

The Beloved 21

Chapter 21: "Corporate Spy"

Chu Liyuan was working overtime in the office when he heard that a female corporate spy had sneaked in and was caught by the manager of the planning department. She was now waiting for the police in the conference room downstairs.

Chu Liyuan hated corporate spies the most. Since he was still in the company, Chu Liyuan wanted to see who this corporate spy was.

Unexpectedly, when he arrived at the conference room, he realized that the so-called corporate spy was actually... his lass.

When he saw his lass surrounded by a few men, he frowned and his expression instantly turned cold.

Is his lass someone they could get close to?

The people surrounding Jian Dan had already moved aside when they heard Li Jing's voice.

When Li Jing saw who was sitting in the chair, he felt all the hair on his body stand on end, and a chill rose from the bottom of his feet.

These blind fellows...

They were courting death.

Chu Liyuan walked around Li Jing and everyone else. He came to Jian Dan and bent down to look at her.

What kind of expression was this? Angry? Happy? Surprised? I don't understand.

When the manager saw this, he quickly said, "Mr. Chu, I was the one who discovered this woman sneaking around on the 33rd floor and..." Before he could finish speaking, Chu Liyuan's cold glare caught the rest of his words in his throat.

How did this blind guy become a manager? How could he be so blind? How could he add fuel to the fire in such a situation?

After Chu Liyuan glared at the manager, he turned his gaze back to Jian Dan.

Under everyone's gaze, he held Jian Dan's hand and brought her away.

Li Jing looked at the dumbfounded people in the conference room. "Brains are a good thing. Remember to bring them with you when you go out in the future."

In the elevator...

Why didn't Uncle say anything? He was so quiet that it was getting scary.

Why didn't this lass tell him in advance that she was coming? He could have picked her up.

At the thought of his lass being surrounded by a group of men for a long time, he was furious.

When the elevator stopped on the 33rd floor, Chu Liyuan brought Jian Dan to his office.

He carried her to the desk and placed his hands on it. He looked at Jian Dan... "Why are you here?"

"I... I made this for you." Jian Dan brought the thermos before Chu Liyuan.

Why was Uncle so stern?

However, Jian Dan was immune to this.

Jian Dan gently pushed him away and pulled him to sit on the couch. She opened the lunch box... "I was afraid that you would be busy working overtime and did not eat, so I made you fried sauce noodles," Jian Dan said with a smile.

She had been delayed for so long just now. She wondered if the noodles had turned lumpy.

Chu Liyuan looked at the fried sauce noodles in the lunch box. It warmed the cockles of his heart. It turned out that this lass had come because she was afraid that he would be hungry. She was here to deliver the fried sauce noodles that she had made.

The unhappiness in his heart disappeared, and he decided to let those people off.

"I don't know how to make anything else. I remembered seeing Granny make this in the past. I wonder if it's delicious. This is the first time I made it." Jian Dan poured the fried meat sauce on the noodles and handed the chopsticks to Chu Liyuan.

Chu Liyuan took the chopsticks from Jian Dan and started eating. The taste was very ordinary, but Chu Liyuan felt that this was the best-tasting noodles he had ever eaten.

"It's delicious!" When Jian Dan heard Chu Liyuan's words, the smile on her face grew.

Chu Liyuan ate all the noodles until the last strand...

When Jian Dan saw that there was some sauce at the corner of Chu Liyuan's mouth, she wanted to wipe it off with a piece of tissue paper. However, just as she was about to wipe it off, Chu Liyuan got up and pinned Jian Dan down on the couch. His lips immediately covered hers...

Why did Uncle do that? This was the office. If someone came in and saw them, wouldn't it be awkward?

Chu Liyuan realized that his feelings for this lass were growing and he was becoming increasingly fascinated by her. He seemed to have fallen head over heels in love with this lass and could not help himself.

The kiss lasted for a long time until there was a knock on the door...

Only then did Chu Liyuan reluctantly leave Jian Dan lips. Jian Dan sat up nervously while Chu Liyuan returned to his desk... "Come in!"

Li Jing came in. After all, what they had been working on tonight had not been resolved yet...

Jian Dan sat on the couch gingerly and did not dare to look up, afraid that her red face would be seen.

An experienced person like Li Jing could tell at a glance that he had accidentally interrupted Mr. Chu's private moment with her.

The two of them discussed for a long time before Li Jing left. After Li Jing left, Chu Liyuan returned to the couch. "I'll get someone to send you back."

There was no way he could work while she was here.

"Okay!"

She really wanted to stay here with him!

However, he must still have work to do. If she was here, not only would she not be able to help, but she might even disturb him.
