

ALMIGHTY SWEET QUEEN IS REALLY RICH!

Chapter 8 - 08: Mommy, I Was Wrong

Is this... the standard answer for the college entrance exam?

Su Li stared wide-eyed. Didn't she work so hard preparing just for this exam?

If she looked at this answer sheet, she would definitely be this year's top scorer.

What's more, she desperately needed a good score to return to the Chu Family, where she had lived for eighteen years.

The overwhelming temptation was crazily driving her to open that document!

Her parents from the Chu Family looked at her strangely, and her teacher urged her to hurry into the examination hall.

Su Li took a deep breath and typed a reply on the keyboard.

[Su Li: Tuanzi, this is cheating, it's not fair to other hard-working students, I can achieve good scores on my own. I won't look at this answer.]

[Tuanzi Loves Mama Best: ...Mama, I was wrong o(T-T) ♫ , please don't hate Tuanzi, sniff sniff. Tuanzi is a good baby who has never cheated in exams. T^T]

Su Li smiled gently, turned off her phone, and handed it to the teacher in charge of collecting phones before she walked into the exam hall.

Upon entering the hall, the invigilator at the door checked Su Li with a metal detector. The invigilating teacher glanced at Su Li's eyes and was suddenly surprised: "Your eyes..."

Are they light purple?

Su Li lifted her scallion-like hand to touch her bright eyes and said vaguely, "Teacher, I'm a bit nearsighted and am wearing contact lenses."

The invigilating teacher was not suspicious, urging Su Li to hurry into the exam hall as there were only a few minutes before the test started!

Su Li sat at her seat, looked at the test sheet being handed out, took a deep breath, and silently said to herself, "Come on!"

...

Across the street from the examination hall, under the lush green trees, inside a sleek black car.

"Brother Qi, you won't have a new target right after arriving in Jiang City, will you? This time targeting a pretty, young high school girl?" The young man in the driver's seat chewed gum and asked.

The man watched the distant exam hall with great interest and asked meaningfully, "Xiao Heng, do you know why I kicked that man last night?"

Xiao Heng suddenly turned his head, his dark eyes staring intently at Feng Huaijin, "I also want to know why! Brother Qi, how did you know there was a problem?"

Feng Huaijin's jade-like, slender fingers gently rubbed his knee as he calmly replied, "Su Li told me."

Su Li?

Just now... Xiao Heng suddenly slapped his forehead, realizing: "C-cup guy."

Xiao Heng's eyes gradually gathered a cold mist, "How exactly does Su Li know? Could she be sent by Fourth Feng's side to deceive us on purpose?"

Feng Huaijin looked out the window with interest, his finger brushed lightly along his jaw, he wanted to know too.

How did that woman know someone was going to poison him?

Last night he searched her himself, and she seemed to be just an ordinary girl, with no guns or knives, nor any hidden drugs.

Feng Huaijin looked at his fingertips that he had lightly brushed over last night, his thin lips curled into a playful smile.

He seemed to envision the girl's slumbering form clutching a quilt; Feng Huaijin's Adam's apple moved slightly, unconsciously tugging at his necktie, "Turn the air conditioning down a bit, it's kind of hot."

Xiao Heng quickly responded: "Ah? Okay."

"Brother Qi, Fourth Feng's side is too malicious, right? We just arrived in Jiang City yesterday, and they're poisoning us and making little beauties set up false appearances."

Feng Huaijin looked at the already commenced college entrance exam hall, smiled intriguingly, but did not answer.

"Brother Qi, we didn't come to Jiang City to find..." Xiao Heng encountered the man's slightly chilling eyes in the rearview mirror and immediately shut up.

If it weren't for that person drawing them to Jiang City, no one could drive Feng Huaijin out of An City!