

The First Heir 1511

Chapter 1511

After confirming Philip's intentions, the combat captain handed his weapons to the combatant next to him and handed the knife on his waist to Vince.

"Do you know how to use it?" he asked.

Vince was taken aback. Was the man in front of him a fool to give him a knife?

He had seen the punch that he was attacked with just now. Although it was solid, it was not very powerful. Could this be his way of showing off in front of his master?

In that case, he would just go along with it!

Vince took the knife and stared coldly at the captain in front of him. All he could think of was how to subdue him and leave with the hostage.

Seeing Vince constantly glancing in Philip's direction, the captain already guessed something.

"Don't think about it. Your dirty hand can't touch the young master," the captain said coldly.

Vince was taken aback. How did he know what he was thinking?!

With a flash of anger, he took the knife in his hand and stabbed it directly!

The captain did not even dodge.

Philip's face twitched slightly.

Chapter 1512

Who were these people who just arrived? They were so powerful!

Furthermore, why did they address Philip as 'Young Master'?

Were they special guards trained by Victor?

How could that be possible?!

Even Victor could not be equipped with such a fully armed combat squad!

This was not possible, d*mn it! Even those big shots might not necessarily have such a team!

Cold sweat almost soaked through Saul's clothes.

Philip walked over and looked at the captain, sizing him up and down with interest.

"Young Master, you..." The captain of the combat team felt a little queasy being stared at like that.

"Well done, Mr. Sanjay West. Your skills are extraordinary, huh? Why didn't you display such moves with me in the past? Tell me honestly, when you sparred with me back then, did you always go easy on me?" Philip chuckled as if he had seen through everything.

Moreover, he was standing behind this old man in such a cowardly manner?

Could this old man really be the president of the South River District Chamber of Commerce, George Thomas?

George turned his head to the president of the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce and asked, "President Luther, what's going on here?"

President Luther's face was pale, almost completely drained of blood. He lowered his head and said to George, "Mr. Thomas, it's my negligence that the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce has produced parasites like Saul Seed. I'll reflect on this!"

After that, President Luther said to Saul, "Saul Seed, Victor and the others have searched your ship. You've been using your status as a member of the chamber of commerce to conduct such illegal activities! You've been removed from the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce and dismissed from your position!"

Abandon the troops to save the general!

At this time, he would not care about Saul's well being! Saul was so scared that he fell to the ground and landed on his bottom.

He looked at Philip while trembling all over. Did all this happen because of this young man in front of him?

At this moment, he finally realized that he might have provoked the wrong person this time!

George glared at President Luther, saying, "I'll slowly investigate your case later! Young master, what should we do next?"

What kind of person was Zachary going up against?

Combined with all that had happened yesterday, the more Zachary thought about it, the more afraid he became!

This kind of strength was far beyond his comprehension!

Philip looked at Zachary and coldly asked, "Young Master Seed, what's wrong? Are you cold?"

Zachary tremblingly said, "W-Who are you?"

Philip smiled and said, "In your words, I'm just a piece of trash."

"What?! This person actually said that about you?"

Sanjay was furious when he heard that. How dare he say that about the young master? He was looking for death!

Immediately, he took out his gun to kill Zachary but was stopped by Philip.

What was the point of killing him?

The two security guards next to him knelt on the ground and shuddered. Philip looked at the two people on the ground with a kind smile and said, "Excuse me, who kicked me when I arrived just now?"

One of them shuddered when he heard that.

As a result, the other security guard immediately stood up and said, "Young Master Clarke, it was him! He was the one who kicked you!"

"Leo, how dare you sell me out after so many years of brotherhood?!"

The security guard on the ground gasped. Leo actually exposed him!

The man named Leo immediately stood next to Philip and yelled, "What brotherhood? Who's your brother? You even dared to kick Young Master Clarke's *ss! This *ss is made of gold! Is it something you can kick just like that?"

Then, he turned to Philip and said with a broad grin, "Don't you think so, Young Master Clarke?"

When did the two of them switch roles?

Then, Philip introduced her to Bernice, "Bernice, this is Wynn Johnston, my wife."

Only then did Bernice realize that this was Mrs. Clarke. She had really made a fool of herself just now.

Thus, she quickly said with a smile, "Oh, so you're Miss Wynn Johnston. I've heard a lot about you. It's nice to finally meet you!"

While saying that, she extended her hand to Wynn, wanting to shake hands to express her goodwill.

However, Wynn did not take Bernice's hand, so Bernice had to withdraw it awkwardly.

Thinking of this, Philip slapped his mouth.

He already had Wynn. How could he think of other women?!

Philip sighed. Anyway, now that he could not go back, he had to find a place to have fun and calm himself down. Moreover, he had experienced too many events lately and really should relax.

At this time, Victor called Philip, saying that he had some friends who wanted to meet him. They could also play cards and have some drinks.

Philip agreed immediately. Since he did not know what to do anyway, now that someone wanted to play cards with him, he could not ask for more!

Philip was also familiar with the venue. It was Victor's underground entertainment club. It did not take long for Philip to arrive.

As soon as he heard that Philip had arrived, Victor and his friends greeted him at the door.

After welcoming Philip, Victor quickly dragged Philip into his underground casino.

“Yes, you’re right! You’re a true master indeed!” Neville Wakeman flattered.

Cedric and Wilbur smiled without saying anything. They would just play on. They could still afford to lose a few hundred thousand dollars as long as the young master was happy.

When the fourth card was dealt, Neville and Cedric had already folded, leaving only Victor and Philip.

Victor looked at his hand three of a kind and an ace of spades. His chance of winning was very high.

On the other hand, Philip had four straight cards in his hand, but the number of points was very small. If the fifth card did not make a straight, he would definitely lose.

The stakes were already raised to 100,000 dollars and it looked like Philip would not be able to carry on if this continued to increase.

Victor did not want Philip to lose too badly, but at this juncture, it would seem too fake if he folded. Hence, he smiled and advised, “Mr. Clarke, it seems that your luck is not very good in this hand. Do you want to raise the stakes? I say we should just show our cards.”

Philip pinched the cigarette between his fingertips and said after taking a puff, "Come on. We're just hanging around anyway. Let's go and watch some excitement."

Since Philip had said so, the others could not refute and went along with him.

This was Victor's turf. Even if something happened, he could handle it.

They came to the private room not far away. The door had been opened by the staff. Inside, a fat guy with a big head who looked like a rich businessman was sitting on the sofa while holding a woman on his lap. He was tearing the woman's clothes with a bodyguard while a blonde foreigner at the gambling table watched with relish.

The woman was full of anger and resistance, but she could not get away even if she put up a struggle.

At this time, Philip was certain that the woman was none other than Yolanda Lee!
