

The First Heir 159

Chapter 159

After that icy woman left the meeting room, everyone still could not calm down.

Wynn's face was burning. She did not even know who that was.

However, it seemed like she knew Philip.

Derrick looked apologetic. He said, "Director Stanley, I'm sorry about that. Um, about our collaboration..."

Director Stanley smiled and tried to soothe the awkwardness. "Of course there's nothing wrong with the collaboration. We can just..."

Before he could finish, Director Stanley's phone rang.

After he answered the call, Director Stanley said a few things before his face fell. "Alright, I got it."

"What's wrong, Director Stanley? What's going on?" Derrick could read the changes in Director Stanley's face.

Did something happen?

"I'm sorry, Mr. Hall, Miss Johnston. We have to stop this collaboration. I don't really know the details. I have to go back and discuss this further with Director Turner. I'm sorry."

Director Stanley said that and left with his people.

There were now only Derrick and his people in the meeting room. Everyone stood with confusion on their faces.

Naturally, everyone was looking at Wynn deviously.

"Miss Johnston, what's going on? Do you know that woman?"

suppressing his anger. He knew this might have something to do when that woman mentioned that spineless coward, Philip

Damn it!

trouble and cause this collaboration between controlled her emotions. She bid farewell to Derrick.

that, Wynn left

meeting room started being noisy after think there's an 80% chance that Miss Johnston's was such a great chance. It was a great opportunity for Beacon to hit the market but it's was that woman? She's so cold

There was dissatisfaction toward hand on the table and said, "That's enough. Shut up now, all was the one who made this happen and she was also the one who destroyed this. There were some suspicion and disapproval

Back to Philip.

need to go to the office. He left

Wynn's cousin, Lynn, asked Philip

Game Central. Lynn even brought a

why are you only here

Lynn saw Philip walking over slowly, she ran over to him sweetly and grabbed his arm. She looked change. He asked suspiciously, "Why did pressed together. She said, "To have fun! Come, let me take you to him here to have fun? Was it

Of course not.

Philip, they immediately gave

He's really something else. Is looking homeless

but you're disappointing. Even I feel embarrassed standing next to someone