“What? A loss of ten billion dollars?!”

Winston yelled as he felt the world spinning around him. He slumped back on the sofa.

The several assistants were trembling all over. The female assistant in the office hurriedly took out quick acting heart reliever pills for Winston.

After catching his breath with much difficulty, Winston’s face grew tense. While exuding a biting chill, he roared, “Cut them off! Cut off all the merged partners! We can’t let the loss grow bigger!”

After saying this, Winston held his forehead, his face looking exceedingly pale.

At the same time, he also remembered the phone that was on the coffee table. He quickly picked it up and said angrily into the phone, “Philip, did you plan all of this?”

“Mr. Dunley, things are not looking good. The information we found out about Philip seems to be wrong. This Clarke family of Riversouth is not as simple as we thought. No matter what we do to them, they can retaliate accurately and also block our trade and business.”

An assistant panicked at this moment and quickly reported to Winston.

Winston became solemn when he heard that. He rushed into the work area and glanced at their computer screens and the analysis report.

Ten billion dollars had been used to tackle the Clarke family. However, not only were they unable to recover the ten billion dollars but the money was firmly trapped in the market by the other party!

“What the hell is going on? Aren’t you guys known as the best market regulators? Why is this happening?” Winston was angry and asked the question with a roar.

One of the managers quickly stepped forward and explained, “Mr. Dunley, the situation has changed. We have to reinvestigate everything about the Clarke family. I suspect that the information we found earlier is all false. Judging from the current situation, it seems that all the industrial and trading companies of the Clarke family that we’ve been targeting are empty shells. It’s as if the other party dug a pit and waited for us to fill it up with money before they ensnared everything.”

Winston looked grave. He turned his head to the assistant next to him and barked, “Investigate! Check all the Hearing Philip’s name, Winston nearly blew his top. He turned around and shouted, “How dare he come here? He’s a brat who doesn’t know his limits! I want to see how amazing he is to dare challenge the Dunley family!”

After saying that, Winston quickly led a dozen people to the conference hall on the first floor of the building!

At this moment, Philip was sitting leisurely on the sofa, sipping the coffee brewed by the receptionist.

Maia Harp, the woman with a glamorous figure, stood respectfully beside him. This woman was the focus wherever she went. Her straight and slender legs, coupled with her curvy waist and hips, made many male employees drool.

Winston brought a large group of people with him and soon came to the front.

His gaze was instantly locked on Philip who was sitting on the sofa while sipping coffee. Then, his eyes shifted to Maia who was next to him.

The Dunley family was the most elite family in Charbury. They were even ranked at the top in the country!

Even the strength of some hidden affluent families might not be able to compare to the Dunley family. To be exact, the Dunley family was ranked among the eight major families in the country!

Moreover, the strength of the Dunley family was already on a par with the Wallis family of Golden City. A year ago, the Wallis family of Golden City was recognized as the number one family in the country.

Of course, these so-called rankings did not include the Clarke family of Arcadia Island.

After all, the Clarke family of Arcadia Island was an existence not generally known by ordinary people. Naturally, the power of the Clarke family was also not known to others.

The public knew about the Wallis and Denver families of Golden City, the Dunley family of Charbury, the Harrison family of Glenford, the Joo, Williams, and Jackman families of the capital city, and the Larson family of Fernvale. However, no one knew about the Clarke family of Arcadia Island.

Winston snorted and said, "Apologize to my man and pay 20 billion dollars in medical compensation. If you do that, we'll move on from this matter. Otherwise, don't dream of walking out of Dunley Group today!"

After saying that, Winston's face was full of sneers.

Hearing this, the assistant behind Winston was immediately moved to tears and exclaimed, “Mr. Dunley...”

It turned out that Mr. Dunley valued him that much. Winston looked back at the assistant and said, “Don’t worry, I’ll handle this matter for you.”

Then, he looked at Philip and asked, “Isn’t this a reasonable request?”

Philip chuckled and said, “Winston, you really know how to do business. You’re demanding 20 billion dollars for one slap. Do you really think that I’m a pushover and you have the upper hand against me?”

This old man came up with a good plan.

Winston laughed and said, “From the moment you stepped into Dunley Group, your outcome was already decided. Young man, you’re too arrogant and can’t see the mess you’ve gotten yourself into. In Hampton and in Charbury, the Dunley family is king! No matter what earth shattering powers you have, everything is in vain here! Only the orders of the Dunley family can be carried out here! Don’t blame me for not reminding you. Right now, using money to buy your way out is your only choice. Of course, if you choose to kneel down and offer 20 billion dollars, I might spare the Clarke family of Riversouth. However, your Clarke family will have to submit to my Dunley family in the future. However, how could that be?

Was he not a member of the Clarke family in Riversouth?

For a moment, Winston was flustered!

If Philip was really the young master of an affluent family, Winston was essentially digging his own grave! Of course, it would also explain why every move he made against Philip had ended in failure.

Was there a mistake in the information they found?

However, now that he was caught between a rock and a hard place, Winston could not give up so easily. He could only fight to the end!

Thus, Winston snorted and said to Philip coldly, "It's interesting that you could get Maia Harp to assist you. Even so, I still stand by my word. The Dunley family of Charbury is not an existence you can easily mess with. Now, immediately pay up 20 billion dollars and apologize on your knees. I'll let you go after you do that!"

At Winston's command, a dozen bodyguards in black suits immediately surrounded Philip and Maia. They held anti riot batons in their hands!

Winston stood outside the encirclement with a sneer on his face. He could already imagine the next scene of Philip begging for mercy. Anyone who dared to make a move against the Dunley family was simply looking for death!

Maia was also full of chills. She immediately shielded Philip behind her, assumed a fighting stance, and said, "Young Master, let me take it from here. You find the opportunity to run. Don't turn back!"

Philip was startled and looked at Maia's graceful back. At this moment, she had assumed a fighting stance and it displayed her attractive figure especially her curves that would make any man take a second look.

"It's okay, I can handle this myself. It's just a dozen bodyguards. I haven't done this for a long time anyway."

Philip suddenly reached out and gently patted Maia on the shoulder before pulling her behind him. He stood in front of her.

Maia glanced at him with a face full of anxiety and trepidation, saying, "Young Master, you mustn't. It's my duty to protect you. I'll hold them back. You should go quickly!"

Winston noticed this. He immediately burst into a rage and shouted, "Damn it, how dare you act out such a tragic scene in front of me? What are you guys waiting for? Go after them! Destroy that kid for me! As for Miss Harp, hehe, bring her to my office. It just so happens that I have a project worth hundreds of millions. I need to have an in depth discussion with Miss Harp."

Maia frowned at his words and glared at Winston Dunley, the old pervert.

The next second Winston saw that at some point, Philip had already broken through the encirclement of dozens of bodyguards. He knocked the two bodyguards in front of him unconscious with the deformed anti riot baton in his hand!

Swish!

The baton in Philip's hand smashed over Winston's head!

At this moment, Philip's cold intent raged with a monstrous killing aura!

Behind him were all defeated bodyguards who had fallen to the floor. None of them could get up again.

Winston was flustered. With cold sweat on his forehead, he stared at the anti-riot baton in Philip's hand. He was afraid that Philip would punch a hole in his head the next second.

Philip turned his head and looked at Winston from above. His face was contorted in pain. Philip said, "You really don't know what's good for you. Even at this point, you're still thinking of using power to suppress others. Do you reckon I'd think of leaving after doing all this?"

After saying that, Philip went over and stomped fiercely on Winston's arm!

Crack!

The sound of bones shattering resounded throughout the entire conference hall!

Winston's whole body jerked in pain and he fell to the floor while howling miserably.

The employees around as well as the group of bodyguards trembled with fear and trepidation.

This was the fifth master of the previous generation of the Dunley family. He had a high status in the Dunley family!

At this moment, he was actually being treated like this by a young man. It was like messing with a hornet's nest!

"Philip, you're dead! Damn you!" Winston roared angrily due to the pain in his body. "My Dunley family will definitely not let you go!"

Philip folded his arms across his chest and said with a smile, “Contact your patriarch and tell him that Philip Clarke wants to see him.”

Instantly, everyone gasped!

What did he say? He wanted to see the patriarch of the Dunley family?

That was simply wishful thinking!

Did he not realize what an unfathomable existence the patriarch of the Dunley family was?

Was he worthy to meet the patriarch of the Dunley family?
