Chapter 91

Countdown to the full moon: 24 hours left:

Antoni's POV:

After the she wolf left my chambers, I was left to my own thoughts, making plans to get my grand pups out of here. I have to make sure that Urrale didn't suspect that I was planning to leave tonight. It was risky and the odds were against me, but I had no choice because I couldn't allow her to get her hands on my grand pups. "Sorry I'm late baby I was stuck in a boring conference with my warriors. I'm planning a special dinner party for us to celebrate our new life together. We will officially announce to the entire castle that we are going to be mates at midnight on the full moon. I have been planning this for many nights. I always knew that we would be together again. I just had to be patient and wait for you to realize that we were meant to be together." Urrale said as she came into the room. I said nothing as she talked, which is what I have been doing every night since I was brought here. Talking to her is like talking to a brick wall. She lives in a land that no one else lives in but her, so it's best to just let her talk.

"You know, baby, once we're mated, I think we should try and have kids of our own. I know what you're going to say, that we are too old, and we should enjoy the rest of our lives. But I really think we need to have an heir who will run our kingdom once we decide to step down." She continued and I just stared at her, because I have seen crazy before, but this was something far worse than crazy. She has lost touch with reality. I could barely stop my thoughts from coming out of my mouth. I couldn't do anything that was out of the norm. After she left, Fiona usually brings the girls to me because they would cry all night. So Urrale decided that they would be with me until it was time for her nightly visit. I just had to get through this, and I would be one step closer to getting my grand pups out of here. I thought to myself.

23 hours left: The pack house conference room.

"Why do we have to have a meeting this late? This has to be illegal. There are definitely some laws that are being broken being awake this late." Shawna said, with her eyes still closed. Those babies had her falling to sleep every time someone stopped talking. "We're waiting for the Dragons. They should be here any moment. Once they get here we will begin the meeting." Lynn's grandmother said as she sat at the conference table like she was meditating but I really think she's asleep too. "Did someone mention Dradon?" A tall handsome caramel skin man said walking into the conference room with Lynn's sister on his arm, She looked almost exactly like Lynn but with jet black hair to Lynn's dark brown hair and she was thin where Lynn was full figured. She walked in like she owned the place. "Grandmother I'm sorry we're late we were waiting on Max. He said he wanted to help." The woman who came in with the man named Dradon. "Well damn Lynn your sister had a little boy last time now she has a sexy God with her.” Mina said, and the man looked her way and smiled. “That is the same child you saw that’s the dragon who saved Shawna. Dragons can shift into a human of any age it helps them to not have to move all the time once people start getting old they just age along with them and then just start the cycle all over again.” Lynn said as she stared daggers at the Dradon. “Katalynia is Maxinis here? We need to get started we have a lot to discuss.” Lynn’s grandmother asked. “Yes I am grandmother. ”We heard him before we saw him step into the room with a tall, beautiful woman who looked Latino, all exotic and sexy. Now Listen when I tell you time stopped when Lynn’s brother stepped in the room. We all were opened mouthed. “Oh my god I think I just had an o****m, and I might be pregnant. Do you see Jason Momoa’s tan skinned twin brother? I’m talking Aqua man Jason.” Lynn said damn near drooling. “Girl who you telling if I weren’t already pregnant I would be right along with you Shawna said, and we all laughed except Lynn. Rolling her eyes. “Those feelings will wear off as soon as he starts talking.” Lynn said, sitting back in her chair. We all caught the vibe and focused. Lynn’s family was horrible to her, especially her siblings. There was no question who’s side we will always be on no question asked. All jokes aside it is now time to start this meeting. Lynn’s grandmother got up once the dragons were seated. “Now that everyone is seated we can begin, The alpha’s twin babies have been taken by a very powerful witch. they are being held in a realm created by the witch. I know this because whenever there is a ripple in the fabric of the world there is a shift in the earth’s core that causes a rift in the fabric of the earth, and we just need to find it. Once we do we can enter into the realm where the babies are being held. We will then be on her playground nothing will be as it seems. She is a very powerful witch. As we speak her sisters are finding the rift for us to enter, and they will also give us potions and spells that will help us in this fight. We can’t underestimate this witch, there is a reason she wants those babies she plans to bring forth an evil that could destroy the earth and we can’t let that happen.” “Wait! When we went to rescue Razz Alpha Zane and his Beta were talking about the witch and said that she was working with a God and that this God is the one who gave her the powers she has now. That she plans to use my babies as a sacrifice in order to raise the God she is working with. At the time we thought they were over dramatizing the situation. I can’t believe any of this s**t, first shifters exist and now God’s are trying to walk the earth what type of bull s**t is going on in this world, we are totally clueless about the s**t that is happening literally around us. Now I have to give everyone the side eye.” I said, shaking my head as I cried. It was just too much all at one time. Makahi pulled me out of my seat and into his lap and held me close. “Dear child, I know this is hard for you, but understand your children are very special and the moon goddess chose you as their mother because you and your family are very strong women who has overcome everything life has thrown at you and still found a way to live love and be happy as well as show my granddaughter how to be that way and I would like to thank you for that she is a very special one herself even if she didn’t always know it or felt it.” She said as she walked over to Lynn and cupped her face and placed a kiss atop her forehead as Lynn cried silently. “Grandmother, can we please move past all this touchy-feely stuff. What is the plan to save these... things. And I think once we have them we need to bring them to our country where we can protect them properly so no one can use them for their powers.” Lynn’s brother said, crossing his arms over his chest. We all looked his way and burst out laughing. “Damn Lynn I hate it when you’re right. Now we are gonna hear you brag about this for a good two months.” Shawna said still laughing.

“What is so funny, my brother is right. Those babies would be better off with us to protect them. Obviously we can’t depend on you humans or the wolves to protect them. So, you should allow the dragons to protect them.” Lynn’s sister sneered. All the wolves in the room growled at the threat and insult. Makahi was half shifted and Maka was at the forefront because his eyes was glowing silver. Before the Makahi spoke I got up from my seat and place my gun and my crossbow on the table. Everyone looked at me and my family, Lynn included because she was family as they stood up beside me with their weapons out “Look here Lynn’s sister, I don’t want to pretend I know about you and what you’re capable of. But I need you to know where me and my family are coming from. I will not only kill you and everybody in your country if you even think you will be taking my kids anywhere. I will blow that s**t off the f*****g map. Now you can think this is a game or that I’m weaker then you and I’m sure your right, but I’m also a mother and I will kill you and your brother before I allow you to take what I brought into this world.” I said as I picked up my gun and we heard the smooth sound of us all c*****g our guns and pointed them at Lynn’s siblings. “ENOUGH!!” Lynn’s grandmother said, angrily slamming her cane on the floor. “Katalynia and Maxinis, you will not speak of taking those babies from their mother. If you even attempt something so cruel you will have to answer to me, is that clear?” “But grandmother we only speak the truth those babies will be bet...” Maxinis was saying before his grandmother slammed her cane on the floor, then pointed it at her grandson, and lifted his a*s out of his seat and slammed him into the wall. “I said you will not speak of taking those babies away from their mother. Is. That. Clear?” “Damn where can I get one of those canes.” Mina asked as we all looked between Lynn’s grandmother and the hanging art that is Lynn’s brother waiting to see if he was gonna still try and argue his point.

Chapter 92

22 hours until the full moon:

Antoni’s POV:

The witch left my quarters an hour ago. Fiona should have been here with the girls by now. Something must have went wrong. I thought pacing the floor. “Maybe I need to go out and find where they are keeping the twins myself I have the layout of the entire castle I should be able to find them.” I said to myself as I walked to where the map of the castle was hidden, Looking at the map Fiona had told me what said of the castle that she was in and where the babies were put when they weren’t with me. Studying the map, folding it up, and putting it in the pillowcase I’m using to store items I was able to gather from when the servants would bring me dinner, silverware bread and I had asked for an extra bread water and fruit all day today. Because I don’t know what’s waiting for us out there, I wanted to make sure we had enough items to last us for at least a day or two. Tying my pillowcase I walked over to the door, but it opened on its own and Urrale was standing at the door. She frowned at me, and I quickly dropped my sack behind the door. “what’s going on Toni?

Why are you at the door?” She asked eyeing me. “I heard someone at the door, and I figured it was my grand pups, so I tend to meet the servant at the door because they are always crying their little heads off.” I said, as I back away blocking the pillowcase and using my foot to push it further behind the door and allow her to enter. “What are you doing here Urrale, You have already been here tonight and where is my grand babies they are usually here by now.”

I asked, starting to get a bad feeling. “Well, that’s what I’m here to talk about. Since we have gotten back together I have tried everything to get them to warm up to me so that we could finally be together as a real family. But that hasn’t happen and I think as long as they are around we wont be able to really move forward with our life and they will only come between us.

So, I was thinking maybe if we allow one of my servants to keep them and care for them then we wouldn’t have to worry about them and they will be raised as servant children, before you say no I will make sure the servant will have a nice room in the castle.” She said, as she walked to a table that was set up for us to have dinners together, but I never ate while she was here.

“No! If you take away my grand pups I will never love you, we will never be together you will have to kill me.” I said angrily, my body trembling with anger I couldn’t contain. “Don’t you understand that those pups are coming between us, you are barely present when I come see you. All you do is ask about those babies and asking when could they be brought to you. I’m just trying to make sure you’re safe. Everything I have done is to protect you. “She said coming to stand in front of me her magic radiating off her skins. What the hell is wrong with her? She seems almost desperate. “Look, I will help you with the pups. I understand that I haven’t been doing my part.

Send the girls to me for the rest of the night and you come here in the morning, and we can start the bonding process. If they see us together then they will come around. How does that sound?” I asked hoping like hell she buys the bullshit I’m selling. I didn’t want to lay it on too thick especially when I have only shown her anger, disgust, and hate since I came here. She looked at me for a moment and her face broke out into an excited smile.

“Ok we can do that; I will make sure we have the best breakfast prepared and make sure the babies will have lots of toys so we can play with them. Oh, my goodness we are going to be like a real family.” She said happily as she hugged me before practically dancing out of the room. We really need to get the hell out of here now.

A little while later there was a knock on my door and this time I breathed a sigh of relief because it was Fiona, and she had the girls who were sleeping and dressed just as I instructed. She had them in a backpack with their little heads sticking out. I took the backpack and put it on my back because I was a faster and stronger runner than the she wolf.

She had the pillowcase with the items I packed in them over her shoulder. "Are you ready?" I asked, and she nodded as I opened the door and slipped out of the room and to the passage I memorized from the map. The she wolf was very helpful with telling me where the guards were stationed none of them were a match for me. I made sure that the bodies weren't easily seen so they wouldn't blast the alarm as quickly. It took us 30 minutes to make it to the only door that didn't have a spell on it simply because it was used for deliveries and was always guarded by at least three guards. I handed the twins to the she wolf. "I need you to stay out of sight I don't want them to see you or the twins if anything goes wrong you go back to my room and place my things there and take care of the twins. I know my son will come for them you just make sure they are not harmed until he gets here is that clear?" "Yes, alpha you can trust me I will protect them with my life I know what I did now was wrong and I will do whatever I can to make it right."

The she wolf said with tears in her eyes. I nodded and rounded the corner where the three guards were. They quickly took a defensive stance. "What the hell are you doing out of your quarters? Does the master know you're down here?" Two of them asked. "Why would your master know my whereabouts when I'm planning to get the hell out of here." I said with a shrug. "Look old man, we are going to escort you back to your quarters and if you come quietly we may not tell the master about your little escape attempt. You're no longer an alpha and in this castle you have none of your wolf's strength." One guard said as he approached me which was his first and last mistake.

I closed my eyes, took a deep breath, and allowed the man I kept hidden from everyone to come out. When I opened my eyes whatever he saw made him pause but it was too late to rethink his decision. I quickly stabbed him in the neck with a spoon and tossed a fork in the air and kicked it where it landed in the throat of the second guard before he even thought of attacking the third guard charged at me and I ducked, punched him in the groin, landed an upper cut to his chin with a butter knife. I quickly removed the bodies from the door and went around the corner to get Fiona and the girls only to come to a halt when I see her being held by the neck by a big linebacker looking dude who had my grand pups hanging from his hands. "I'm glad I decided to head to the kitchen to get a sandwich. Seems like to me that you and this b***h were trying to escape with the master's babies. He said squeezing Fiona's neck a little tighter making her gasp and struggle.

"You feel like a man handling a small helpless woman like that. Is that why you wanted to tell me your little story about your late-night food run? I guess little babies and small women is more your speed huh tiny?" I asked and he growled as he dropped both Fiona and the babies. She quickly got the babies and put them on her back as she tried to catch her breath. I'm glad I got the weapons I used on the other guards because I am damn sure I will need it.

I needed to fight smarter not harder. I will need to tire him out and make sure I hit him in the correct spots to disable him. I took a deep breath and closed my eyes I really needed to center myself. I needed to use all my senses. With my eyes close I could hear the big oaf when he swung I dodged and did two quick jabs to his ribs with the fork. He grunted in anger and charged at me attempting to put me in a bear hug. I jumped and kicked him in the jaw knocked a few of his teeth out and his neck snapped from the force.

I heard Fiona gasped when the big guy fell to the ground with his eyes still open. “Let’s go before someone else decides they need a late-night snap. We raced out of the castle and into the dark night. “Son I got your pups out, it’s up to you now.” I tried to mind link which I knew didn’t work because I still don’t feel my wolf.

Chapter 93

SHAWNA’S POV: So, You Don’t Want to Take a Break?

“Hey. So. You. Don’t. Want. To. Take. A. Break.” I said, breathing hard as I dodged another shot and took another swing with my knife. I feel like I’m close to death, not from this b***h but from the fact that my a*s is literally hyperventilating. The babies are getting tired and more than likely hungry. But with Ji’lahni gone, I don’t know what to do. My family is gone, and those babies need me. I thought with renewed energy which I know comes from anger, knowing that this b***h is the reason for me no longer having any family besides those babies. “You killed the only family I had left, and you will not be taking my cousin’s babies away from me you will have to kill me today.” I said between each swing of my knife. “I know damn well you didn’t think you could get rid of us that easy, we should feel insulted.” I heard from behind me just as an arrow whizzed past my face and nicked that b***h in the shoulder. She stumbled back in shock as I took that opportunity to run a short distance to them as they continued firing arrows and throwing stars at the crazy b***h.

I hugged Ji’lahni first and then Mina. After we hugged, Mina ran up to the b***h with her knives out. She was better at close knife fighting than I was. “OMG! You’re alive.” I yelled, crying, hugging Ji’lahni again as she shoots her crossbow at the b***h to give Mina an opportunity to strike. She got a few slices in on that b***h, and she was getting mad and bleeding. “Yea we’re alive and pissed.” Ji’lahni said. “The babies are by the tree, but this b***h is like some type of f*****g ninja cyborg. I can’t really fight her full on because.” I paused. “I took a pregnancy right before this s**t popped off and it was positive, I was coming to tell yall when all of this happened. I said quickly. “You’re What!” Ji’lahni yelled, as she fired another shot, but she barely missed Mina’s head, because my words shocked her. “Hey that’s my damn head.” Mina yelled as she took a swing. “My Bad!” Ji’lahni yelled and hugged me again. “Hey, I’m all for this f*****g family reunion and hugging s**t but we can do that after we kill this b***h. She is f*****g fast as hell, where the f**k is Lynn.” Mina yelled, dodging as best she could. “You go get my babies while we distract this wacko.” Ji’lahni said in a whisper, my eyes then looked in the direction of the babies and nodded.

I saw rogues coming out of the trees just as I got to the babies. “s**t, s**t, s**t!” I said as I used the babies’ blanket to wrap and tied them securely so I could carry them like a purse. All of a sudden I heard a loud grunt and then a thud I turned around and saw the crazy b***h has land a kick and punch both Ji’lahni and Mina, they hit the ground super hard. “Damn it, I told yall that b***h was a ninja.” I said to myself as I ran up on her a*s right when she was about to attack Ji’lahni again. I knocked her a*s on the back of the head with the handle of my knife. Which made the b***h tumble to the f*****g ground like a sack of potatoes. It didn’t knock her a*s out, but it did make her see birds flying around her head. I hit her one more time so I could check on Ji’lahni. They were sitting up groaning. “That b***h hits hard as hell,” Mina said, getting up. “Well, well, well, I have to thank you for wrapping the pups up all nice and neat for me it will be a lot easier to get them out of here.”

We all froze at the sound of the vilest bat s**t crazy wolf. “Zane!” we said at the same time. I grabbed that crazy b***h by the hair and punched her again, hoping like hell that she was important to Zane. My cousins went to surround him, trying to get close enough to attack. “You take one more step with our babies, and I will cut this bitches throat. Give my cousin her babies now!” I yelled at him. He glanced at his partner in crime and just shrugged his shoulders. “Do what you must, I have what I came here for, well, not everything.” He said and glanced at Ji’lahni. “You don’t think I can get you to come with us, huh? We can leave this place and finally be together. We can rule the whole entire shifter world. You can be my Luna queen and have my heir. I must admit I have not been able to think of anything else but you. I’ve missed you my mate.” He said lovingly like a damn schoolgirl. “You are a real loony toon out here in these woods.” Ji’lahni said. Trying to get closer to him. He doesn’t seem to notice or care. The b***h in my hand was starting to struggle. I pressed the knife harder on her throat. “Go right ahead and keep moving. Cut your own throat. I don’t think that would count as me killing you, so I’m good with the whole thou shalt not kill thing I feel like I would get a past either way.” I said, yanking her head back. Just then we all heard loud growls and howls and what could only be paws thumping the ground fast coming towards us and we all knew who it was. The Alpha and his warriors were coming in fast. We all visibly relaxed, but the look on Zane’s face was priceless. He realized that he had spent too much time trying to woo Ji’lahni. Now he was looking around at the small number of rogues he had left and you could tell he was getting desperate. He took off running and we all screamed, as Ji’lahni and Mina took off behind him. Lynn came barreling by me on top of a wolf looking like a warrior princess. But I couldn’t follow, because I couldn’t leave this crazy b***h alive so she could try and kidnap or kill us later. So I had to take care of this b***h once and for all. I can’t risk her coming back trying to take the babies again. Taking a deep breath, I slammed her head into the nearest tree. I never thought I would be able to kill without remorse, but when someone threatens your family and our babies there ain’t no guilt in me. I lifted my arm to swing, but I heard a loud growl of “NOO!” right before I could swing my knife someone grabbed my arm. “What the hell...” I trailed off as I turned and looked at the person who stopped me from killing this b***h.

It was Shadow who stood there frozen in place, his eyes on the crazy b***h with a shocked and dazed expression on his face. That's when I heard her whisper, "Mate." My eyes snapped to her, then back to Shadow because this must be a f*****g mistake. "Shadow what the..." I said in shocked disbelief, which finally got Shadow's attention. But in his eyes all I saw was guilt and sorrow. "Shadow?" I whispered again, but before I could say or ask him anything, I felt a pinch right below my boob which hurt like a b***h. I winced and I looked down to see that crazy ding bat had a knife buried in my ribs just below my boobs. That's when the real pain registered and the weakness from the blood leaving my body in a rush, caused my knife to drop from my hand, then my legs to give out next. When my legs gave, that forced Shadow to have to hold me up in order to keep me from hitting the ground. He frowned, looking at me in confusion before looking down at the knife his mate still had buried in my rib cage, his eyes grew wide right before everything started to go dark. All I thought about right then was my baby. Oh god, my baby! I kept saying over and over in my head hoping it was coming out of my mouth, but I wasn't sure because everything felt far away like I was being pulled into darkness. But right before everything went black, I could hear a loud growling "NO, NO, NO, NO!" as the darkness finally pulled me in completely.

Shadow's Pov:

Once we killed the last of the rogues, we raced in the direction of the pups and the girls. Rane was feeling anxious about coming up to the girls. I saw Mina and Ji'lahni were circling Zane. Right before he turned and ran after hearing the Alpha's warrior cry signaling he was heading this way, his pup and his mate. Lynn, who was on Blaze's Wolf Thorn, raced past me to help the girls. "Alpha Zane is here, and he has the pups the girls are trying to trap him." I mind linked. I heard another loud growl followed by our warrior howling. You could hear their paws beating the ground heading this way. Suddenly, that familiar scent came back stronger, and it was unmistakable. I could no longer ignore it. I knew who that scent belonged to, but it had to be a mistake. I shifted to my human form, immediately searching for the scent that I never thought I would smell again. My eyes landed on Shawna who had just slammed a small figure into a tree, and I knew instantly who it was "mate!" Rane howled in my head. I saw Shawna lift her arm that was holding a knife, and I reacted with only one thought, which was to protect my mate. I reached her just as she was about to swing. I caught her arm, "NO!" I yelled my eyes on the woman who was my mate. She was crying and afraid, begging for her life.

"Shadow?" I vaguely heard Shawna say, but my whole focus was on my mate who was crying and afraid. "Shadow!" I finally heard Shawna yell. I looked at her and I immediately felt guilt wash over me like a tycoon. "What the hel.." She trailed off when my mate uttered the word. "Mate." Shawna paused and looked at her and then at me. "Shadow?..." She said again with a frown and looked down, then back at me before her knife dropped from her hand, and her body became heavy in my hand. I held her up easily. I frowned, wondering what was wrong. I looked down and saw my mate with a knife in her hand sticking out of Shawna's rib cage. That's when her body went completely limp. "NO NO NO! Baby please NO!" I roared angrily, as she looked at me trying to say something but only coughed out blood, her eyes closing. "No No NO baby open your eyes please baby don't do this to me please please Shawna." I said as my eyes filled with tears.

She opened her eyes again and whispered, "My baby." Before her eyes closed and her head fell back. "What the hell happened Shadow?" Hunter said, coming up next to me. "I have to get Shawna to the clinic, take her and follow me to the clinic." I said, nodding in the direction of my mate as I quickly picked Shawna up, careful not to move the knife that's sticking out of her ribs.

I could still hear a heartbeat, but it was slowing down, which made me panic. I broke out into a run as the words she said before she went unconscious raced through my mind. "Doc are you at the clinic?" I mind linked. "Yes commander, what happened?" He responds. "Shawna was stabbed in the ribs have everything prepped and ready." I said running as fast as I can. Rane wanted to shift because he could run faster. We were both confused that our mate was alive, and she just stabbed Shawna. "Shadow what the hell happened?" The alpha mind linked me. "I don't know the details yet, but alpha, Scarlett is alive, she's the one Shawna was chasing. When I got there, Shawna was about to kill her. I stopped her but I didn't see Scarlett had pulled a knife and stabbed Shawna in the ribs." I said with the fear of losing Shawna at the forefront of my mind. I burst through the clinic doors. The Doc was fully covered from head to toe.

I finally remembered that their blood burnt us. When I looked down, I could see smoke coming from where Shawna's blood was falling on me, but I barely felt the pain through the panic and my focus was completely on Shawna's heartbeat, which was slowing down as I placed her on the gurney, I kneeled next to her, and grabbed her hand which were now cold to the touch. "Commander, we need to get her to surgery she's losing too much blood." The doc said as the nurses were trying to exit the room, I let go of her hand but stayed kneeling in the same spot. I was numb looking at all the bloody rags that lay around the room. I don't know how long I stayed in that spot. "Shadow?" Hunter said, as he entered the room, he gasped when he saw all the bloody rags on the floor. "I brought the she wolf in, she's in the room next door a nurse is checking her out." He said quietly. "My mate." I said, suddenly remembering that mate wasn't dead and I needed answers. Where has she been all this time? And why the hell is she working with Zane?

I got up abruptly and followed the scent of my mate. I paused at the door as the nurse checked her out. The nurse turned and looked at me strangely, probably because I was covered in Shawna's blood. "What can I do for you commander?" The nurse asked. "Leave us." I said, not taking my eyes off my mate. The nurse nodded and left the room. I stood watching her. She looked the same as she did when I first met her. She had light brown curly hair, dark brown eyes, she was more toned than she was back then. She looked afraid as she stared at me. "Scarlett, where have you been?" I asked, keeping my distance so I wouldn't scare her. "I. I don't know." She said crying softly. "Why the hell were you helping Zane?" I asked, confused as to why she didn't come back to the pack if she survived the war. I remember that day like it was yesterday.

FLASHBACK!

"We need all the women and children escorted to the safe houses NOW!" The Alpha yelled. We were under attack. "Shadow, I'll help get the children to the safe house. We're closer to the school." Scarlett said as she came forward and kissed me. I nodded and shifted. We tried to keep the fighting outside of the borders, but there were just too many wolves, and our allies hadn't made it yet. Once they reach the borders, they immediately start attacking the women, children, and elderly wolves. "Shadow we're surrounded. I have to get the pups to the safe house. I will have to fight to distract them while the pups run to the safe house." Scarlett said via mind-linked. "NO NO I'm coming, don't you move Scar, just hold on." I said as I finished off the wolf who thought he had chance. "Alpha, I have to get to my mate she's trying to get some pups to the safe house. But they're surrounded." "Alright go get your mate and those pups to the safe house." The alpha said via mind link. I raced to the school as fast as I could, but I was slowed down by wolves who attacked me. By the time I reached the school, all I saw was my mate being held by the throat and the wolf's hand in her belly.

I felt the moment she died. Rane went berserk, killing everything in sight. I couldn't control him because the pain of the bond breaking is like having your heart ripped out. After there were no wolves left to kill, Rane ran into the forest.

I can't remember how long we were out there, we killed every rogue we came across. I thought we would have gotten killed or died from pain after a while, but it never happened. Eventually, Rane gave me back control and retreated to the back of my mind. He wasn't feral nor a rogue, but we became a shell of our former selves, emotionless and dead inside.

That is until we met...End of Flashback.

Still staring at my mate, she seemed broken and battered. I wanted to hold her in my arms, but I couldn't. "I feel that you are my mate, what is your name and who is Scarlett?" She asked, confused. That's when it clicked that my mate didn't remember us. It made sense that there had to be how Zane was able to take advantage of her and use her to help him. I feel the mates bond, but it was something off and I can't quite put my finger on what it is. Maybe it was because she has no memory of me, or us. "My name is Shadow. We were, I mean we are mates.

"Do you not remember anything from your past?" I asked, finally moving close to her, sitting next to her. Shaking her head. "All I remember is waking up in a pack clinic. My master took me in and took care of me." she said softly. "What did they tell you? Did they tell you anything about your past, your name, the name of your pack?" I asked and noticed that she was relaxing a bit and moving closer to me. Shaking her head again, "No, they told me they didn't know where I was from, they found me in a rogues camp. I was beaten and stabbed. They took me to a pack clinic and took care of me. "I didn't know my name, so I chose one. My name is Shaid. They said I was mumbling that while I was in a coma. I could never guess why I was mumbling that, but now I guess it makes sense I was calling for you." She said as she straddled my lap.

Rane was happy about having our mate back. Inhaling her scent was like finally being able to breathe again, but something was off. I guessed because I didn't immediately respond to her, she frowned.

“Do you not want me? Are you going to reject me?” she asked, trying to get off my lap. “No No! I just... It’s just that...” My words were cut short by the banging of the door opening hitting the wall, with 3 angry humans with a look in their eyes ready to kill. “I KNOW YOU f*****g LYING!” They said at the same damn time.

Chapter 94

Ji’lahni’s POV: Still at the clinic

“So, Lynn did you contact your brother? Is he coming to save Shawna?” I asked Lynn as sat in a chair placed by Shawna’s. She had tubes and wires everywhere. The docs said she needed them to keep her alive until we can get Lynn’s brother here. We cried for the first 30 minutes when we first saw her like this but that then turned into anger, and we wanted to find that zombie b***h and kill her like we wanted to. But we couldn’t find her in the clinic. I think they knew we would try to find and kill her like we planned. I hope they don’t think that will stop us from killing her for what she did to Shawna. “Yes, I contacted him, but he was not in the country I told my grandmother to call him. She said he would make sure he called me by tomorrow.” Lynn said as she smoothed Shawna Blankets out. “Well, the docs said he can keep her alive for a few days. I still can’t believe Shadow’s mate is the person they sent to kidnap the girls. They had to know she was Shadow’s mate. All this must be apart of their plan to get Shadow out of the way or thinks that because of the mates’ bond that he would be conflicted.” I said deep in thought. “Well, they were right because he think she is some sort of victim and not the crazy ninja b***h we fought. I swear they seems to always throw in curve balls that come out of left field. I mean damn they brought a b***h back from the dead.” Mina said as she laid at the foot of the bed. “Yea this must be more than just about the girls, this has to be about something else they have another enemy that they aren’t thinking about. The girls must be the reason that they decided to put their plans in motion.” I said deep in thought. “Hello ladies how are you guys doing?” Hunter said as he entered the room. “We’re fine, what are you doing here?” Mina asked. “I just came to check on you guys and see if you need anything. You may want to shower and get some rest I can sit with Shawna while you guys freshen up.” He said as we looked at him suspiciously. “Yea right just say your alpha sent you here to make sure we were still here and not looking for that zombie bitch.” Lynn said rolling her eyes. “I have no idea what you’re talking about. The alpha didn’t send me here I just thought that I could give you guys a break. I knew you guys been here for hours without food or sleep it is almost time for breakfast and I know you guys wanted to check on the pups as well.” Hunter said walking over to look at Shawna as she laid there unmoving as the machine moved her chest up and down. “You are good, although I don’t believe none of that s**t you said, but I will admit that I miss the girls and want to shower as well.” I said thinking it over. “Alright, we will be back in a few hours you better not move from her side if you have to use the toilet get the doc. Do you understand me? Please Don t let me have to cut you if something happens to Shawna because you weren’t here.” I said as we all got up kissing Shawna’s cheek before walking to the door. "I promise I won't move from this spot. He said as we walked out. "I just now realized that we haven't washed our asses since all this happened and I have dirt and blood on all my clothes. Ewe." Lynn said with the stink face. "Yea I don't even want to look down at my clothes. I can tell you now that all these clothes are going straight in the trash." I said as we walked out of the clinic laughing for the first time since the attack.

Shadow's POV:

I sat in the small sitting area in the house that the alpha put Scarlett in. I had to beg the alpha not to throw her in the cellars, He only agreed to it because I told him I would move in the house with her, but he told me she was to stay in the house farthest away from the other wolves in the pack and was not allowed to leave the house and there has to be guards surrounding the house at all times. So here we are Scarlet was upset about not being able to leave out of the house for any reason. She was also upset, because she had been trying to get me to pack up and run away with her, but I refused, I told her I wouldn't leave my pack unprotected. She also said I didn't want to leave Shawna. Although I didn't confirm or deny my silence was all the answer she needed, so she has been complaining this whole time. I am currently waiting for Hunter to give me the all clear to see Shawna. I knew the girls wouldn't allow me near her since they believed I let or helped Scarlett hurt her and our pup, which I would never do. I just needed to see her for myself and tell her how sorry I am for everything and that I needed her to get better. "So, are they just going to keep me here and not let me out at all?" Scarlett asked. "Yes, you're not allowed to leave out of this house until everything is cleared. When we find out who is behind this, and the doc runs some test to see if we can get your memories back or find out why your wolf doesn't remember anything before the war." I said, patiently. "This isn't fair I am your mate that should count for something, and I thought once I answered their questions, they would let me go." She said huffing angrily. "Scar I mean Shaid you tried to kidnap the alpha's twins and you stabbed my... Shawna who is now fighting for her life. I had to beg them not to throw you underground in the cellars. Once you have been cleared and we find out what is really going on and how they used you to do it then the alpha will decide what to do. I can't promise you won't have to pay for what you have done but if everything checks out, I'm sure it will be fair. You just have to be patient." I said getting up pacing the floor. "If we would've left like I wanted to, I wouldn't have to wait to be judged and punished. I just want this to be over so we can start our lives together. But we can't do that with me being stuck in here waiting for those humans to kill me." Shaid said crying silently. I took a deep breath, none of this is her fault Zane and her so-called master took advantage of her. I went to her and embraced her. She immediately wrapped her arms around me. "I know this is hard and frustrating, but we have to be patient until we find answers and when the doc verifies what they did to you then the alpha will make sure that you are treated fairly." "Why do I have to be poked and probed in order for us to live our lives together freely. I really don't want to see this doctor I have been abused enough without having to go through all this again just to prove that I was forced to do those terrible things. When I finally find my mate after all this time, I can't even enjoy it because of this whole horrible situation." She said burying her face in my neck. I pulled her close to me enjoying the feel of the mate bond that I had missed over the last few years. I thought I would never get to feel this way again until I joined my mate in death. But the moon goddess had other plans and granted me this second chance to be with my mate again. But I can't fully enjoy it, even though I have missed this feeling. I had found something just as special, a connection with Shawna that was natural and pure not predestined or brought on by a bond that was chosen by the moon goddess. We don't have a say in who the moon goddess chooses for us. But with Shawna it was her that I fell...I frowned at the thought of what I almost said, could it be that I loved her? Did I fall in love with Shawna. I couldn't get her out of mind even now she consumed me. When I saw her blood leave her body, I was sure that I would not survive losing her. She was my addiction, a habit I didn't want to kick. I was brought out of my thoughts by Scarlett who was now kissing her way down my chest. "We shouldn't be doing this right now; you should be resting, and I need to leave for a few hours to talk to the alpha and make arrangements for someone to take over my duties while I'm here with you." I said and she dropped to her knees unbuckling my pants. I tried to back away, but she wasn't taking no for an answer. "Oh, those things can wait for a little while, we are a newly mated couple no one will question is you are late, they know how it is for a mated couple, so they won't mind." She said her mouth latching onto my c**k before I could respond. Damn it her mouth felt good on my c**k. The mate bond tingles only intensified the feeling she was giving me. Out of reflex I Grabbed her hair pushing my c**k deeper into her mouth. "f**k that feels good baby don't stop." I moaned loudly. "Hey, Shadow the girls are gone you better get your a*s down here I don't know how long they will be gone and I'm not about to get on their bad side if they found out that I let you in here to see Shawna," Hunter said through mind link. "s**t!" I yelled jumping away for Scarlett like someone caught us cheating. Guilt washed over me at the thought of Shawna laying in a hospital bed while I'm in here getting my d**k sucked. "Uh, yea I'll be right there." I responded via mind link. "What's wrong was I not doing it well? I can do better I promise." She said trying to put me back in her mouth. "No, I need to leave this meeting is very important and it can't wait. I'm sorry I gotta go I'll be back in a few hours I will bring us dinner so we can have dinner together." I said buckling my pants while backing away. "Are you going to just leave me here alone? What if those humans find me and try and kill me. You can't leave me here just take me with you, I'm sure the alpha won't mind as long as you are with me." She said, pleadingly. "No, you have to stay in this house you want be alone there are guards outside the house to keep you safe." "No they want to keep me locked in her like a prisoner." She said angrily. "Look I will talk to alpha about letting you outside in the backyard." I said hugging her. She smiled and kissed my lips. She tried to deepen the kiss but I couldn't lose focus I had to go see Shawna. I broke the kiss and hurried out of the door before she could stop me again. My heart picked up its pace as I made my way to the clinic to see the female who my mind and heart seem to ach for.

Shaid's POV:

"s**t!" I growled out after Shadow left. What the hell is taking the master so long to answer the emergency protocol. If she was close, she would be able to mind link me and tell me what she wants me to do. So that left me trying to get Shadow to let me out here for a little while so I can look around and spot their weak spots so could use them once my master gets here. Thinking of that Shadow guy, he is a hard nut to crack. He isn't responding like mated males usually act. I figured it has to do with the human woman I stabbed. I have been trying to seduce him since we got here but nothing worked. I thought I finally broke his guard down when he let me suck his c**k but who ever mind linked him broke the moment like a cold bucket of water. He hurried out of here like his a*s was on fire. I needed to find a way out of here. I walked around the house for anything I could use as weapon but found nothing. I walked around checking the windows to see if I could sneak out of later. But it looked like they had guards surrounding the entire house. “Damn it! I have to get out of here before I go crazy and end up feeding off one of those guards. I wasn’t supposed to be here this long, I’m starting to get hungry. “Master you needed to get here fast. I don’t want to disobey your command, but the hunger is starting to become unbearable.” I said to myself as I fell back on the bed. Starting to worry that I will ruin the master’s plans.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 95

MONTEGO POV :

I can’t believe what just happened. What did I just do. “My mate. I want mate. I didn’t mean to hurt mate.” Diego whined. “I know that buddy but she doesn’t. She’s human and doesn’t know how packs work.” I said to Diego. We are bonded by blood to our pack as a beta the bond is instant and the need to protect the alpha and luna of the pack is ingrained into a beta’s DNA once we take the blood oath. So When Lynn swung at Summer because she had officially become luna my instinct was to protect her from the threat and in that moment it was my Lynn. The look in her eyes showed deep hurt and betrayal. She had been so guarded with me at first she didn’t understand anything about other half mates but still let her guard down even after everything she’s been through.

I know what she went through as a child what her family put her through the training how they used her as a punching bag. She was the one that got abused. her siblings would attack her almost everyday but when she would defend herself her elders would punish her. And I just did the exact same thing. I walked into Kahi’s office sat down and dropped my head into my hand. “Are you ok man? I know you want to go down there but it is best to give her some time to cool off and you need time to explain to her what happen I’m sure once you explain it she will understand.” Kahi said as he sat behind his desk. “She won’t.” is all I could get out over the lump in my throat. “She’ll understand if you just explain it to her.” “You don’t understand all her life she was beaten by her family when her siblings abused her she would always get beaten when she defended herself. When she did better then her siblings during training they would get jealous and abuse her afterwards, and I just did the same exact thing her family did.” I said angry at myself.

“Damn man I’m sorry. But she’s your other half mate. You can’t give up on her no matter how hard she tries to push you away don’t give up.” Kahi said sadly. “I hurt her Kahi, I hurt my mate.” I said as I heard talking downstairs it was the guards who came to help Lynn move out of our room. I got up and raced out of the office and headed towards my mate with the alpha hot on my heels. I threw open my door with a bang and thank the goddess Lynn was alone putting her clothes in her luggage. She jumped and pulled a knife from the luggage at the sound of the door banging open. Once she saw it was me she quickly turned her back to me and quickly tried to wipe her face to remove the fresh tears. "Montego I can't do this now please just leave." She said quietly. "Baby you gotta let me explain. I'm so sorry. Baby I would never hurt you." I pleaded... That stopped her packing. "You would never hurt me? Does the bruises on my neck prove that to me." She said coming close enough to show me the bruise I put on her neck.

I winced looking at the ugly mark which also had claw marks were I broke the skin a little. "I told you that my job is to protect my alpha and my luna, It's instinct." I pleaded. "Montego I know and understand that but that doesn't change what you did. It only proves to me that we would never work especially if Summer is your luna. I would only be putting you in the position to kill me or my family when your luna attacks me or those I love because she's insecure. I'm saving us both heartache by ending it now. If we mate it would only put your life in danger when you rip my throat out like you were about to do earlier. As I understand it when your mate dies you would become a rogue or die, I can't do that to either of us." She said turning away from me going back to her luggage.

I followed her and wrapped my arms around her waist placing my forehead against the back of her head inhaling her scent. "Please baby don't leave me. I don't think I can take it." I said lowering my head to brush my lip across the spot where my mark would be. The electric jolt of our mates bond caused her to gasp and moan, she leaned her neck to the side exposing her neck her ugly bruise on full display the guilt that washed over me almost took my breath away pushing past my guilt I licked the spot where my claws had broken her skin, it burned my tongue from the dried blood, but I welcomed the pain because that physical pain wasn't anywhere near the pain my heart was enduring at the thought of losing my mate.

She let out an open mouth moan. I spun her around quickly catching her opened mouth with my lips and I poured all my emotions into the kiss groaning when she finally wrapped her arms around my neck. We have kissed numerous times but never this hungry, or with so much emotions pouring out of us. We hadn't had s*x because she wasn't ready to take our relationship to that level although I respected it, it didn't stop my need and aching c**k from wanting her. One of her legs lift and I immediately caught her by the thigh and lifted her so she could wrap her legs around my waist. I walked to the bed and swipe the luggage off the bed and they hit the floor across the room. I gently laid her on the bed never breaking our kiss her hand pulled up my shirt and I reluctantly broke the kiss and pull the shirt over my head while I did that she grabbed the buckle of my cargo pants and loosen it with ease. I leaned down and kiss her lips as she slid her hand down my pants and grabbed my c**k and stroke it.

"Oh my Goddess." I moaned around our lips. She began to pick up her rhythm I began to pump my hips against her hand. While I kissed her lips. I ripped her yoga pants off with my lengthen claws and I was immediately hit with the scent of her arousal. I growled and slide my hand to cup her slick wet p**y and groaned at how wet she was for me and I wanted to taste every bit of it. I used my finger to draw circles around her clit which made her groan loudly and started moving her hips. "You're so f*****g wet baby. Goddess you're so wet for me." I growled out trying to hold Diego from coming forward and marking her. I refuse to do that until she accepts us. I quickly grabbed her by the thighs and lifted her then flipped us so I'm on my back and slide down so I'm face to face with her dripping p***y I immediately used my tongue to suck her clit into my mouth and played with her clit with tongue as my lips held her clit in place. I let the clit go and lick from the hole to the clit several times before I spread her lips to look at the clit before I went in and again started licking and sucking it until she was f*****g my face.

“Please don't stop I'm so close don't stop please.” She begged and I clamped don't on her clit with my mouth and tongued her clit using my tongue to apply pressure hardening it to run it across her clit. “I'm cumming, I'm cumming.” she screamed out. I quickly sat up and laid her on the bed and kissed her lips which still had her juices on it and she grabbed my c**k and guided my aching c**k to her wet entrance. I slowly pushed into her and paused when I met resistance. Oh goddess she was a virgin. I opened my eye to look down at my mate she must have known what I was trying to ask and she nodded and pulled my head down and kissed me. I grabbed her hips and slowly entered her to the hilt I stopped and waited until she adjusted to length and size of my c**k. When she squirmed I begin to grind and pump in and out of her wet dripping p***y. Her juices were coating my balls causing it to make wet sounds every time I entered her tight p***y.

I felt my balls tighten just as her p***y gripped me so painfully tight I could barely move goddess it was like she was pulling me back in every time I tried to pull out. “I'm cumming.” she groaned and I could feel the wetness of her c*m coating my c**k as it held me hostage as her orgasms had her p***y contracting against the head of my c**k sucking me in and it felt like it was pulling my seed from my balls all the way up my shaft and I exploded...

I groaned so loud that I was damn glad we all had sound proof rooms because I yelled like a Lil b***h. I callasped beside her pulling her in my arms and kissing her soft lips and whispered I love you before I allowed sleep to take over.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 96

21 hours to go:

Makahi's and Maka POV:

“We need to kill him. How dare he threatened to take my pups away from us, KILL HIM NOW!” “We have to focus on getting our pups back and this fool is willing to help us. But I will gladly let you kill him once we get the girls back if he even touches our pups.” I said to Maka, and he agreed reluctantly and went back into my subconscious. “Now that we understand each other lets go over the plan that Alpha Makahi and his men have put together.” Lynn's grandmother said as she walked slowly back to her chair and her grandson quickly pulled it out for her to sit. I made my way to the front of the conference room. We had to make some last-minute changes and add one more person to the search and rescue list. So as of now we have split into five different teams. The first team is my mate, the other women, and my first commander who will be the team to go into the castle to get my pups, my father, and Shaïd the commanders mate.” Pause for dramatic effect. “What he meant to say is we will go into the castle and get my babies and your dad, then shad-ow will get us to safety.

See, I fixed it for you babe I got your back, because it sounded to everybody else, like you said, we were going to also rescue Shaïd Shadows mate, which I know damn well you didn't just say.” Ji'lahni said, chuckling, like what I said was a simple mistake that she corrected. “I meant what I said Shadow talked to the doc and the doc thinks he could come up with something that could restore her past memories.” I nodded at the doc who was also present because he will be in charge of fixing anyone injured to the point that their wolf couldn't heal them. “Uh, yes if what the commander told me is true we may be able to help her wolf regenerate or fix any internal head injury and if their was a poison or potion used we could give her a drug that should expel whatever she was injected with.” The doc said as he looked over his notes.

“But you and the women main focus will be getting the babies and my father out. Shadow will be in charge of the search and rescue of his mate.” I said to Ji'lahni as I prayed that they would be ok with that. I know they hated Shaïd for what she did to Shawna but it she was indeed experimented on then she really didn't have any control of her actions. I didn't know how Shadow was going to handle his situation with Shawna, but that is his situation to deal with. “You got to be out of your fu..” “Stop leave it alone, the commander has every right to do everything he can to save his wife.” Shawna said interrupting Ji'lahni from no doubt cursing me out. “I guess we just saving every b***h that has tried to kill us. I guess I will just wait until you say you want us to save Summer too.” Ji'lahni said under her breath, but I'm sure she knew I heard her, and she didn't really care if I did or not. As she just sat down showing no emotion at all after that, which I know whatever she was saying in her mind was anything but emotionless and words I know would make the Moon Goddess cringe.

I glanced at Shadow who was staring at Shawna searching her eyes and face for understanding that what he was doing was just to make sure that Shaïd had a chance at freedom if she was indeed a prisoner. But she sat staring at something just over my shoulder. I sighed deciding to finish this meeting as fast as possible. I know I will have to deal with Ji'lahni once this meeting was over. So, the second team will be at the entry point waiting for team one to aid and help them make it to the safety point that we will set up at the entry point of the rift. Team 3 and 4 will be the ones who will engage the witch we will keep her distracted or take her out if the opportunity arises, but our main goal is to get my babies out.” “Alpha Makahi, we have a reason to believe my baby brother is also being held in this castle based on the blade found on the filthy bloodsucker you allowed to escape.” Kat said, with a look of disgust.

Which earned her a growl from Shadow which I think even surprised him. That is where the 5th and final team will go in once team one is out and search the remainder of the castle if team one aren't able to locate the dragon rider. Team 1 is on a timer once they get the babies and my father we don't want them to be caught by the witch. We will also use your dragons as a surprise attack from the sky. We will need you guys to take out as many as you can from the sky. Lynn's grandmother said that you don't particularly need a rider for this mission and your riders can look for their brother. The women will have my pups and my father if one of you spot them in trouble from the sky we will need one of you to clear their path so our team can get them to safety if they come into trouble getting to the safe zone.

"Wait a minute you want to use us as back up. That's ridiculous we are far more superior and should be on the front line. That would ensure that we defeat the witch." Lynn's sister Kat said, looking offended. "It isn't about who is superior it is about being smart and the element of surprise, we have no idea what the witch is capable of, this is a whole new realm she has created, it would be smarter to think of offense rather than conquer. If we go in guns blazing we will surely lose that fight. We need to go in understanding we are going in blind and don't underestimate your opponent." I said pinching the bridge of my nose. "Alpha we have refreshments for you and your guess may we enter?" Our Head Omega Sarah asked, via mind link. "Yes, please and thank you." I responded.

"We have refreshments for everyone because this may be a long night and we have a lot to cover so we will take a short break and then resume the meeting where Lynn's grandmother will tell us everything she knows about what we are about to face." I said, just as the Omega entered with a team to serve our guess. "Thank God because my stomach been growling since we got here." Shawna said, rubbing her stomach. Smiling for the first time since she was told that she will be helping to save Shadow's mate. "I swear you just had a sandwich before we left." Mina said, laughing. "How about mind your business. Nobody asked you about what I had earlier." Shawna said, pushing Mina on the arm.

Dradon was eyeing both Mina and Shawna intensely. He got up and walked over to their side of the table and sat next to Shawna. "Hi, I don't think we have officially met. I'm Dradon, the one who healed you from your stab wound." He said extending his hand to Shawna. She looked a little nervous but nodded "Hi, I'm Shawna, and thank you for saving me and my babies life. I don't know how I could ever repay you." She said almost tearing up. "Oh, trust me it was nothing I couldn't very well let a beautiful woman like you suffer such a horrible end." He responded with a sexy a*s smile and pulled Shawna's hand to his lips and kissed it slowly and all we heard next was a roar before Shadow leaped over the table at the Dragon who only smiled seeing an angry wolf about to rip his throat out. "GOD DAMNIT SHADOW STOP! I commanded using my alpha aura right before Rane could attack.

He struggled against my command, but he knew it was useless. "RANE GIVE SHADOW BACK CONTROL NOW!" Rane growled before releasing control back to Shadow. The girls stared wide eyed at Rane. "b***h take your damn hand out of that man's hand before Shadow kills everybody." Mina said pulling Shawna's hands away from the dragon's hand with her eyes still glued to Shadow. Shawna was breathing hard, and it wasn't shock nor fear it was anger. Shawna was breathing so hard the Doc jumped up and move towards her with his stethoscope out and quickly started listening to her heart. "Shawna you need to calm down your heart is beating entirely too fast, please just focus on me and breathe in hold it and then breathe out.” The doc said to Shawna, who looked at him and did as he instructed. After a while, her breathing went back to normal.

“Ms. Shawna you can’t stress yourself like this now that you are carrying three pups you are extremely high risk considering everything.” The doc said, as he put his tools back in his medical bag. Everyone stopped when he said that because they hadn’t told anyone what they found out. Because Shawna needed time to take in everything we told her that we heard at Zane’s pack house and then after that, finding out she was having three babies. We had told her before the Doc arrived what we heard. She made us promise to not say anything, because we all knew what happens when you tell your friend that their man is cheating they always find a way to blame you or think you are only saying that because you don’t like their dude. Even when they see the proof right in their face.

She doesn’t want Shadow to think that. She wants Shadow to find out and deal with his wife for himself. she didn’t want to get in the middle of that foolery, his actions will only prove to her what he truly wants and what he doesn’t and she already broke it off with him so he can do what he wants to do without worrying about hurting her. “What!? We’re having three babies?! Shadow said once again knocking over his chair getting up. “Does anybody else notice, that dude knocks over chairs wherever he goes? I swear He just needs to stand in the corner at every meeting.” Mina said, shaking her head trying to break the awkward silence.

20 hours till the full moon

Chapter 97

20 hours until the full moon

Shadow’s POV:

“So, is it true? Are you having three pups?” Is the Doc telling the truth?” I asked. Staring at Shawna she hasn’t looked at me the entire time we have been in here. I know she is hurting. I just want to explain why I’m trying to bring Shaid back. I wanted to kill the dragon for touching her. If the alpha hadn’t commanded me to stop Rane would have ripped his throat out for touching what’s mine. But now that we just found out that she is having three pups everything has changed she is at a greater risk of being hurt. “Shawna? Is what the Doc is saying true are you having triplets?” I asked coming to now stand in front of her. Her family immediately came to stand guard to protect her. But I would never do anything to hurt her. She finally sighed and looked up at me and what I saw in her blue eyes was pain. Pain that I had caused her. “Yes, shadow the Doc just gave us the news earlier tonight before we got here.” She said, like it meant nothing. “When were you going to tell me? I have a right to know what is going on with our pups.” I said a little harshly. Her eyes widen in shock. Before her anger took over.

“Please, by all means Shadow please tell me when I was going to tell you about it? Huh when? “When you were asking the Doc on how you can save your wife, mind you, the same wife who tried to un alive me and very babies you claim you have the right to know about? Oh wait, how about when you then went to Makahi and begged him to try and save your wife? was that a good time to tell you about the babies you claim you had a right to know about. Huh? I really would like to know when I could have possibly told you anything about my babies? You sent the Doc to our house, but not once did you even try to find out about me or them. Your top priority is your wife and getting her back, saving her, and making sure she is good. So why the hell would it even bother you now. Because you wouldn’t have even cared anyway, oh wait you probably would care if it were your wife who was having them instead of me. Because your mind is consumed with your wife and saving her and making sure she is safe then it is on me, our pups.” She said as she came to stand in my face looking up at me with all the anger and pain displayed on her face. How could she think that I didn’t care about her or our pups? She is all I think about. I only asked about Shaid because I feel guilt about how her life has turned out. If she would just talk to me I could explain. But we can never find time alone to talk. But regardless with this new information there is no way she can come on this mission with us it is entirely to dangerous for her and the baby. Turning to the alpha.

“Alpha we need to make another change with this new information there is no way that Shawna can go on this mission with us it is too dangerous.” I said. “OOOOHHHHH s**t! He is about to die. Did he just turn around and tell that man that She can’t go on this mission.” “Hell yea. She about to take his head clean off his body, back the f**k up girl I’m not trying to catch none of that smoke.” “Even I would be scared, and I have been training since birth.” I heard Mina and Lynn said from behind me. Shawna came to stand in front of me. “What the f**k did you just say to him?” She asked me. I had to stand my ground this wasn’t about me or her right now this was about our babies. “You just heard what the doc said, you don’t need the added stress because the risk is higher now.” I said, confidently. “Oh, now you want to think about stressing me the f**k out. You didn’t think you would stress me the f**k out when I found out you are walking around here begging every f*****g body to try and save the b***h who put a knife in my f*****g ribs and almost killed me. Then turned around and tried to kidnap me to give to her damn master while I was still in a f*****g coma from a knife wound she gave me. The b***h literally told you she wanted to drain me dry. And you thought it was a good idea to try and rescue her and bring her back here where me and your baby will be laying their head. You didn’t think about none of that s**t when you thought I was having one baby so why the f**k do you care about it now that I am having three. Because whether I go or not if you have your way she will be in the right position to take my a*s out for good the next time. But as long as you think you can save her nobody else matters. You know what f**k you Shadow don’t say s**t else to me I promise you if I don’t go on this mission to save my family from your wife and that f*****g witch you will be sleeping with one f*****g eye open because the other one will be missing. Now I got to f*****g pee damnit!” Shawna yelled and she stormed out of the very silent room, where everybody was trying to look like they weren’t looking and listening to that entire conversation.

I glanced at her family, and they jumped. “Damn it, you know what? I forgot I put my stove on the roof let me go on ahead and put that back in our house it looked like it was about to rain 2 weeks ago so you know we don’t want that.” Ji’lahni said as she got up and raced out of the room after Shawna. “Damn I’m glad you had reminded me, I had put my bed up there to, and I sure don’t want that rain from two weeks ago to get on that.” Lynn said, getting up following Ji’lahni. Mina looking around and shrug. “s**t, look I’m following them so we could go in the bathroom with Shawna while we listen to how she gonna kill you.” She said and raced out of the room. Then we hear “Ouch! I told yall. Yall was gonna stop hitting me.” “If we made up an excuse why the hell would you say that?” “s**t I couldn’t think of nothing and yall know damn well nobody believe the s**t yall said.” They finished as they walked away from the door. “Well wolfie that was better then a reality show. I was on the edge of my damn seat the whole time.” Lynn’s sister said. And her shifter gave her a look and she shrugged. “What? It was.” She defended herself. “Son, I won’t claim to know how it is to find out that the mate you thought was dead is somehow alive and you still feel the mates bond. But I can tell you this, time changes people and when we are dealing with an evil like this there is almost no chance that you will be able to help your mate. She may be already gone and only the body is left. So, I will say this. Don’t let your past destroy your future because once the past is finished destroying what you have built you will never have the chance to rebuild with the same materials you allowed your past to tear down. I would make sure you choose wisely. Your life may literally depend on it.” Lynn’s grandmother said as she pointed her cane in the direction of where the girls left out of. “Shadow, I know you are trying to do what is best for your pups, but I don’t think She will let anyone stop her from helping anyway she can, How about we put one of the warriors with her as added protecting. We will make sure she is protected at all time and as far away from danger as we can.” The alpha said, as he came up beside me with the offered solution. I nodded at his plan. I know telling Shawna she isn’t going is a battle I won’t win. “But I will be the one protecting her not anyone else she is my responsibility and my first and top priority no matter what she believes.” I responded to the alpha. “Then what will you do about finding your mate?” He asked. “Once I know Shawna is at the safe zone at the rift I will go in and search for Shaid. But I have to protect Shawna no matter what. I don’t want anything to happen to her or my three...” “Boys! You are having three identical boys.” The Doc chimed in. “Wow congratulations Shadow you are going to be a father of three strong boys.” The alpha said, smacking me on my back. The rest of the warriors also came and congratulated me, and I responded thanks, not saying much else because I was in utter shock that I was going to have three sons that I will make damn sure enter this world safely, nobody will lay a hand on Shawna or my pups.

Chapter 98

19 hours until the full moon!

Shawna's POV:

“Hey cuz, is it safe to come in? Please don't snatch our soul like you just did shadow.” Mina said, peeking her head in the bathroom. I am super pissed right now, that I can barely breathe. Sometimes men can be so stupid and say the stupidest s**t ever. “Hey are you ok? You know we got your back regardless of what you decide to do. Shadow is an a****e, but I think he is generally worried about you despite his stupid behavior. Just be civil for now and let him know that you will be as safe as possible and will not put your babies at risk and you know we wont allow you to be hurt if we still have breath in our bodies.” Ji'lahni said, coming into the bathroom I had escape to, after my blow up with Shadow, but I did have to pee though, so it was a perfect walk out moment. “I know but it is so hard not to say anything when all I hear is, how he's running around here trying to save that b***h. Even after everything she has done to us, to me especially. There is no way for him to even think I would believe he no longer loves her. He wants the person he was mated to, back. The life they had years ago, he wants it all back. He was so broken ever since she was killed, so now that he has a chance to pick up where they left off he is doing everything he can to achieve it and I'm going to let him find out for himself about her. I wish he would just leave me the hell alone and let me deal with my babies while he deals with his mate.” I said as tears fell from my eyes. I cried like I have been wanting to cry since the meeting started. I wanted to go ahead and cry it out before we went back into this meeting. After a good five-minute cry, I wiped my eyes and my cousins made sure I look decent enough before we went back to the conference room to resume the meeting. When I stepped back into the room I could feel Shadow's eyes on me, but I refuse to give him any of my attention. We have nothing else to talk about as far as I'm concerned.

Makahi's POV:

“Now that everyone is back we can resume with the plan. I don't want to continue calling you Lynn's grandmother can you tell us what you want to be called?” “Mylan or grandmother is fine.” She answered as she got up to stand in the front of the group. “The witches have located the rift, it is in the deepest forest of Alaska the witches will portal us as far as possible, but we will have to track the rest of the way, which will take us 2 hours to reach the rift.” “I swear nobody is coming with good news tonight, Black people don't do extreme cold, heat or hiking.” Shawna said in a whisper to her cousins who nodded their head in agreement. When will she remember our hearing picks up almost everything if we wanted to, so her whispering is like her speaking normally to the shifters in the room. “Don't you worry darling I will more than happy to let you ride me.” Dradon said to Shawna, which got a growl from Shadow who was fighting Rane for control not to rip the dragon apart. Mylan banged her cane on the floor to get everyone's focus back to the plan “Now the witches could not physically enter through the rift into the realm there is a very powerful spell on it that seems to prevent witches from entering, but they were able to Astro project themselves there and sent me an image of the castle.” She said as she tapped her cane and what looked like a projector lit up the room with an image of a dark ugly castle. “OH, HELL NO! So yall plan was to send the Black human women into that castle? That looked like Jason, Michael Myers and Freddie live in there. I mean I'm still going in to get my babies, but it's still f****d up. I'm telling yall now. If any of yall trip and fall, yall left point blank period. Just so you know I'm outta there as soon as we get the babies." Mina said. "s**t cuz I'm happy I'm pregnant and don't have to go in there." Shawna said, as she rubbed her belly. Shadow was still looking at her with longing in his eyes. "Hopefully, we will locate the pups by their aura. My granddaughter and her friends will be entering in through the East wing. Once you're inside you will use heat seekers which will search for heat signatures as well as Lateri will also try and use the mates bond and the bond with your pups to locate them as well." Alpha the witches spotted rogues, as well as other shifters that are surrounding the castle, and unfortunately they spotted a flying creature they suspect was a black dragon. "THAT'S IMPOSSIBLE THEY HAVE BEEN EXTINCT SINCE THE WAR!" The Dragon woman roared in anger. Mylan eyes soften for reasons only known to dragons. "I thought so as well, they said there is a very powerful dark entity surrounding the entire place more powerful then we have ever known before. So, we cannot underestimate the possibility that it is indeed a black dragon that is in her realm." Mylan said, with a serious expression on her face. Dradon you will need to find and eliminate the flying creature whatever it is." Mylan said and the Dragon nodded his head. His easy smile gone and was replaced with a steel gaze devoid of any emotion. The witch knows we are coming for the babies, I'm sure, so she is prepared for us. She just doesn't know when. I suggest that we hit an hour before midnight, if we can get the twins out before midnight, she won't be able to perform the ritual, but if not we will have to make sure when midnight approach she won't be able to finish the ritual so going in then will ensure her whatever she is trying to do will not work." Mylan said as the image faded. I got up and faced the many people that sat at the conference table. "I just want to personally thank each and everyone who is willing to risk their life to save my pups and my father. I will forever be in your debt. As for your families my Uncle has promised to send warriors here to protect our women and children while we are gone. They will be here in five hours. Once they are here Shadow you will make a schedule for them and show them where the border patrols that will need to be covered. Our lead Omega will handle the room and board. The entire pack house will be on lock down and the safe houses will be ready and prepared in case of an unexpected attack we still don't know Alpha Zane's whereabouts or his plan or role in this war, so we need to make sure our women and children are protected in our absent. They will be running drills created by Montego's mate Lynn she will make sure they are alert and can spot any signs that may save their life." I said just as the border alarm blared and my lead guard mind link. "Alpha Rogues are spotted on the west borders. We're under attack!" "Copy that we're on the way now." I said getting up, rushing to the door shifting as soon as I hit the front steps. "Hey alpha! Can a girl get a lift." Ji'lahni yelled from the front door she had her guns and her crossbow in her hand. I will have to ask her where the hell she hid it those damn weapons. She hopped on my back without wasting any time and Maka ran full speed with our mate on our backs.

Shadow's POV:

Rogues on the west border we're under attack. The guard said via our opened mind link. The alpha was up and racing to the door and shifting just as he hit the front entrance. His mate stopped him as he hit the ground. "Hey, alpha! Can a girl get a lift?" She yelled and hopped on his back before he could answer, and he was off heading West. Diego allowed Lynn onto his back without hesitation And Blaze waited for Mina which she hesitated but said “f**k it” and hopped on Onyx who left her with no choice. I had shifted to Rane and wanted Shawna to not put herself in danger but her strapping her belt and guns in place let us know she was indeed going to put herself in danger. If she insist on putting herself in danger she will do it with Rane. I shift and waited for her to argue. She looked at Rane and took a deep breath and hopped on. Rane growled in pleasure as we took off to the west border. “Just so we are clear I’m only riding you, because you’re the one with the custom harness. I will be asking Lynn to make another harness for another wolf.” She said and Rane growled in response. What she didn’t know was no one would dare allow her to ride on their wolf because they knew Rane would kill anyone who would foolishly touch what was his. With that in mind he raced to the West border excited to kill something to release the frustration and anger we held inside.

18 hours until the full moon.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 99

After the break in:

Zane’s POV:

“f**k! I CAN’T BELIEVE THOSE SIMPLE HUMANS WERE ABLE TO BREAK INTO MY PACKHOUSE AND TAKE MY GRANDSON!” I Yelled, as I paced my office floor. I was furious, someone had to pay for this embarrassing situation. “I will be the laughingstock of the shifter community, if anyone found out that mere humans were able to get pass my border without anyone detecting them and take my grandson from out of my packhouse. Some of my warriors were in our pack clinic because they were knocked out by some form of tranquilizer.” I said punching the wall for the third time.

I was pacing back and forth in my office. “Alpha this may be a good thing we were trying to figure out what to do with your grandson. We know they wont hurt him so maybe we should just leave it alone and focus on the witch. She has summon you I have contacted my witch friend and she sent over everything we asked for, so you just need to focus and see what the witch wants.”

My beta said. “A good thing? It’s a good thing that we let humans outsmart us and take my grandson from us? You think that’s a good thing?” I sneered and I grabbed him by the throat. “Alpha I only meant that this happening could work in our favor if we make the right moves. We have to play it smart here alpha we can’t let this cost us our lives.”

My beta said gasping for breath. He was right of course, but the fact that my mate was right there under my nose for I don’t know how long, and I couldn’t capture her and keep her here with me. Letting go of my beta I finally went behind my desk and sat down to try and settle my thoughts before I see the witch.

I needed to have a clear head when I spoke with her, I can't let my plan be destroyed by anyone no matter how much I love them, and I have admitted that I indeed loved Ji'lahni that time we shared in my island home was some of the best time in my life and I plan to have her and rule the entire community. I needed to get my head back in the game if I plan to have everything I want. The first thing I need to do is get rid of Alpha Makahi and make sure the witch will not be a problem for me once I take over the shifter community.

"Summon the witch tell her I will see her she can come to my office." I said as I turned in my chair once my beta nodded and left the room. I reflected on everything that's at stake if I lose. I will not only lose my pack I will likely be executed for treason, and I am not ready to die yet, not today anyway. "Well well, alpha I thought you were hiding from me or running scared like you did the last time I saw you. Lucky for you I was able to achieve my goals, so I haven't come here to kill you." The witch said, as she walked further inside my office through a portal she created in my wall.

I laughed at her comment "There are very few things that frighten me, and a witch isn't one of them no matter how powerful you are. I have invited you in my home please don't disrespect me with threats. You may kill me, but I promise, you won't leave here unscathed. Now please, have a seat so we can talk about how you plan on getting rid of that annoying Alpha Makahi."

I said waving my hand to one of the seats in my office just as my Beta knocked and entered the office taking his seat next to the witch she glanced at him in slight shock. "You need back up for little ole me alpha." The witch said smiling.

"Don't flatter yourself witch this is my second and I asked him here to make sure we come up with a solid plan to get rid of the alpha." I said waving her comment away. "Now, you wanted to see me what is it that you want from me this time? and how will it benefit me?" I asked, getting right to the reason she was here. I didn't want her here longer than necessary. "Well, I have something the alpha is determined to get back so I'm sure he will be attacking my castle." "So, you want our help to fight him?" My beta asked. The witch laughed. "No, I don't need any help defeating those pack of mutts.

But I know that he will mostly have all his top warriors at my castle leaving his entire pack practically unprotected more than likely his weakest guards will be left to protect the pack. It will be the perfect time for you and your men to attack and take over his pack while I dispose of their alpha they will be an easy target." The witch said. But something was off why is she offering up this information what does she get out of this. "So, you summoned me to give me this information? Ok witch, what do you get out of me attacking the Alpha's pack, while he's coming after you?"

I asked frowning looking at her suspiciously. "Why alpha I'm offended, I thought we were friends that help each other out from time to time." "Cut the crap witch, we are far from friends, now how will me attacking his pack help you?" "Fine, when a pack loses members, their entire pack feels the loss and it is quite painful from what I hear. So, while he is attacking my home you will be attacking his." "And for every member of his pack we kill it will affect the wolves attacking you." I finished for her. "Exactly Alpha see I knew you would understand so can I count on you to attack his packhouse.” She asked, I looked to my beta who was listen to the entire plan and he nodded his head in agreement. I looked at the witch trying to see if there was some lie or anything underhanded in her eyes. But she was looking me in my eyes with confidence. So, I nodded my head. “You can count us in. When will he be leaving his pack house to travel to your castle.” I asked. The witch smiled and clapped her hand in excitement. “Gather your men and have them at the borders of Crystal Moon and I will let you know when to attack.” She said getting up creating another portal in my wall. She smiled and nodded at me before she walked into the portal and disappeared. The Beta was getting up from his seat now. “Gather as many warriors as you can and have them ready to leave in an hour. This should be quick and easy, tell one of the omega’s to have cells and bedding for women and children in the omega house and have cells ready for the males. They will have to pledge their loyalty to me or be a prisoner.” The beta nodded and left me alone in my office with my thoughts. Which always seemed to end up on the chocolate beauty and my d**k instantly harden I mind linked the omega that was here earlier to come back so I can finish what I started.

Urrale’s POV:

“Well, that was easier then I thought. I swear that alpha and his beta are dumb and clueless animals, no wonder the father wants to eliminate them, They brought everything I told them hook line and sinker they won’t know that I lied to them until it is too late.” I said to Shaid who sat in my lounge she has been different lately I had injected her with my serum once we got back from Crystal Moon and I even picked up a human for her to feed from, but she still seems off.

“What exactly is the plan this time?” She asked uninterested. Well, I Got Alpha Zane to attack Crystal Moon before they even leave to come here that should stall them and damage their numbers and hopefully kill most of them, so they won’t even have enough people to try finding us and coming after those pups and my mate. If I’m lucky the alpha will defeat them and kill them all, but I highly doubt it.

Either way they will be weaken by the time they find a way to enter my realm.” I said excitedly. “Master, what about Shadow this spell that you have on us is still active I still feel a pull towards him. Although I have fed I still feel hunger.... For him for his blood, the need is getting stronger with every passing hour.” Shaid said, starting to sweat, s**t! I don’t need her f*****g up my plans now that I am so close. The vampire warned me that this could happen if she were ever to see her mate again. “Don’t you worry I will make everything ok again. For right now just take this it should make you feel better until I can make a potion to counteract the spell.”

I said to her, and she smiled and nodded happily took the potion drank it and left my lab. I hated what I had to do to her she was my best asset, but I have gotten everything I wanted, and I will only need her killing skills not her logic or thinking skills the potion I gave her will make her more beast then human. “Please make sure you lock Shaid’s chambers and have a guard stationed at her door and let them know that I will inform them when I need them to let her out.” I said to my assistant who came in once Shaid left.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 100

Antoni's POV:

“What the hell is this place?” I asked myself. We have been running all night only stopping to feed and put the twins back to sleep before we continued running. I was happy that although we couldn't shift, our speed and strength was still with us, so Fiona had no problem keeping up with me as best as she could. I was still a lot faster than her, but she never complain. I think she knew we had to get as far away as possible. We finally stopped when I spotted a cave. The sun was up by now and the girls were up as well we had at least a five-hour head start. We will rest and eat, and once the pups go down for a nap we will continue running and we will do that for the remainder of the day. So, we can continue to keep Urrale and her army hours behind us. For now, I didn't think anyone is following us, so it's safe to say Urrale still hasn't found out we are gone which is a good thing. I know we will both know and feel when she does realize that we are gone. We haven't encountered any predators yet, but I have been hearing howling and growls all night in the distance and changed directions each time. I wanted to avoid them as much as I can. Once I found this small cave that we are currently in, we fed and changed the twins they had woken up, ready to eat we didn't want them crying unnecessarily, because that would draw unwanted attention. I left the cave to see if I could hunt for food and find out if there was a water source nearby that we could use to replenish the water bottle we brought along.

This place was eerily strange it wasn't a forest or jungle there's just too many strange and unusual things around here. The trees weren't normal trees they all looked colorful like marble, the grass was not green, but purple, the animals were strange creatures, not the typical animals you would find in a forest on earth. I had determined that we were definitely not on earth anymore. Which made me worry about whether my son will be able to find us at all. We may have to stay out here longer then I expected. I finally caught what looked like a deer, but it wasn't, he had the head of a deer but the body of a zebra. I had to catch him without my wolf which was not impossible, but it took longer then it would have taken if my wolf was with me. The Deebra is what I named it. It looked normal on the inside so I decide we would test it out to see if it is edible. “What is this place is this some sort of illusion or spell?” Fiona asked as I entered the cave putting the meat I brought in, across a small fire we had set up at the entrance once the meat was cooking, I picked up one of the girls who was laying on a makeshift bed we made out of blankets we brought for them. Fiona really knew how to pack a lot in a small space. She had thin blankets folded so tight that they looked really small until you unfolded them. I had to admit she thought of everything.

Sitting down on the blanket I put both girls on my lap and they begin to giggle and coo as I tickled their tummies. “I don't think it's a spell or an illusion I think we are in another realm. I believe she has created this place.” I said and Fiona gasped in shock. “How is that possible? What will we do? Will the alpha be able to find us here?" She asked in fear. I honestly didn't know what we were going to do. All I know is I will not let Urrale hurt my grand pups. So, I will make sure that we get as far away as possible and hope like hell that my son finds us one day soon. "I'm sure my son will not stop until we are found. I have full faith in him. Until then we just need to keep my grand pups safe. We will leave once the girls are asleep, we don't want to stay here longer then, I'm comfortable with. Urrale will know by now or will discover really soon, that we are missing, and I want to be as far away as possible." I said, as she nodded and went to check on the meat as I sat with the girls. I looked into their multicolored eyes of their mother and father. They didn't seem afraid or stress they trusted their papa to keep them safe. I know they missed their parents to be as tiny as they were, they were very smart. I will do my best to make sure that they are safe and happy for now.

Urrale's POV:

It's finally morning and I am going to see my mate and those pups. He finally wants to help me bond with them even though it's pointless because we will be sacrificing and drinking their blood at midnight. I know how much they mean to him so I need to show him that I care for them just as much as he does, so when I tell him what must be done he will know and understand how much it will pain me to have to sacrifice them in an effort to gain their power and for him to survive once father rises and eliminates all shifters. Once I explain it he will understand what I must do. "I want the chef to prepare all of my mates favorite food and have it sent to his chambers and also have them bring in some toys and blankets for the pups they will having breakfast with us this morning. I wanted to look my best, so I went into my closet and pulled out a red sleeveless sun dress with matching sandals, I laid them on my bed to put on once I was out of the shower. There was a knock on the door. "Come," I said, still busying myself getting out jewelry to match my dress my head servant came in breathing hard like she was running she had the look of fear on her face. "What is it?" I asked frowning at her. "Master, four of our warriors were found dead by the kitchen staff. We are afraid someone has somehow broken in." She said trembling. "THAT CAN'T BE POSSIBLE NO ONE COULD ENTER MY CASTLE WITHOUT ME KNOWING!" I yelled in anger as I left the room to go to the kitchen. There, I see my warriors all dead from apparent stab wounds. I was trembling in anger. "Who dare come into my home and kill my men. Gather my men and have them meet me down here we will search this entire castle until we find out who is behind this." I sneered; I will make sure their death is a slow one. "Master could it be the Alpha coming to try and save his father and pups?" My headed servant asked. "NO that's impossible I had sent word for Alpha Zane to attack them a few hours before daybreak so there was no way that it was them who broke into my home. It was someone else maybe my sisters had come, but I highly doubt it the spell I have on this realm prevents them from entering it had to be someone on the inside. I am being betrayed by one of my own.

2 hours later

"UUUGGGHHH! We have search this entire castle and question each member of this staff and everyone had nothing to do with the death of my warriors. I had a potion that wouldn't allow a lie to cross the lips of the person who drank it, and all my staff denied killing my men. So, who the f**k kill them?" I yelled in frustration. "Master? We haven't question everyone in the castle." My servant said with her head bowed. I frowned at her. Shaking my head, "Of course I did. I have questioned everyone including you. Who did I miss?" I asked, eyeing her questioningly. "Master you haven't questioned your mate and the she wolf." She said and my face drained of all it's color. I raced to my mates chambers with fear gripping my chest. It couldn't be my mate; it can't be him he wouldn't do this he said he wanted to help me bond with the pups. We were planning a big breakfast for us as a family. Another fear gripped me what if he is just like my warriors? What if they hurt him to get back at me? Tears were falling from my eyes by the time I made it to his chambers. I paused with my hands on the doorknob, taking a deep breath and turn the knob and was met with complete silence and a room that was empty of my mate. I fell to my knees and let out a piercing scream that had my servants falling to their knees and holding their ears.

Deep into the forest POV:

An ear-piercing scream was heard around the entire forest. All the animals ran in fear. "Well, I think it's time for us to leave and put some more distance between us and the castle." Antoni said, Fiona nodded and began packing up their things as he packed up the meat they had leftover and left the cave at a dead run. Heading away from the scream that was still sounding off as they ran for their life.
