

ALMIGHTY SWEET QUEEN IS REALLY RICH!

Chapter 4 - 04 Dizzy

The middle-aged man bumped into the corner of the table, instantly scraping his arm and revealing a gash, with blood flowing like a puddle.

Su Li couldn't help but look up, glancing, and was so frightened that the wine glass in her hand shook.

The rich wine spilled onto the dark red carpet beneath her feet, emanating a nauseating smell.

The carpet was dyed black by the wine!

Su Li's face became as pale as paper; the poisoned drink was actually in her hands!

"Little one, you're quite naughty, I told you not to look." The man's teasing voice sounded above her, like a mountain spring.

Su Li stared blankly at her man, who was indifferent and supremely beautiful.

"I... I..."

Su Li's eyes showed an insane change, her eyelids flipped, and she couldn't stand it anymore and fainted.

Feng Huaijin raised an eyebrow, looking at the youth lying on the sofa.

Frightened into a faint?

The little one's courage is quite small...

The room fell into a dead silence; everyone was on edge.

Feng Huaijin looked at the rich men with interest, his eyes flashing lightly: "I don't care if you received orders from Fourth Feng to poison me."

Everyone broke out in a cold sweat.

"I don't care what Jiang City was like before," the man's voice paused as his gaze fell on the fainted youth in his arms, his tone cold: "But now that I'm here in Jiang City, all business rules must be set by me!"

Feng Huaijin's words were powerful, like a king, making people want to kneel and worship, seek approval!

If you disobey, the people on the ground are your end.

Everyone felt a chill from their feet rushing to their heads!

This Seventh Master Feng is a madman!

One by one, they nodded like pounding garlic, not daring to act rashly anymore.

The man said calmly: "Get out."

A group of people and the bar princesses all ran away with their tails between their legs, while the bar security hurriedly dragged away the man clutching his belly and howling in pain on the ground.

At the doorway stood a handsome young man, saying: "Brother Qi, how did you know..."

Feng Huaijin looked at the youth in his arms, and with a half-smile, said: "A little one came to rescue."

If it weren't for this little one, he wouldn't have noticed that someone wanted to make a move on him so soon. He just arrived in Jiang City today.

The young man's cheeks twitched, and he exaggeratedly said: "Brother Qi, you weren't exiled to Jiang City, this godforsaken place, and had an orientation problem, did you? This is a man!"

Feng Huaijin reached out to lightly pull on the girl's wig, and thick, silky hair cascaded down like a waterfall, gently brushing his fingers and stirring an elusive feeling.

It's a woman!

Feng Huaijin let out a light laugh from his throat, the frustration in his heart instantly vanished, and he carried Su Li horizontally and walked out, saying: "Bring her backpack."

"Huh? Bring the backpack? Brother Qi, where are we going? I'm not familiar with Jiang City either."

Feng Huaijin tightened his hold on the fainted Su Li, striding towards the outside of Emperor Bar, leaving a word: "Get a room."

Brother Qi is in good shape; just arrived in this broken place, Jiang City, and is going to pick up girls again?

...

Because today is the college entrance exam, Su Li unconsciously woke up, stretched lazily, and let out a comfortable sigh.

A handsome face in front of her was magnified several times, Su Li immediately sat up: "Who... who are you?!"

This seems like... future child's father?

The man opened his deep, pond-like phoenix eyes, his gaze falling on her, and said word by word: "My name is Feng Huaijin."
