

The 80s 496

Chapter 496: Deputy Battalion Commander Dong Is Disgraced

Qi Taiguo's resentment towards Chiang Qing lasted until the next day, and at lunchtime in the cafeteria, Chiang Qing even boldly took a seat across from Qi Taiguo.

There was a moment of silence in the cafeteria, which quickly returned to its usual clamor.

Qi Taiguo dropped his iron spoon and looked at Chiang Qing with not a trace of a smile on his face or in his eyes, and said, "Doctor Chiang, what do you mean by this?"

"What's wrong?" Chiang Qing batted her large innocent eyes and said, "Surely Commander Qi doesn't think I shouldn't sit here?"

Qi Taiguo glanced around, leaned in slightly and said, "What are you trying to do? You went to my home last night, and now you're sitting here."

"Isn't this just a visit to you all? What, could it be that your wife isn't happy? Is that all the tolerance she has?" Chiang Qing toyed with the spoon in her hand with a face full of mockery.

"Watch your language," Qi Taiguo said. "Whatever it is you're planning, it's impossible for things to happen like you said. Doctor Chiang, I advise you to stop wasting your efforts."

Chiang Qing continued to smile, "I don't understand what you're saying, Commander Qi. What futile effort am I making?"

Qi Taiguo looked at the woman speechlessly, thinking to himself that he had never before seen a woman so brazen. She's normally so proud, but why is she so shameless when it comes to him?

"If Doctor Chiang likes to flirt with married men, I'm sure Deputy Battalion Commander Dong would be very happy to oblige you. Enjoy your meal!" As Qi Taiguo saw Dong Jun approaching, the corner of his mouth slightly curled. He picked up his tray and, without caring about Chiang Qing's mortified expression, left.

Chiang Qing glared at Qi Taiguo's retreating figure, her eyes almost shooting flames. What did he mean by that? Was he implying that she was degrading herself?

"Doctor Chiang, do you mind if I sit here? You today..." Dong Jun put down his food tray and opened his mouth with a smile.

"Get lost! Who asked you to come over here?" Chiang Qing suddenly exploded, throwing the spoon in her hand towards Dong Jun's tray.

Clang.

The stainless-steel spoon hit the stainless-steel tray, creating a loud noise, and the cafeteria suddenly went quiet.

And Chiang Qing, instantly sobered by her actions, looked at Dong Jun, shocked, her face flushing red as she quickly stood up, "I'm sorry," and ran off.

There was a buzz of conversation among the crowd.

Dong Jun was embarrassed and his face turned iron green. He glanced coldly at the soldiers looking their way and barked, "What are you looking at? Eat your meals!"

Internally, he resented Chiang Qing to the extreme. If not for her family's sake, would he lower his dignity to cater to this spoiled brat's tantrums? In his dreams!

Chiang Qing rushed out of the cafeteria, back to her private office, laid her head on the desk, and started to sob quietly.

She hadn't expected that she would ever lose control of her emotions. What was all this for?

Qi Taiguo, how dare he, how dare he treat her like this, the bastard!

Chiang Qing grabbed the phone, dialed a number, and as soon as the person on the other end picked up, she burst into tears.

"Mom, I can't take it any longer, Mom!"

On the other side of the phone, Lu Shufen, the director of the Yanjing Cultural Work Troupe, stood up abruptly upon hearing her precious daughter wailing, "Qingqing? What's wrong? Who bullied you? Is it too hard in Qing City? I'll have your dad bring you back right away!"

"Mom, I'm not leaving, I want to stay here. Mom, I've fallen for someone, but, but not only does he not like me, he has insulted and bullied me, Mom!" The more Chiang Qing thought about Qi Taiguo's attitude, the sadder she got and the louder she cried.

She had never been treated like this before. She always got everything her way, but with Qi Taiguo it was different; repeatedly she was met with nothing but disdain. Who did he think he was!
