

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 1

Ji'lahni's POV:

Mina! "Where the hell are we? We're in the middle of nowhere." I yelled. "We're about to come up missing out here in these damn woods!" Shawna whined from the back seat. "Ji'lahni, I swear this is where the address you gave me took us. I followed the directions on the GPS exactly." Mina said, looking confused and a little scared. We had been driving since four A.M this morning and it was now almost seven P.M and we still hadn't made it to the Crystal Wolf Lake Reserve. I'm pretty sure that my legs are numb, and my a*s died four hours ago. We were supposed to be performing for a mating anniversary and also planning something they called a mating ceremony for our good friend Lateri Crystal.

She took our dance class to spruce up her love life six months ago. She was sixty years old, but she aged beautifully. She looked at least forty-five. She had long beautiful curly brown hair, hazel eyes that changed color whenever she was excited, or happy when she got a tough dance move, or a compliment when she remembered the choreography. She had beautiful tanned skin that looked like it had a golden glow. We became her instant daughters. She called us every Wednesday night at the same time, and we would talk for hours. She really has become important to us since we had no family left. It was just the three of us and Lynn. Our entire family died in an accidental fire during Christmas seven years ago. Mina was sixteen, me and Shawna were eighteen and we have been together ever since. It's weird that they call it a mating ceremony instead of just saying a wedding, but oh well, with the money they're paying us. They can call it whatever the hell they want.

Me and my cousins were the owners and operators of JMS Wedding planning and also owners of JMS dance studio for BBW women like us. We mostly dance to sexy sensual, hip-hop, r&b, and even some pop music. We each had our own specialty. Mina was hip hop r Shawna was r&b and pop, and as for me, I do sensual and r&b. We also added self-defense classes with our best friend Lynn who is a bad a*s at everything crossbow, shooting, sword, and martial arts, and yes, she's BBW as well. We met her in college, and we have been training with her for the past five years. Yes, we can do it all. We have to work twice as hard, and we have our limits, but we always said work smarter not harder. So, we had to learn how to use our skills differently.

We train every day and although we're not as good as Lynn, please UNDERSTAND, we can damn sure make her a*s stumble. And that's saying a lot since she was black and Asian who has been training since she came out of the womb. She would have been here with us in this damn forest, but she had family stuff to deal with, so she won't get here until tomorrow. But we do have her toys in the trunk just in case we have to f**k some s**t up out here. We're supposed to be staying here for the next three weeks until the wedding because we live too far away to make two trips. Again, they paid us so well that we would have stayed longer if they asked. We don't know much about the bride. Lateri's son is married. I really don't think Lateri likes her all that well. Because while she was taking our class she would roll her eyes at the mention of her daughter N law, and I don't ever think she told us her name until she asked us to do the mating ceremony. But she loved her son and talked about Makahi Crystal every single time we were on the phone with her.

She said it was time that he settled down and started a family, since him and the name we cannot mention have been dating for three years it was time they sealed the deal even if she doesn't like her "uppity a*s," her words not mine. She was hoping that he would find his Luna. She called it. And don't ask me what that means, because I don't know but, given this is a mating ceremony, I just figured it must be a cultural thing, she seemed like an earthy type of person who walks barefoot outside and preferred sleeping outside on the ground and living off the land so to speak.

Far different from our southern asses. Don't get me wrong, we're country and definitely know how to farm, cook, garden, and build things to survive. We learned that from our grandparents and parents, but that was a different time for them and even though we lived that way, we also evolved as well, so we not doing none of that survival s**t unless we have to, like an apocalypse or some s**t. But about three months ago, Lateri called me and asked that we do her son's wedding, sorry mating and performed for her anniversary. We essentially declined, due to the fact that she was halfway across the country, and we would be losing money if we tried to plan that at our own rate. But she wouldn't take no for an answer and offered us damn near what we would make in a year.

So here we are. We flew as far as we could and rented a car to travel the rest of the way, which is where we are at the present time, lost as hell. "Look pull over so we can get Lynn's guns out the trunk, because it's getting dark and although I'll be scared as hell even with a gun, hopefully fear will make me pull the trigger and not freeze and be mauled by a bear or a damn mountain lion. That would be some f****d up s**t for three Black women to be killed in a damn forest. You know damn well black folks don't do forest at night. Hell, not even in daylight if we think big a*s animals are in them." Mina pulled over and I hopped out to get Lynn's bags. "Get the knives too, so we are gonna be tomb raiders out here." Shawna said. Mina looked at Shawna through the rear-view mirror, frowning. "And what the hell you gonna do with those knives? Yeah, you know how to use them, but you know damn well you hate violence of any kind." Mina teased.

Shawna hated conflict. She was quiet, reserved, avoided arguing, and hated drama. Mina, on the other hand, was smart-mouthed and could back it up. As for me, I observe and speak only when spoken to. You get the same energy you give me. I don't like to fight, but I will if you cross the line, and we always protect each other no matter what. Getting back in the car, handing Shawna the bag of goodies, I said, "Here I just got the whole bag, I'm not standing out there for a long time trying to find that stuff. "Damn that s**t is heavy, Lynn's planning on working our asses to death. I thought we would catch a short break for three weeks, but she damn near brought everything she has in her studio." Shawna sighed heavily. "You already know, Lynn's not giving us no damn break. You do remember what happened last year when we took a week off to vacation in the Bahamas.

We damn near died when we got back in the studio, especially because we did our classes, and then we thought we could train with her after that.” I shuddered at the remembered pain in every part of my body, fingernails included. We literally had to crawl into our apartment every day for two weeks straight. I feel like at least two of those nights we just slept at the front door until after two am. I thought to myself. After another half hour, I had dozed off because I was exhausted. We had literally been up for three days straight prepping, planning, and organizing for this trip. Mina hit me saying, “Hey look, I think I see something that looks like some kind of guard shack.” Hopping up on full alert, praying that we had finally made it.

“Thank God I hope we’re in the right place or they can tell us where to go. Shawna zip the weapons back up halfway just in case you need to move quickly if they try and kidnap us.” I said half serious, because you never know in these damn woods, but here we f*****g go. I don’t know why, but I feel like this is about to be some weird s**t we’re not used to.

I hope we’re not walking into some type of hippy weird stuff, where folk walk around with their a*s, titties, and d**s out and be having s*x with any and everyone. I may be open-minded and respect people’s culture, but don’t think I’m joining in none of that s**t, even though Mina and Shawna would definitely consider it, because they were some damn horny Bitches. But anyway, here goes nothing.

Makahi: POV

“KAHI! Are you even listening?!” My mother yelled so loudly on the phone that even my Beta Montego flinched. Sighing, “Yes mom I heard you, but I told you I have a call with the other alphas in this region because of the recent rogue attacks. We’re trying to figure out if they are growing in numbers and are planning an even bigger attack. I asked you to postpone the ceremony until we have this thing sorted out.” I growled into the phone, not happy at all that I couldn’t get her to change her mind about inviting human women to our pack lands because they are far too weak to protect themselves and I will have to command all unmated males to not touch them. As well as make sure the children don’t turn in front of them. God forbid if they saw one of us turn into a Wolf that would be a nightmare to clean up. Some humans know about our kind, but it’s mostly those who do business with us or had a run in with a random rogue but for the most part, humans don’t know about werewolves, and we prefer to keep it that way.

Still yelling “Kahi, I told you how important this was to me, and we need to expose our children to humans while they are young and teach them how to act when they encounter them. I realized that we knew very little about humans when your father stepped down as alpha and we went on a yearlong road trip visiting our relatives in other packs and sightseeing, which is how I met my beautiful chocolate drops. Besides, we’re the strongest pack in this damn country. No rogue wolf would dare think of breaching our borders. We became the most feared pack in the country by being smart and also training our pups as soon as they learned to walk. That happened because of your great grandparents, grandparents, your parents and now you, as the Alpha of Crystal Wolf Lake, is why no one is worried about a few rogue attacks hundreds of miles away.” My mother said with confidence.

Which was very true we were said to be the strongest and the most feared because of our strength and our ability to stay ten steps ahead of our enemies, which all it really took was to observe and learn your enemy and plan and execute them before they even know we were there. That's how those before me did it and that's how I do it, which is why this phone call was so important. I need every piece of information down to what those rogues were wearing. Yes, I'm that thorough." Hearing my mother sighing again, I snapped out of my thoughts.

"Besides Kahi, I really miss my girls. We talk every week. I feel like I know them, just like I know you. They're so beautiful with their milk chocolate skin and deep, blue-colored eyes except my Lynn. She's more caramel with dark chocolate eyes, and they are quite curvy as well, not like that skin and bones you're mating, but they're big girls who are smart, funny, very light on their feet for being humans, but they're total sweethearts and we bonded during our stay in South Carolina. They are like the daughters I never had." My mother said sadly. Rolling my eyes. "You wouldn't feel that way if you gave Summer a chance, she will be your daughter in a few weeks." I responded.

I smiled because I could literally hear my mother roll her eyes so hard through the phone. "Listen, I told you I'd be civil towards her because you're going to mate her and have me some grandbabies, but that's all you're gonna get. She is very rude, disrespectful, has no empathy or compassion, for none of the women in our pack, she doesn't spend time with none of the other pack members besides her uppity a*s friends. Do you know she hasn't started her Luna training yet, and that's a big job because being a Luna isn't about having a pretty face. You have to know how to connect with the entire pack and make sure that they're nurtured because the Luna is the heart of the entire pack."

My mother finished in a stressful tone. I sighed in frustration because I knew she was right. Summer has been putting off training and is totally focused on herself and her friends' dresses and what they want the mating ceremony to look like they want a big glamorous mating ceremony. We have argued more times about that in the last few weeks then we've ever argued. Summer was easily the prettiest alpha female in our pack, but she was also a skilled fighter and although she doesn't show it often or hardly ever, she was really smart and kind when she wanted to.

Nobody thought that we would last because we are polar opposites. I'm your typical alpha, like a quiet storm reserved, feared, strong and protective of everyone within my borders. I have been known to show compassion on occasions, but I needed my members to respect me as their alpha and not their friend. So, no one was happy about me and summer's mating ceremony, especially my mother, but once she found out what Summer had in mind for our mating, I thought my mother would blow a gasket, but she took that as the perfect opportunity to invite these human females, which Summer was so shocked at my mother's excitement that she accepted without thinking twice.

She real life thought she had finally softened my mother up and finally got her acceptance, which was far from reality, but she was so happy I couldn't tell her the truth, so I made a deal with my mother that if she would be civil to Summer until the mating, then she could hire her precious humans. Which she readily agreed. With everything that Summer wanted for our ceremony, we will be flat broke once it's over.

This ceremony is so far out of the realm of the normal, which is usually our pack gathering at our moon goddess's sacred grounds, which is a magical area surrounded by four big Boulders that were blessed by the moon goddess thousands of years ago with a mating stone in the center of the grounds. It is also where we go. The magic and power on the night of the full moon is when we're the strongest. Although we are strong even without a full moon, we're five times stronger during a full moon. During a mating ceremony, we declare our bond to the moon goddess and ask for her blessing. Then we slice our hand and press it against the mating stone in the center of the circle while our elderly performs the mating ritual by speaking the language of old. When the stone glows, we know that the moon goddess has accepted our chosen mate.

We then seal the mating ceremony by marking each other in human and then in wolf form. Once the mating is complete, everyone shifts and we go for a pack run in celebration, where we let loose, eat, play, hunt, and on occasion some even have s*x. We do it that way when we choose our mate, which happens at the age of thirty-five. Once, we have visited most packs without ever finding our other half mate, which is a piece of our wolf's soul that the moon goddess took from each wolf and placed it into someone she has chosen for us. When our mate is near, our wolf feels an instant connection, that piece of our soul that our mate has. Although our wolves are strong and fearless, they always feel incomplete without it's mate's soul and its always this ache that we both feel that will be there forever and only get worse as we age. We get angrier and more aggressive, and some wolves have even lost their minds after they hit forty.

That is why, as the alpha, I'm required to take a chosen mate if, at thirty-five, I still haven't mated and claimed my mated half. I've loved only Summer for the past three years and we have talked about what we would do if we met our other half before we mate, and she feels that we should reject them immediately before we get consumed with the need to mate and mark them. She believes that she cannot love another as she loves me, and I feel the same, but I also have no idea how it would be if I ever met my other half.

Other wolves have rejected their mated half for another, but it is very few but has happened. It's very painful for a wolf to reject their mated half because it's said to anger the moon goddess, because she chose your mated half, so she made it painful to go against who she has chosen for you. Which is why I didn't agree to it, but I didn't disagree either. I kind of let it float in the air because I didn't feel like it was important to make that promise when I felt that I would never meet my other half anyway.

"I swear, Kahi, I will hang up this phone and send your father to drag your a*s out of there if you don't show up to our party tonight at the very least. Because my girls will be performing for me and your father." My mother yelled. "OK Mother, I will do my best to get to your mating anniversary, which isn't a real thing, by the way. But as soon as I'm done, I will be there to meet my human adopted siblings. You just make sure you put them in the house on the west side at the very end, away from the well-populated area in the back.

That is practically deserted except for the older pack members who rarely shift anymore.” I said, trying to end this call with my mother so I can find out what is going on with the sudden random rogue attacks so far I’ve heard, it was a small number of rogue attacks, maybe 20+ rogue wolves, but they seem to be excellent fighters like they were being trained which was unusual because rogues tend to be mindless bloodlust beast that thrive on the most basic elements of wolves which was to hunt and kill any and everything.

So, regardless of my mother’s confidence, I can’t let our ego make it the reason we lose any of our wolves for being overly cocky. We can’t take these attacks for granted and be unprepared. “OK fine, be there by 10 pm. That’s when my girls are to perform. Ok I gotta go. They should be arriving soon, and I need to get ready and meet them at the main gate to make sure Shadow doesn’t scare them away. I hope he doesn’t scare them half to death. I don’t know why you didn’t put Montego on duty. He’s easier on the eyes than Shadow, who never smiles or shows any kind of human trait. My mother said, snapping me out of my thoughts.

“Mother, you know Montego has to be a part of the phone call and Shadow isn’t that bad. I tried to hold in my laughter when Montego nearly spit out the water he was drinking, because I purposely put Shadow on guard at the main gate, hoping the humans would turn tail and runaway. Shadow is the scariest and deadliest wolf out here after me and Montego, of course. He was a man of very few words, and he always sticks to the shadows. He doesn’t like anyone; he has always been a loner since his mate died a few years ago. Some say he used to have a beautiful smile and he was kind, passionate, and talkative. But I’ve never seen it, so I label that as a fairytale.

“Ok mother, see you later tonight at the never before mating anniversary party.” I said, before hanging up, with my mother threatening to smack my nose for speaking to her like that. So, are we really letting human women in our pack for three weeks? Are you sure that this is a good idea?” Montego asked, seated across from me at my desk.

“Nope, this is a horrible idea, but this is the only way to make sure my mother behaves, until my mating ceremony, and Summer was on top of the world thinking she had finally got my mom’s blessing. She has even started calling her mom. You should have seen my mother trying not to curse her out and tell her don’t ever call her mom. I almost passed out holding in my laugh, when my mom was trying to say something nice to Summer.

So, if these human women can keep mom on her best behavior, I’ll have to make sure nothing goes wrong, which is why this call is so important. But remind me to double patrol around the area where the humans will be and tell them to stay out of sight in their wolf form for god’s sake.” I said, already getting a headache because of these humans and they haven’t even gotten here yet. The phone rings, breaking my chain of thoughts. Time to find out what the hell these rogues are up to.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 2

Ji'lahni: POV

“So what’s taking this dude so long to come over here? I know damn well he see us. I’m ready to get outta this car take a hot shower and take a nap before this party starts.” I said loud enough hoping the tall bodybuilder security guard hears me. “Oh my God but do you see him now he’s sexy as hell. I bet he got a girl friend.” Shawna said from the backseat leaning on the window almost licking the window. Trying to caught his eye. ” You can have that I don’t like light skinned dudes and he looks scary as hell. He look like he will hurt you in and out of the bedroom.” Mina said shaking her head and shuddering at the image that obviously popped into her head. “How about let’s get inside the gate before you start eye f*****g the guard. You know what stretch that definitely eye f**k him hard until he sees you so we can get in already I’m about to blow the damn horn.” I said getting pissed off.

We have been sitting here a good 15 minutes well more like 5 but again my body is telling me 15 minutes. “Well let’s trade sits before you blow this horn because I may be a big girl but he looks big enough to snap our necks at the same time.” Mina said ready to defend that steering wheel from me. I Laughed out loud. “What are you talking about I think we could take him.” I teased. Mina looking at me like I done lost my mind. ” ssshhiiiiittt take what? A nap because we damn sure can’t take that big a*s dude. Do you see his arms they’re damn near the size of our thighs. Nope this will be the one time you’re on your own cuz I can’t even help you with that one.” Mina said shaking her head still protecting the steering wheel from me.

I pretended to reach for the horn and Mina blocking me like we’re in a karate movie making Bruce Lee sound effects. “Hey that looks like momma Teri .”Shawna yelled excitedly as she hopped out the car and We’re left staring at her in shock, waiting for the big a*s dude to tackle her a*s to the ground. It’s like we were looking at it in slow motion. Hearing him shout when she ran pass him snapped us out of our stupor Mina hopped out and I’m grabbing for Lynn’s bag out of the backseat because I know damn well we couldn’t beat that dudes a*s if he attacks. But Shawna seemed unafraid when he grabs her from behind and easily lift her away before she reached Lateri’s. Shawna squeals in delight clearly not recognizing that she is about to die.

“Oh my God you’re strong if you wanted to carry me across the gate you could have ask. How about you can carry me all the way to our rooms if you want. I’m just saying we have been riding for hours and my legs are kind of weak.” Shawna said to the big killing beast smiling seductively. ” He recognized the gesture to and immediately dropped her on her feet and backed away eyes wide and hands in the air like he was afraid for his life not the other way around. “Oh I get it you don’t do pretty big girls huh. Oh well your lost.” Shawna said with no malice at all we all know that we’re not every man’s jug of tea and we're ok with that. That helps us weed out the worthless motha fuckas that those pretty slim girls seems to attract the ones that lie and cheat and have females calling and fighting each other. We have never in our life fought nobody for a man that makes absolutely no sense to us. Let that man choose you and if he don't then fuckem.

Shawna and Lateri immediately hugged and Lateri looking us over like a mother would her children she hasn't seen in a long time. She was hugging us one by one repeatedly until the big killer beast cleared his throat. We all snapped out necks his way and he immediately took a step back and wide eyed Shawna again and began to studder barely getting out that we needed to move our car to clear the gate. Just then Lateri went over to him poking him I'm the chest . "Don't you dare put your hands on my girls like that again. If you do I will have my son on your a*s so fast your head will hit the ground before your body does." Lateri yelled. "Yes Luna. I apologize it won't ever happen again." He barely said above a whisper with his head bowed to Lateri which was odd I mean I know she's the bosses mother but he seems like he's truly afraid of the little old lady. "Hey don't say that I rather liked you sweeping me off my feet made me feel all tingly." Shawna smiled at the big beast he no longer looked like a killer but he was still a beast. His name patch said Shadow which he looked nothing like. He was no way near dark.

Mina pulled the car in and Lateri got in the front so she could tell us where we will be staying for the next 3 weeks. " I'm so glad yall agreed to come here I have missed yall something crazy. I can't wait to show yall around so yall can meet my people and see where I live I know yall will love it hear. As we drove through the large community which shocked me how big it actually was because we couldn't see anything from the main gate. But they were rows of houses that were really big country styled house made with a cabin feel too it from the outside. And so many dogs that looked scary yet they clearly are well behaved none of them ran beside the car like most dogs did they just kind of lift their heads and looked at us as we passed by. But the way they looked at us it seems like they're very intelligent. Hearing laughter from the front. I smiled.

"What are yall laughing about I asked wanting to laugh to. " I told momma Teri about how we thought we were about to be murdered by a bear or a mountain loin and become the first black people to have ever be killed by an animal in the woods." Mina said through her fit of laughter. I had to laugh at that thought because I feel like it would be a first. We had finally made it to the house we would be staying in and when I tell you that this house was big I'm not lying I feel like it may have 8 bedrooms and the equal amount of bathrooms. I figured it must be some sort of bed and breakfast type house where we wouldn't be the only ones here which was a disappointment because I really don't like sharing my personal space with people I don't know. I don't trust easily so I would rather not put myself in situations where I feel like I have to always watch my back.

Clearing my thoughts getting out of the car heading to the trunk to unload our suitcases but 2 more beast popped up out of nowhere started grabbing out things. "Hey you scared the s**t outta me yall can't be sneaking up on black people like that I coulda hurt yall just now." Mina said with a straight face. Which had the two big men looking clearly confused and looking at each other like. is she serious then looked back down at her just to check to see if it was a joke. She clearly caught what they were trying to insinuate. "Oh so because yall taller then me yall think I can't drop yall." Mina said c*****g her head to the side challenging them to say it out loud. "Uh it's because you're so tiny we don't think those small although beautiful hands could do much damage to us." The beast on the left said with a flirtous smile. Clearly caught off guard and speechless. "Oh well. Ok I was just making sure." Mina finally replied when Shawna elbowed her in the side. Which she clearly has gotten over the shadow dude at the gate by the way she smiled at the guy on the right Which he returned. "It's so sweet that yall want to help us with our stuff." She said looking at the second guy.

All of a sudden we hear a deep growl that damn near made me jump on lateri's back. I was looking around wondering how fast I could grab Lynn's bag before we are eaten by whatever the hell that was. But we didn't see any thing at all when we turned back around none other then Shadow was there snatching our bags out of the second guy's hand who was smiling at Shawna. "The alpha wanted you to cover the gate for the rest of the night I'll take their bags in." He said in a deathly tone that immediately made me put killer back into his name yup shadow killer it is. The second guy didn't even take a second look before he ran off muttering something I couldn't understand. "Hey what are you doing you don't try and cockblock you acted like I was hot lava just a minute ago." Shawna stepped up to shadow killer. He growled so low his chest vibrated which had me and Mina on high alert just in case we had to die today because we damn sure not letting this dude put his hands on her. Before I could make a move Lateri was by Shawna in the blink of and eye she was fast as hell for a 60 year old. I'm telling you somebody lying about their age.

"Shadow did you forget what I just said at the gate. Control yourself and get the bags in the house. What the hell is wrong with you today." Lateri scolded him and he immediately turned to get the rest of our bags but not before scowling at Shawna. Lateri grabbed her and Mina hands smiling with excitement like she just didn't scold a big killer dude that could tear her arms off without any effort. "Come on girls let me show you where you will be staying yall will love this house I just know it." I fell instep with them as she passed by me. With the men carrying all our bags in one trip which was crazy because it took us 6 trips to and from our house to the car when we left. Stepping in we all were wide eyed with how beautiful the inside of the house looked. Creme colored walls with paintings and old wooden carvings with various wolf drawing in different stances. Which looked damn near like the dogs we just passed by. I know damn well those weren't wolves they're keeping as pets. Following them into the kitchen which was huge with cremed colored walls with black and gold counters and state of the art black and gold kitchen alliances.

I was already in love and immediately telling myself that I will be ordering those same alliances for our kitchen back home. Because I secretly love cooking if I wasn't a wedding planner I would definitely own a bakery or a small diner. I sometimes cater the weddings I coordinate when a couple tell me the type of food they want to serve I would offer my services if I feel like I'm the best option which they always agree once we do a taste testing. Me and my cousins have many talents that we are naturally good at thanks to our parents and grandparents.

My grandmother could sew and cook better than most professionals. she use to make clothing for plus size women and sell them at the local market she was very popular because during those times a lot stores didn't carry plus size or if they did it was something ugly and not stylish at all. We all wore clothes that were made by my grandma or my momma and aunts because we couldn't afford fancy clothing back then. I remember when hammer pants were in style my mom actually let us pick out our own fabric then she got a plain black or white t shirts and she made the hammer pants and used the fabric as trimming on each arm and a small square patch she used to make it look like pockets. I remember everybody wanted my mom to make them some. I smiled remembering that, me and Shawna thought we were the s**t back then.

"Hey Lahni come on let me show you guys the bedrooms." Lateri said walking upstairs. "Coming!" I yelled still thinking about the things I will be making in the upcoming weeks. Before turning and following them up to where we would be sleeping. Which was even better than downstairs. The master bedroom had to have come straight out of a 5 star luxury hotel because it had a big kind size bed with a walk in closet and a big a*s jacuzzi tub that is all mine because Mina and Shawna lost a card game where the winner gets the best bedroom. Which I could hear their sad little whining cries knowing that they weren't going to be the one enjoying this beauty because it was all mine.

"Hey let's head on up to look at yall room I don't need yall crying over my carpets please and thank you." I said pushing them out the door as Lateri led them to the other rooms down the hall. Looking back down the step I see the guys were still there holding the suitcases. "Um you can leave them there or bring them up all the purple bags goes in my room here the pink bags belongs to Mina's, Shawna's are the red ones, and the light blue is our friend Lynn's she will be here tomorrow." I said as I followed behind the girls. I could here Shadow killer saying here take the pink bags and I'll get the red ones." "Why when it would be easier just to keep the ones I'm carrying." The first guy I don't know his name yet said. There it is again I swear I hear another growl. Before I hear the first guy say fine.

I don't know but I don't think Shadow killer's first reaction to Shawna was of disinterest. I think he actually likes her. I'm gone have to tell her once we're alone. After we head back to the living room where the guys left back out quickly once they finished putting out bags in our rooms. "Well I'm gonna go I know yall may want to rest before tonight's party I can't wait to see yall performance. I also have to make sure everything is set up for tonight ill see you guys later at the party I'll have someone here to escort you to our social hall at 9pm." Lateri said heading out the door but not before she hugs us 2 more times.

"I swear I just love her life. She is always so happy and loving you would think we are her kids." Mina said flopping down on the couch and me and Shawna followed suit. "OMG! This sofa feels like I think clouds would feel like. s**t I might be sleeping on this for the next 3 weeks" Shawna said snuggling into the sofa. It did make you feel like you're getting a big old hug. But I think my bed would still be better. "Well you can have that I'm sleeping in my big a*s king size bed because that thing look like he wants me on top of him tonight night and I'm giving him exactly what he wants he don't even have to take me out because that bed is getting him some booty and that pillow is getting him some head."

I said with my eyes closed imagining how that bed is going to make me feel. Laughing. “s**t you not lying I’m about to see if I can find a light to snack on in this kitchen and then I’m heading to shower and sleep until it’s times to leave.” Mina said dragging herself off the sofa heading to the kitchen. “Yea that’s a plan right there.” I said following her.

In the kitchen the fridge is fully stocked with everything we could think of and even the cabinets had everything we needed and some that we didn’t. Shawna found some sliced turkey, mayo, lettuce, tomatoes, and cheese I found some fresh buttery bread Mina grabbed the drinks and chips we stood at the island in the center making our sandwiches before climbing onto bar style chairs. “Now they’re wrong for this. They act like they don’t know everyone isn’t 6 feet tall. We climbing in these seats like toddlers. Mina said. We all Laughing because we have to deal with short people problems all the time. Mina has it the worse at 5’1 Shawna at 5’3 and me 5’3 ½ and yes that half inch is important. “Well at least the chairs are wide and has a back so we will be comfortable after we climb up here, even though our feet will be dangling and fall to sleep if we stay up here to long. Is everybody over 6 feet hear. I mean Lateri is what 6 feet even. So it may be a common thing here.” I shrugged.

We chatted about shadow killer and ate our sandwiches and talked about our routine for tonight. We aren’t usually nervous dancing in front of people but it was weird to be asked to dance at a mating anniversary where we have no idea what they even do there and on top of the fact that we only dance to urban music which I honestly can’t see any urban music listeners from what I have seen so far. So we may end up with people looking at us like we’re crazy. I choreographed the dance. she wanted something meaningful so I chose dangerously in love by Beyonce. I decided to go out of the norm for us and do a kind of interpretive dance instead of the usual. I mean we were already out of our element already so why not just stick to it. It wasn’t a hard dance we matched the words to our movement I even looked up some sign language to see if I could incorporate it into a dance move. The end result got a thumbs up from the women in our classes and they even said they want me to start doing more choreography like that. I promised I would think about it. No promises though.

Finishing out sandwiches we crawled up to our rooms. I showered and didn’t even put anything on just dried my body sprayed my favorite oil mist that smelled like a mixture of watermelon and cotton candy. I hated flowery smells it always made me sneeze because I’m allergic to outside, not really outside but damn near every thing out there. I take weekly shots because if I don’t then i would be swollen and itching everywhere eyes watering, sneezing, and coughing it would feel like the flu. It’s not like some people who are allergic to peanut butter and their throats would close within minutes. For me it would take me being outside for at least a few hours before I start the sneezing, coughing, eyes watering, and breathing problems which goes away after I take some medication . But more then 3 hours with no form of medication or epinephrine pen then I would need a hospital asap. I snuggled under my covers after setting the alarm on my phone. I could hear all kinds of howls as I drifted into dreamland. Yea it wasn’t weird at all hearing howling outside the windows.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 3

Makahi: POV

“So we need to increase our men at the borders for the next few weeks we need to send scouts to do some recon on the area alpha Terrain told us about and we need to make sure the women and children are on a soft lock down for now. They can only stay outside for an hour and with at least 2 of our men monitoring them to make sure they stay away from the wooded areas for now.” I said to Montago as we were planning and scheduling how to best handle these rogue wolves that has obviously banded together to attack several packs. The other alphas sounded pissed and unsettled by how organized their attacks were they seem to have a leader controlling them. So I wasn't going to take this new threat lightly.

Still coming up with plans a brief knock on the door interrupted us for a moment “Enter.” I said so looking at the map on my desk trying to figure out the best position to put our men so they can cover the entire pack land. Blaze and Shadow enters. And waited for me to acknowledge them. Looking up at them Shadow looks a little off but Blaze is all smiles. “Have they arrived yet?” I asked no one in particular. “Yes they arrived a little while ago Luna took them to the last house out west like you instructed. We deposited their things and left Luna with them.” Blaze said still smiling. Raising my brow curious as to what he found amusing. “Care to share what has you in a good mood.” I asked Blaze. “Well alpha the human women our Luna invited seems..... nice.” He said trying to search for the right words. I hear Shadow give a low growl I glanced at him a little surprised at his response. Shadow is there a problem.” I asked trying to gauge his reaction. Stepping forward to stand directly in front of my desk when he stopped I smelled the most delicious smell in the world I couldn't tell what it was but my wolf immediately tried to push forward trying to get closer to that smell. Which I refused because I wasn't about to be sniffing Shadow.

“Alpha is something wrong did you hear me.” Shadow said and I immediately snapped back into alpha mode again showing my expression. “No. Say again.” Shadow eyeing me suspiciously but repeated himself. “I said I think it's a bad idea keeping those human women here maybe you can speak to our Luna to see if she will reconsider. They are mouthy and tiny I'm afraid some of our females will hurt them.” Shadow said In a rush he kind of looked pale which was odd to say the least. Blaze stepped up as well and I smelled something sweet but not like what I smelled on Shadow I don't know why my wolf is clawing at me trying to get closer to wherever that smell came from. “Will you chill the hell out Maka” I said as He growled at me. “OUT NOW!” “You think I'm going to let you out to sniff Shadow are you nuts. Let me find out what's going on with these humans and I promise you we will find out where that smell is coming from.” I said which got Maka finally settle down a little but but I can still feel him on the surface ready to come out.

Blaze and Shadow were arguing about the human women and I can tell they are already a problem. “ENOUGH!” I growled and both men immediately stopped their debate. Looking at Blaze I nodded for him to speak. “Alpha I think Shadow is overreacting he’s angry because our Luna had to scold him for growling at one of them.” Blaze finished. “WHAT THE HELL SHADOW? I TOLD YOU NO WOLF STUFF IN HUMAN FORM ARE YOU TRYING TO EXPOSE THIS ENTIRE PACK TO HUMANS?” I yelled throwing my alpha aura in there . Shadow immediately bared his neck to me in submission. “No alpha I don’t know what happen the little one with the long hair and round cheeks just rubs me the wrong way I don’t know why.” Shadow says helpless. He looked completely confused as he still had his neck bared to me.

I let go of my alpha aura and he immediately stood at attention. I frowned as I thought about it I looked at Shadow. “Shadow weren’t you supposed to be at the front entrance tonight?” I asked and his face immediately showed his guilt. Blaze started laughing. I’m looking at him waiting for the joke. “Well alpha me and Hunter were helping the humans with there stuff and when Hunter was getting Shawna’s suitcases out and she was smiling at Hunter Shadow came and said you wanted Hunter to man the front gates tonight.” Blaze finished with a smile that said oooooohhhh you’re about to get iiiittttt. Looking at Shadow who was standing stock still and wouldn’t cut a glance at Blaze. “Explain?” I asked and Shadow’s face deflated a little. I’m thinking maybe it was a bad idea to bring them here they have my best warrior all f****d up after 1 encounter.

“I was just trying to keep their exposure to our warriors to a minimum I don’t want them to have to deal with them unnecessarily.” Shadow replied. Which was a good excuse... if it wasn’t for the fact that it was complete bullshit, but I won’t drag him through to coal any longer he looked like he’s been in a wolf fight and lost. Beside I needed to ask him about the wolf he has been around with that delicious smell. “Blaze you’re dismiss Shadow stay behind for a second, I have some questions for you.” I said sitting back behind my desk gesturing shadow to have a seat next to Montago who has yet to speak.

“Shadow besides the humans today who else did you come into contact with any other female wolves from other packs? I ask trying not to give any take on emotion away other then me making a general inquiry. “Uh. Only the caters your mother hired from the Mombasa pack. Why do you ask? ” he asked me with a raised brow. “I just wanted to make sure I know all females that may come in contact with the human women tonight you said you don’t think that they will get along with our females so we need to make sure that we control the situation.” I said absent-mindedly which he seem to buy.even though that was completely bullshit too. It seems as Montago saw through my excuse to because he looked at me witha raiser brown. “You may go and get ready for my mother’s mating anniversary and when you get there please let her know I will be there as soon as I’m done here.” I said looking back down at my map.

Once Shadow left I could still feel Montago eyes on me waiting for me to explain. And when he saw I wasn’t offering one he came out and asked. You want to tell me what the hell that was about?” He asked eyeing me. “I don’t f*****g know but when I find out I’ll fill you in. But I don’t think I’m going to like where this is going already.” I said taking a deep breath trying to focus on this damn map and not the lingering smell of WATERMELON ! That's what I smell with something else mixed in but definitely watermelon. With that small piece figured out Maka calmed down enough to allow me to finish planning our new security guard schedule.

Ji'lahni: POV 9pm

We had just arrived at the social hall and even though we were on time it looked like people had been there for a while it was decorated beautifully in black and gold which I'm starting to think is their community colors. The tables had beautiful center pieces with clear vases with black marbles with a gold candle in the center giving it a romantic vibe. Everyone was dressed like they were on the red carpet Lateri told us it was formal so we had to buy dresses for this event and I'm glad we did because we had nothing that would live up to what we were seeing. We ended up having dresses custom made because we just couldn't find something that was us.

So for Me I have a stomach but my waist was snatched and I have hips and a*s for days my boobs were a C cup so I love dresses that insinuate my boobs to distract from my stomach and showed off my bleeding heart tattoo wrapped in a chain with lock the key was somewhere else on my body and if you found it means you also have my heart. So I chose a lilac colored halter top dress with a deep V that stopped just above my stomach it was a long form fitting dress with a deep slit on both sides because I don't mind showing a little leg as long as the dress covered the lumps and cellulite on my inner thighs, the middle was wide enough that you would only see the splits on both sides when I walked. To top it off I had a short jacket to cover my back fat as I said I know how to make s**t work for me the color went perfectly with my deep brown skin and it made my deep blue eyes sparkle. Me and my cousins all had deep blue eyes which we got from our granny and our dark brown complexion from our poppa. As for my hair I always keep the sides cut very low with a design on the side and the top was in braids. The entire dress had sparkly rhinestone trimming that shined whenever the lights hit it.

Now Shawna always had the perfect fat girl shape where everything was in the right places she chose a form fitted blood red sleeveless dress with a sweetheart neckline again trimmed with diamond rhinestones with a deep side split. her dress exposed her back tattoo of angle wings that expand the length of her shoulder and sometimes when she moves a certain way it looks like the wings moves. Then Mina, she was smaller then her older cousins but she was also shorter she had a stomach as well but she was smaller everywhere else so she wore a royal blue long sleeve front drape dress that drope down the front of the dress which exposed her nice boobs yet hid her stomach just right. the dress was backless which showed off her spine tattoo which was a flying dragon that looked like it was flying up her spine.

All and all we looked damn good. The best part is was the dresses doubled as out dance outfits. The bottom had secret velcro that allowed us to remove the bottom of the dresses to expose a flowy skirt that would flow and moved in tune with our bodies. We did it this way because we didn't want to have to go through the whole dress change process. We would remove our shoes and replace them with soft dance shoes that matched our dresses.

As we're walking in the front entrance every one seemed to stop talking just to stare at us making it real weird. s**t we looking at each other like damn do we have something on our face. I means I get we were out of towners but to stare so hard was weird as hell. "What they hell are they staring at are we supposed to be dancing now?" Mina whispered as she smiled at people. "The hell if I know s**t we're the only black people in here that may be why. All I know is I'm about to just sit my a*s down at the closes table I don't care whose table it is." I whispered back walking slowly to the nearest table.

From the front of the room we spot Lateri who was running toward us in her white ballgown dress that looked kind of like dress queens wore in the 1800's I know that dress is heavy as hell but she running like it was light as a feather and the poor girls who were trying to make sure her train stayed straight were trying to keep up."There is my chocolate drops yall look so beautiful you're gonna make an old lady cry. I love those dresses they look perfect turn around and let me see." Lateri said beaming and we obeyed even though we were blushing because everyone was staring still but lateri acted like we were the only ones in the room. " just beautiful now come on dinner is about to be served and I put you girls at the front with me, my mate our son and his best friends whenever they get here." Lateri said as she grabbed our hands and dragged us between the tables with people still staring and I hear a now familiar growl and turn to see none other then Shadow killer staring holes in Shawna's head as we passed by him.

When we reached our table lateri reintroduced us to her mate Antoni Crystal which just like lateri he was supposed to be 67 years old but he damn sure will have to prove his not 40. He only saw him twice while they visited south carolina but he was always so nice and friendly and he clearly loved lateri because he was always touching her or looking like he was in love for the first time. " Hi young ladies nice to see you again. Lateri was absolutely right you girls look beautiful tonight." He said getting up pulling our chairs out to seat us. He was such a gentleman. " Thank you." We all said at the same time blushing like little girls do when their fathers tell them they're beautiful.

Once seated everyone seemed to go back to their on conversations. "I hope you girls liked the food that I picked I wanted to have some of your southern food added to the menu to make sure you we had things you liked." She said proudly. "Ah momma Teri you didn't have to do that we would love to try some of your traditional foods. We don't want people to think you went out of your way to accommodate us." I said shyly. " Oh hush up sweetie I don't care what anyone thinks if they have a problem with the food they could leave right now." Lateri said loud enough that I'm sure 12 of the 24 tables heard her. We tried to disappear at that moment but it didn't work so we focused on our nice silverware. Until the moment passed.

"I don't know where the hell Kahi is I swear Antoni if he misses out anniversary dinner I will wring his neck." Lateri said angerly "Now now you know he will be here when he can be had a really important meeting that couldn't be postponed. Please understand honey don't be too hard on him if he misses it. You know he would be here if he could." Antoni said pulling Lateri in to console her as she silently agreed. "And you have your girls here with us to celebrate that's something right." He added " you're right honey I still happy as a clam because you girls are here." She smiled just as the servers came by placing our plates in front of us. She wasn't playing when she said she picked foods she thought we would like.

That plate had baked chicken, baked Mac and cheese, and what looked to be cabbage . It smelled and looked delicious and it tasted great to she really went all out. We wanted to eat everything on that plate but we couldn't because he had to perform in 30 minutes but I damn sure hope they did leftover carryout. But I wouldn't dare asked because I do know how to act around rich folks. "Momma Teri the food was amazing." Mina said after dinner was removed. "I'm so glad you liked it." Teri smiled she then got up and grabbed our hands dragging us around each table introducing us to everyone literally as her adopted daughters. For the most part every one was civil but we could tell a lot of the older and younger women gave us nasty looks when Lateri wasn't looking. But we just gave them our winning smile because we could care less what they thought of us.

Lateri got called away while introducing us to a table filled with women that looked around our age but they all were athletic build females like they worked out in their sleep too. When lateri was out of ear shot one of them decided she had something to say to us. "Damn yall not ashamed dressing like little fat sluts. Nobody wants to see all tall fat hanging out." She sneered at us. As the other girls laughed. We looked at each other and laughed to s**t. "What are yall laughing for I was talking about yall." The same b***h spoke again. "We're laughing because you really think calling us fat sluts was going to some how shame or humiliate us in front of your little friends.

Aaaahhhhh sweetie we don't care about you or your friends enough to even remotely care about you let alone what you think of us. You tried it though. How old are you 5?" I said still laughing. "Cuz I feel like she real emotional about 3 chick's she doesn't know. Have you been sitting here thinking about is this whole time when we didn't even know you existed until a few seconds ago and you will be forgotten in 3, 2. Were we just talking to somebody cuz?" Mina asked looking at me. "s**t I thought so..but I real life can't even remember they must have been people we couldn't give two shits about because we can't even remember what they looked like." I said and we started laughing all over again walking away from the table before we have to show our asses in here.

We not trying to ruin Lateri's dinner. Lateru found us standing in the back of the room minutes later. " what are yall doing way back here did was someone rude to you she turned looking at the table we left and the girls were trying their best to be invisible. Before she could walk off and to hand them their asses I grabbed her. " No Noone said anything to us. We just decided to walk to the back to wait for you because it's almost time for us to perform." I said praying that she believed me. She eyed us for a few seconds trying to use jet eye mind trip us or something but she decided to believe us and took us back stage to get ready to perform. I suddenly became super nervous. I pray to God I don't mess up. Oh well too late to turn back now. Let's do it.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 4

Makahi POV:

“I can’t find her are you sure that we checked everyone.” I asked Montago still looking around as the catering people bustled around cleaning and preparing to leave. My wolf was clawing to get out thinking he could find that delicious watermelon smell from earlier. I could barely keep my focus trying to finalize our new guard schedule earlier. Once we were done I came straight to the kitchen trying to find the wolf that smelled so damn good I could literally taste it on my tongue. I still don’t know what will happen once I find her. Im Not really trying to think about what it means that my wolf wants to find her so bad.

“Yes we have checked every single person that catered the dinner earlier . Your mother is going to kill you for missing the dinner earlier and I really wanted to sample the food she picked for the human women it smelled so good and from the empty plates I see it tasted good to. But I missed it so now I have to pop a frozen pizza in the oven tonight when I get home.” Montago said sadly. But I hardly cared at the moment and my mother would more then likely have leftovers for us if we had the courage to face her since we missed the dinner but I for one am not going to see my mother until it is absolutely unavoidable. Yes im the alpha who still fears his mother. Just then the phone rung pulling me from my futile search. Looking at the phone Summer’s face pops up on my screen I groaned not really wanting to deal with her at the moment because I feel instant guilt, but I also don’t want to stop my search. Sighing I gave up and headed for the exit with Montago smiling, finally happy that he no longer had to search for the missing she wolf.

Putting the phone to my ear. “Hey baby, what’s going on?” I asked absent-mindedly. ” Hey baby, I was calling to see how your mother’s dinner went and to make sure that she wasn’t mad that I couldn’t make it. I just couldn’t make it in time because the designer that’s making my dress had to make last minute adjustments. Please tell me she’s not mad at me. We just started getting along and I don’t want to ruining it.” Summer whined into the phone. She has been really obsessed about the mating ceremony. I still don’t understand why we can’t do it like it has been done for thousands of years. But I love her and want to make her happy. Sighing “I dont know how it went because I wasnt there . I had to lay out a new guard schedule because of the recent rogue wolf attacks. But I doubt she’s upset because she has her human women to occupy her. Summer you really need to start Luna training as soon as you get back. You only have 3 weeks left before the mating ceremony and you become Luna so you need to be ready to take on the role babe.” I finished making sure she understood what’s expected after the mating. She already knows all this, so why isn’t she taking it seriously. “I know I know I swear I will start when I get back. I should be back early afternoon.

So the human women actually came I was hoping they'd drop out. I guess I'll see how they plan to organize our mating ceremony. Although I don't like the idea of humans women being in our pack. I also don't want to upset your mother when we are just making progress in our mother daughter relationship. Maybe the humans will be so bad at their job that Miss Lateri will fire and kick them out. If that happens then Kyonna could do it she actually wants to organize the ceremony. I feel she would be better because she's a wolf and knows more about our ways than those filthy humans." Summer sneered in disgust. "I wouldn't hold my breathe on that one because mother loves those human women she calls them her chocolate drops. So just be civil don't start any drama or trouble and you and mom will get closer if she sees you being nice to her human friends." I said hoping she will take my advice. "Fine you're right I'll be super sweet to her little human pets. when I get back maybe you and I could grab lunch at your place and maybe you can eat something else, because I've missed you like crazy baby." She said seductively. For the first time in our relationship I didn't want to have s*x with Summer. She was great in bed did things with her mouth that had you in a daze for days afterwards. But now me and my wolf seems uninterested in having s*x with her. Shaking my head what the hell is wrong with you this is our future mate I have to put a stop with the she wolf search. I have rogue wolves and a mating ceremony I need to focus on and apparently it was all in my head because I didn't find her. "It's a date I can't wait to see you tomorrow y'all girls drive safely." I said wanting to end the call "ok baby it's a date I'll see you tomorrow I love you." Summer responded I hit the end button without responding back no big deal that I couldn't get my mouth to say it back.

Montago Still walking beside me back to my office. It was 12am and we had an early pack meeting to inform our warriors of the new schedule and tell them what we have found out about these attacks. "So we're done with the search of the missing delicious she wolf that has you chasing your tail?" Montago asked walking up beside me. "Yea for now we have far more important things like making sure our pack is safe and avoiding my mother so she doesn't rip out my spine and make you eat it." I said shuddering at the thought of facing my mother's wrath because we missed her anniversary dinner. "Hey I have nothing to do with that you're the alpha and you ordered me to help." Montago said turning pale at the thought of dealing with my mother. "Oh so you're willing to abandon your alpha you have sworn to protect?" I asked. "You damn right especially when it comes to our Luna and nobody ever wants to be on Miss Lateri's bad side did you see how Shadow was after a run in with your mother. even your dad knows better." Montago said making a left turn going towards his home. "Coward! I yelled laughing as he went towards his home. "I'll be that. See you at 6 am." He yelled as he disappeared down the street.

Now I'm left with my thoughts that immediately goes back to the mystery she wolf with the smell that I can't get out of my nose, now that I have smelled it. It's like I can still smell little wisp of it everywhere. I have to get rid of these feelings maybe when Summer returns everything will go back to normal. With that said I headed to my office to grab the map of our community and head to my house next to my office. I'll go over the map once more before I try to get some shut eye and clear my head of all thing mystery she wolf and her enticing smell. Time to get back to business.

Ji'lahni: POV

Alarm blaring at me with an attitude. I groaned throwing my pillow at it wanting it to stop. I was so tired from last night's performance. It was a hit that had every female teary-eyed. The speech I gave before the performance really helped. I was super nervous up on that stage because as I said not everyone was welcoming. So that put a lot of pressure on us to make sure we gave 110%. So with a deep breathe I walked on stage and stood in front of Momma lateri.

"First I would like to thank Miss lateri for inviting me and my cousins to this wonderful event. Our performances is dedicated to you because during the short time knowing you, you have been nothing but kind and loving and when you speak of the people in your community we could literally feel how much you love them and is willing to die for each and every person in your community and how much you cherish them individually and by the looks of it you knew every single person's name including the staff and that shows just the type of person you are and the love we see you and your mate has is something I one day wish to have with my future husband. So with that said listen to the words of this song and allow us to express those words through dance." And as soon as I finished my speech Dangerously in love began to play. By the time we finished there wasn't a dry eye in that place. Miss lateri loved it so much she asked us if we could do it again some other night before we left. Afterwards we stayed for a little while longer but left because although we took a nap earlier we were still exhausted from the trip and the performance. When We got home we crawled into bed.

Peaking at the time it said 10am miss lateri said she would be here at 11am to give us an official tour of the community we had a meeting setup at 5pm for the mating ceremony and Lynn said she won't be able to make it for another couple of days but she said we will be training today via zoom at 2 so we needed to get up. I rolled out of bed and headed for the kitchen to make some breakfast I decide on something super easy and fast. I grabbed eggs bacon milk bread cinnamon for some French toast eggs and bacon. Once I had everything made I yelled upstairs for the girls to come down for breakfast.

They came downstairs with their eyes closed. None of us were morning people I mean we would sleep til noon if you let us. Hence why we started our own businesses. "What time is it 5am why are we up it should be against the law to be up this early." Shawna groaned climbing into our high chair which she was struggling trying to do it with her eyes closed. "Girl it's after 10 and we need to be ready by 11 so momma teri won't have to wait on us. I said putting our plates on the island and started eating. "OK I'm kinda looking forward to seeing this place did you see that damn near every man here is built like a s*x God some look dangerous and some look playful in a devilish kind of way I was definitely catching some I want you vibes last night. So I can't wait to see how these men look in the daylight." Mina said popping the last piece of French toast in her mouth.

Getting up we made quick work of cleaning the kitchen and headed up stairs to have a quick shower and dress in our workout clothes which was a long pants yoga set of course, we had them in bold bright colors and you already know mine was black and purple Shawna's was black and green Mina was black and pink we didn't need a jacket it was early April and our tops were long sleeves we grabbed our waist trainer vests and headed down stairs just as the door bell rang.

“Oh good are you girls ready, I see Lynn is making yall train today even when she isn’t here. Come on we have a lot to see. Everyone is still buzzing and talking about the performance last night. I told you, yall had nothing to worry about” Lateri said as she approached with a little golf cart that had 3 row seating I spotted Shadow killer the moment we saw the cart he wasn’t looking happy at all but Shawna was all smiles because I had told her I think his initial reaction wasn’t a rejection. So now she is about to test that theory. She loves the chase she said it was going to be fun because she has a big man like that rattled. She hopped right in the front seat next to him making sure she scooted real close to him.

You could tell he wanted to bolt his knuckles were turning white with how tight he held the steering wheel. Shawna giggled ” Hey my big teddy bear i’m glad you’re the one driving us around today. I feel all safe and protected and what not. Why didn’t you come say hello last night.?” Shawna asked looking up at him inching even closer if that was even possible. Poor Shadow killer barely able to get out that he was on guard and couldn’t socialize with the guess. Shawna shrugged and approved his excuse. “Well I guess you will have to make it up to me today during our tour of the grounds.”

She wrapped her arms around his big arms that were about to literally break the steering wheel which would mean we would have to walk and I’m not trying to do that right now. “Shawna please stop teasing Shadow killer so we can start the tour.” I said trying to give that man a break. We all laughed because Shadow seem to take a deep breath that he was holding when Shawna let go of his arms and scooted away from him to her side. I could have sworn I saw Shadow eyes glow for an split second when Shawna stopped touching him like he was angry she let his arm go. That must have been the sun in my eyes because glowing eyes weren’t possible.

Lateri showed us around the entire community stopping at various places to introduce us to everyone who we didn’t see last night. The community was actually like a small town in the middle of nowhere. They had schools, small boutiques, a hair salon, a small diner, and a grocery store. Walking by their little kindergarten school there were kids running and playing and even little baby wolves. Which I found out weren’t dogs but actually wolves I felt kind of dumb because the word wolves was literally in the name. But all the wolves were tamed and not dangerous which was why none were on a leash. Lateri said.

But I wasn’t to sure about that and I wasn’t going to test that theory either the big wolves didn’t even have to worry about me even looking at them hard. I already planned to not be anywhere near where they keep them. Nope I’m good. Seeing the baby wolf playing with the kids jumping around trying to caught the kid who had the little ball he look ssssoooooo cute. We stop so lateri could introduce us to the teacher because she wanted to meet us to tell us how great our performance was.

“Hey feiona, these are my babies Ji’lahni, Shawna, and Mina.” Lateri said like a proud parent stepping up shaking each of our hands. “It’s so nice to finally meet you our Luna talks about you girls all the time about how talented and beautiful you were and I must say she was right.” Feiona said just as a little black ball of fur came barreling towards us with his little tongue hanging out he stopped right in front of me with his paws on my leg like he wanted me to pick him up and I oblige allergies be damn.

“Razor!! stopped that get off that nice ladies leg like that” the teacher said in a stern voice. “Aaaawweeeee that’s OK he’s so cute OMG! Do you see him, he’s so tiny and cute.” I said as the little pup tried to climb all over me trying to lick me everywhere. I wasn’t about to let him lick my face cause I wasn’t trying to die I was already pushing it I know I will have to do my shots and pills. Mina and Shawna gushed over him each trying to hold him like a baby and he was enjoying our soft cuddly boobs he was just laying between my boobs with his tongue out like he was about to fall asleep as we chatted it up with the teacher.

We were about to leave after setting up a time to put some food on the grill later to day at momma Terri’s house. The teacher reached for little Razor but he wasn’t having it he started whining and using his nails to snag my top looking at me with his sad little eyes. “Hey feiona how about I just bring him back after I drop the girls off if he promised to be a good boy.” Lateri giving him the he better behave look and he bark in agreement and buried himself in the crock of my arms and snuggled there. “OK Luna that is fine I’ll be here waiting for him Ms Summer said she won’t be back until later today anyway.” Feiona said waving bye to us as she rustled the kids back inside the school.

“So this is your almost daughter N laws pup.” I asked curiously. Rolling her eyes “No that is her cousins pup she just kept him after her cousin passed away a few months back she was such a sweet girl.” Lateri said sadly and little Razor whimpered like he knew we were talking about his momma. Which was impossible right? “Oh my I’m so sorry for your loss.” I responded while Mina and Shawna both gave her side hugs. I looked down at the little pup and felt sorry for him he was so tiny and cute. “Hey you know what, me and you are the same I lost my momma too a while ago so I completely understand how you feel buddy. I miss my mommy too.” I whispered to him holding back my tears that threaten to fall everytime I think about my parents. But I don’t dare cry because I was the oldest and had to be strong for my cousins if I fall apart they would too and you don’t want to see 3 big girls ugly crying, because that is not cute.

We rode back to the house to get ready for our zoom with Lynn for this 2 hour torchor fest. Once we got there Lateri had the back yard padded so we could train and a big projector screen set up for the zoom call up and ready to go. I swear she is trying to spoil us so we wouldn’t want to leave in 3 weeks. We grabbed Lynn’s bag of goodies we had to take the guns out because we didn’t want to do target practice with the pup around. Lateri made him stay on the patio behind the gate and he whined a little bit when I walked to the padded area but settled down when he realized he could see me when he stuck his head between the board of the gate. I hope he doesn’t get his head stuck. I smiled to myself.

“Awe look at him you might not be able to get rid of him. You will have to take 6 allergy shots a day if you try to keep him. He real life not trying to let you out of his sight what have you done to that little puppy?” Shawna asked laughing “I know what she did, he hooked because he done laid on them soft boobs you know men love some soft boobs and he a boy so he hooked already.” Mina laughed looking at little Raz. Yes we gave him a nickname it sounded cool.

“Hhheeeeyyy bitches I miss yall. Yall ready for this training we about to put this work in yall done missed almost 2 days so we got some work to do.” Lynn said as soon as we logged in to our zoom meeting. “Hey boo we miss you but not this damn training though. But for real you need to hurry up and bring your a*s on, you have to start building the arches and make sure everything is ordered and delivered.” Mina said while we stretched.

“Yes I know, I promise I will be there by Wednesday at the latest. But for now let’s get started.” Lynn said as she started with our stances arm motions, kicks, balances, strength, flexibility and endurance we also worked on sweep defense and sweep offense sweep front and back kicks and she had the nerve to try and have us do spinning kicks. Yea I’m not doing that. I don’t know who she think we are but doing that wouldn’t end well for no one. So once we reminded her on who she was dealing with. She decided for us to start our roll and strike lesson front rolls were first which after we got the hands right it was pretty easy to roll forward and strike front or back. Now that back roll was a disaster.

She had to end the call before we did our crossbow target practice and our throwing knives target practice. We saw a little a small open area that had trees close enough so we could do our target practice. Walking to the gate when little Raz started barking.

“Hey little one we’re just going to that wooded areas right over there we will be right back ok if momma Lateri comes looking just show her where we went ok.” I said knowing damn well he was like I know she know I can’t understand her right. I jogged to catch up with the girls as we headed for the trees. It was a little farther then we thought we couldn’t see the house but we could see enough to know we weren’t lost. Hanging up our target paper we decided to do crossbow target practice first. we did defense, spin, pull and shoot. I was a beast with a crossbow.

My aim was superb, I know what you thought big girls can’t use a crossbow to beat a*s with but I loved it. We did the front roll and shoot which is a struggle for me because it was messing with my aim although I hit the target in the colored area I’m a virgo and a perfectionist and can’t stand when something I feel like I should be able to do but for some reason not doing it drives me nuts.

After the fifteenth round the girls forced me to let it go. So we could practice using our throwing knives. walking over to our gear we strapped our knives to each thigh each arm and each wrist and loaded our utility belts. I told you Lynn is a fat ninja or an assassin. I feel like She training us to be ones too. Now we’re damn good during training but our scary asses would be the first to die in real life. You can’t change us on the inside we could only pray that we wouldn’t freeze and die. We’re laughing and cutting up as usual then we hear a loud a*s growl hell no that sounded like a roar. That s**t vibrated through the ground. We immediately stopped laughing.

“What the hell was that?” Mina asked. Looking around not seeing anything. ” I don’t know but I’m not going to look and find out how about grab Lynn’s bag and leave them targets on them trees and let’s get the hell to the damn house.” I said trying to pack Lynn’s bag fast. The roars and growls were getting louder and louder and we could hear something sounded like animals were fighting. “S**t did the wolves get loose or something because they don’t sound like they’re tamed at all s**t. I thought momma Teri said they were harmless.” Shawna said shaking like a leaf and dropping s**t out the bags that we were putting in it.

“Listen I didn’t believe that bulls**t when she said it those are animals they may look tame but they’re killers too, now let’s go. I said standing up turning making a beeline for the house. I could hear paws stomping the ground, like they were to damn close to us, my heart is about to beat out my damn chest. We started to see the tip of the house when all of a sudden I see . “Is that little Raz running towards us barking like crazy?” Mina said before I finished the thought. “Oh s**t f**k all that. That’s a f**king wolf coming from the right blocking our straight shot to the damn house.” Shawna yelled “ooohhhh s**t we’re about to die I told yall we was gone die in these woods oh s**t it’s two more coming from the f**king left side too.” Mina cried ... oh my God oh my God were about to die lord Jesus where is Shadow killer when you need him.

Just then Little Raz must have lost his damn lil wolf mind because he beeline straight for the big nasty looking brown wolf with his fur matted and had a crazed feral looking eyes he didn’t look nothing like the ones we have seen on this Reserve so far. The wolf turn his had and c****d it like, really son you real life think you can protect these women from me. It looked like he almost smiled evilly. I could tell he was about to have an appetizer before he had us as a buffet for him and his friends.

S**t! Lynn if I die today I’m going to be real f**king mad you torchored us for years just to die in a wolf fight. I Thought . “Raz get your a** back to the house damn it. I swear if you get eaten I will kill you myself.” I started running toward Raz I hear Mina and Shawna yell at me and called me all kinds of crazy b**ch. I swear big people real life run in slow motion. I knew I wouldn’t be able to reach Raz before the wolf so I pulled my crossbow out and prayed that I didn’t miss. I knew Mina and Shawna would follow suit and try and take down the other two wolves. Yea we about to die for sure. Because we are not f**king superheros.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 5

Makahi POV:

“ROGUES SPOTTED AT THE EAST BORDERS!”

Blaze mind linked the pack! “s**t how many?” I asked running out of the office towards the east border taking my shirt off as I ran. I had no time to discard my pants so they will get shredded when I shifted. “looks like maybe 15 or more.” Blaze responded. “Hunter make sure all the women and children are in the safe houses.” Copy that Hunter responded. “I need at least 5 guards on each border NOW to make sure there is no more waiting to attack. Everyone else at the east border .” I yelled cutting off the mind link. As I approached I see Shadow grabbing a rogue wolf by its neck and snapped it like it was nothing and he hadn’t even shift yet. Wait what the hell is he doing here and not on the west with the humans. Just before I could ask.

I see my mother running toward me frantic “Mom why aren’t you in one of the safe house? And where are the human women?” I asked opening up my mind link again as I broke into a run towards my mother and I could see Shadow and Montago following. “I don’t know they were out back training and -and when I heard the growl I looked out back and they were gone. Kahi we have to find them they can’t die please find them Oh my Goddess Razor I didnt see him he must have gotten out some how he was so fond of Ji’lahni he must have ran after them.” My mother cried and fell into my arms.

“Damn it mother I told you to keep your eyes on them. Go to the safe house with dad and I’ll find the girls and Razor.” “No those girls were my responsibility I can help search for them, I can fight.” “Mother there’s no time to argue I can’t search for them and worry about you now please just go.” I said handing her to one of the guards that were helping some other women and children to the safe house. So far my men were keeping the rogues at the border they hadn’t made it to the community yet. With any luck they won’t. Just then I heard a roar that came from the west just as Shadow roared and shift in the blink of an eye and took off towards the west borders where we had the humans housed.

Me and Montago both broke out running we didn’t want to shift and scare the humans any more then they already were so we weren’t going to shift unless completely necessary. When the house came into view I immediately heard Razor barking which let me know he wasn’t in the house he must be in the wooded area where I can only assume the human women were. “SHADOW THEIR IN THE WOODS BEHIND THE HOUSE GO IN FROM THE BACK” I mind linked and he let out a howling growl and broke off from us to come up behind the house while we headed to the back of the house. All in my matter of seconds which felt like minutes once again I smelled the scent of watermelon and something else I still couldn’t put my finger on.

Maka immediately pushed forward trying to take control I could see from a distance 3 rogue wolves and Razor barreling towards the biggest rogue I looked up just as I heard one of the women yell “Raz get your a*s back to the house. I swear if you get eaten I will kill you myself.” Just Before she broke out into a run pulled out her crossbow aimed and shot. The other two women followed suit aiming at the other rogue wolves and did the same.

The bow hit the wolf’s neck and slow him down enough to allow her to scoop Razor up Credle him just as the wolf recovered and swiped at her left arm that held Razor, the rogue immediately yanked his paw away as if he’d just got burned when I saw his paw smoking she screamed out but managed to pull a knife out of no where with her right hand and stabbed the rogue wolf in his neck. As we got closer to them that smell hit me square in the chest that caused me to stumble and Maka roared "MINE!"

I let out a roar that shooked the ground and sprinted trying to get to my human mate. God damnit my mate is human. She tucked Razor into her shirt to free up her hands. The wolf was dying but not dead so when he got back up shook his head and then with every ounce of his remaining strength he hit my mate so hard she grunted loudly from the blow, curled her body around Razor at the last second as she hit the tree with a thud.

I grabbed the rogue wolf by the neck before he could reach my mate wanting to finish her off. I let Maka come forward enough to rip his head from his body. I could see Shadow and Montago making quick work of the other two rogues as I rushed over to my mate. Her arm was bleeding badly I needed to get her to the pack doctor before she dies. I lift her easily into my arm frantic moving her braids from her face. She had the most perfectly smooth milk chocolate skin full lips that looked like they were soft like clouds. "Hey baby wake up please wake up for me come on open your eyes and look at me please. You can't die especially when I don't even know your name." I whispered about to go into a full blown melt down.

I could hear Razor whimpering still hiding in her shirt. "Hey Razor buddy you can come out now it's safe." I said lifting her shirt careful to not expose her to Shadow nor Montago. Montago scooped Razor up into his arms and squat beside me. Both of her cousins were shaking like a leaf and in shock even though they almost single handedly taken out 3 wolves by themselves. I would be impressed if I wasnt scared half to death that my mate could have been killed. Once this was over I'm locking her a*s in my house and she is never to do something like this again I thought angrily.

I could see Shadow slowly approaching one of the women who look like she wanted to bolt but I guess she figured he was ok since he damn near ripped the wolf she was fighting neck off. His wolf was checking her for injuries but she was trying to push him off which he completely ignored by growling in warning and she immediately froze as he continued to check to see if she was hurt. Lost in thought still trying to wake up the woman in my arms I barely heard Montago "Alpha your hand." Montago said Stepping back. Huh what about my hand I looked down and notice that my hand was burning where her blood dripped on me. I yanked my hand away but didn't let her go. "What the hell is that? " I yelled wide eyed. "I don't know but we better get her to the pack doctor to find out. Because that's some freaky shit." Montago said putting even more distance between us as Razor was squirming trying to get back to my mate. but Montago held him firmly.

Just then the other two came running over. "Oh my God Ji'lahni please wake up you better wake your a*s up if you die I swear I will never forgive you!" They cried. The women all favored each other you could tell they were family. "Hey she's going to be find I'm going to take her to our doctor. he's the best in the state. But I have to hurry. you guys go change out of those bloody clothes and my Beta will escort you both to the hospital once you've cleaned up I promise she will be fine nothing is going to happen to her." I said lifting her into my arms and hissed when more of her blood burned me. I didnt know what the hell is going on but I needed answers. "Mine" my wolf said worriedly he was just as afraid as I was of losing our mate. Ji'lahni is what her cousins called her. It was a beautiful name for a beautiful woman. I squeezed her closer to me but let go a little when she groaned. At least she was still breathing.

Bursting through the pack hospital the doctor saw me and immediately stopped what he was doing and let the nurse take over with one of my men. "This way alpha is she breathing what happen?" he asked going into a room I laid her on the gurney but held her uninjured hand. "Rogue attacked it sliced her arm open and knocked her into a tree. She was trying to protect Razor. Once she hit the tree, she passed out. And doc her blood burns us." I said just as the doctor back up away from her. "Wha- what do you mean burn us." He asked. I lift my hand where her blood dripped it was healing but you can still see what happened.

"I have never seen anything like it. I will have to test her blood once I get her stable my gloves should protect my skin from her blood maybe you should put some gloves on to so you want burn yourself again alpha." He said grabbing gloves and scissors. "No." I growled I refuse to let go of her hand and not be able to feel her skin. The doctor cut her sleeve to see her wound. He touched her skin and I growled at the doctor. Shocked he looked at me wide eyed and confused. "Alpha I have to touch her to-to make sure everything is alright before I stitch her up. Can I touch her?" He asked clearly shaking up. I nodded I didn't like him touching her but I know he needed to do it to make her better.

She hadn't opened her eyes yet I couldn't wait to look into the eyes of my mate I can't explain the overwhelming feelings that were hitting me. It's like when I found her the emptiness wolves always feel without their mate seemed to have clicked into place as soon as we saw her. From outside I hear shouting right before I see little Razor burst through the door with Montago hot on his heels. He had shifted back to the little Grey eyed boy. For a 5 year old really tiny and he was pretty smart and fast from the looks of Montago who look like he just ran a marathon.

What's going on I look between him and Montago as Razor hid behind my chair. "That little s**t bit me and ran he wanted to see the human and I wouldn't let him." Montago said angrily pointing at Razor who was looking guilty. "I just wanted to make sure walahni was OK. He looked sadly. "She's gonna be just fine the doctor is fixing her up now. Why don't you go back out with Montago and I'll come get you once the doc is finished ok."

"Noooo can I please stay for a wittle while?" Razor cried Looking at me whimpering. I couldn't fault him for wanting to be near her because I felt the same way. "OK you can stay for a few minutes but after that you have to go back out with Montago. Deal?" "Deal." Razor responded allowing me to pick him up and sit him in the chair I was just in. "I'm going out in the hallway to speak with Montago for a few minutes you behave and don't touch any of her blood." I said sternly. Razor nodded his little head in agreement as he climbed on the bed and curled up next to Ji'lahni rubbing her head in order to comfort her he was whispering in her ear but I couldn't hear what he said even with my wolf ears.

Stepping out into the lobby. “Where are her cousins I thought they were coming with you? I asked “they were but Shadow showed up and said he would bring them in to get checked out to make sure they were OK. He seemed to be a little frazzled and that’s not like him. Come to think of it you look like he do. What’s going on with you?” Montago asked me suspiciously. Raking my hand through my hair taking a deep breathe not really understanding any of this s**t right now. My wolf thinks this woman is my mate hell my body thinks this as well but it can’t be, wolves don’t have human mates. It’s unheard of and isn’t possible because our DNA make up is no match with any human. they wouldn’t survive the mating or marking that we go through. But my wolf is ignoring all that and is insisting that she is my mate. Facing Montago “she’s my mate.” I answered. “That’s impossible she’s human there has never been a mating between us and humans... you must have gotten it wrong.. maybe you’re in shock and thought you smelled that scent on her.”

Montago said clearly thinking the same thing that I was that there is no way she’s my mate. “You don’t think I know that my brain is saying no but my body and my wolf seems to be craving her craving to be near her to touch her to protect her with my life. I’m hoping it is a mistake and some type of mix up I don’t know. But for right now I have to be with her.” I said losing the battle to try and distance myself from her. I came out here hoping that the effects of wanting to be near her would diminish but it isn’t my wolf is actually clawing at my subconscious trying to be near her. It’s taking all my strength to reign him in and keep him locked away.

Just then I hear the hospital doors crashing open and my mates family comes running in heading to the front desk but sees me and Montago and run straight to us with Shadow right behind them. They’re both bombarding me with so many questions talking all at once not giving me a chance to answer them. “OK ok calm down the doctor is patching her up now she is still unconscious but he doesn’t think it is life threatening but he is going to run some test and make sure she is fine.

Let’s just have a seat and wait for the the doctor to come out.” I Said leading them to two empty seats in the lobby Shadow sat down in one of the empty seats and pulled one of the women onto his lap. Everyone was shocked silent because Shadow was anything but gentle or nice and has never showed interest in any female after his mate die. Hell even the woman was shocked but she didn’t say anything and didn’t try to move either. Dismissing the thought. I needed to get back into the room with Ji’lahni because I couldn’t fight the urge to be near her any longer.

I walked back into the room and Razor was sitting in the same position on her pillow still rubbing her head in comfort keeping a trained eye on the doctor to make sure he isn’t hurting her. I smile because Razor acted like he was mated to her like me. “Hey buddy. It’s time to go back and let the doctor finish making her better. I promise I will let you comeback when he’s done. But you know you have to shift back before she wakes up and you need to shift now because her cousins are outside in the lobby really upset maybe you can try and make them feel better.” I said as I lift him off the bed and placed him on the floor so he could shift. Little ones rarely remember to take their clothes off before they shift.

Once he shifted I open the door he ran directly to the girls and they immediately lifted him up and gave him tight hugs and scolded him for scaring them half to death when he tried to fight the rogue wolf. Turning back to the bed that held my mate I sat down next to her and grabbed her hand in mine and gently kissed every one of her fingers needing her scent to calm my nerves. "You really have to wake up sweetheart I really need to see your eyes and hear you speak. I'm going a little crazy over here." I whispered to her as the doctor and nurses finished stitching her up.

"Uh Alpha the scratch is really deep, she has several cracked ribs, she has a big knot on the back of her head so we will run test to make sure there is no brain injury, and we've stitched up her arm it would be so much easier if she were a wolf then she would heal on her own. If she was mated to a wolf then he could heal her. But since she's not and she's human we could only stitch her up the best we could it should leave minimal scarring I sent one of my staff to the next town to get something for her pain and some antibiotics so her arm won't get infected, I drew blood and had it sent to the lab for testing. She will be in a great deal of pain until we get the pain medicine. Which might take a couple of days. That nasty bump on the back of her head also explains why she's still unconscious. Her body just needs to rest and recharge then she should wake up. Once she is awake and alert she can go back to their house she need complete bedrest no stress or loud noises because she will feel 10 times worse then a person with a hangover so almost any sound will sound like yelling."

The doctor finished giving me the run down. Before walking out leaving me alone for the first time with the woman that had been torchoring me since she first got here. She looked so peaceful even though she just took on a 400 pound feral wolf. I couldn't be prouder that she held her own but I was pissed that she even tried something crazy like that. I sat there starring at her beautiful face until I heard a commotion outside the doors and immediately got pissed when it seems the even unconscious loud noises hurt my mate.

Getting up storming out the door to see Summer trying to get pass Montago to get to me. "Let me go Montago my mate is in there I need to know if he's hurt." Summer sneered just then she looked up seeing me, she broke away from Montago and wrapped herself around me and my wolf actually growled in disgust peeling her arms from around me. "Summer please keep it down patients are trying to rest." I said trying to put some distance between us but she wasn't having it. "Baby are you OK they said you had to save Razor because those nasty women took him with them and you had to save them and Razor.

Then you had to carry one of them here and I heard they were fat so I'm sure you hurt yourself trying to carry her here. You should have let 3 of the guards do it. I told you I thought it was a bad idea for your mother to invite them here to plan our mating. Hopefully she will send them back where they came from, now that she sees that they've only been here 2 days and they kidnapped my cousins pup and now we're being attacked by rogue wolve." Summer whined angrily as she leaned close to me.

"Um cuz please tell me this b***h didn't just call my cousin fat?" The cousin who was sitting on Shadow ask the other. They both snapped their neck toward Summer. "Nah she not stupid. She don't know her or us to feel comfortable enough to talk about us." The other one said in response.

Summer turned toward them glaring as she spotted Razor cuddle up next the the girls. She spinned and March towards them and they immediately got up only then did I notice that they were strapped looking like Tomb Raiders like they werent taking any more chances to be caught off guard..Shadow tried to hold his woman back but she just snapped a look that had him throwing up his hands. I tried step between them before they came to blows. "Give me my cousin's pup. How dare you kidnap him and put him in danger." Summer sneered.

"First and most important nobody kidnapped him he wanted to be with my cousin and she actually risked her life to save him which is why she is laying in that hospital bed and by the looks of it Raz doesn't want to go with you." Shadow's woman said smartly. As Razor tucked himself into a ball away from Summer. "How dare you speak to me like that! I hope you know my mother n law is going to make sure you're out of here as soon as I tell her about this." Summer yelled.

"You don't need to tell me anything I heard it for myself and trust me I won't be sending them anywhere so you better get use to it. And by the way I took Razor with me so if you want to accuse someone of kidnapping then accuse me." My mother said coming to stand directly in front of Summer and I can see my father standing by the girls with his arm around them comforting them. Summer quickly changed her tone. "Mom I didn't mean it like that I'm just upset that Razor almost got hurt. I wouldn't dare accuse you of kidnapping." Summer studded.

"it's Luna to you now can you please leave so I can check on my girls to make sure they're OK and your causing a scene. Mother stepped pass her dismissing her immediately as Montago grabbed her arm pulling her back as she was trying to still defend her actions. "Son how is she? is she OK? I knew I shouldn't have let them out of my sight." My mother said turning back to hug the girls close crying silently. "Mother you can't blame yourself I should have had more guards covering the borders. I don't know how they were able to get past our motion detectors and guards." I said determine to make whoever was behind this pay for hurting my mate.

"Mother yall can go in to see her for a few minutes. But you have to be quiet she will be in a lot of pain because she hit her head and the doctor said loud noises will be painful for her she has some cracked ribs and they stitched her arm up. But she will be just fine. She's still on conscious but when her body rest a little while from the trauma she will wake up." I said to her family and my parents they all gasped as I repeated what the doctor told me. Extending my hand towards her cousins. "I don't think we've met I'm Alpha Makahi the owner here and son of Luna Lateri. I wish we could have met under different circumstances." I said introducing myself. "Hi I'm Mina and this is Shawna and my cousin in the back is Ji'lahni." Mina said shaking my hand before Shawna shook my hand as well. "If you'll follow me I'll take you to see your cousin. "Wait Kahi what about me you're just going to leave me out here alone?"

Summer said grabbing my arm as I passed by. I stopped turning to her not really feeling like dealing with her right now because of the need to see my mate-.... I mean Ji'lahni was making my patience short. "I have to handle this let Montago take you back to your place and I'll come see you later. I said shrugging her hands off my arm. She gasped like I slapped her but immediately glared at Mina and Shawna as they snickered. "Hey give me Razor so I can leave." she tried to grab the pup from Shawna but Razor immediately shrank away from her. Patting her hand. "How about I'll bring him by a little later Montago please see miss Summer to her home safely. " My father said returning her to Montago.

Entering the room my mother and the girls ran to the bed silently crying and checking her over to make sure she was comfortable. My mother as always making a fuss about every little thing the nurses were currently running out of the room to fetch more blankets and pillows because mother said it was freezing in here. Razor took up residence right back next to her head and curled himself into a tight ball of black fur next to her.

Standing behind my mother "mother can I talk to you and dad for a moment outside." "Right now son? Can it wait?" My mother not wanting to leave Ji'lahni side. "Yes it's important it will only take a moment." I said. she nodding her head letting go of Ji'lahni hand reluctantly and followed me out the door into the lobby again. "Well what is it son? What's so important that it couldn't wait?" My mother asked concerned." Taking a deep breath I decided not to tell them about Ji'lahni possibly being my mate. Because quite honestly I didn't know for sure how it was possible and I don't truly believe it myself. But they needed to know about her blood.

"Mom when they were attacked the rogue managed to swipe her arm before she stabbed him in the throat. But when he did he immediately recoiled as if she burned him somehow. I didn't think nothing of it at the time but when her blood dripped on me it burned. Apparently her blood burns us. The doctor is testing her blood to see what it could be. But until then you have to be careful and if you must touch her you need to wear gloves ok." I finished "What son what do you mean her blood burns us you mean wolves? How is that possible could it be that the rogue had some type of disease may be he gave her something." My father said clearly just as confused as I was. "No it wasn't the rogue I came into contact with his blood when I ripped his throat out it did nothing to me only her blood did. Like I said the doctor is running test but it will be a few days before we know anything.

And she will be in a lot of pain because we don't have anything for pain that's strong enough here. we mostly heal on our own and our pups only need mild pain medicine. So once she's released I'll have her moved to my place where she can be in complete silence and her cousins should stay with you until we can find out how the rogues got pass our borders. We need to keep them safe and protected." My wolf growled angrily which caused my mother to gasped and stepped back shocked at my sudden anger and I know my eyes changed from brown to green which shows that maka had come forward. My father eyed me suspiciously I didn't dare meet his gaze because I didn't want to answer or explained why I'm losing control of Maka. Nodding in agreement my parents rushed back go back into the room to dote on my mate.

I Decided to give them some time which I could also use to clear my head I hadn't shift in 48 hours and Maka was getting restless and angry being away from my mate. I decided to mind link Montago to join me for a run. I don't know why but I decided I wanted to run west tonight. Maka obviously knew why and smiled happily at the possibility of her scent still being in the area from earlier. I run through the woods howling accepting that the fragile human is our mate.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 6

Ji'lahni POV:

What the hell is that beeping and why the hell is it so damn loud. I groaned opening my eyes slowly and the bright light was blinding it felt like it was drilling a hole in my head. Shit... I'm hurting what the hell is going on. Finally able to open my eyes wide enough to look around and see that I'm obviously in a hospital. But I can't remember why but I know that if how much pain I'm feeling literally EVERYWHERE is any indication then whatever it was f****d me up. I groaned trying to sit up and see what the hell is going on but my left arm was killing me and I could barely move it without the pain almost making me pass out.

"Hey hey don't move do you know who you are or where you're at?" The stranger ask whispering pushing me back on the pillow. "Of course I know who I am and I'm obviously in a hospital ..but, you could tell me why? I responded I could see him visibly let go of the breathe he was obviously holding some how relieved. "Uh are you going to tell me who you are and why am I here?" I asked whispering to find out why he was just staring at me.

"Oh right we haven't met. I'm Luna lateri's son Alpha makahi and what's the last thing you remember." He answered and ask... I frowned trying to remember what got me in the hospital. "Momma Teri i mean your mother took us on a tour around your community. I remember us stopping at your elementary school and then we met this nice lady and." I trailed off suddenly as the memories came flooding back to me in a rush that it took my breath away. I remembered everything the crazy wolf Raz fiercely tried to protect us from. Me trying to save him and then nothing. I jumped up patting my chest trying to feel for the little baby wolf starting to panic.

"WHERE IS HE WHERE'S RAZ I HAVE TO FIND HIM YOU HAVE TO MAKE SURE HE'S OK OMG! MY COUSINS WHERE ARE THEY WHY AREN'T THEY HERE OMG PLEASE DON'T TELL ME THEY'RE DEAD THEY CANT BE DEAD." I said crying frantically trying to take the needle out of my arm. My head was pounding but I ignored it because i needed to find my cousins. "Hey hey calm down. Your cousins are fine they were here but they need to shower and get some rest and the pup Razor he's fine you saved his life. He has been by your side every chance he can. Just lay back down. You need to rest and continue healing." This man claiming to be lateri's son whispered.

Hearing that everyone was ok calmed me down a little. I allowed him to push me back on the bed. Now that I calmed down a little the pain decided it wanted to make its presence known. I groaned when the pain in my left arm began to thump as if it had its own heartbeat. My head felt like I got hit with a brick. The pain had me blurry eyed. I had to close them to stop the walls from moving. Taking a deep breath trying to focus on anything other than this pain. I wanted to cry but I didn't want to do it in front of Lateri's son that would be embarrassing.

"Hey I know you're in pain I'm sure it hurts like hell I'll go get the nurse she'll give you something to take the edge off they had to go get you something stronger it will be here in a day or so. We do have basic medication they've been giving you wait here." The man whispered hurriedly getting up going to the door to get the nurse. The nurse rushed in like she was being chased. She injected something into my I V bag and hurried back out of the room just as fast as she came in.

"The pain should ease up a little bit. He whispered taking my hand into his I jumped at the electricity that zapped from my hand up my arm straight to my heart then traveled down between my legs. I pulled my hand back and frowned at him and the look he gave me let's me know he felt it too. He had my heart racing and I don't even know him. I mean yea from what I saw he was damn fine I mean oh my God fine. But for me it takes more than good looks. So I'm going to chalk that up to the medication that home girl hook me up with.

Finally able to open my close without feeling like I'm about to pass out. I glanced at the man sitting next to me. "Hey beautiful I finally get to see those big blue eyes of yours you had me scare for a minute thinking I would never get a chance to see them." He said as he smiled at me and God damn it even him smiling at me had my cheeks twitching with the hell did that nurse give me ecstasy.

"Are you flirting with me. Because whatever that nurse just gave me got me thinking nasty thought things." I whispered licking my lips. "Well lucky for you I was and I'm definitely not on any medication and I'm thinking very nasty thoughts too." He whispered close to my ear which he might as well said it to my p****y because she is definitely listening he had the most devilishly sexy smile that made me blush. See I'm in this hospital and this man got me thinking about his hands touching me in places that..." Hey keep your eyes open for me baby the doc said once you're awake you need to stay awake at least an hour." He said touching my cheek and again his touch is going straight to my p****y what the hell is happening.

But I didn't stop him this time I leaned into his hand enjoying the warmth and the comfort it provided. I swear I normally wouldn't dare allow anybody I don't know to put their hands on me but this guy what was his name again s**t I forgot. Looking at him again and he was still staring at me with wanting eyes.

"I'm sorry I know you told me your name earlier but I forgot." I said embarrassingly. Smiling at me. "It's ok you were in a lot of pain so I forgive you just this once. My name is Alpha Mykahi Crystal." "You mean Lateri Crystal's son the one who is getting mated in a few of weeks." I asked leaning away from his touch which obviously by the way he frowned at me... showed it angered him that I separated us. Sighing "I am lateri's son. I'm not so sure about the mating part anyone." He whispered looking confused. "Why not what happened? I asked because if there is no mating then there was no money and we would have never come down here and nearly get eaten by wolves for nothing. He shrugged and smiled at me. "Uh I met someone that I think is meant for me.

So I don't know if mating Summer is the right decision." Now I'm staring wide eyed at him wondering if I'm reading him correctly because it sure did sound like he was talking about me which I know that he couldn't be talking about me right? . We don't even know each. I mean yea sure there is a spark whenever we touch but that was no reason to think of not mating her. But why the thought of him being with someone else bothering me so much.

What the hell is in this IV bag i ask again. Looking at him clearly confused and a little awkward. He gets up pacing like a caged animal I can only assume trying to come up with a way to explain what he just meant. Turning back towards me taking a deep breath. "Look I understand It may have sounded a little crazy about me having second thoughts about me mating Summer. I wish I could explain it in more detail right now but I can't until I can figure some stuff out.

I know you feel that there is something unexplainable between us just know that you're not crazy and I feel it to and once I find out all the answers then I will tell you everything I just need you to trust me he whispered sitting on the bed leaning so close I could tell he wanted to lean his fore head against mine but knew he couldn't for it would probably crush my brain. his were eyes closed like his fighting something within himself. I instinctively reached out and cupped his jaw with my good arm and he immediately opened his eye and I could swear I saw his eyes change from brown to blue. But that couldn't be right, could it?

Didn't the same thing happen with Shadow killer? I blinked to focus on the handsome man in front of me. We were just inches away from each other and I wanted so bad from him to kiss me even knowing it was wrong on so many levels. I was About to just say f**k it and go for it. But the room door crashed open sending immediately pain shooting through my head that hurt so bad I thought I would pass out. "What the hell are you doing to my mate you skank. The woman screamed. Which cause Mykahi to immediately pull away from me. Which was kind of upsetting. I thought I heard growling but I can't be sure because my ears is still ringing and my head is being cut off. Because there is no other explanation for this pain.

I hear screaming and a little bark that sounded like my Raz I cracked open my eyes enough to see a female coming towards me with a black fur ball in her hand and in an instant she yanks my hand. I scream out in pain causing more pain in my head and Raz ever the protector jumps and bites the hand that is currently trying to tear my arm off.

She yelps and slings Raz across the floor and as my hand drops to the bed I feel cool medal and thank my cousins for making sure I'm good I grabbed the knife and put it to that b****h neck and knicked her so she know it's real and her wide eyed expression let's me know she understands.... "If you ever lay a hand on Raz again I will kill you b*****h you understand me." I said shaking from the intense pain that is radiating off me and I feel myself passing out but I can't while she is still near me. Just then her a*s was lifted off the floor and out the door before I could blink. Which I was relieved because my body gave completely out. All I could make out was Raz whimpering next to me and licking my face. You know i don't let no dog or wolf lick my face. But I'll tell him about it later. I thought, as I welcome the darkness.

Mykahi POV :

"WHAT THE HELL DO YOU THINK YOU'RE DOING?"

I growled as I squeezed Summer's throat, fighting with my wolf to not crush her throat for hurting our mate. Realizing she couldn't answer I let her go and she dropped to the ground in a heap on the floor. With Everyone watching she immediately got up with anger in her eyes. "What do you mean what am I doing what was she doing why was she touching you why were you so close to her. What the hell is going on kahi." Summer raged in a loud whisper.

Sighing I really didn't want to deal with this now. Honestly I couldn't tell her anything while I'm still not sure what is going on myself. Trying to defuse the situation. "Summer I told you the doctor said she has a really bad concussion and loud noises cause her severe pain and it will be that way until we get her medication. She had just woken up and I had to lean in to whisper to her without hurting her. I said leaving out the we almost kissed part.

"Well why does she have to touch you that way. I'm telling you that was not a I want to whisper something to you touch. That was her I want to fk you touch are you blind i swear kahi i will do more then yank her arm next time I will rip her f***g throat out if that fat b***h touches you again?" Summer said angrily getting louder. "Now that will be kinda hard to do with a knife in your gut and your throat split." Ji'lahni cousins said as they appeared damn near out of thin air.

They were rushing towards us still strapped clearly not trying to be caught off guard again. "So you want to put your hands on somebody how about try that s**t with us." Mina said with Shawna right behind her, Shadow trailing behind her. Keep them back! I don't trust that Summer won't try and shift and we don't want that to happen especially because they don't know about us." I mind link Shadow as I stepped in front of Summer , she huff clearly not threatened" You human women are all the same so full of yourself that you don't even know what you're life is at risk."

Summer sneered trying to get pass me. She had already had her nails elongated trying to get to the girls that shadow had a hard time trying to keep back . Everyone in the lobby was starring in shock. I turned back to Summer intending to pick her up and carry her outside. But Shadow underestimated the women some how Mina breaks away and charged at me as I threw Summer over my shoulder, Mina pulled her fist back and upper cut

Summer and all I heard was bones being broken and Summer screaming in pain. Then all hell broke loose.

Obviously pissed Summer was beginning to shift I could feel the magic rippling through her skin she managed to grab Mina arm and dug her nails into her wrist Mina cursed at the sudden pain and just like with Ji'lahni and the rogue wolves as soon as Mina's blood made contact with Summer hand it immediately started to burn her hands she growled out in pain and had the opportunity to lift her up and out of the hospital away from my mate and her cousins now more confused then ever because it wasn't just Ji'lahni's blood it was one or both of her cousin's.

Once outside I drop Summer to the ground to inspect her hand and it looked like she burned her fingers really bad. Looking at summer I could see that she was angry but also sad and confused which was my fault. "Baby you need to shift and heal yourself then you need to change out of those bloody clothes. I said trying to calm her. "Mykahi what the hell is going on? Why did that bitch's blood burn me? You have been acting different since I got back and now you're at that humans bedside all night I deserve some answers we're going to mates in a couple of weeks." She said through tears.

Regardless of everything that is happening Summer is right she deserved better from me. Hell all this could be just a mix up more then likely their blood is why it was making it seem like she was my mate. Thinking about it I finally realized that was more then likely the cause of my wolf thinking she was my mate. I need to focus on my pack and the rogue wolves that attacked us. There is something brewing that attack was well organized and it bothered me that they seemed to be one step ahead of me and that is something I can't get passed.

Looking at Summer we had 3 years together and she was loyal and a fighter as well and I loved her. With that said I needed to get the thoughts of Ji'lahni out of my head there was no way that a human could ever be my mate. "Look go shift and get out of those bloody clothes and meet me at the house I owe you a meal don't I?" I said taking her hand even if my body wanted to recoil at the intimate gesture because she wasn't Ji'lahni. Smiling up at me she looked up at me standing on her tip toes to kiss my lips but I quickly turned so that it land on my cheek instead. Even though I made up my mind my body still has to catch up.

"How about let's just leave here and go back to your place together I won't need clothes tonight anyway. I'll just use one of your shirts." She smiled pulling me closer to her, trying to put some space between us without her realizing. "I have to speak with the doctor and get someone to stand guard until the threat is eliminated I want to make sure that everyone is safe. After that I promise I'm all yours. I said tilting her head to kiss her lips I had to at least try. But I failed miserably but not enough for Summer to notice so that's a win.

Waiting for her to disappear from view I headed back in the hospital. I mind linked Shadow. Are the girls in the room with Ji'lahni? "No the doctor took Mina into a room to patch her up Shawna is with her." He responded. I headed to Ji'lahni room to talk to her alone before her cousins came in full of energy. I could hear a small growl coming from her room. Frowning suspiciously I open the door and see Ji'lahni attempting to stand and failing as soon as she stands upright she sways before almost falling I reach her before she hits the floor. "What the hell do you think your doing? The doctor said bedrest you know that means you actually have to stay in bed? I whispered furiously "I know but I had to pee and no one was in here so I was going to go on my own.

I was doing just fine.? She said stubbornly as she wrapped her arms around my neck tucked her face in the crook of my neck I can feel her soft breathe on my skin and her lips so close to my neck that the blood shot straight to my groin and I groaned at the sudden hard on that pressed painfully against my pants. Needing to put some space between us I pushed the bathroom door open and sat her on the toilet before closing the door hurriedly. I had to take a deep breath to get my wolf under control it was clawing at me to claim Ji'lahni he wanted to mark who he believed was his mate he didn't understand why I was questioning who the moon goddess chose as our other half.

He doesn't care that there has never been a human as our other half chosen by the moon goddess, so it has to be a mistake. It has to be whatever is in her blood that's making you think she's ours. I sighed as Maka growled in disagreement with my theory but retreated in the back of my consciousness. Finally getting myself under control I peaked in to see if Ji'lahni was done. I had left the lights off so it wouldn't disorient her or cause blinding pain. "Are you done?" I whispered loudly. She answered "yes."

Walking over and picking her up with ease she felt so soft so perfect in my arm that I wanted to make sure I memorized how she felt in my arms in this moment I just stood there in the dark looking down at her beautiful face. Even though she doesn't know it I could see she was trying to find where my face could be. To help her out I leaned in and whispered.

"Are you looking for me?" She seemed startled but immediately brought her hands to touch my face and damn it if my wolf wasn't back trying to push forward to get closer to her. I closed my eyes, because I know my eyes are glowing and I didn't want to scare her. I could feel her trembling a little. Her hand still on my face I needed to stop this before it started and I ruin everything as well as ruin my relationship with Summer. Sighing with regret and feeling my heart beat faster trying to find the right words. "Baby I know I told you there was something between us and that I felt it too. But the truth is I was wrong. I thought there was but it must have been in the heat of the moment everything was happening so fast and I think we both felt things that weren't truly there."

I whispered sadly opening my eyes I could tell she was shocked and extremely upset at what I said but in the blink of an eye her face changed to anger. "Look you can only speak for yourself not me. I know what I felt when we touched what I felt just then it is something. I don't know what that something is but don't you dare try and tell me I don't feel it." She said as she removed her hand from my face and dropped her head to rest on my chest probably from pain, I immediately wanted her to put it back already missing her touch. "I'm sorry I never should have said any of those things I'm mating Summer in two weeks and I need to focus on making sure there is no more rogue attacks.” I said trying to convince myself of the first part.

“Are you in love with her?” She asked lifting her head again somehow looking me dead in the eyes. Not wanting to hurt her but needing her to understand there is no us. “Yes I love her.” I said so low that I could barely hear myself. But she definitely heard me by the sound of her trying not to cry. She wiped at her eyes and I could tell the moment she put her guard up, and that hurt me more than anything.

“Please take me back to bed now I’m tired and want to sleep.” She whispered “baby the doctor said you need to stay up for an hour before you go back to sleep.” Glaring at me “Sir my medical condition is none of your concern. I am well aware of what I need to do, I don’t need you to remain me. So just take me back to my bed please. She whispered sadly.

I turned walking out of the bathroom I laid her gentle back on the bed slowly not wanting to break contact because this will be the last time we were ever this close again. Then I heard her say. “f**k it you said you don’t feel the same way about me and it wasn’t real then this won’t bother you either. She whispered right before she pulled herself up pressing her lips against mine and It felt like she was killing me and breathing life back into my body.

Before I knew it I was on the bed with her, careful to not put my weight on her. Damn it she even tasted like watermelon and heaven. She wrapped her arm around my neck and broke out kiss to lick my neck and nip me a little and that had me growling eyes glowing but she didn’t notice because she was still licking and kissing my neck. Pulling away from her and turned so she couldn’t see my eyes or that my teeth had elongated ready to mark her as mine which would have been a total disaster.

“Sorry I have to go this was a mistake.” I said as I rush out of the door and almost ran into her cousins who eyed me suspiciously. Looking at Shadow.. “Get Hunter to guard her until the doctor releases her.” I mind linked. He nodded. I need to run to clear my head and shower before I head to my house where Summer was waiting. “Hey meet me on the west border I need to run.” I mind linked Montago. “Again I swear that girl got you by the balls.” He responded if you only knew I said to myself I’m in deep s**t.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 7

Ji’lahni POV:

“How are you feeling today Miss Nelson? The doctor asked as I sat in the chair by the hospital window. Although he still wants me on bed rest I managed to beg and pleaded with him to let me sit in the recliner for an hour. He said yes but Hunter had to carry me to and from because my balance was still way off and he didn't want me to reinjure my arm or fall and bump my head again which could kill me. So I reluctantly agreed. Hunter was really handsome, smart and funny. We had gotten to know each other these pass few days since mykahi decided he didn't want to see or visit me anymore. I heard from the nurse that he calls damn near every hour asking if I was ok.

To say he feels nothing for me, his actions said otherwise. But I'm not in the business of forcing anyone to chose me despite the ache in my heart and the anger I feel everytime I think of him and Summer together. For some reason she make sure someone just so happen to have seen her and Mykahi together and feels the need to tell me how happy they are. I roll my eyes every time one of her goons brings Razz to visit. he comes to see me everyday and he whimpers every time he has to leave I swear his the smartest little pup I have ever seen not like I have seen any but I'm sure he's the smartest none the less.

Turning back to the doc. "Yes I'm feeling a lot better. Will feel even better if you released me today." I said hopeful. Smiling "I got your CT and your x-rays back and everything is healing nicely, you still have a ways to go before you're back to normal. But I don't see why you can't be released today permitted that you continue bedrest and redress your arm 3 times a day." The doctor said. "You got a deal doc."

Although Hunter has been redressing my arm I suppose my cousins can do it if a nurse shows them." I said excitedly. Just then Hunter comes in all smiles. "Did I just hear that you're getting sprung today?" He asked? And I squealed but quickly stopped because that s**t hurt my head. Although I can talk normal with no headaches or searing pain, me and loud noises still weren't friends. Calming down. "Yes you did hear that right and you're right on time I want to surprise my cousins before they can come here." I said excitedly. "Anything for you sweetness and don't worry about your arm ill continue to redress it for you everyday." He said sincerely.

"No. You don't have to do that. You have been settled with me these last few days I'm sure you can't wait to get back to your life and your women friends." I smiled at him. "Hey are you trying to get rid of me. Are you tired of me already?" He asked holding his heart like I was about to break it if I said yes. "Of course I'm not tired of you." I blushed "well it's settled sweet cheeks you're stuck with me." He smiled scooping me up out of the chair. These men around here sure do make us big girls feel light as a feather. A girl could get use to this. I smiled to myself. The doctor gave me my antibiotics and pain med as well as a lot of first aid bandages guazes and tape for my arm. I'm on strict bedrest. Only sit for meals and a couple hours a day Hunter insisted that he would make sure I follow the rules.

I got dressed as fast as I could it was dinner time and my cousins would be here right after to spend hours with me until the nurses kicks them out. Hunter carried me to the golf cart and it felt like a dream like I had really been in prison. The sun was a bit bright but Hunter thought of everything and gave me his shades. Once I made it to Lateri's house where the girls were staying I couldn't contain my excitement at surprising my cousins. They will squeal in delight which would hurt like hell, but it will be worth it to see them be as happy as I am to being out.

“Hey calm down I can feel you squirming you’re going to tire yourself out before we even get to the door.” Hunter said shaking his head chuckling at me. “I can’t help it.” I said as we stepped to the door and I knocked and rang the door bell. The top of their door was a pane glass window so whoever answered would see it was me.

“I’LL GET IT!” I heard an unfamiliar voice. Hunter apparently knew who it was. “Shadow must be here for Shawna.” Wow I realized I never really heard him say anything more than grunt or growl

Surprisingly he sounded nothing like I would think a killer should sound. Seeing me he stopped dead in his tracks shocked. “Open he Damn door Shadow its hot as hell out here.” Hunter said through the door. Shadow opened the door and stepped aside. To allow me and hunter through. “Hey Shadow guess who got sprung today? I’m trying to surprise my cousins where are they? ” I asked. “Dinning room.” Is all he said.

Apparently, Hunter knew exactly where that was because he didn’t wait for directions Shadow closed the door following close behind I could hear talking but couldn’t tell who it was but I knew it wasn’t my cousins. Walking up to the dining room my mood immediately changed because the first person I see was none other then the alpha himself. I started calling him that because that was all Hunter would call him so I just went with it. It allowed me to not feel any of those damn stupid emotions getting to me.

As soon as we stepped into the room he immediately snapped his head in my direction noticing his shocked expression and then something that looked like anger for God knows what. because I haven’t seen or spoken to him since that night we kissed. Everyone else noticing his shock turn their heads to me and as I predicted they squealed and damn near knocked over their chairs coming to love up on me... Lateri actually did knock her chair over running towards us Hunter had to hold them off, saying he didn’t want to drop me and I was still on strict bedrest and 2 hours of sit time. So lateri ushered us back into the living room and said i would sit there until one of her maids got my room ready on the first floor which was mykahi’s old room.

“Oh chocolate drop I’m so glad you’re out of that old cold hospital. You don’t know how worried you had me and the girls but now that you’re all here with me under one roof I’m the happiest Luna. Oh gosh lahni Are you hungry? of course you are that nasty hospital food is depressing. Holly can you prepare her a plate and bring it in here along with a tray please?” Lateri asked grabbing pillows stuffing them under my feet and head my cousins were getting blankets and more pillows they were so excited and ready to spoil me. I didnt need all those things but i let them because they seemed really happy to be able to help take care of me.

Clearing his throat everyone stopped to look at him. “Mother you’re overwhelming her, you’re going to tire her out and she just got home. Let’s give her some breathing room and wait for her food to come.” Turning to Hunter clearly angry about something. “Hunter you can leave now. They need an extra guard on the North border.” The alpha said dismissingly which pissed me off. Looking at him in disgust. Hunter looking confused.

“But Alpha I have to redress Kyajah’s arm in an hour.” Hunter Said respectfully bowing his neck. “What did you just say.” The alpha asked coming to stand above Hunter.

Everyone noticed the tension in the room except my cousin who quickly caught the use of my middle name. Then turned to me and then him....”oohhhhhh how does Mr. Hunter know your middle name.” They said eyeing me. I rolled my eyes trying not to make it a big deal. “Oh shut up. He won a game of poker where he could ask me 1 personal question.” I looked away shrugging. They looked between the both of us trying to see if there was anything else going on. Which it wasn’t.

Summer came out of no where wrapping her arm around him. ” I was just noticing that Summer was here as well, clearly pissed by me stealing the attention she craves. “Sweetie maybe we should go. Seems like everyone is excited to have.. her home. maybe we should give them some time to spend with her.” She said rubbing his chest clearly laying it on real thick for my benefit of course.

Still staring at Hunter “I will make sure she’s put to bed and one of the girls will redress her arm now go.” He all but growl. Hunter gasped looked at me to say sorry with his eyes and quickly left. Turning back towards me with the same anger never taking his eyes off me. “We came here for dinner to finalize when you start your Luna training once we do that then we’ll leave.” He said turning and going back into the dinning room without waiting for a response. Mina was the first to break the awkward silence.

“What the hell is wrong with him.” She asked no one in particular “I wish I knew he has been weird lately and is avoiding me and his father. It may be stress of the rogue attacks and this God forsaken mating ceremony.” Lateri said with the look of someone who just ate a lemon and lime on a hot day. My cousins had the same look but theirs were more of the I wish I could drag her a*s out back and dust her a*s off. Holly brought me a bowl of loaded chicken soup and rolls.

Mina and Shawna grabbed their plates and came to sit with me with Shadow not far away from Shawna. I definitely have to get caught up on that bit of news because I have notice that he tends to find his way next to Shawna. Lateri wanted to join us so bad the look of sadness and anger that she had to sit with Summer and her son wasn’t missed by anyone and she didn’t seem to care. I also notice that the alpha sat in the chair that gave him a birds eye view of me. I wasn’t going to let his evil looks stop me from enjoying my homecoming with my family. So I blocked his a*s like he didn’t exist. I don’t know what he thought was going to happen but he made his choice and it wasn’t me so now I’m gone make him live with that decision.

Makahi POV:

“Don’t you agree sweetie?” Summer said putting her hand in mine. I had no idea what she just said I couldn’t tear my eyes away from Ji’lahni. I was furious that she allowed Hunter to touch her. I wonder what else they have done. Did she let him kiss or something more I asked myself getting more and more pissed thinking about it. “OUCH! YOU’RE HURTING

MY HAND!" Summer yelled. "Oh sorry. Montago just got some news of another rogue attack." I said which wasn't a total lie there was another attack but I knew about it already. "Oh my goddess where? is everyone ok?" My mother asked ever the loving Luna. "It was Alpha Bronnan's pack. There was no wolves lost but some were injured pretty bad." I said trying to focus on the task at hand. "Oh that's sad we should reach out to see if they need anything honey." My mother said and my father nodded eyeing me suspiciously. I guess he didn't buy the whole story.

"Anyway as I was saying it obvious that me and my friends can't work with .. them that maybe we should just cut our losses and let my friend do it. Don't you agree honey?" Summer said looking expectantly at me. "And I disagree. My girls are always professional even if they don't like the client and for good reason and they've already been paid and invested their time it will be rude and unprofessional to break the contract." My mother said with conviction. Looking at my father for help and now all of a sudden he's looking at everything but me. "Hey, Lahni what's wrong? I heard from the other room I snap my head in their direction to see Ji'lahni head wobbling and eyes closed tight as if she's in pain without thinking twice I jumped up rushing into the living with my mother and father right on my heels.

"What's wrong with her I demanded as I picked her up in my arms and sat down so I could check her out myself. "I don't know one minute she was ok but after we heard her scream." Pointing at Summer. "She looked like she was in pain but she said she was fine and then her words were all jumbled and then her head started nodding." Shawna said with a look of concerned. Opening her eyes just then she frowned looking at me. "Why are you holding me?" Ji'lahni asked. "Because you gave everyone a scare you passed out." I said with my heart racing at the sight of her blue eyes.

"I told yall I was fine and don't make a fuss." She said sighing "See you heard her she did she find so can we get back to our planningvmating ceremony." Summer whined impatiently which earn her a glare from my mother and father. "You've had enough excitement for today let's get you in bad so you can take your medicine and rest." I said getting up. "First of all you don't get to tell me what to do and I'm perfectly capable of allowing someone else take me to my room" She said squirming trying to get out of my arms which I tighten my hold on her. "No." I said simply.

"He's right you need to rest ill get your stuff and get your clothes ready and your medicine. Oh shoot we had a double date planned. Hey Shadow can you tell Blaze we will have to go out another time." Mina said gathering Ji'lahni pillows. "You will do no such thing. You two go out you're not staying home to watch me sleep. The Alpha's right I'm super tired and probably sleep the rest of the night now please just go and have fun." Ji'lahni pleaded. "She's right you girls go have fun I'll see to it that she's just fine."

My mother said pushing the girls out the door as they mumbled sadly about wanting to stay. "Mother isn't it you and dads turn to host the senior pack run." I asked lifting my eyebrows. Glaring at me with guilt in her eyes. "Yes but that's not important now carry Lahni to her room." She said firmly. "No mamma Teri you guys go as I said I'm going to take my medicine and go straight to sleep. I won't be able to rest if you cancel your plans because of me. So please just go I'll be fine." Ji'lahni said with her best puppy dog look. Sighing my mother nodded but said she was coming straight here afterwards, and for me to make sure that Ji'lahni was comfortable before I left.

She kissed both me and Ji'lahni on the cheek before heading out. Turning I Headed toward my old room. "Ah excuse me Kahi we can't stay either let one of the maids put her to bed. We have to pick up Razor from Feiona we're already late." She said with an attitude. I completely forgot Summer was still here turning back to her. "The maids have gone for tonight. You go pick up Razor and I'll meet you at my place I won't be long." I said not waiting for a response. "Wait aren't you forgetting? " Summer asked. I frowned not knowing what the hell she was taking about. "What? " I asked confusingly she walks up.

"This silly" and kisses me like we're about to make a movie. Shocked for more then a second, I stepped away and broke the kiss but I guess it wasn't fast enough because I glanced down at Ji'lahni who had her head down avoiding us, but I can see she's angry by how tight she held her jaw. Summer apparently knows she got the reaction she wanted because she was looking at Ji'lahni with a smirk. "I'll see you at home don't stay too long. I'll have on that red negligee you love." She said walking out of the door.

I closed my eyes in frustration, only to open them to see that Ji'lahni still had head her turned away from me. Sighing deeply I headed to my old room. Opening the door the maids must have put all her stuff away already her medication was on the bed side table along with everything needed to redress her arm. I sat her down opened the bottled water and handed it to her then opened her medication and handed them to her. "You know I can do this myself. You don't have to do anything else. I'll be fine you seem to have a busy night ahead of you so don't let me keep you.

If I need anything I'm sure my cousins or Hunter can handle it." She said dismissingly. I growled at the mention of his name and I know my eyes have turned silver but I don't care. Squatting down titling her head to look me straight in the eyes. "If you ever let Hunter touch you again I... WILL...KILL..... HIM! Do you understand " I said calmly. She only looked at me in utter shock I know I scared her just now but I needed to make sure she understands that I won't be able to control Maka if he sees Hunter touching her intimately.

I stood back up and turned toward the bathroom and turned on the shower. Before heading to the walk in closet to grab her something for bed. Finding a purple hello kitty short pajama set I set them on the bed before I scooped her up and she let out a startled gasp.

"What the hell are you doing?" What does it look like I doing? Carrying you to the bathroom to shower you smell like the hospital. Besides a hot shower will help the medication kick in." I said ignoring her protest. Sitting her on the sink so I could to check the temperature of the water turning back to her. She's so cute when she's pouting. I smile to myself before moving to stand between her legs.

“Lift your good arm I’ll take that out and then ease your left arm free.” She frowned looking at me like I have grown two heads. “Uh are you crazy. I’m not letting you take my clothes off. How about take me back to my room and I’ll have my cousins help me.” She said shaking her head. I didn’t know what the deal was nudity wasn’t a big deal to us because we get naked to shift so the naked body is natural to us. But humans don’t think that way which was stupid because you’re born in your naturalist form so why hide or be ashamed.

Shaking my head. “You’re going in naked or fully clothed it’s your choice.” I said crossing my arms waiting for her to make the decision. My wolf is already clawing at me with the excitement of having her back in our arms he has been unbearable these last few days with wanting to be near her. Even with me calling every hour to see if she was ok wasn’t enough to satisfy Maka in the least.

Not to mention his behavior every time we’re close to Summer. I hadn’t been able to touch her intimately at all..I had to make up an excuse everytime we’re alone which I try to avoid by making sure Razor was always with us. Now that Maka is with Ji’lahni I can’t stop my body’s reaction to being near her. My d**k was already painfully hard. And her being sexy as hell when she’s mad didn’t help at all.

Shaking my head to clear the thought of f*****g her on this sink. To look back at her sigh and lifts her good arm. I free it and ease her other arm free. I reached around her body to unhook her bra she went to protest but I growled and nip at her ear. That shocked her enough to free her breast from that contraption she had the most beautiful full breast I have ever seen.

My mouth watered wanting to get just one taste. My wolf was yelling at me to mate her to mark her but I couldn’t. Pushing Maka in the back of my subconscious and locking it up tight. I looked up at Ji’lahni she was looking not understanding my reaction. “You know you don’t have to do this if you can’t stand the site of me that’s your problem and you can just take me back to the room and leave I told you I don’t need you.” She said tilting her head up unashamed. “You think I looked away because I don’t like the site of you.”

“I’ve seen that look before.” She glared at me. “I doubt you’ve seen that look because if you did you would know that I was fighting the urge to rip your pants off and f**k you on this sink with my mouth full of your soft breast.” I said leaning close to her ear with my arms on either side of her hips I was about to break the f*****g sink trying to stop myself from grabbing her a*s and lifting her up and sitting her on my hard waiting d**k. She was breathing so hard I thought she was about to passout. “Oh.” She whispered. Yea oh is right I thought.

“Now good arm around my neck.” I instructed and she obliged. I lift her with one arm and gentle and pulled her sweats down pass her a*s and they hit the floor and I almost buckled at the smell of her arousal. I Groaned because my d**k was so f*****g hard I felt pre c*m seeping out.

“What am I too heavy just put me down I should be ok I’ll just use you for balance.” She mistook my actions again. “No I got you. I just lost my balance that’s all you’re fine.” I said breathlessly. This was a f*****g mistake I should have never come back here with her I should have allowed her cousins or my mother to take care of her. With me still holding her she instinctively lift her legs around my waist in order to make it easy to balance. But my God it only made it worse.

“Good God baby what the hell are you doing to me.” I asked turning and pressing her against the door. She giggled “Me I’m not doing anything you should be asking what you’re doing to me.” Looking at her she is more relaxed now, so that means the medication is finally starting to kick in. “So are you going to shower me or what?” She asked smiling. “Come on let’s shower and get you to bad your high.” “I’m not high you’re high.” She giggled. “Hey no fair how am I the only one naked here you can’t get in the shower with your clothes on.” She said pouting. “Your right.” I said sitting her on the sink before removing my shirt then unbuttoning my pant and letting them floor to the floor freeing my d**k.

“Damn.” She gasped licking her lips making my d**k jump. “You gotta stop with the look baby unless you want me to lose control and f**k you in this bathroom. We’ll both regret it in the morning.” I said trying to control myself before I touch her again. “Wrong again I wouldn’t regret a thing that’s your problem not mine.” She said biting her lips and opened her legs to reveal her p***y lightly haired glistening from her wetness. And just like that there was no more self control.

Lifting her up by her a*s our mouth came together greedily I was mindful of her injured arm as I slide the door to the shower and stepped in and the steamy hot shower only intensify our arousal. Turning her against the wall I hook her knees over my arms and lift them up on my shoulder so I was face to p***y. He scent driving Maka crazy from wanting to taste her and I gave in because I wanted to taste her just as much as my wolf did.

At the first swipe of my tongue she moaned which only made me dive deep into her fat p***y. It was so f*****g soft, warm, and sweet it tasted just like her scent watermelon and heaven. Her clit was hidden deep in her p***y and I used my head to open her p***y up to find her clit, once I did I licked and sucked on it until it got hard from her arousal I lapped at her clit until she was bucking trying to get closer to my mouth. I could literally feel c*m seeping out of my d**k. Which made me lick and f**k her with my tongue.

Until she was squirming and bucking telling me not to stop like that was even possible at this point. I sucked her clit into my mouth and swirl my tongue around it and her entire body folded from her intense release she suddenly went limp, she would jumped every time I swipe her swollen clit. I finally eased her down moving my arms so she could wrap her legs are me again... she automatically started kissing me tasting herself on my lips. I groaned when she started moving to position her p***y on the tip of my d**k. I was only planning to please her not take her in the shower but as soon as I felt the warm wet folds of her p***y pressing down on my d**k.

I completely lost all self control. she was so f*****g tight I groaned at the heat and tightness of her p***y opening for me I was already so close to exploding. I was leaking pre c*m like a teenage pup. I will probably get in 3 pumps before I c*m. But I don't give a s**t I'll make it up to her later. Pressing herself a little farther down I can feel her p***y contracting and sucking my c**k in. s**t how the f**k does she do that. She broke the kiss and moaned at the feel of my d**k already moving in and out of her p***y and I was only half way in. "Just do it please I can't take it anymore more." She said breathlessly.

"ALPHA WE CAUGHT TWO ROGUE WOLVES A MILE OUT FROM OUR BOARDERS LOOKS LIKE THEY WERE SENT TO SCOUT OUR PACK. WE'RE TAKING THEM TO THE CELLARS." Montago mind linked. ARE YOU f*****g KIDDING ME! I yelled to myself. "Copy that! I'm on my way." Respond cutting the mind link. I Groaned as I pulled out of ji'lahni's wet p***y Maka howling and growling trying to take over and finish what we started. Pulling out of her p***y. Groaning again at the disconnections. I grabbed the soap and a new sponge and washed her body gently. Shutting the shower off I stepped out and grabbed two towels and wrapped them around her.

She hadn't asked why I stopped or protest at all she just sat there and allowed me to towel her off slip her pajamas on and I started carefully redressing her arm. Not being able to take the silence any longer I needed to clear the air not that I had a chance to think clearly to see that what happened was a mistake and shouldn't have gotten that far too begin with. "Listen." "Don't say it you've already told me you would regret it. I foolishly thought you would actually do something to regret. But I guess you were telling your truth. Just be glad you stopped it before it went to far.

It's already forgotten on my part so don't worry about it." She said cutting me off. I snapped my mouth close. It was better for her to think that way about me maybe it will allow us to get pass this. Once I redress her arm. She immediately turned her back on me that crushed Maka as he whined at the rejection he felt. I pull the cover over her fighting the urge to kiss her again I straightened up and walked out the door and out of the house not bothering to redress and shifted as soon as I was in the clear. I needed this short run to the cellars where we keep prisoners.. those rogues came on the wrong day. I have someone to take my anger and frustration out on.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 8

Summer POV:

"UUURRRRGGGHHH!" I screamed. I can't believe he stayed with that fat human b***h. I should ripe that b***h throat out. Opening my mind link to my best friend "Hey brit, are you busy?" "No what's up. I thought you had plans to have dinner with Kahi?" "I was but that fat b***h Ji'lahni decided to surprise everyone with her release from the hospital. So of course everyone's attention was on her including Kahi. I don't know what the hell is going on with him.

He has been distant lately, we haven't had s*x in weeks. He always making excuses. I can't help but think it's those human cows that his mother brought here." I sneered. "Yea you're probably right. He may be stressed out with the attacks and those bitches getting attacked. He has alot on his shoulders." Brit said. She may be right. I sighed but I can't get over the sight from the other night when I walked in and she was touching Kahi like she wanted to kiss him.

"You may be right but I think Ji'lahni is trying to make a move on Kahi and he seems to be blind and believes that whole helpless act she's putting on. I'm sure she is being over dramatic I just wish I could prove her and her cousins for the lairs they are then maybe the Luna would send them packing.

"I know you said you had a plan have you set it in motion?" "Yes. They were supposed to do it tonight. I wanted to make sure Kahi was occupied but that b***h had to ruin everything. Hopefully they can pull it off. They weren't the brightest crayons in the box but they should be able to pull it off. Or they will be killed either way it won't lead back to me." "Are you sure this will work. I heard those humans are trained and they almost took down 3 rogue wolves by themselves before the alpha showed up."

"I don't believe that look at the one that can barely hold her head up after a run in with those rogues. Even if it they did it was luck nothing more. If Kahi would have let me get to the smaller one I would have ripped her throat for breaking my nose I can heal but that doesn't mean it doesn't hurt like hell." "Yea I should have been there with you we probably would have handle them right then and there and you would only have to stress about is your mating ceremony. " brit said with a sigh.

"I wish. They have done nothing but cause problems and taking the focus off my mating and made this all about them. I swear u can't stand them." I said just as I feel kahi's familiar push wanting me to open our mindlink. "Hey brit it's kahi trying to reach me ill talk to you later." I said quickly cutting the link from her and connected with kahi. "Hey baby are you on the way home yet."

"No. I have to go to the cellars we caught two rogues scouting the borders I have to go interrogate them to see who sent them and where the rest of the there pack is." "Wh what did you say, rogues? Did they get pass the guards hurt anyone?" I asked nervous as hell they had one job and they couldn't even do that and they got caught. But they couldn't point the finger at me. Because I was careful to give no names and they never saw my face and I used a voice changer when we spoke on a burner phone I had a stranger buy for me and even he didn't see my face.

Taking a deep breathe confident that my plan was fool proof. "No they didn't get past the border Montago and Rimmy stopped them. I won't be done until late. I'll pick you up some breakfast in the morning to make it up to you.?" "Why can't you let Montago do it he can get interrogate those rogues theyre probably low-level and easy to get them to talk. I said not really wanting kahi to interrogate them even if my plan is foolproof.

“This is important s the future Luna I shouldn’t have to explain this to you. I’ll pick you up for breakfast in the morning.” He said cutting the link between is. Blowing out a frustrated breathe I head to my house to relieve the babysitter for Razor. I pray he is asleep because I swear i will strangle that pup of he mentions that fat b***h to me tonight. Just as I got to my front door my burner phone chirped.

Text: we need to talk . Reading the text I knew exactly who it was. Looking around to make sure no was within wolf earshot. “What is it you know you’re not to call me on this line. Are you trying to ruin everything.” Sneered into the phone. “Calm down sweetheart we have a problem my guys never checked it. So we don’t know if they completed the mission or dead.” The voice on the other line said calmly not even caring that his men could be dead.

So different then kahi he cared about his pack which is the reason I love him and the reason I’m doing all this because those filter humans have clouded kahi’s mind. He doesn’t see having them here puts at risk of exposure and God knows what else. We didn’t need to learn to blend in with them we are their superior we have nothing to fear from them they should fear us. Focusing back on the call. “They’re not dead that have been captured.” “well that explains it. No worries they won’t roll over. They know what will happen if they betray me.

“The voice on the other line said confidently. “Well, that still doesn’t solve my problem those bitches are still alive and a pain in my a*s. What are you going to do about it. I’m not going to hand over anymore Intel on the other packs if you can’t deliver on your end of the bargain.” I sneered I literally made a deal with the devil when I found out that they were rogues randomly attack packs when I first returned from my fitting I thought it would scare the humans away from my pack.

Which was the reason I told them where they could get pass the borders they were supposed to scare the humans not attack them but I was dealing with rogues so I can’t expect much from them to begin with. But instead of them running they decided to take on rogue wolves. Stupid humans. “As you see with tonight they were heavily guarded. The only way to get to them is if you find away to get your alpha and his beta off the reserve.” “How the hell am I supposed to pull that off.” “I don’t know sweetheart but I’m sure you’ll think of something.” “Call me when you have a plan.” He said and hung up.

“s**t!” These f*****g bitches are really pissing me off. I thought as I crushed my burner to pieces and a piece of the screen dug into my fingertips. I remembered how that short ones blood burned my fingers I still didn’t know what that was about. And I remember kahi was waiting on those test results back. I smiled as I mind linked Britney “Hey your uncle ran some test on those humans. Do you think you can find out if the result are in yet?”

“Uh sure I worked summers with him my passwords are always the same. But what do you hope to find? And I’m going to have to have a good reason for logging in there if it comes out that my passwords were used.” “Yea I know I’ll have everything cover. I’ll call you when I come up with the perfect plan.” I said and cut the link. Walking into my house I thank God that the bratty pup was asleep that way I can think of the perfect plan to get rid of those humans once and for all.

Mykahi POV:

“I can’t believe how little you were able to get out of them.” Since when does rogue wolves have loyalty to anyone but themselves? Something is going on and it’s starting to look like this is a very new and real threat. We did manage to find out that there are more than 200 rogues wolves with their numbers increasing daily which we only got because one of them slipped up.” So what’s our next step?” Montago asked as we sat in my office at 6am.

We had interrogated the rogues for hours before we realized they wouldn’t talk even with the threat of death which we happily provide when they became of no use to us. Sighing from the stress of the unknown and my wolf constantly wanting to be near Ji’lahni but that was out of the question. I couldn’t convince him she wasn’t our mate anymore. After we tasted her. He craves her now and I must admit she could easily become an addiction if I allow it.

Turning to Montago we need our best trackers to head to the border to see if they can backtrack where the rogues came from or at least a general direction would be acceptable at this point. We’re on full lock down for now and all events are canceled until we get the threat neutralized. All women and children are to prepare to move fast to the safe bunkers if needed.

Have them start running evacuation drills daily. Also assign someone to make the bunkers have everything they need to be down there comfortably.” I said running a check list in my head. “What about the girls I don’t think it’s a good idea to put them down there with the others. They are staying with mom and dad. So they remain there and they would just go down stairs to their bunker. Take a guard from each border and put them in the areas the rogues were able to get close enough to engage our men.” I finished with the check list.

“Copy that I get all the men here so we can brief them. Say 10am you look you were the one being interrogated.” Montago said laughing. “Ha funny 10am is fine. I promised Summer breakfast this morning I can’t cancel when I have already canceled on her already.” I said pinching the nose trying to wake myself up. I’ll head home shower change clothes and try and catch a lil sleep. “Roger that.” Montago said heading out the door leaving me to my thoughts which once again went straight to Ji’lahni.

Frustrated I left my office and head next door to my house. After showering and changing clothes I decided to take a quick nap before picking Summer up for breakfast. But as I laid there again my thoughts returned to Ji'lahni. Maka wouldn't let up on clawing at me to be near Ji'lahni

So I decided to ask my mother to see how her patient is doing. Frowning when I couldn't mind link my mother but I couldn't reach her. So I try to reach my dad "Hey! Son how's it going." My dad asked . "Nothing pops is mom around I couldnt reach her is everything alright." "Everything's fine son she had some errands to run with the girls in the next time over." Frowning "So what about Ji'lahni they left her with you? " I asked "Heck no! I don't know the first thing about taking care of anyone. She took a spill last night luckily Hunter was near by and was able to help." My dad said nonchalantly.

"WHY WASN'T I INFORMED ABOUT THAT!" I roared into the phone I feel maka at the surface fighting to get to his mate.

Son what the hell is wrong you have me and your mother worried. I have notice when you're around Lahni you lose control. Do you have feelings for her?" "What? No! It's nothing like that. Hunter is unmated and he seems to be to involved I just don't want him to start something with her knowing it won't end well. I don't want them to be harmed they don't know what we are and the more rogue attacks we encounter the likelihood they will figure it out."

"I understand that son we are all trying to ensure our pack isn't exposed. But you can't lie to me son I know something is going on with you. But I also won't pressure you. Just know that I'm hear if you need to talk." "OK pops I have to get ready for today's briefing." "OK son maybe you can drop by a later to check on Ji'lahni yourself." My dad said cutting the link before I could respond. Damn it I have to get it together because of my father notices then others will start to notice.

"Hunter." "Yes, Alpha." "To the common room at the pack house for briefing now." "But, Alpha I'm here with Lahni your mother and her cousins will be gone for a few hours and asked me to sit with her for a while." Hunter said. "Don't ever question my directives COMMON ROOM NOW!" I growled pushing my alpha aura through the link. "Yes Alpha right away." I cut the link to Hunter and searched my mind for Summer.

"Hey I'm afraid I'll have to meet you for lunch instead today. I have to brief the team on the interrogation last night and come up with a new plan. Let's say I meet you at the diner around 2." I said waiting for the meltdown "Kahi this is the 3rd time you have canceled on me. I feel like you're avoiding me we never have time alone anymore and you've barely touched me. We are supposed to be mating next week but it got pushed back with this lock down and I feel like we're drafting apart."

She said sadly. "We're not drafting apart I am under a lot of pressure with these rogue attacks. Once everything is over we will be mated." I said guiltily. "Are you sure?" She asked. "Yes im sure." "OK I'll see you at the diner at 2 and don't be late. I love you." She said. "Ok I'll see you there." I said quickly cutting the link.

“Montago. Do the briefing without me I have something to take care of. Link me if you need me.” I said cutting the link when he replied. Heading to the kitchen to grab a picnic baskets I grabbed turkey slices, hoagie rolls, lettuce, tomatoes, pickles, mayo, and mustard. Washed some Fresh strawberries, cherries, pineapples, grapes, and watermelon. I sliced them and tossed them in a bowl. I grabbed some crackers and cheese and a few slices of chocolate cake from the diner.

Once I finished I grabbed a couple bottles of water and lemonade. On the way out the door I mind linked my dad. “Do you don’t have to stay and watch Ji’lahni I’ll cover for Hunter he needed to be at the briefing.” “I’m already on my way to meet with some of the mated men to play around of golf.” He said with a knowing laugh. Cutting the link. Shaking my head I headed out on a mission.

Ji’lahni POV:

“Hey sweetheart I have an important meeting I need to get to. Is there anything I can get you before I go.” Lateri’s mate Antoni asked. “No I don’t need anything now. If you’re going to be gone a while you can bring me a bottled water to take my medicine and my stuff out of the bathroom that I need to redress my wound I’ll do it myself.” I responded already trying to see how I was going to get it done. I wasn’t going to let on that I couldn’t do it myself.

“No No! Someone will be here in a few to assist you while we’re out. RiRi would kill me if I left you alone. He said a with a shudder that made me smile. “OK then thanks and take your time I don’t want to be a bother I’ll take my pills when the person comes and just take a nap.” I said. “Oh hush that non sense you’re no bother at all. Now get some rest and no getting up on your own. Do I make myself clear young lady?” He said in a serious almost dad like tone which had me nodding in shame.

So last night I tried to get up on my own because I was just tired of depending on people and having them rearrange their daily lives for me and the fact that me and my cousins company will lose this contract if I can’t even get out of bed on top of the fact that the Alpha makes me feel things I shouldn’t and his girlfriend hates my guts. I need to get it together he has told me tome and time again that I’m not what he wants and that his feelings are the same as my sudden irrational feelings for him.

Maybe he’s right maybe it was just the situation that him me wanting him and having feelings for him its crazy that I have never just felt this way about someone as soon as our eyes met there was this rush that took my breathe away. That’s the only way I can explain. Shaking my head free of those thoughts of Kahi because they were not serving a purpose anymore.

Hearing the front door open and close, I sat up in my bed to speak and introduce myself to the person who will be sitting with me. I knew it wouldn’t be Hunter or shadow because they were both busy. I heard a knock and then the door opened slowly I frown because they didn’t even wait for permission before turning the knob to come in.

“Why are you here?” I asked clearly confused I’m sure the boss is supposed to be even busier than his employees... he steps in with a devilish smile that makes my body tingle remembering the shower we took last night. I can already feel my p***y jumping with excitement damn she betrays me every damn time. “Alpha Crystall why are you here I’m sure you have better things to do than be at my door your mother and father are both out and someone is on the way to sit with me. So there is no reason for you to be here.” I said angrily.

Still smiling “Actually I don’t have anything pressing to do which is why I’m here to sit with you until one of my parents get back. So it looks like you’re stuck with me.” He said coming onto the room to sit next to me on the bed I move over so that there is no contact between us . Apparently he notices and scoots back onto the bed lifting my feet up and placing them on his lap I tried to snatch my feet back but he was prepared for that to and held them tightly sighing angrily I roll my eyes and gave up.

Plus the fact that he was now rubbing my feet made the decision for me. Closing my eyes moaning as rubbed my feet like a professional. “Ji’lahni I told you to never allow Hunter touch you again. He is one of my best guards but I will rip his throat out if he touches you again.” He said with seriousness in his tone that I didn’t appreciate.

“First and most important he came here because I fell and needed help getting up. Secondly you have no right to tell me who can and can’t touch me. Remember you’re about to be married or mated or whatever. Lastly you are the one that said we had no feelings for each other so I’m not sure why you continuously find away to make your presence known.” I said angrily not allowing the tears that threaten to fall. “Don’t matter he is never to touch you again or I...will.... kill....him.” He growled.

“Look maybe you should just leave I will be fine on my own until someone gets back.” I said finally able to get my feet off his lap. “No... you’re still recovering and not allowed to walk around on your own. So until the doc clears you you’re stuck with me. Now let’s redress your arm because I have a surprise for you.” He said like he didn’t just threaten to kill Hunter.

Eyeing him suspiciously. “What kind of surprise?” “You’ll see, I promise you’re going to love it.” He said from the bathroom. He’s definitely not playing with a full deck but I can’t help wondering what this surprise is. A small smile forming on my lips that I quickly hid when he walks back into the room with my bandages. My wound was healing nicely it doesn’t hurt as bad as before. But it still looks pretty nasty. Seeing my face as I watch him removing my bandages. “It is healing nicely. You’ll healed completely before you know it.”

He said seeing the worry on my face. Finishing up with my arm he put everything back in the bathroom. He went into the closet and comes out with a big fluffy blanket. I frowned curiously wondering why he getting a blanket. He steps towards me seeing my frown ...he smiles. “Arms up.” He said. “Sir I am not a baby.” I responded stubbornly. “You’re my baby. Now come on.” He said bending down kissing my forehead handing me the blanket before scooping me up in his arms walking out of the bedroom.

He walked through the dinning room and grabbed a duffle bag and a picnic basket. Walking into the fenced in backyard with lushly green grass and a wooden gazebo that was facing a beautiful water wall fountain that had the sounds of a real waterfall. Sitting me on a lawn chair out side the gazebo he spread the fluffy blanket of the floor of the gazebo he unzipping the big duffle bag he pulled out big pillows and stacked them high.

Walking back to me he carries me to the blankets and sits down with me still on his lap. He stares at me with such intensity that my heart seems as though it was beating outside my chest and my p***y was stabbing me in the back as we speak. I swear she's been displaying hoe tendencies since I've met this man.

Blushing at suddenly feeling uncomfortable because of my p***y's betrayal. I turn my head just as I hear a low growl and I snap my head back in his direction where I swear on everything his eyes flashed from dark brown to silver then back in an instant.

"Your eyes do they change color." I asked getting closer to him to inspect. "Sometimes when I'm aroused." He answered pulling me closer to him. I gasped not at the admission of his eye color. It was him admitting that he was just as aroused as I was at this moment. "But your blue eyes are mesmerizing like a kaleidoscope. Your cousins deep blue but yours a blend of different shades of blue.

With your chocolate skin tone makes you almost like a majestic goddess. He said caressing my cheek." It's a family trait on my mother's side blue eyes are common and just so happens my dad had green eyes. Don't ask me how that equaled to my eye color because that's as far as I go in the genetic department." I said looking away. Because him looking at me like that is only going to make me try and attack him needing to change the subject.

I Looked out at the scenery the beautiful colorful flowers that lined the tall fence as well as the wall water fountain the sun is shining making everything sparkle like a dream it is so relaxing and peaceful. I must come out hear more now that I know how beautiful it is. "Thank you for bringing me out here I didn't know how much I miss being able to be outside until this very moment even though it has been a week since the attack it feels like forever."

I said closing my eyes just enjoying the moment kahi shifts me around so he is straddled behind me and I could use his chest as a backbroad he wrapped his arms around me and I feel his breath close to my neck causing all kinds of plumbing problems for my p***y. I know it's wrong for us to be this way but I just want to enjoy it for a few more minutes. I thought taking a deep cleansing breathe.

Well, I didn't have to break the moment because my stomach growling did that. Giggling he got up and placed the pillows behind me to prop me up he was very thoughtful when he wasn't trying to boss me around. He opened the basket and took out everything needed to makes sandwiches he also had fruits and even chocolate cake which I hope he knows are both mine.

Flipping the basket over to make a tray he helped me with my sandwich since I had one good hand, before he made his own took out to bottles of water and juice and tumblers with ice in them. Then we ate and made light conversations he told me about how he use to run his mom crazy with his dare devil adventures some being him climbing to the top of the house to get his frisbee when he was 7. I told him how me and Shawna lost Mina in a corn field once and how we were playing cop and robbers with fireworks and Shawna shot at me and my fur coat caught on fire. We both laughed for a minute off that one once I painted a picture of how it went.

Once we finished and he packed up everything and scolding me while I was trying to help. He dug inside the duffel bag and pulled out a paper target frowning curiously. "I know you miss training and being active so I figure you could practice your throw knives with your good arm he said pulling out my knife I kept under my pillow how he knew it was there I don't know.

But I just wanted to hug and kiss him for knowing exactly what I needed. I hate feeling helpless and independent and not training or doing anything felt like a piece of me was slipping away. Swallowing back my tears. "Thank you for this." I whispered. Coming to squat in front of me. "I know how independent you are by the many times you've ended up on the floor trying to do it all on your own. So I just want to give you some of your independence back.

First though we're going to do some warm ups to get your arm loosen." He said removing some of the pillows then he pulls out an arm brace and carefully and secures it tightly against my body which he says will make it so that when I threw it won't hurt or move around much. Then he came and sat behind me and began massaging my shoulders down my arm I'm moaned "feels good?" He asked "you know it does." I said leaning my head back on his shoulders as he rubbed down the length of my arm. I could feel his breath near my ear and it traveled down my neck.

Everytime he touches me I feel like I'm having a instant o****m my p***y aches with betrayal. Yea she is definitely a lil whorish when it come to this man. I hear his torchorous growl like his ache matching my own. Turning my head slightly finding that he was looking at me like he wanted to kiss me badly so I took the choice from him and kissed him which was all he needed to lose control.

Now I can't tell you how he came from behind me, to nowbme laying back on the pillows with him on top of me. Breaking the kiss so we could finally take a breathe leaning his forehead against mine his eyes closed breathing deeply. "I don't know why I can't seem to control my.....he paused then said. "I don't f*****g know how to stop myself when I'm near you. But when I'm not you're all I could think about and it's driving me crazy because I know we can't be together. He finished officially killing the mood. I sighed understanding but still not liking it.

"Hey I'm sure your mom and my cousins will be home soon and it's time for me to take my medicine. You don't have to stay I'll just take a nap. Can you take me back to my room please." I said not looking at him. He sighed defeated and didn't protest which kinda stung a little bit he carried me back to my room in silence grabbing a bottle of water on the way I took my medication and turned my back to him holding back my tears. I refuse to give him the satisfaction of seeing that it hurt that he doesn't want me no matter how he claims to not be able to stay away. Hearing the door click I let the tears fall. I wish he would just leave me alone.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 9

Mykahi POV:

f**k!!! What the hell was I thinking going over there. I should have stayed away like I planned. But when I heard the Hunter was there alone with her Maka lost his s**t and the need to be with who he thought was his mate was overwhelming. I needed to find out what the hell is going on. Heading to the doc office to find out what he was able to find out about her blood it has to be the reason Maka thinks that's she's our mate. Not bothering to knock on the doc's office door.

"OH!!! Hey alpha I wasn't expecting you.. Did we have an appointment." The doc said getting up quickly rounding his desk. "No doc we didn't. I wanted to check and see what you have found out about the human girls blood?" I asked not bothering with sitting. "Oh. I see unfortunately with the limited resources here every test we ran didn't produce any answers that would tell us why her blood burns our kind.

I want to send a sample of her blood to the Boston pack location the Moonshade pack has a bigger facility with more equipment I was going to drop by our Luna's house to get another sample as well as check her progress I know she is getting restless. if the swelling is down I want to try to get her up for a day of walking around alittle but with assistance of course I'm sure Hunter would volunteer to be her assistant." NO!!! NO ONE TOUCHES HER DO YOU UNDERSTAND!" I yelled using my alpha command that makes it impossible for him or anyone in my pack to question or resist.

"I understand alpha I'm sure her cousins and our Luna is more then capable to help her." He said in a rush taking several steps away from me, because the silver in my eyes shows him that Maka has stepped forward. Taking a deep breathe getting control of my wolf. Once in control my eyes return to the color of brown. "If you give her the go ahead to move around have one of the omega women help her. I want you to pack a bag and deliver the blood sample to the Moonshade pack personally and over see the entire process I don't want anyone knowing about her blood until we find out what we're dealing with." I said just as Montago mind linked me. "Hey Alpha! We need you back at the office ASAP there was another attack on your mother's brother's pack he needs our help."

Turning on my heel not waiting for the Doc's response. "I'm on my way have all the guards who aren't on patrol right now to meet me at the packhouse." I said cutting the link. "Dad what are you doing here?" I asked as I walked into the pack house. "Because my brother N law contacted me about the rogues, They have banded together to attack his pack he said its more then 300 of them. He can probably hold them a bay until you send reinforcement and I'm going with who ever you send." My dad said with his wolf coming forward.

"Absolutely not!" I growled. My eyes flared silver matching his eyes now turning the same shade as his to let others know that although he stepped down from being alpha, it doesn't mean he is weakened in any way buy If I really push I can make him obey but it would cause him extreme pain. Taking a deep breathe I tried to reason with him. "Dad." He held his hand up to cut me off.

"Son that's not only my brother n law but my best friend and I can whole my own with rogues. Besides I know your mother didn't listen when I told her to not go even thought she said OK. I know my mate and she loves her brother and she can feel when something is wrong with him. He is all she has left. I didnt even have to tell her she already knew and Shadow is with her." DAMN IT!" I yelled.

"Montago get Rimmy, Blaze, Hunter, and Storm. Tell them to be ready to leave in 30 minutes. Tell the guards they have to do double shift until we return. Tell Bruin the guards will report to him until we return." I said as everyone filed out of the pack house. Following my orders. Taking a deep breath I mind linked Summer "Hey there has been a rogue attack at my uncle's pack and we are heading there to provide reinforcements." I said waiting for the whining and anger because I'm bailing yet again. "OMG! That's terrible I hope he's ok." she said surprisingly frowning.

"Yea, he's ok for now but he can only hold them off for so long. We should be gone for a day or so. My mother is on her way there as well so Luna training will have to wait until she returns I'll have my cellphone if you need me." I said glad she didn't give me a hard time about me canceling yet again. "Of course no problem I definitely understand. Please be careful. I love you." I heard her say as I cut the mind link off. I pushed the guilt I felt for not responding to Summer. I'll have to deal with that when I return.

I headed to my parents house to talk to Ji'lahni about what was happening it has nothing to do with me needing to see her I just wanted to let her know what's going on with her cousins she had a right to know and I can't mind link her because she's human. Taking a deep breathe I entering her room she was asleep inching closer to kneel beside her bed I stare at her beautiful dark skin and how beautiful she truly was and if it was at all a possibility that she could be my mate I would do anything to make her mine. But as the moon goddess has never mated a human with our kind I knew she wasn't mine.

Deciding not to wake her I gently kissed her forehead and brush my thumb across her lips lightly stranding up I rushed out of the room and mind link Bruin to have an omega pack her a bag so she could stay with her until we returned. Also to have a guard outside the house but not to go near the human woman. With Ji'lahni safe my wolf settled and we were able to focus on the upcoming battle I planned to get as much information on this new rogue wolf pack and find out what their agenda is.

Everyone was packed light because we would be in wolf form during the battle so there was no need to pack anything other than couple sets of clothing. Glancing at Montago waiting by the trucks seeing me he straightened as I passed him battle ready.

“Everything’s set we are to approach and attack them from behind they have a camp set up 5 miles from the borders of the pack we’re guessing to tend to wounded and regroup we’re going to attack the camp and then make our way to your uncle’s pack land.”

Montago said as we entered the truck glancing at my father in the back seat it has been a long time since I have seen him fought in a battle but the way he and his wolf blended together in his eyes I can tell he hasn’t lost a step and the alpha of old is ready for a fight nodding at Montago to move we set off to rip some throats out. We need to end this once and for all I planned to find out who the head of the rogue wolves is and rip his head from his body.

Summer POV:

I can’t believe he didn’t bother saying I love you. On top of the fact that he lied about the meeting early because I went by his office and they told me he was at his mother’s house and I knew he was with that b***h. “Britney is everything going according to plan.” I said angrily “Yes even better because my uncle had to go to Boston via the Alpha’s orders for some top secret assignment so he wanted me to help out at the clinic. He said he had to make a stop before he left but he won’t be coming back to the office. So I’m on my way there do you want to tell me exactly what you have planned?” Brittany asked.

“The plan is already in motion all we need now is the docs results and then we can get that b***h off our pack land for good and me and Kahi can go back to normal and have our mating ceremony as planned.” I said as I headed to the pack’s medical clinic to meet Britney. Now if those rogues keep Kahi busy by the time he gets back that fat b***h will be long gone and once he finds out about her betrayal he’ll be glad I got rid of her.

Walking into the clinic I look around to see how many people were in the clinic I didn’t want a lot of people seeing me and Brit in the clinic the less people that saw us the less likely someone could question and cause suspicion once the plan is complete. Glad I only see 2 omega nurses who wouldn’t dare say anything regarding their future Luna. Even now knowing who I was caused them to bare their neck and not look me in the eyes. Brit seeing me from the office she occupied waving me over.

“Hey since I knew you were coming I went ahead and pulled up the lab results from Ji’lahni and the cousin you put your claws into. When I first pulled it up my uncle had already opened them and for the most part they both had nothing abnormal with their blood. But I saw another alert that wasn’t opened because it came in after my uncle left. And you want to believe what it says.” She said smiling. “Come on tell me what the hell it says.” I sneered not liking the mysterious bullshit.

There were some abnormalities in their blood that seem to affect our blood. Which would explain why it burned you when you clawed her.” She said smiling and so was I this is exactly what I was hoping for. Now I just have to make sure that Bruin did what I wanted him to do. So they will be long gone before Kahi returns. Focusing back on the lab results. "Can you add notes in the comment portion?"

"Yes but not without it coming back on me and I'm not doing that." Britney said cowardly. Rolling my eyes. "Just print the result so I can fax them to my uncle." "Your uncle Zane? The uncle that is the 2nd most feared alpha in the eastern region and didn't you say he's a d**k twisted bastard?" Brit asked in disbelief her face lost its color.

I had told her of all the things that my uncle Zane has done to his own pack from gladiator fights. Hunting omega for spirt. The abuse to the women of his pack was the worse from beating, torchor, rapping, breeding and trafficking their pups, all under wraps he hid his cruelty well there were only whispered rumors about what is done on his pack land. Of course Kahi knew about it to since he was going to be my mate. But I had to stop him from trying to expose my uncle by telling him that he would never be able to prove to the counsel what was happening within the pack.

Many of the counsel knew and was to afraid to say anything because he had Intel on more then 5 of the 12 counsel members. "Yea he's will make sure that I will never have to deal with the fat bitches ever again." I said taking the lab result and walking over to the fax machine. My uncle could be here in a few hours via his private jet.

"Hey Summ are sure about this. I mean I agree those humans shouldn't be here because they clearly are a distraction to our male wolves I mean look at Shadow and Hunter, they practically drool when they see the humans. But letting your uncle take them that's a little extreme don't you think?" Brit asked shaking.

"No that b**h had her hands on my mate she is the reason all this s**t is happening why my mating ceremony is ruined and I can feel Kahi pulling away from me because that weak human almost gets herself killed. No they're ruining everything and my uncle is the perfect person to make sure I will never see them again. Besides I already talked to my uncle and all he wanted was the results from the labs. Their blood could potentially harm all wolve practically eliminating all of us. Do you want that to happen Brit?" I asked with a growl.

"No. I guess you're right if the men can't see that those humans are dangerous then it's up to us to protect our kind." She said like she was some kind of hero. I let her think whatever she wanted as long as she keeps her mouth shut. Now that I faxed my uncle I only had a few hours to get Bruin on board without him calling Kahi. My burner chirped with a new text . Opening my phone the text simply said: On the way!

At the pack house door I took a deep breath because I needed to make sure I pull this off he needed to believe that i was distraught and truly sadden but what I found. With the lab results in hand I walk in with tears in my eyes tremble in fear. Bruin rushes to me with a look of concern on his face. "Miss Summer what's wrong what's happening.

You know the Alpha's at his uncle pack." He said ushering me to the couch. "Oh yea that's right I don't know that I was thinking I'm upset and afraid. I never thought that our kind would be in this type of danger." I said through a new wave of tears came. Frowning in confusion I hand him the lab result. He looks at them trying to see what I was talking about. I roll my eyes and sobbed a little harder. "I apologize Miss Summer I'm afraid I don't know how to read medical papers?" Bruin said looking confused.

"Those are the work lab result from the human that broke my nose and her cousin that was attack by the rogues last week. When she broke my nose my claws came out to protect myself from her attack and I scratched her which her blood immediately started to burn me on contact and left my finger tips with these ugly scars. The alpha knew they were up to something which is why he ordered the doc to run their blood. He knew he couldn't act until he got proof but now that we have it he isn't here to have them transported to the counsel imprisonment camp to interrogate." I wailed uncontrollable and through myself into his arm trembling.

"Miss Summer I won't be able to speak with the alpha until he returns. Maybe we should put an extra guard on the human until the alpha returns. He said getting up pacing in thought. I need this to be his Idea sort of. So I started crying and trembling even more I need him to think the human was a danger to the entire pack.

Hearing me cry louder he returns to the couch to comfort me. "I don't know I won't feel safe with them here it's obvious they came here to kill the entire pack they need to be put somewhere where they can't potentially kill the us especially the weaker wolves, seniors, women, and children. Oh God the children my nephew has been around one of them." Oh God to think how easily it is for her to have hurt him Bruin they need to be off our land away from our pack tonight." I cried historically.

Bruin seems confused and out of sort he wasn't meant to handle a crisis that's the alphas job. "I don't know Miss Summer we don't have enough guards to transport her anywhere the alpha took some guards with him and we're already stretched thin." He said shaking his head. I secretly smiled at the opening that I needed.

Crying silently "You're right we can't risk making our pack opening for attack. If only ... wait my uncle is on his way to the counsel compound for a meeting. They have state of the art facilities. I'm sure once he hears about the human women he would be happy to take them. To keep our pack safe especially with me being his niece. I said still crying. He seem to think it over. I cried a little louder not giving him a chance to think it through more.

"Are you sure he would take her?" I will need to make sure that when the alpha returns he will be able to questioned her himself." Bruin said in thought. "Yes of course but the other two aren't on the land their with the alpha's mother" I gasp horrified acting like I didn't know that Kahi's mother was headed to her brother's pack land.

"Oh no. She left them at a hotel in the next town over. They will stay they're supposed to stay there until they return. Do you think your uncle can collect them as well." He said with more confidence now that he had a plan. “Of course he wouldn’t mind in order to make sure our kind is protected. He won’t mind taking a detour.” I said calmly I felt better now that he was able to save the day. I rushed out of the pack house after Bruin and I made the call to my uncle who was already in route to pick up the humans at the hotel before coming here to get the biggest pain in my a*s. I smiled to myself I’m going to go pay that fat b***h a visit before they haul her a*s out of here.

“Britney everything went according to plan I’m going to see that b***h face when I tell her she is about to be arrested.” I said stepping into my house. Razor bounding towards me. “ok I’ll meet you there I want to see her face too.” Brit responded. “OK I’ll you there in an hour.” “Auntie you’re back I wanted to see LaLa today before supper.” Razor said bouncing excitedly. I smiled at him nodding my head yes. What the hell I’ll let him see her one last time. Plus he can be my excuse for going to pay her a visit.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 10

Ji’lahni POV:

Who the hell is banging on the door so loudly. I frowned because the guard knew I was sleeping that’s why I told him that he didn’t have to knock on the door. “Come in.” I said sitting up in my bad. The door burst open and Razz came barreling in like a big black round ball of fur. I smiled because I missed him it has been a few days since I last saw him. My smile slipped when I see who brought him. His aunt and her flunky. She had a too sweet smile, she obviously has an agenda she usually allows Razz’s sitter to bring him.

“Hey buddy I missed you looks like you’re getting big. You’re about to be a big boy.” I said rubbing his fur and cuddling him. He let out small bark. Before snuggling up to me. I see Summer scowls impatiently I guess waiting to get my attention. Sighing I looked up at the two women standing at the door. “Hello Summer and friend. I feel like you have something you need to get off you’re chest.” I said raising my eye brow like I’m the Rock’s sister.

They smiled at each other, I feel for my knife that my cousins left for me, just in case it was a situation that involved somebody cutting up. “You really thought you could come here and no one would find out about you and your cousin’s agenda.” “Agenda? Listen. please stop with the foolery just say what you have to say and be done with it. Because I don’t have the time nor energy to waste on irrelevant folks.” I said Rolling my eyes shaking my head. “Oh trust me you won’t have to waste no more of your time here. As we speak someone is coming to remove you from our community. You and your cousins came here thinking you could wipe our kind out.” Summer sneered at me. I’m looking, Confused and thought she was losing her mind at this point.

“Our kind? Wipe out? What the f**k are you talking about and lastly no one is removing me from no where without my permission and without my cousins. I don’t know what the hell you’re talking about and frankly I’m tired of talking to you and your flunky.” I said to the foolishness they got going on. My hand was firmly on my knife handle and Razz was trembling tucking himself further under my arm he was causing some pain but I wasn’t about to make him move just in case these chick’s were feeling froggy.

“You fat bitches, came here trying to kill us all. When Kahi gets back and I tell him what you and your cousins were trying to do, he will not even think twice about you or your cousins and believe me my uncle will get a confession out of you one way or the other it really won’t matter to me or Kahi what happens to you after that.” She sneered loudly.

And I Laughed because I real life believe she was losing her damn mind. Me laughing must have pushed her over the edge because home girl charge right at me. I had to act quick so I pulled my knife and aimed it right at her f*****g throat she stopped as the tip of my blade nicked her skin. Getting up slowly with my blade still to her throat looking at her friend who’s looking like she wanted to do something. The doc just cleared me to do some short walks very slowly. But I’m not about to let these broads see me weak. Getting up slowly didn’t help the wave of dizziness I felt it took everything in me to stay upright. Razz was still cuffed in my arm which was screaming at me at this point.

“Now I need you and your goon to get the f**k out my room, now back the f**k up, you too dumber. Just then there was another knock on the door . I rolled my eyes like what the hell is happening when did my room become the meeting spot for everybody. Before I could say anything. It swung open with a bang. A tall big man stepped in with a bad a*s navy pinstripe suit he had a fresh cut with dark brown eyes that looked like he had no problem killing somebody with little reason. I got a little worried but I didnt let them see me afraid. Smiling at me stepping next to Summer looking between us.

“So little niece is this the human you called me about. She seems to have you at an disadvantage.” He said turning toward me. “Hello ma’am I’m Alpha Zane McKnight.” He said with a charming smile with his hand extended to shake, I look at his hand then him then my blade then back at him like you really think I’m going to lower my blade to shake your hand. Understanding my silence he chuckled and lowered his hand. “Has my niece explained the situation to you?” He asked putting his hand in his pocket walking back towards the door grabbing his niece by the arm pulling her away from my blade.

I relaxed a little and turned slightly to allow Razz to jump down on the bad which he promptly took a stand beside me growling clearly taking a side. I smiled as Summer gasped in shock when her pup growled at her when she reached for him. The older man glanced at Razz and his eyes soften a little looking at him before he turned back to me. “It seems that you and your cousins have been accused of something very disturbing. It seems as though your blood has traces of something that is very lethal to my kind.”

“Hold up what the hell is happening this is the second time I’ve heard “our kind” What the hell does that even mean.” I said getting really nervous. He looks at me in surprise. He looks at Summer frowns and asks. “She doesn’t know?” Waving my blade to get his attention. “What dont I know? And what is me and my cousins being accused of exactly?” I said losing my patience. Turning back towards me with a smile on his face and then I see his eyes turning a golden honey. I take a step back as he steps towards me until my back hits the wall behind me. ” We are werewolves of course.” He said that s**t like it was normal.

“What the hell! Are yall crazy or some kind of cult.” I said looking around noticing that more men had come into the room looking like a football team, the room all of a sudden felt really small. “My dear we’re werewolves I’m the Alpha of the Nighthawk pack. You have been living amongst werewolves the whole time. I’m sure you have notice that there was something different about us?” Looking at me questioningly.

That made me think about all the strange and weird things that I have seen from the growling, eye color change, the way the people reacted when Kahi spoke. It all made sense but not really because there is no such thing as f*****g werewolves damn it. Seeing me doubt even my own thoughts. The man seems to be tired of trying to convince me turns and looks at Razz “Shift little pup.” Razz whines and backs up afraid. I step over to protect him. But the man never moved, his eyes changed color again “I said shift!” He sneered. All of a sudden Razz whined even louder and right before my eyes in what felt like minutes but it was less then 10 seconds Razz went from wolf to a tiny little boy.

“WHAT IN THE ENTIRE HELL!” I said without thinking. Razz looks at me with sadness in his eyes. Me still in open mouth shock he reaches for my hand and I snatched it away from him and then yelling in pain because I completely forgot my arm was f*****d up and I’m sure that I just ripped a couple of stitches. Looking at me crying. “I sorwry LaLa please dont hate me.” Razz said through tears. I came out of my stupor looking at his face and gave him a small smile.

“It’s ok sweetie I was just shocked that’s all. I never seen a boy turn into a wolf before. I could never hate you sweet boy.” I said meaning every word. Although I’m still freaked the f**k out. I know Razz was just a baby. I see relief spread across his face at my words. Out the corner of my eyes I see movement and I’m back on high alert my grip on my blade tightens. Although I know I can’t win I know somebody getting sliced before I go down. Seeing me focus and scan the room. “Miss Nelson we don’t want to hurt you we just need you to come with us so we can have a little chat about why your blood seems to contain something that can harm us.” he shrugged.

“Look I don’t know what you’re talking about, therefore we have nothing to chat about and I damn sure know I’m not going anywhere with you. That makes absolutely no kind of sense.” I said as I got into a ready position to defend any attack. My head is f*****g spinning and I feel like I’m about to vomit again. I have not been feeling well at all. I’m sure it’s because I may have been sneaking trying to walk on my own when no one was looking.

Look I hate being a burden so I wanted to get back to my old self and I couldn’t do that sitting in bed. I had the army crawl thing down pack. Focusing back on the men in the room. Trying to figure out how many of them I can hurt bad before they take my a*s out.

Looking back at the Alpha he's still smiling which is pissing me off werewolf or not he not about to think I'm just gone let him take me. "Funny your cousins said the same thing when we picked them up earlier." He said with a smile. "What the hell did you just say?" I asked stepping towards the alpha pointing my blade to his chest.

His men instantly stepped forward but a wave of his hands stops them. "Oh maybe I should have lead with that huh? Yea I paid a visit to the hotel to pick them up before coming here." My heart started beating fast I was starting to panic. "Where is my cousins what did you do to them." "I haven't done anything to them. I'm no animal. Oh well that's not true I am an animal but I'm civilized. They did put up a hell of a fight I must say. I hope we can do this without any more bloodshed. You can just come with me and no one has to get hurt."

He said like that was a good offer. Looking at Summer and her goon smiling enjoying the f*****g show. I know they're responsible for whatever is going on. I wish I could just get 5 minutes with them and my blade. "This is all your doing isn't it? I swear if anything happens to my cousins I will kill you wolf bitch." "Yea I doubt that will ever happen. I told you to stay away from my mate. I knew you were bad news the moment his mother mentioned you humans. But now Kahi will see that I was right and whatever you were doing to cloud his judgment will be gone and he will see that I was right." She said proudly.

Boy I really hate this b***h. "You did all this over a dude. That's pathetic even for you. Sad part is you doing this only proves that you don't think he loves you as much as you love him and you're willing to mate him knowing all this." I said laughing when she again tries to come at me I was really hoping she broke loose because I promise I would make sure she bled out. Turning back to the Alpha. Who was eyeing me with interest and something that look like desire. Giving him a disgusted look so he understands I am not interested at all.

He ignores the look and steps towards me again. "I must say you do interest me Miss Nelson I can see why the Alpha was interested in you." He said reaching out to touch my braids but I pull my head back avoiding his touch. "Uncle can you please just get her out of here already. I'm tired of looking at her fat a*s." Summer said right before she screamed when I sent my blade flying in her direction so close to her head that it nicked her cheek and cut some of her hair before it landed in the door frame. I smiled even though I was aiming for her mouth. I shrugged I hadn't trained in 2 weeks so my aim was off.

Turning back to the Alpha I had no choice but to go with him since he had my cousins. "I'll go with you. Just take me to my cousins." I said as I walked slowly in order to keep my balance I had no idea how I was walking at all without looking drunk it must be adrenaline. Feeling a tug on my shirt I looked down to see Razz crying pulling me back. "Don't go with the bad man LaLa you're sick you can't go." Razz cried.

"Sweetie don't worry about me I'll be ok. I'm just going to talk with the alpha. Once everything is all cleared up. I'll be back ok." I said removing his hand from my shirt.

Luckily he just nodded and cried silently. I walked slowly out of the bedroom door and out the front door there was a crowd forming outside as I walked pass some growled at me and some looked like they feared me. But I didnt dare show how scared I was. I just needed to make sure my cousins were safe. Before I broke down and freaked out.

Makahi POV:

“What’s the ETA Montago?” I asked for the 100th time I knew I was acting crazy but me and my wolf was going crazy needing to be near Ji’lahni. It had taken 3 days for the rogues to retreat the leader managed to escape leaving his rogue wolves to fend for themselves. We did found out that there was a inside person feeding them information on different packs. We needed go find out who the trader was. We decided we have to limit the information between Alphas and their betas. Until we find the trader we had to keep the circle of knowledge limited. “We’re 2 minutes out.” Montago responded. My wolf was pacing in my subconscious. I’ve decided to postpone the mating ceremony until I can figure stuff out with Ji’lahni. Regardless if it’s real or not I can’t mate Summer until I know for sure.

First I would talk to Summer, she deserved an explanation. As soon as we pass the gate my phone rung it was my mother she left to pick up Ji’lahni’s cousins. Answering the phone “yes mother?” “THEY’RE GONE KAH! THE GIRLS ARE GONE!” My mother yelled in a state of panic. “Calm down mother I’m sure they aren’t gone they may have just went to get something to eat or go shopping.”

“Kahi I’m telling you they’re gone. The locals said a bunch of mafia looking men came and took them.” My mother cried and I start to get nervous as we come to a complete stop. “Mother come back to the pack house and we will send some guards out to trace them.” I said ending the call not bothering to wait for an answer. Hopping out of the truck I headed towards my mother’s house. Before I could take 5 steps. Summer comes running out of the packhouse throwing herself in my arms. I unwound her arms not really hearing what she said because my main focus was to checking on Ji’lahni to see if she’s OK.

“ALPHA!” Montago yelled getting my attention I turned to see him standing next to Bruin with papers in his hand. “You need to see this.” He said holding the papers out to me. Grabbing the papers from him seeing Ji’lahni’s name on the top of what appears to be her lab work which I already know about frowning I look at Montago. “What’s going on the doc has already spoken to me about this. He wasn’t able to find anything wrong or out of the ordinary.” I said frowning.

“Alpha there was another test that came back after you spoke with him.” Bruin said looking nervous. Reading the results from the lab. I couldn’t believe what the result said. “This has to be a mistake. That’s impossible. Montago with me we’re going to question her.” I said turning to leave Summer stepped in front of me with her hands out looking distraught. “You can’t question her because she isn’t here.” She said nervously.

“WHAT!” I turn back looking at Bruin who now looked like he was about to pass out. I was barely keeping my wolf at bay stalking up to Bruin. “Where the hell is she?” “Alpha when Summer informed me of the result I thought it was best to remove the threat from the premises. I couldn’t reach you and I couldn’t have the guards remove her because we were already stretched thin.

Summer informed me that her uncle was in route to the counsel compound and said he wouldn’t mind removing the human women to the compound for questioning.” Before he could finish his explanation I lift him in the air by the throat. “Please tell me you didn’t send the humans with Zane McKnight.” I ask I was half shifted my control was slipping at the thought of Zane being with Ji’lahni.

Struggling to breathe I let Bruin drop to the ground. “First you make a major decision about the humans without my approval then you sent them with that lunatic Zane?” “Alpha please I thought I was doing the right thing miss Summer was wrecked with fear and crying uncontrollable at the thought of what those humans were capable of doing. She’s our future Luna and I wanted to protect her and the women and children in our pack.” He said nervously.

I turned to Summer who looked more nervous. “So you suggested that your uncle should remove the humans who were under my protection?” I asked her stalking to stand in her face barely keeping it together. I saw her go from nervousness to anger. “Those human bitches has been nothing but trouble since they arrived. I have been telling you that it wasn’t a good idea.

One of them attack me your mate and once I learned of the result I wanted them gone and my uncle was happy to make sure I was safe and took away the threat. You should be thanking him for protecting your mate.” She sneered loudly with tears in her eyes. “You know as well as I do what your uncle is capable of. They could have been locked in my cellars until I returned not handed to your uncle.” I sneered sending a little of my alpha aura out of me which had Summer whimpering. Still staring at Summer.

“Get Zane McKnight on the phone now. Found out where he took Ji’lahni.” I said walking around Summer ignoring her pleads to talk I didn’t trust myself around Summer nor Bruin at the moment. I needed to think I can’t believe Ji’lahni and her cousin were planning to harm anyone. Heading into the direction of my mother’s house to check Ji’lahni room and to wait for my mother. I was barely able to control my wolf. My mother may very well kill Summer and Shadow will lose control it was clear that he cared for Shawna. How could I not know or suspect they had agenda.

What the hell did they have in their blood and what was their plans. There was so many unanswered questions and I have no way of finding out because Ji’lahni wasn’t here. Stepping into my mother’s house I was immediately hit the the stink of Zane and he pack members. But even with all the different scent I can smell Ji’lahni as clear as if she was standing next to me. My wolf wanted blood he wanted to hurt the men who took our woman.

Going into her room I immediately see her blade embedded into the door frame her room didn't seem like there was a struggle which I'm sure it wasn't because of her weakened state. I see her medication still on the night stand so I know she is in a lot of pain which only made the lust for blood worsen. Hearing the door open thinking it was my mother but instead it was Razor. Squatting down I scooped him up. "He buddy how's it going? You can't see Ji'lahni right now she's not here." I said gently. "No! The bad man took her and he made me shift in front of her. I didn't want to do it because you told me not to. But the bad man made me do it and it hurted me a lot I tried to protect her but the bad man was really scary."

"What! They told her were werewolves?" I asked Razor which he nodded sadly. "Please don't punish me for disobeying you. I really tried not to shift but I couldn't hold it." Razor cried. "Hey you're not in trouble. This wasn't your fault you didn't do anything wrong. I promise I will find her now go back to your house to wait for your aunt" I said putting him down. He was heading for the door just as my mother slung the door open with a bang. Her I can see the anger and worry along with her wolf Shera in her eyes along with my father and Shadow who looks equally as mad but he looked deadlier.

"Did you find them? Did you find my girls?" My mother asked through tears as she hugs me. I lead her to the couch because she needs to be sitting to hear this. As I tell her what happened she is in disbelief and Shadow is now pacing like a changed animal. His claws are extended, his black eyes were front and center, and he's growling. "These are all lies I know they aren't trying to kill us. I don't care what those labs say. We need to get them from Zane we can question them here. Zane is a ruthless bastard." My mother said crying silently. "We'll get to the bottom of this but we can't rule out what the results are showing us."

"Kahi I'm telling you they wouldn't do this you need to get them back." She said. "I'm about to return to the pack house Montago is calling Zane now to arrange a pick up. I will keep you posted whenever I find out anything." I said getting up walking out the front door. I'm trembling with rage. Reading the lab report it's telling me in black and white that their blood contains a substance which can harm us. I can't understand how it's even possible unless they were trying to kill our kind. I can't believe I ever thought that Ji'lahni could be my mate. Was this their plan all along? I need answers now.

Walking into the pack house heading directly to my office I see Montago, Shadow, Bruin, and Summer. Montago was on the line with Zane he switched it to speaker phone once I entered. Hearing his voice had my wolf going crazy with the thought of Ji'lahni anywhere near him. Even though I no longer believe Ji'lahni was my mate my wolf wasn't convinced. "Zane." I said to let him know he is now to speak to me.

"Makahi as I was telling your beta I don't think it's wise to release the humans giving the information we retrieved from your lab. It is in the best interest for us all if they remained locked up and interrogated until we can find out their master plan behind this disturbing finding. My niece was deathly afraid of what those human women would do once they were found out she has already suffered at the hands of one of those humans because of your failure to protect her." He said with authority and arrogance.

“Well Alpha Zane I didn’t bother asking for your opinion on the matter. Because it was none of your business. They were under my protection and my responsibility and I should be the one making the decisions on what to do with them. You should never have been contacted or even privy to what is happening on my pack lands you’ve been alpha far too long to not understand the disrespect you have shown and that I have every right to respond with deadly force for that disrespect.

Now tell me which encampment did you transfer them to and hope that I can defuse the situation you and your niece have caused.” I sneered. I know my wolf came forward to respond to the other alpha and I allowed him because he had to respond to the disrespect of another alpha. I barely hear Summer gasp and stepped back away from me when my gaze landed on her accusingly. She did this out of sheer hatred and jealousy which I suppose that I played a part in but she took it too far with going behind my back and reaching out to her uncle.

“Well that will be hard to do since I was able to get a confession out of them and reported to the counsel who granted me permission to do as I see fit. So you see alpha Makahi I hold all the cards and there isn’t anything you can do about it. As of now they’re being held at my secret facility that only me and a few others know about and my niece isn’t one of them.

Now I have to go now the injured one is a little spitfire and by far my favorite aside from the other taller one.” He said with a chuckle as he hung up. Causing Shadow to rip the door off its hinges then shifting as soon as he hit the ground. They confessed why would they do that. Unless they really did come here to hurt us how could I be so foolish. I am angry and hurt my wolf has retreated back in my subconscious howling in pain.

“Kahi I forgive you for not listening to me when I said those humans were nothing but trouble. I know I shouldn’t have called my uncle but I just couldn’t sleep or feel safe knowing they were still on our land. But now that they confessed let’s put all this stuff behind us and go ahead with our plans to mate and mark each other. Summer said walking slowly beside me as I try and think and comprehend everything from the moment Ji’lahni got here.

“YOU b***h! YOU DID THIS TO MY GIRLS. I WILL RIP YOUR THROAT OUT! My mother yelled leaping across the chair in my office claws out aiming for Summer’s neck my father was able to grab her before she could reach her target. “Mother you have to calm down. They confessed to everything. The counsel was notified and gave Alpha Zane the rights to do as he sees fit. It was all a lie they were playing us all for fools.” I said with anger and defeat.

“That’s a lie it’s impossible they would never do such a thing. I know they wouldn’t.” My mother said sobbing unwilling to accept the truth. “Mother I know this is hard but their confession just confirmed what the blood work already proved.” “No I refuse to believe that. Something isn’t right and I won’t stop until I figure this out.”

My mother said with determination and the look my father gave me as I pleaded with him to help me out only confirms that he fully supports his mate. “Momma we are all shocked and in disbelief but we’re just trying to move forward and get on with our lives. That’s why we have decided to go ahead with our mating ceremony as planned.” Summer said standing next to me placing her hand on my shoulder and I flinch at her touch.

My mother looked up in disgust. “Don’t ever call me that again I’m your Luna until my son mates. And even then you will address me as Mrs.Crystal or Mrs. Lateri do I make myself clear.” Summer visibly cowers at my mother’s word and nodded. Getting up my mother looks at me with disappointment in her eyes.

“Son I never thought a day would come where I would be in a disagreement with your choices as an Alpha I thought me and your father taught you better then to take things at face value and always be mindful of the company you keep. I’m not blind I saw how you treated and looked at Ji’lahni. I thought you wouldn’t bow down to what was considered traditional. But I guess I was wrong. You can mate Summer but you want have my blessing.” With that said my mother left without another word or second glance.
