

The First Heir 142

Chapter 142

Patrick stood up abruptly from his chair. His eyes were wide open and his breathing was rapid.

Who could have a bank balance of one hundred billion?

Not to mention, that person had shown up at his small little branch!

If he could get even a hundred million worth of financial investment, he would no longer have to work throughout the year!

Moreover, there was a chance he would get promoted to become a branch president the following year!

money into his branch, his performance for the been specifically criticized for poor performance in terms of customer deposits. They were

had been very troubled

continued, he would be

trotted out. "Quick, little. However, once Yolanda confirmed his identity, he immediately greeted him with a smile and welcomed him with stretched out hands, "Mr. Clarke, it's a pleasure to meet you. Shall we discuss this in the VIP shook hands with situation, Wynn walked over immediately with her beautiful brows knitted together. She

the bank, why was he being so polite to