Chapter 1221

“Torres Hane! Stop following me!”

Lydia was very angry as she glared at Torres who was following behind her.

“Lydia, I know that I was wrong, so please forgive me. I’ll apologize, okay?” Torres said.

He glanced at Philip who was being pulled by Lydia. First, he separated them in disgust. Then, he said indifferently with a dark face, “Hey, I’m sorry.”

Philip smiled. He did not wish to cause trouble. He could see that these people were the second-generation members of those rich and respectable families, so he said calmly, “It’s okay. Can I go now?”

“You can go now.”

Torres said coldly and then turned to look at Lydia as if to please her. He said with a grin, “Lydia, it’s fine now, right?”

Lydia glared at him and said nothing.

Philip turned around and left, but Torres’ disdainful voice came from behind. “Such bad luck!”

This made Philip frown. He had not even done anything but was scolded several times for nothing.

He stopped and looked up at the sky, his thoughts were unknown.

Suddenly, he turned around and walked toward the group of people laughing over there.

Lydia scowled and said firmly, "Yes, if you dare to lay a finger on him, you'll get it from me!"

Torres gritted his teeth bitterly, waved a fist in the air, and roared, "F*ck!"

Several other rich second-generations also began to speak up for Torres.

"Lydia, what are you doing? Aren't you aware of how Torres treats you? Why are you hurting him over a scumbag like that?"

Luisa Schoen, with her tall figure and slender legs, was wearing revealing clothes. She was staring at Philip uncomfortably at this moment.

"Yeah, Lydia, why are you acting this way? Is he a friend of yours?"

A boy looked at Philip in disgust.

"Yes, he's my friend. I forbid you to say that about him!"

Lydia was about to blow her temper, and she was not afraid to lash out at these few friends of hers.

Shawn glared at him and said, “Nonsense. That’s Mr. Clarke. What shabby? Don’t you dare let Mr. Clarke hear that!”

Huh?

Torres gulped nervously and glanced at the others.

“No wonder he said that just now. Holy sh*t, that man is crazy. He’s so rich and powerful yet he dresses so shabbily. Does he do that on purpose?”

Luisa complained, and Shawn happened to overhear that. He frowned, and when he looked at the reactions of these people, he knew that something might be wrong.

“Torres, tell me honestly, did you offend Mr. Clarke?”

Shawn asked with a cold face. His nephew had an arrogant temper and spoke directly, so he easily offended others.

If he had offended Mr. Clarke, the Hane family would be in trouble!

“Uncle, I’m sorry, I didn’t know who he was. I... He...”

Torres panicked. It was not that he had never heard Mr. Clarke’s name being mentioned by his uncle, but he always thought that Mr. Clarke was a middle-aged man. Who would have thought that it was the guy from just now?!

“Tell me what happened exactly!” Shawn was anxious and commanded sternly.

Torres lowered his head and told him about the incident.

“You! Don’t take another step out of the house in the future! Go home and reflect on your actions!”

Shawn yelled angrily and then hurriedly returned to the hall.

His oldest brother dared not do it and was busy fighting for succession.

His second brother was weak and only indulged in wine and dine all day long.

This left Ronnie with no choice but to stand up for his father and fight for the Duane family.

Even if he died, he must fight this opponent!

Javi turned around and looked at the man opposite him with disdain. He could tell at a glance that the other party was a weak chicken.

"Idiot! Who are you?" Javi asked.

"Ronnie Duane of the Duane family," Ronnie yelled bitterly.

His words caused a discussion to erupt from the crowd.

"Haha, Ronnie Duane? He's actually that useless and cowardly Ronnie Duane!"

"What a joke. It turns out to be the little piece of rubbish from the Duane family, the one who hasn't practiced martial arts since childhood."

"Hehe, and he still wants to challenge Javi Lopez. Does he want to embarrass the Duane family again?"

The laughter and discussion in the crowd made Ronnie a little flustered and sad.

Philip's voice was arrogant with monstrous anger, and his eyes were as cold as ice.

The onlookers at the scene were all members of the Martial Arts Association and children of martial arts families from all over the world.

At this moment, seeing the young man who suddenly stepped in, they were puzzled.

“Damn! Who is this guy? How dare he stop Javi Lopez?”

“I’ve never seen him before. Whose disciple is he? Doesn’t he know Javi’s strength?”

“He’s standing up for that wimp, Ronnie Duane.”

There was a lot of discussion among the crowd. Many children from domestic martial arts families and those from the National Martial Arts Association expressed their ignorance about Philip.

Other foreign delegates also watched the excitement with anticipation.

This included other martial arts forces in the field who were all watching the scene coldly.

Other boxing families also watched carefully.

Of course, these people were very united and supportive of Javi.

Among them, many insightful people worked for the national martial arts. After hearing Philip’s words, they raised their arms and cheered! “That’s right, all martial arts share the same origin! How dare ambitious people such as you trample on our martial arts to get into the upper ranks? Wishful thinking!”

“Don’t insult our martial arts!”

“People from the Lopez family must apologize quickly!”

However, there were still some unconcerned parties at the scene. Looking at the debacle from a distance, they scorned. “Who’s that guy bragging like that? Is he trying to incite a dispute between the two countries? Doing this at this juncture can only be detrimental to our national martial arts.”

“Yeah, the national martial arts is obviously not as advanced as before while Fusha’s martial arts has suddenly emerged. We should keep a low profile.”

“Hehe, I want to see how that arrogant guy is going to get out of this alive!”

The crowd was immediately divided into two sides.

One side cheered for Philip, but there were not many people.

The other side was naturally neutral. They were just watching things unfold indifferently.

Was this why Great-grandfather invited him?

"Javi!"

"Kill him, Javi! Prove the prowess of boxing!"

The group of Fusha men and women raised their arms at this moment while shouting.

They also did not expect that someone could fight evenly with Javi!

No, Javi actually took a few steps back because of a kick from the opponent!

Javi's eyes also displayed his shock. He exhaled heavily, brushed off the footprints on his chest, and glared at Philip angrily while shouting, "You're very strong. Who are you? There's actually a young expert like you in the national martial arts circle. I want to challenge you and the teacher behind you!"

Javi flew into a rage at Philip's words. What an arrogant fellow!

Just as he was about to attack again, Lydia stepped forward and shouted coldly, "Javi Lopez, this is Dragon Gate of Uppercreek, not the martial arts dojo of your Lopez family!"

Javi looked intently at Lydia. With raised brows, he asked, "Who are you?"

A woman next to him immediately explained in a low voice, "Javi, she's the great-granddaughter of Jacob Jensen, Lydia Jensen. She's not someone to be provoked."

Javi's face changed as he looked at Lydia carefully with a strong expression of interest in his eyes.

At this moment, the onlookers all recognized Lydia and expressed their disbelief.

Lydia Jensen was actually standing up for that guy, so it seemed his identity was really extraordinary.

At this time, Javi continued to look at Philip and shouted, "Your country's martial arts is rubbish! My Lopez family's boxing skills are the most powerful! If you have the ability, beat me right here! Otherwise, all of you who practice your national martial arts are weaklings!"

Weaklings?

Instantly, everyone present, as long as they were citizens of this country, remembered a certain disgraceful past.

That period of history was very humiliating!

However, Javi Lopez should not use this to ridicule them!

When everyone looked back, they saw a crowd of people in black martial arts uniforms pouring in from the entrance of the venue!

A big golden dragon was embroidered on their chests.

The people of Dragon Gate!

The leader was a middle-aged man who walked briskly. His face was stern and majestic, and he was glaring at the people of the Lopez family.

Jeremy Yarner!

The master of Dragon Gate!

He was also an honorary expert of the National Martial Arts Association. He had been practicing martial arts for 30 years and could be considered a true expert!

Dragon Gate had more than 200 apprentices and was the largest martial arts hall in Uppercreek!

He was also the person in charge of this World Martial Arts Exchange.

Jeremy's reputation was relatively well-known in the country. He had represented national martial arts in the martial arts arena in the world and won many awards.

Moreover, he was also one of the hopeful candidates to take over the Jensen family's position as the director of the National Martial Arts Association.

It could be seen from all angles—be it his strength, his means of getting things done, or his character—that Jeremy Yarner could withstand the test.

Just like this, he led a dozen disciples and stood there with his entire body radiating chills. He was glaring at Javi!

“Javi Lopez, you have such a big tone. How dare you look down on our country's martial arts?! Just because you won a few matches doesn't mean you can insult us. I can tell you personally that our country's martial arts cannot be compared to boxing or wrestling!”

Instantly, a few people from Dragon Gate surrounded them angrily!

"Javi Lopez, how dare you hurt him?!"

The disciples of Dragon Gate exploded, glaring at Javi furiously and shouting.

Javi merely glanced contemptuously at Damian who was constantly vomiting blood and said nonchalantly, "I already held back. I just made him mute. Is this the strength of Dragon Gate? If so, I'll give up the challenge. You guys are too lousy! I didn't expect that the so-called national martial arts that was passed down for thousands of years to be such a rubbish display of moves! In that case, you should just go home and dance!"

Hiss!

The onlookers gasped.

Javi Lopez was truly showcasing his arrogance!

Jeremy's eyes almost bulged with rage as he asked his disciples to send Damian to the hospital.

Then, with cold eyes, he stared at Javi and clenched his fists, shouting, "Fine! I, Jeremy Yarner, will personally accept the challenge from Javi Lopez!"
