

The 80s 470

Chapter 470: Let's Be Clear About It

Ning Ge took the pen that Cheng Su had flung at him with both hands; the ink even smeared his hand, which made him grimace and say, "Come on, President Cheng, we're all so familiar with each other, there's no need for such a greeting!"

The others snickered behind their lips.

But Cheng Su just sneered, "Familiar with you? Who are you to me, the guy who fishes for three days and dries nets for two?"

Ning Ge chuckled and rubbed his head, "Don't be like that; I was only gone for a few days. I believe that even without me, President Cheng, you can still manage the company perfectly well. Right?"

Cheng Su's face darkened.

Ying Xiaoya then said, "You're wrong there; without you, a big mess broke out in our company!"

Ning Ge was taken aback and noticed for the first time the serious expressions on everyone's faces. He put his bag down and asked, "What happened?"

The company also belonged to him. Even if his heart wasn't in it, he always had a responsibility. If something went wrong, he had to take his share of the burden.

Ying Xiaoya, always quick to speak, had been waiting for Ning Ge to ask, and she immediately spilled all the troubles the company had been facing recently.

"What? They used such despicable tricks, attacking us in secret? That's just disgusting!" Ning Ge was immediately furious, "Where's Chen Zhiqian? Call him over here; I want to see for myself who's behind this and who dares mess with us, not knowing there's a piece of the company that belongs to me, Young Master Four!"

"Quit your nonsense; sit down first. We were just about to discuss how to handle this," Cheng Su scolded him, but knowing the gravity of the situation, she gestured toward a chair with her mouth.

Ning Ge sat down and said, "No need to say more; my approach is tit for tat..." Seeing Cheng Su's glance turning frosty, he quickly added, "I mean aboveboard! We won't use underhanded tactics; we'll fight openly."

"President Ning, what do you mean by fighting openly?" Ying Xiaoya said, eager to take action.

"They resort to such tactics in hopes of dragging our company's reputation through the mud and making the public lose confidence in our products, right? Well, we can do that too. We'll expose the person behind this, make an announcement, firstly to prove our innocence, and secondly, to shame the other party," Ning Ge explained.

"As if it's that easy," Ying Xiaoya rolled her eyes, "Chen Zhiqian said all he saw were some punks; he has no idea who's pulling the strings behind the scenes! You think they'll be stupid enough to give their names so they can be caught red-handed?"

Ning Ge chuckled, "That's where you're wrong. There's an old saying: 'If you don't want anyone to know, don't do it.' Whoever did this will definitely have left some traces behind. Just follow the trail, and how could we not find the person responsible? Don't worry, I'm good at this kind of thing. Leave it to me."

Cheng Su frowned, "You're taking care of this? How exactly? Just don't go pulling any of your shenanigans!"

At that remark, Ning Ge and Ying Xiaoya simultaneously touched their ears, their expressions somewhat sheepish, leaving Wang Bo and Zhu Lifen quite puzzled.

"Don't worry, I know my limits. Each to his own way; I'll definitely be able to find that person. Just get ready to issue the statement!" Ning Ge said with confidence, "Just hand Chen Zhiqian and his brother over to me, and we're set!"

Cheng Su thought for a moment and finally nodded.

The company belonged to both of them; since trouble had arisen, everyone should lend a hand. With Ning Ge leading the charge and her tidying up behind, a combined force would surely surmount the crisis.

"Go see if Chen Zhiqian has arrived. Call him over!" Cheng Su instructed Mai Yanmei.
