what she wants with her capability alone.

But here she was helpless, All her strength felt like drained out of her body, leaving her mercy of the man in front of her as she didn't know what to do to calm down storm in her.

She was being overwhelmed by this unknown sensation making her both embarrassed and wanting as Alex swirling his index finger around her wet peehole.

Which was weird for her but at the same time she wanted him to do something, she couldn't understand what she wanted him to do but her whole being yelling at her expecting something that opened the gate of forbidden knowledge to her.

"Li-o-ra....Do you want me to touch this swipe or this glide."

Alex, with a teasing look in his eyes, stared at the begging face of Liora as he gently swiped his smooth finger on her dripping folds sending shivers to her body making her hug him tightly.

Her body twitched as her lips released melodious tones like a siren's bewitching song tempting adventures to explore further into the unknown.

But Alex did not give in to the temptation, Not because of any other reason other than his sadistic side was enjoying the fullest of her appearance.

How can he not feel the enjoyment seeing someone Liora who normally high on her pride in this at his mercy appearance?

Plus he also has an evil taste to tease a cousin of his dear fiancée.

What would be the face of Belladonna when she found out about this event? Her dear cousin put a green hat on her head.

Though there are already many green hats on her head already but it would be different if the culprit is blood related to her, right?

'No no, Too wild, Don't mess with fire Alex.'

Alex suddenly snapped out of his thoughts as he realized how dangerous they were.

Though with would be fun to mess with Belladonna, The price would be too high to provoke that evil spirit.

Who knows if he pushed her too much, She would march directly here and take him with her to his custom made 28×84×24 crib.

The fear of his family may not be enough to deter her from doing so.

So he, knowing how dangerous these thoughts were, shook his head for time being, putting focus solely on the Liora in front of her.

"Huff Huff S-Stop Mummmm....D-Dnt... Huff tea....me...Or...or*Bite*"

Liora being teased like this couldn't help but protest the actions of Alexs.

When his slightly cold finger tip slid from her folds, She felt the unprecedented surge of euphoria.

This was all known to her yet when thought of Alex hand gazed across her wet peehole, Other than being embarrassed she felt ecstatic.

As if deep in her DNA some dormant forbidden knowledge awakens, urging her to do something which before she had considered as dirty and vile.

But because of that Alex teasing she was couldn't able to bear it making her both irritated and horny.

So she weakly was able to open her obsidian eyes, locking on Alex trying to be as deterrent as possible as she spoke to warm him.

It's just she wasn't able to show off her usual arrogance in her state, making her look more pitiful then to be threatening.

Especially at the end she bitten her lower lips holding herself back from making those weird noises as ruining the power of her warning.

Or at least she thought it would be that way.

"Sigh What else can I do? I am a single man living alone in college dormitory with my sister, How can I resist such a threat from a brute like you?....Just be gentle with me."

Alex seeing that time is just right started his melodrama as he turned black to white.
"?????"

There was just an question marks on Liora's head.

If not for her body suddenly becoming soft cause of her chaotic state and exhausting mental power.

She really wanted to argue and defend herself to the end.

Yeah she jumped on him and forcibly kissed him.....maybe she was not that innocent either.

"Good girl Kisst"

Seeing Liora just stare at him with that hungry look without arguing back, Alex was satisfied with it and so stretched his neck and landed his slender lips with her moist rosy lips.

Stun Flash

The moment she felt his lips landing in hers, Liora became stun experienced euphoria, All other thoughts were thrown out of her mind and only one remained was that urge rose deep within her.

Her body which just a second ago was feeble instantly regained its power.

Though it was just a fraction of it, It was enough for to avoid being teased like this by Alex, At least that's what she thought.

As she suddenly taken an action flipping their positions once again making hert seat top of him on instinct.

Even Alex who was aware of her action beforehand became surprise seeing her current position.

Rub

Liora did not waste any seconds, The moment she sat top on Alex, She reached out and yanked her skirt easily tearing it away from her body exposing her glistening hairless pinkish lower half.

Then likeann self taught student started rubbing a pinkish dripping slit on the hot bulge of Alex's pants.

"Ahhmmumnnn!~....Mummmm..."

"Huff Huff Wh-w..hy, h...ow."

Liora continued this for a few seconds but quickly realized that something was missing. No matter how much faster she grinding herself on his hot bulge, It was not helping her a bit, rather it was making her even more excited.

"And here I thought you were onto something, Sigh Okay I, as a scholar, would teach you."

(A/N: Sorry for yesterday as I forgot to tell you guys that yesterday was 2nd June, I had to take a day off, I apologize for not informing you sooner.

I would make up with today's updates, (It's yesterday's one which I missed.)

Like always thank you for reading and have a good [].)

Chapter 338: 336. How To Train Your Dragon III (R-18)

Alex, seeing that Liora did not know what to do next, decided to help the poor desperate woman.

He reached out his wide soft hands and grabbed her soft fleshy bubbly ass, Which was like a soft smooth cushion making him feel like he dug into her cheeks like a sponge do to water. But he did not stop to appreciate such an excellent craft nor did he try to fondle and mold to his heart's desire, Rather he just held it firmly to halt her actions of moving her pelvis on his already erected crotch from over his soil pants.

Even he though reluctant not appreciate such an top class buns and their bakery but he had take care of the fire in the oven first if he do not take care of it soon, there is a risk of letting blowing everything over.

"..mmmm....Don't"

Liora who was already in the extreme heat desperate to find the solution to quench her unyielding thirst.

So she quickly looked down at him pouting her rosy moist lips in anger trying to show him that she is not happy with his action

Though rubbing herself onto him was not helping rather it was making fire in her go even wild but moving herself doing something was making her a lot better then to stop and be tortured by the surge of pleasure in her body.

If not for the fact she didn't learn about the basic huwman reproduction, Innocent Alex would have long since fallen under this big bad hungry wolf.

"You really tainted the innocent soul of mine."

Alex seeing her such a cute action couldn't help but speak out.

Liora is beautiful that is no doubt but he has also been with many such and more beautiful women like Alia and Helen.

Yet when it comes to the Liora, Her pure raw aura and unfiltered emotions just carry a unique charm to herself.

It was even competing with Sandra's charm, The proper Female lead of her own plot.

So with the beauty of a top class heroine with added touch charm compared to a Female lead was a fatal combo for anyone.

Even Alex was enchanted by her beauty with her such small actions.

'If she is such a beautiful woman then how beautiful would her cousin Belladonna be?'

While appreciating the beauty of Liora, He couldn't help but think of Belladonna, who is said to be lethally beautiful.

'Wait!? What am I doing? I had Liora begging to be eaten yet I was thinking of that far away scourge, Which can't be eaten.'

Alex quickly snapped out and crushed the dangerous thoughts of bending that Nightshade.

If he really dared to bend her, Then it would not be long that he would be bent and stored into a small dark place as her beloved fiance.

Because that flower is beautiful but can only be appreciated from far away, At least for now. Plus why would he yearn for something he can't touch yet, When he was surrounded by the beauties throwing themselves onto him?

So he put the thoughts of Belladonna back at his head, While putting his focus back on Liora who looked at him with slight guilt with a touch of resentment.

"Okay, Okay, Jeez don't make me look like I stole candy from you."

First thing Alex saw was that Liora with her misty eyes staring down at him waiting for him to do something but he didn't make any move.

This really pissed her off, As the moment his suddenly unusual warm hands grabbed her back side.

It sent shivers through her body, Her front hole also quivered making her restless.

She might also have slight liquid discharged and not knowing what it was she of course assumed she peed on him making her even more embarrassed.

It's just that she could comprehend what happened. The sensation of thousands if not millions of fire ants marching in her delicate place and biting down spread throughout her body.

But surprisingly she was not feeling something bad rather for some reason she quite enjoyed this feeling and more knowing Alex was gonna do something, It just made even more pleasurable for her.

It's just when he didn't make any more move aftermath, She thought he was once again teasing her, making her more angry and desperate, racking her mind to think of a way make him agree to do something with itchiness for the southern reason of hers.

"....Can you move a bit? I can't do much if you plan to sit on me all day."

Alex seeing he is really pushing her too much, So much that if do any more he would have starred in the crime documentary as until it wasn't voiceover on an inverse photo of his as victim.

||||

Liora just stared at him, refusing to move, rather she clenched her big thighs around his waist, clearly stating she would not move from his crotch.

She has even become alert, ready to fight like a beast defending her territory.

"Sigh Okay don't move but can you at least unbuckle my pants? You know it's uncomfortable being like this."

Seeing the firm look of hers, Alex really didn't want to use strength against her.

Because first he can't out perform her in it, As she no normal S-Rank, If he try to do it then even in this form of hers she would overpower him.

2nd thing being the one that she related to the Belladonna, And so has their unique traits like hers.

If he really made her do something she didn't want, Then she might just snap out and in frustration destroy the whole city.

She would not hurt him but that's only because of her affection towards him now. For other huwomans, She has the same level of empathy as we do to that 0.01% remains of germs, close to non-existent.

So there is a very high chance that she would wipe out this city from the map just because he didn't give her what she wanted.

She threw such a tantrum before, Though she did it in the forbidden land, It wiped out huge chunks of forest.

Hence why he didn't want to take any risk. He can tease her as much as he wants when he fully trains this beast of a woman but until then he is paying with his body for the greater good for huwomankind.

"O-Okay."

Liora, hearing his words, readily agreed with a fearful look in her eyes.

Don't be misunderstood, That fear of hers is not fear of strong rather fear of making him angry at her as she already did a big taboo of going against the wishes of her man. After all, even if she didn't know about the basics of reproduction, she still remembers what her mother told her before that the key to a happy relationship is to keep your man happy. Even in her chaotic mind she knows she fucked up when she strongly undermined his wishes, Which would leave bad impression of hers on him especially this being their first meeting making him angry at her.

So when she heard no anger or dissatisfaction from his words, She sighed in relief and without any questions just agreed, After which she reached out below her before she quickly unbuckled his pants and by instinct slid it down.

Plop Smack

Just as the bondage of pants were lifted up, His manhood popped out like a released spring smacking directly on the smooth flat stomach of Liora.

"Ho-how come it is this big?"

(A/N: Sorry guys for the delay, I would post the full reason in discord if you wanted the reason for it.

But in summary I decided to take a break on Sat-Sun two days of week while making sure there would be 10 chapters (2 per day) from next Monday. Hope you're gonna like this new schedule.

Chapter 339: 337. How To Train Dragons IV (R-18)

Alex couldn't help but utter these words seeing the size of his erected tower.

That's right it was not Liora who was flabbergasted seeing the sheer size of his tool, rather it was Alex couldn't comprehend how big it's little brother has become.

To be fair, how could he not be surprised by it?

The moment Liora unleashed that roaring giant it spring out and slammed on to her smooth flat smooth.

Yeah, Not onto her nether region nor pelvis, It even crossed her cute bellybutton nearly touching her two perky mounds.

And that's not it, He can feel the surge of energy running through in it telling him it was not even its final size.

'Hey hey hey system came out quickly, This "Perfect D" is malfunctioning here.'

Alex, afraid of something terrible happening, couldn't help but to call out the system in his mind.

Normally he didn't like to be disturbed when he was raiding women but he can't help it now.

Though "Perfect D" indeed changes the size depending on the preference of women he is with but there is something wrong here.

Given by his schlong already 12+ inches size and still going to increase even more to who knows to what degree.

He is afraid that he would end up impaling Liora with his ding dong, Though it sounds funny to hear it, He really didn't want that to happen.

As for Liora, is this a perfect size?

That's nonsense. No matter how broken this woman is, She is still huwoman, And because of that, she has limitations of the huwomans.

Average size of vagina here is just 5 to 5.5 inches and even considering these women in his room are different breeds it would be a max of a few inches difference not 2 to 4 times from the normal ones.

[Ding! Host please don't be alarmed, It's impossible for system given things to malfunction, Your skills are working totally fine.

You may be startled because normally the "Perfect D" changes size inside of the women to give them pleasure to the fullest.

But because right now only Liora around you is fully conscious and is trying to copulate with you, The "Perfect D" skill was triggered to fulfill her demands.

And because she is into not only physical but also visual stimulation of seeing the size, Your manhood increased to this degree outside of the body.

Though it doesn't look normal but don't be a worried host. It is perfectly normal in her eyes.

Also don't be worried about getting lightheaded because of blood flowing down there, It would be counterbalanced by skill itself without costing you.]

System responded quickly seeing how troubled Alex became.

It gave Alex a reasonable and perfect answer to calm him down as much as it can but Alex still not convinced it.

Not that he don't trust system words, What he most worried about is the girl looking down at his schlong being supported on her abdomen with curiosity and hunger.

If the size was around 10 or even 12 inches max, Alex would still thought about the possibility of her having the spacial physique which helps her to take this big thing inside her.

But 12 inches does not limit here, He can feel it would be added more inches when it's insides her making it around 18+ inches.

What would 18 inches mean? One can imagine that the weight of it would be around 800 to 900 grams when fully erected.

At that point calling it third leg would not be a slang but a fact.

'Wait! Getting light headed is not the issue here, I am afraid for her safety, Not every wants and desires should be fulfilled, she would die if not get seriously injured if I tried to put it inside her.'

Alex asked the system hurriedly as he saw hunger in Liora's eyes was increasing.

It would not take long for her to figure out what to do with the his hot rod on her abdomen.

And once that happened he really couldn't stop her, Which would end up injuring her if she went rough and put all of it inside her with force, Which by her personality she definitely would.

He already has "D protection", So his D would not be harmed but that is just going to make it more painful to her.

Because if she forcefully pushed in her then it would be like she shoving an unbreakable object inside her, With her strength it would either tear or push her other organs apart.

Even if he has remaining uses of Holy Blessing which would heal her but how many times can he use it?

Because with each push she would get injured and with injury she would be on the blink of bleeding out.

[Ding! Host, There are protection measures in the system, It would limit the uses and powers so that you would not unintentionally harm them.

So the size chosen by "Perfect D" is perfect for her, Not only it would give her utmost pleasure but it would also not harm her even slightest, of course unless the host wants to do so.]

System once again answered Alex without any issue and cleared its name.

System has safety measures in play to avoid the same danger Alex is talking about harming others unintentionally because of his passives and skills.

That's why even when his charm crossed more than 10 times over the beauty standards of this world, People did not lose their mind and go crazy being in his presence.

It was all because the system made sure to contain and release its effects depending on people's capacity to handle it.

There are cases like Xin Yan who pass out by his mere touch but that's not system faults, It's her personality that makes her weak to the charm of his.

'But ho-'

Alex is still not convinced. It's about 18 inches. Right now it's just 12 inches and it was half the length of her abdomen, Long past the vagina limits.

If there was 18 inches, He would be really shifting her insides physically.

[Ding! Host, She is not huwoman.]

System just came out and dropped the bomb, cutting Alex mid-speech.

(A/N: Yes, the 2nd chapter is coming soon too, I have not forgotten about it.

Chapter 340: 338. How To Train Your Dragon V (R-18)

"A-Alex, I-I wa-no need it."

A lustful desperate voice rang in Alex ears making him hurriedly looked towards Liora who was with that desire filled eyes grasping his manhood in her quite soft warm hands.

"Hey hey, wait a minute Liora. Let my little friend go. It's not a stress ball to squeeze it like that, We can talk about it, You let it go first."

Alex, seeing what Liora was holding, broke out in cold sweat. He even ignored how soft and comforting her hands were, grasping around his tool is feeling, which was surprising as most of the time she spent in the wilderness.

But he didn't pay any attention to it, Rather he focused more on the fact what she was doing with his manhood.

She did not know what to do with the sudden hot hard thing hitting her stomach.

So she just grasped it, warping her delicate fingers around it and was using it as a stress ball squishing it with her both hands trying to quench down the blazing inferno inside her.

Though the strength she was using was not that much but it was steadily increasing with each second clenching it like an iron claws.

Yeah he kinda likes the sensation of her action but if this goes on, She might just yanked out from his body out of fustrstion.

Even if there is "D Protection" which would make it impossible for that to happen but physiological impact just imagine she trying to yank his precious treasure was too much for him to allow it.

So he not only spoke up in panic but also caught her wrists with his both hands in fear she might do something out of spite because that's her core nature.

If she can't get it by asking then she has no problem with taking it by force either.

"....Noo...-okay"

Like Alex feared Liore's first reaction of him stopping her was that to overbearingly or at least trying to sound overbearing with her current gasping husky voice deny it.

Alex was even feared that if he was not holding her wrists down she might really try to pull it out.

It's just for whatever reason, She changed her mind mid speech and then in a low nearly inaudible voice actually agreed to his demand.

'Mother said not to disagree with my mate when his pants are off because doing so is not right.'

Liora complies with Alex's demand as she remembered her mother saying to her a long time ago.

Though her mother did not spend that much time with her but little time they spent was imprinted on a simple mind of hers.

She even in her excited state remembers the forbidden state by her mother.

Which was not that many things either, It just revolves around don't disagreeing with her man especially when they are in a vulnerable state for you.

There was also a reason why her mother told her to do that. It was something related to fulfilling the last wishes or something but she currently doesn't have any mental capacity to think about it.

"Huh...Well okay, Now let me make something clear before we proceed further, And that is you are the one who forced yourself upon me, so you have to take full responsibility for it afterwards."

Alex breathes a sigh of relief when Liora actually agrees with him other than throwing a tantrum.

Though confused he didn't dwell on the subject much as he decided to make sure to let Liora take full responsibility here.

After all, She technically forced herself on him. It didn't matter that he was the reason she did that as no one was going to question it.

"Okay I agree, I take full responsibility for this."

Liora, unknown to the fact that the man she was taking responsibility for is the fiancée, The obsession of her most feared and diabolical cousin Belladonna, just agrees with it without even a giving single thought.

"Hey you said it, You are not allowed to go back."

Alex quickly spoke up, grasping the jail free card so generously given to him by her. How can he let go of the license to do whatever he wants without any consequences?

If that women came to ask him explanation about it, He can just point it towards Liora and let these two cousins sort it out on their own. After all it is their family matter.

"I-I am the woman of my word, I would never go back from it- "

"Okay then come here"

"Kyaah!~ Mummmhhhh!!"

Liora straightens her chest showing the riches of twins as those firm ones jiggle with those two erected cherry's adding more charm to her confident aura.

It's just that the moment she spoke it, Alex smirked with a devilish grin as he quickly pulled the unprepared Liora downwards towards him by the wrists was holding.

Liora suddenly being yanked like this out of nowhere once again released that high pitched cute shriek which was completely opposite to her confident overbearing personality. Which is quite embarrassing to her as he made her do this 2nd time. This time however she wanted to complain to him about it.

She is an S-Rank on top of being the noble birth, When she was treated like such?

But when she parted her rosy lips to speak, A warm soft thing sealed hers off.

She opened her eyes in shock, Just to see that breathtaking face in front of hers making her unable to hold back the flame of desire losing all control over her remaining sanity.

Her misty eyes quickly closed as she try to respond to the unexpected welcome guest charted through her delicate mouth breaking her fragile defenses.

She, not knowing what to do, acted like a thirsty beast, going rough, sticking her own pink tongue to greet the invader colloiling with it, savoring the addicting taste.

Her two hands were not ideal, They frantically venture around Alex's smooth cheeks, to his neck to back to his luscious ebony hair like a maniac.

"MmmmmmmAhhggmmm...."

Liora moned as Alex left hand pushed her down into a passionate deep kiss, While his right hand glide on her smooth back sending shivers of pleasure throughout her whole being making her more and more restless.

Her plump naked body twisted and turned laying off to his half naked one trying to quench the itching she was feeling in her dripping lower lips.

Moving her waist and so her bubbly buttocks lying on top of him.

'Fuck'

(A/N: Sorry for the delay guys, I am really going through some stuff these days, But don't worry like I said before, I would do my best to upload 10 chapters a week (2 chapters per day) yesterday.

Sorry for not informing you about the delay as I thought it's better to give a updates then to give the promises which I am having a hard time following through these days.

I would try my best not to let this happen again, And once again sorry and thank you for your patience with lazy and unreliable author

On another note lets just enjoy the R-18 of raiding the tiger or dragonor maybe bothz alright?
