

The Deadly 61

Chapter 61 Unexpected Connections

Rosalie looked at the single-serving king crab set meal in front of her, trembling with nerves

"Uh, are you sure you didn't get this wrong? This is the most expensive set on the menu.

The young waitress smiled and said, "Ms. Grant, you're table number seven, right?"

at

"Yes," Rosalie nodded, double-checking her table number.

"Then it's all good. Mr. Ramsey has already paid, so please enjoy your meal, the waitress said respectfully.

She then bowed and handed Rosalie a VIP card.

"Ms. Grant, this is our restaurant's VIP card. Please keep it...

"With this card, you can enjoy one free meal every weekend.

"Additionally, we'll set aside a special table for you. So whenever you visit, there will always be a ce for you

Enjoy your meal, Ms. Grant."

After the waitress left, Rosalie was still in shock.

A 2800 king crab set meal, a VIP card for free meals every weekend and a reserved table!

What kind of treatment was this?

For someone like Rosalie, who came from a humble background, she had never experienced such luxury.

Beside her, Piper and Connor were equally astonished,

At that moment, Robin's gesture made him seem like a wealthy heir.

"Ha, he really knows how to show off, huh?" Connor chuckled awkwardly, his face burning as he looked at the king crab set in front of Rosalie.

Piper's eyes zed with anger.

"Ugh! Men like that are disgusting!"

Rosalie quickly said, "Piper, don't be mad. Let's share this meal together."

"Ha, I wouldn't touch that disgusting stuff!"

Piper said, "Connor, Rosalie, can't you see?"

"Men like Robin do this just to provoke me, to get my attention.

"He'll never understand that I won't be swayed by his shy "big spender" act.

"Superficial!

"He"s probably going to eat instant noodles for a month

Rosalie shook her head "Piper,e on. I don"t think Robin is like that. He probably just felt bad for us after I ordered a fried chicken for them"

Piper let out a coldugh. "You really need to think this through!"

"Rosalie, do you really think he"d spend 2800 yum on king crab just because you ordered a fried chicken for him! That makes no sense!

"It"s clear he"s just trying to get a rise out of me!

"Earlier, when Connor said he was in a low position at the Dunns, Robin immediately turned and left..

"His behavior shows he feels insecure. He doesn"t want to admit his lowly position before me.

"Then he goes and orders a king crab set meal, trying to catch my attention and leave a good impression.

"Men like that are really repulsive!"

Connor paused for a moment.

Tie was surprised by what Piper had said, but he nodded in agreement.

Rosalie waspletely stunned.

She just couldn't understand why Piper had such a strong prejudice against Robin.

"Piper, do you think you're reading too much into this

"I don't think he even knows you."

Piper huffed. "I've seen plenty of men like him! Who knows, he might have been nning this all along."

"Piper, the girl with Robin, seems really pretty and ssy."

Rosalie almost mentioned that Vera was more attractive than Piper, but she held her tongue.

Piper shook her head, a look of disdain in her eyes.

"That girl? Ha! She was out shopping, wearing those tacky shoes. What kind of status do you think she has?"

"She's just a sloppy, bottom-tier girl!"

"Only someone like that would hang around a guy like Robin."

After taking a phone call, Connor said, "Piper, Rosalie, let's not eat here. I'll take you to the Four Seas Entertainment Bar across the street."

"I'll also introduce you to some friends in the circle."

Rosalie nodded at the king crab set in front of her and said apologetically, "Connor, I think I'll pass. I'm not really used to that kind of bar environment."
