

The Deadly 123

Chapter 123 Full Termination of Business with SunEast Bank

Drake remained silent for a moment before modding.

Shirley, the Don Group is now under your leadership Take your time to think it through, and then pursue it with confidence!

Always remember, regardless of the time or circumstances, the Dunns act with loyalty and integrity!

"Mr. Ramsey is our benefactor! If anyone tries to trouble him, the Dunns will not stand idly by!

"No matter who it is, for Mr. Ramsey, the Dunns will never hesitate to give everything we have! "I understand. Grandpa Shirley said, her eyes filled with unwavering resolve.

"Amber, send the Don Group Board's decision to all heads of our affiliated institutions right away. "First, all institutions and partners under the Dunn Group must immediately terminate all financial transactions with every branch of SunEast Bank, both domestic and international!

"Second, immediately assess all cash held by the Dunn Group's departments and institutions. Gather at the SunEast Bank Harmonfield branch's main lobby with the cash in ten minutes!"

"Yes. Ms. Dunn!" Amber quickly rallied the headquarters' secretariat and finance department to convey Shirley's orders.

Within a minute, all Dunn institutions in Brookhaven Province promptly headed to various SunEast Bank branches to process out closures and transfer funds.

There are still nearly twenty minutes until the 5:30 p.m. end of the workday.

All branches of SunEast Bank were in panic.

Although the Dunns' funds were transferred out, it did not cause any serious damage to SunEast Bank.

However, the fact that the Dunns, one of the top three clients in their bank, suddenly terminated all business with them still shocked the top management of SunEast Bank.

SunEast Development Bank's headquarters quickly contacted the Dunn Group's CFO for urgent clarification.

The reply they received stated that the Dunns were making a standard business adjustment, offering no additional explanation.

This left several senior executives at SunEast Bank's headquarters confused by the finance department's. Тероч

They tried to contact Shirley. Dunn Group's CEO, but were unable to reach her.

As the end of the workday approached, SunEast Bank's headquarters swiftly organized an emergency meeting

A vice president from the main office was appointed to lead a PR team to Harmonfield to work with the Dunns on coordinating their business.

5 Free Coins

The meeting at SunEast Bank headquarters was still in progress when a session of rming updates starteding in.

At the same time, Daphne was meditating with her eyes closed in Mindfulness, in a private room on the second floor of Violeterest Club.

Rita hurried in from outside, eximing, "Miss, Mr. Ramsey might be in trouble."

Daphne's eyes flew open. "What's going on?"

Rita presented her phone, showing a video that was rapidly spreading online. Daphne slowly rose to her feet, her enchanting face suddenly freezing in anger. "Outrageous! A mere SunEast Bank dares to make things difficult for Mr. Ramsey!

"Rita, immediately inform all institutions under Violeterest International to terminate all cooperation with SunEast Bank.

"Transfer all funds held by Violeterest International at SunEast Bank to other banks.

"Count all the cash on hand at Violetcrest International"s and deliver it to the door of SunEast Bank within ten minutes.

Just as the Dunn Group and Violeterest International were decisively ending their business rtionship with SunEast Bank, Rygar, who was soaking in the hot springs of the Echo Mountains, received the same Mr. Ramsey is in trouble?

I can"t believe there are still fools in Harmonfield who would dare offend him!

I need to make a strong impression this time.

"Shawn!" Rygar grabbed the walkie-talkie. "Get over here right now!

Tell our finance department to terminate the partnership with SunEast Bank, and make sure that Dominic, that bastard, completes the transfer of my amount by the end of today.

"If you can't get my affairs in order, then you and all the guys can spend the night at his cell!"

"Also, put all the information about the mistress Dominic has been keeping over the years online, along with details of all their transactions!"

"How dare he offend Mr. Ramsey? Dominic is playing with fire!"

"If we don't give him a reality check, he'll never understand that fairness and justice exist in this world!" Shawn, who had just arrived, looked in disbelief and thought, Can Mr. Rygar really talk about fairness and Rygar gave Shawn a light smack on the head. What's with that look?

"I'm serious, I work in this business, and if I'm doing something wrong. I'll own up to it. Unlike that bastard, Dominic, who acts like a decent person but engages in actually acts like a beast behind closed doors!"

"He thinks he can outsmart Mr. Ramsey? Fine, let's see if he can handle what's going on!"

Shawn gazed up at Rygar, his eyes filled with respect. "Mr. Rygar, following you all these years has been an absolute pleasure!"

Rygar scoffed. "And make sure to collect all the cash from every Abyssal Dominion establishment-the boxing rings, online loans, and nightclubs. I want it all delivered to SunEast Bank in ten minutes. If they'r even a minutete, I'll make them pay!" "Yes, Mr. Rygar, I'll take care of it right away!" Shawn's mind was racing.

"Mr. Ramsey needs cash right now. I'll have those nightclubs and underground casinos managed by Abyssal Dominion gather their cash and send it over to him. What do you think, Mr. Rygar?"

Rygar burst into laughter. "Sounds great! You handle it. Anyone who dares to disobey tonight will find their doors locked!"

Meanwhile, in the mayor's office of Harmonfield City, Henry was reviewing the reports submitted by various city departments. The city government's secretary, Gordon Lawrence, walked into the office.

"Mr. Wright, something is happening in Harmonfield, and I'm worried it might escte, so I wanted to inform you right away. Henry set down the documents and looked up.

Noticing Gordon's tense expression, he asked, "Gordon what's going on? Is it serious?"

After a moment's hesitation, Gordon replied, "Mr. Wright, I just received a call from theints office saying that SunEast Bank seems to be in trouble.

"SunEast Bank?" Henry asked, puzzled. "What's going on with them?"

Gordon pulled out his phone and disyed a news article about SunEast Bank preparing to receive a 3.8 billion repayment.

"Mr. Wright, this concerns the loan for Jonali's Infinity Tower in Southvale."

Henry nodded. "Jonah's Infinity Tower has certainly been making headlinestely."

He understood that if Jonah could hang on for a few more days, Infinity Tower would be able to recover quickly from its slump.

However, this was information he couldn't disclose to anyone.

As harsh as 11 may seem; it was the policy of the city gemment

Henry set his phone down. Give me a quick overview What's Jonah's current situation?"

Gordon exined. "Harmonfield Bank and SunEast Bank terminated Jonah's loan agreement months ago."

Today is Jonah's final deadline for repayment."

Henry frowned slightly. "It's not unusual for banks and financial institutions to terminate loan agreements early. It's not against the rules, just hical. "They're concerned about the bank's financial risk, which is understandable. Are you saying Jonah caused a scene at SunEast Bank over this?" Gordon nodded. "Yes, Mr. Wright, you could say that.

"But, there's a small twist in the story.

"This afternoon. Jonah transferred the construction rights for Infinity Tower to the Dunns Eastvale, and the agreement was signed by the CEO, Robin Ramsey. "Robin?" Henry's eyes lit up.

A few days ago, when Robin was at Wright Mansion, Henry had intentionally dropped hints about the city government's ns to redevelop the Southvale area. Henry's decision stemmed from his wish to repay Robin for saving his father, Martin.

Hearing that Robin had signed off on Infinity Tower brought a smile to Henry's face.

Robin had done the Wrights a great service, and being able to return the favor brought Henry some

With that thought, Henry chuckled to himself. "So, what's the current situation?"

Gordon was taken aback, unsure why Henry seemed so pleased by this news.

"After Robin took over Infinity Tower, Shirley Dunns contacted SunEast Bank and Harmonfield Bank to let them know that the Dunns would guarantee Jonah's loan.

"Once the Dunns' board officially approves the takeover of Infinity Tower, they will repay the loan

"Both Harmonfield Bank and SunEast Bank agreed to the Dunns' proposal."

"But after SunEast Bank responded to Shirley's proposal, they suddenly changed the previous negotiation. Belonging to N?velDram/a.Org.

results.

"They insist that Jonah repay the 3.8 billion loan, principal and interest, by midnight today.

"It's already after five, and with the bank's closing time approaching, a large public account transfer isn't possible.

"Using this as justification, Dominic Stone, SunEast Bank's branch president, initiated the procedure to seize Infinity Tower, effectively closing off the repayment option.

This means that ownership of Infinity Tower will no longer belong to Jonah after midnight tonight.

"As a result, the transfer contract for Infinity Tower between Jonah and the Dunns is effectively worthless.

"But, Robin and Jonah absurdly insisted on repaying the loan with 3.8 billion in cash.

They requested the bank to activate its special VIP repayment service, causing discontent among SunEas Bank employees who were working overtime.

This news was captured in videos by some customers and bank staff and uploaded online.

"In less than 20 minutes, this news shot to the top of the trending list.

Henry frowned. The branch president of SunEast Bank is Dominic, right? This private commercial bank has reportedly been doing quite well, and many well-known companies in Brookhaven have been doing business with them in recent years. "SunEast Bank has also expanded its international operations this year, reportedly landing a couple of major international contracts.

"These two contracts make up more than half of SunEast Bank's revenue in Draconia.

"SunEast Bank is regarded as a leader among private commercial banks in the region.

"But Mr. Stone's approach in this matter is quite unusual. He hasn't shown any respect for the Dunns. "What's going on here?"