

The Beauty 107

Chapter 107 God Organization

"Correct." Qiao Zhen nodded, a serious expression on his face. At this point, he glanced at Tang Yuan at the door and said, "You go out first."

"Yes." Without a second word, Tang Yuan turned around, pushed the door, and left without hesitation.

Ling Chen's thoughts whirled, a hint of gravity adding to his gaze. The fact that the old general had sent Tang Yuan out indicated that what he was about to say was not only important but also very secret.

"Ling Chen." Qiao Zhen slowly began, unusually not calling him 'kid' but instead using his name, "I think you must be curious as to why Ghost members around the age of thirty are forced to retire and then we vigorously nurture newcomers. I believe you're not the only one; others must wonder the same."

As soon as these words came out, Ling Chen couldn't help but sit up straight. He could feel that he was about to encounter the greatest secret of Ghost Organization.

"Regarding this matter, we..."

"Old General." Ling Chen suddenly interrupted Qiao Zhen, saying, "Before you speak, I have a question I need to be clear about."

"What question?"

"I am now retired, and by all accounts, should not know so much about Ghost's secrets. By telling me these things now, don't tell me you want me to rejoin Ghost?" Ling Chen said.

Though he was curious about the secrets, he was equally concerned. He respected the old general, but he yearned for freedom more and did not want to be tied to Ghost Organization forever because of this matter. So, before Qiao Zhen spoke, he wanted to ask clearly.

At this, Han Bing couldn't help but laugh, "You kid... as sharp as ever. Don't worry, the old general has already made himself very clear just now; he's only asking for your help, not wanting you to return to Ghost. As long as you settle this matter, you can do whatever you want afterward, we will never interfere with your life."

Ling Chen secretly breathed a sigh of relief, that was exactly what he wanted to hear. Now that he had left, he had no desire to return.

"Do you have any more questions, kid?"

Feeling Qiao Zhen's displeased gaze, Ling Chen gave a dry laugh, "No more. Old General, please continue."

"The Ghost Organization is not a single entity, but rather composed of two organizations. Aside from the code name Ghost, there is another secret organization with higher authority than Ghost, code-named Lonely Wolf. It is the ultimate secret of our country. Ghost serves as a place to cultivate talent; when a member passes a series of assessments and meets the standards, we will force them to leave Ghost and join Lonely Wolf."

So that was it.

Qiao Zhen's words finally made it clear to Ling Chen. He had always wondered why members of Ghost were forced to leave just as they were entering their golden years. All the reasons laid here.

Lonely Wolf, had he not chosen to retire earlier, perhaps there would have been a place for him in Lonely Wolf as well.

"Although Lonely Wolf's authority is higher than Ghost's, Ghost is the organization that was created first." He Ziyun, who had been silent for a long time, spoke up, "The purpose of establishing Ghost was to counter the mysterious organization that we referred to earlier, code-named G, which likes to consider themselves as God Organization."

"God Organization?"

Ling Chen murmured to himself. Those guys dare to aspire, actually comparing themselves to God, thus showing their boundless ambition.

"For more than a decade, Ghost and God Organization have fought fiercely, sacrificing countless people to destroy their base. However, the centipede dies but never falls. Although their headquarters were destroyed, a section of their high ranks escaped. They are hiding around the world, still engaging in illegal activities. Since then, I have proposed the Lonely Wolf plan, which is specifically responsible for cleaning up the remnants of God Organization."

Qiao Zhen took over the conversation, "After years of effort, we thought the remnants of God Organization had been completely eliminated, but it now appears they have risen again."

Ling Chen confoundedly asked, "Old General, how can you be so sure it's them?"

"Because they came for Mr. He and Little Hua, just this point alone is enough to reveal their identity."

"Old General, Mr. He is the founder of Ghost, it's not strange those people are seeking revenge on him, but what does this have to do with Little Hua? She's just a little girl, she wasn't even born when Ghost eradicated God Organization."

Qiao Zhen and He Ziyun exchanged glances, saying, "You don't need to know about Little Hua's situation for now; I will naturally tell you when the time comes. All in all, God Organization's power has penetrated into East Sea City. As to how deep they have infiltrated, we are still unclear, but one thing we can be sure of is, they will not stop at this. After two consecutive failures, they will continue to look for opportunities to act. In my opinion, it would be best for Mr. He to take Little Hua with me back to Beijing, where we can offer protection, but Mr. He rejected my proposal."

"Why?" Ling Chen looked at He Ziyun in confusion.

"Because we need clues." He Ziyun explained, "God Organization has revived from death, we must destroy them. Otherwise, the consequences are unimaginable. Ling Chen, you were once the most outstanding member of Ghost, but the severity of this matter exceeds your imagination. I'm staying in East Sea City with Little Hua to present them a target. Only by drawing them out can we trace back and uncover the powers behind them and eradicate them in one fell swoop. The main reason we sought you out is because of your capabilities. Perhaps you yourself don't know, but in fact, you have already been involved in this matter."

"Uh..." Ling Chen was stunned, "Have I?"

Han Bing slightly smiled, "Of course. The Blood Wolf you killed last time was a member of God Organization, and also a very important one. In the last two years of your service in Ghost, we assigned you eleven assassination and intelligence gathering missions; the targets you assassinated were actually people from God Organization, though they were just small fry. The information you collected from them led us to Blood Wolf. You were given these missions because of the old general's trust in you. You were the only one who began to touch on God Organization before joining Lonely Wolf."

Qiao Zhen said irately, "Originally, after dealing with Blood Wolf, I wanted to transfer you to Lonely Wolf, but you, you ungrateful kid, gave me attitude and clamored for retirement, wasting all my good intentions."

Ling Chen gave a sheepish smile and quickly changed the subject, "Old General, about that... when you asked me for help just now, did you mean you want me to ensure Mr. He's safety?"

"That's part of it; it would be even better if you could find out those people's whereabouts in East Sea City. Han Bing, give him the item."

"Yes." Han Bing stood up, took out a thick envelope from the briefcase he carried, and handed it to Ling Chen, "This is specially prepared for you by the old general, to facilitate your actions in the future."
