

The Deadly 63

Chapter 63 The Dragon Dagger's Cold Justice

Connor was kicked to the ground by Cage.

Everyone at the gathering fell silent immediately.

Only then did they realize these two men were not from Draconia and clearly not good news,

Gage and Weston noticed the stummed silence of the crowd and scoffed, "What a bunch of cowards! Get lost!"

With that, they grabbed Piper and headed for the second floor.

Connor scrambled to his feet, struggling to catch up, "Wait! Do you know where you are? This is the Davidsons's property!

The Davidsons have the backing of the Abyssal Dominion and the Brookhaven Martial Alliance. Do you really think you can just do whatever you want here? Aren't you afraid the Four Seas Entertainment World security will take you down?"

In a moment of desperation, Connor invoked the Davidsons's powerful connections.

The two Sakurania men paused for a second.

They could be in serious trouble if Connor said it was true.

While they weren't afraid of the Abys stir up unnecessary trouble.

Dominion or the Brookhaven Martial Alliance, they didn't want to

Their main reason for being in Harmonfield, Draconia, was to deal with the matter concerning Cynthia.

If things went south, it would be hard to exin when they got back.

However, seeing that the security at Four Seas Entertainment World didn't seem to care about what was happening, they rxed.

Four Seas Entertainment World typically ignored minor squabbles between guests..

Unless a serious brawl broke out or someone significant got involved, they wouldn't intervene.

What was happening now was pretty standard for a ce like this.

After all, everyone here, whether man or woman, understood what kind of venue they were in.

If you're here, you have to y by the house rules!

If you can't handle it, then don'te!

Unless, of course, you have the clout to change those rules.

After a brief moment of hesitation, the two Sakurania men burst into a fight..

Weston stepped up to Connor, kicking him in the gut. If you keep messing around, it won't be so easy next time. You'll regret it!"

Connor looked into the men's fierce eyes and knew he couldn't say another word.

He was sure that if he pushed them, these ruthless guys could seriously harm him.

None of Connor's friends dared to step in either.

Most were low-level supervisors who had just started working at theirpanies. +5 Free Coms

Their connections in Harmonfield were weak, and they couldn't bring in any big names to stand up to these two Sakurania men.

Given the circumstances, everyone chose to keep their heads down and distance themselves as much as possible.

Piper felt utterly hopeless in this situation.

Just then, she spotted Robin and Vera walking into Four Seas Entertainment World and felt a flicker of hope.

Bur that feeling quickly turned to disdain.

What a j*rk! What a hypocrite!

He's pretending not to see me being dragged away!

He must be afraid of getting into trouble, so he's acting like he hasn't noticed!

What a useless man!

Piper had expected Robin to step up and help Rosalie

Given the current situation, he should have been the one to stand up against the two Sakurania men's illegal behavior.

But instead, Robin didn't even notice her way and just headed straight for the second floor.

Clearly, he was scared of these two tough guys.

Piper couldn't understand Rosalie's taste; how could she think Robin was a brave, good man?

Based on Robin's behavior now, Piper was even more convinced that his earlier act of helping Rosalie was just a self-staged hero moment.

Desperate, Piper had no choice but to shout for help from the Four Seas Entertainment World security.

But the security didn't rush over.

Instead, after hearing her cries, they chose to steer clear of this troublesome area.

They didn't want to interfere too much with the customers who came to enjoy themselves

After all, people come here like this for excitement

Excessive interference would only lead to unnecessary losses for the entertainment world.

And if they accidentally offended a big boss, it would mean even bigger trouble.

Piper's cry fell flat, drawing even more ridicule.

"People here to have fun; if you can't handle it, what the hell are you doing in an entertainment venue? Are you crazy?" Robin reached the private room he'd reserved on the second floor.

Shawn had been waiting for him.

As soon as he saw Robin, he jumped up and bowed, "Mr. Ramsey, I wasn't sure why you wanted me here. What can I do for you?" Robin nced at Shawn's demeanor, which was much more subdued than their meeting at the Violetcrest Leisure Club.

However, he could still sense some reluctance in Shawn's eyes.

He knew Rygar wouldn't have revealed his true identity to Shawn

Shawn feared him only because of Rygar's instructions

Robin pointed toward the two Sakurania men downstairs. "You need to call those guys up here and tell them the person they're looking for is in room three on the second floor. "Them? Those two from Sakurania?" Shawn asked, ncing down in confusion.

"Yeah, they're not from Draconia?" Robin confirmed with a nod.

Half an hour earlier, Shawn had arrived at Four Seas Entertainment World.

He had noticed the two men lurking around for a while, clearly hunting for a target.

Plus, he knew they were skilled.

He wasn't sure what relationship Robin had with them

But since Robin had asked, he immediately instructed his men. "You guys go downstairs," Robin interrupted and pointed at Shawn. "You go yourself, right now!

Shawn froze.

Though he was reluctant, he couldn't disobey Robin's orders.

Until now, he still couldn't fully understand why Rygar suddenly changed his attitude toward Robin after that day at the Violetcrest Leisure Club

And why he'd made such significant sacrifices and concessions regarding the Hamiltons, unlike before

What on earth was behind much of the tension between Wasin because of Deake or because of Robin with

he help of two subordinates. Shawn quickly made his way downstairs

He blocked the path of the two Salurians mm.

me

Hold on! Someone asked to pass along a message to you two. The person you're looking for is in room three on the second floor and is waiting for you

The two Sam froze their senses fading in as their expressions turned cold.

They released Piper without saying a word and followed Shawn upstairs

Piper was left dumbfounded

She heard that the person who had just called them away was the Abyssal Dominion's second-in-command. Stav

Looking at Stan's retreating figure she wondered why he would save her

At that moment, the case of Liam passing by on the second floor and her heart skipped a beat

Could it be? Could it be that Liame to my rescued

As she adored Liam's figure, he stopped and nced down at the first floor. Eashing a bright, sunny

Piper felt her heart drog

Could it be that Lis is really sitten by my beauty?

Thinking this, her heart rated

It must be Lamped to me

In Harmonfield, few people could make Shawn take the beat for them

Piper hurried a few steps, wanting to catch up to the second floor and thank Liam for saving her

But at that moment. Liam walked deeper inside with Zachary and Alice.

Piper had no choice but to stop

Maybe Liam didn't want too many people to know

"Piper, are you okay?" Connor approached her and asked

Piper tried to calm her racing heart and turned to Connor, noticing the bruises on his face. "Connor, I'm scared for hunting you because of me

Connor shook his head with a smile. "Piper, don't say that. We're friends: looking out for each other is natural. Getting hurt for you is nothing. Even if they killed me, I wouldn't care!"

Piper's lips

turned up at her

for she kept a sweet smile on her face. "Thank you so

Connor felt ecstatic

Gage and Weston entered room three,

Shawn and his men were waiting outside

Robins Jet Vera into the private room lounge.

Then he looked up at the two men

"Why are you following me? Have the Rivers family lost

Gage and Weston had been acting aloof until now.

But at that moment, they realized what Robin had in hi

They were instantly shocked!

It was a dragon dagger, a weapon symbolizing power,

"Dragon dagger!" they recognized the cold weapon that

They looked at Robin in fear.

Piper's lips twitched slightly as she thought to herself, pen if you sacrificed your life to protect me. I still wouldn't look at you.

But she kept a sweet smile on her face. Thank you so much, Connor. I remember this?

Connor felt ecstatic!

Gage and Weston entered room three.

Shawn and his men were waiting outside.

Robin let Vera into the private room lounge.

Then he looked up at the two men.

Why are you following me? Have the Rivers family lost their mind?

Gage and Weston had been acting aloof until now.

But at that moment, they realized what Robin had in his hand!

They were instantly shocked!

It was a dragon dagger, a weapon symbolizing power, life, and death!

"Dragon dagger" they recognized the cold weapon that intimidated the entire martial arts world!

They looked at Robin in fear.
