Chapter 2491

“You have news about Hannah?”

Philip immediately perked up at the sound of this and asked, “What have you found out?”

Fennel said, “Tonight, a ball will be held at Kester Manor. Rich and famous people from all over the world will attend. They’re mainly dignitaries from the Western world. This ball seems to be a social exchange to broaden one’s network among the upper class society, but in fact, it’s an underground business trading center behind the scenes. Many organizations and figures behind the scenes in the Western world will show up for a special deal.”

“Deal? What deal?” Philip asked.

Fennel shook his head and said, “The specific situation is still unclear. We can only find out if we attend. In the previous balls held at Kester Manor, the underground transactions were mostly shady businesses, such as gun smuggling and dealing prohibited drugs. This time, according to the news from the informants, a special transaction will be done. The subject of the transaction may be quite surprising, so the confidentiality measures they have taken are relatively stricter.”

Philip nodded and said, “Are you saying that my sister will participate in this underground transaction at Kester Manor on behalf of the

Chapter 2492

In the evening, Fennel and Philip dressed up a little and put on suits before they got into the limousine that had been arranged. They headed to Kester Manor.

This evening, Kestor Manor was without a doubt the most radiant and luxurious manor in Sendona. The ball being held here was enough to rock the entire Sendona. Many media outlets competed for coverage. Many big figures of Sendona, as well as the rich and famous from other parts of the West attended the ball tonight.

The red carpet was a dazzling sight with hot and glamorous models and famous celebrities. It was totally a spectacular red carpet ball and banquet. Any random person found here was practically a celebrity famous enough to cause a sensation in the Western world.

The wealth of the rich here alone could reach trillions of assets!

As soon as Fennel and Philip stepped down from the black Bentley, they attracted the attention of many people. After all, two unfamiliar Eastern faces were still noteworthy in the eyes of the Westerners.

Many people started talking in low voices.

“Look, those two are from the East. Why are they here?”

“I’m not sure. The rich and famous from all over the world are invited to the ball at Kester Manor. Could they be invited guests too?”

Back to Philip’s side. Not long after he and Fennel arrived, a waft of fragrance came from behind them. Then, a pair of soft arms covered his eyes from behind as a sweet voice said, “Guess who?”

Philip was a little exasperated and helpless. He blurted out almost without any emotion, “Vivi Joo, how old are you that you’re still playing such childish games?”

“Hmph!” With a cold snort, Vivi released her hands. She crossed her arms with a pout, glared at Philip unhappily, and said, “Philip, you’ve been out for so long but you didn’t tell me. You made me look around everywhere for someone to contact the SPEAR Bureau.”

Philip turned around and looked at Vivi.

Tonight, she wore a long red dress with white butterfly crystal shoes on her feet. With her curvaceous figure and long wavy brown hair that fell like a waterfall, she looked very classy and elegant. With her exquisite and delicate features, she looked like a fairy even with light makeup.

Not to mention, she had the natural poise of a daughter of an affluent family exuding from her. As soon as she appeared, she attracted the attention of many foreigners in the hall.

“An aristocrat! He’s from the Smith family of Country Y. He’s an undeniable aristocrat!”

Hearing the discussions, Philip and Fennel also understood the identity and status of the newcomers. He was an aristocrat from Country Y, and he was a Viscount at such a young age. It was quite interesting.

Steven seemed to enjoy the admiration and envy of the people around him. He raised his chin arrogantly, looked at Philip and Fennel, and introduced, “Gentlemen, the one next to me is Commander Warwick, the person in charge of Port Sendona with a naval battle group under his command. He’s also eager to meet the two of you.”

Warwick nodded with a smile, but his lecherous gaze kept falling on Vivi at Philip’s side. It revealed his undisguised admiration for her. He ignored Philip and Fennel but bowed slightly toward Vivi instead. He said, “My lady, I wonder if I may invite you for a dance.”

Steven did not expect Warwick to be so direct, disrupting his following plans. However, his mind raced and he said with a smile, “My lady, Commander Warwick has invited you for a dance. It just so happens that I have something to discuss with Mr. Leigh and Mr. Clarke. Why don’t you...”

Vivi furrowed her pretty brows as her cold eyes swept across the lecherous Warwick. She retorted, "I'm sorry, I don't dance with strangers."

As she said that, she grabbed Philip's arm tightly.

Steven said helplessly, "Commander Warwick, please calm down. Let me talk to them."

"No! I don't need you to talk to them. Today, I want this Eastern woman to dance with me!" Warwick roared and completely abandoned his fake pretense.

He turned to Philip and said with a sneer, "As for you, damned Easterner, you must apologize to me for what you did just now! I want you on your knees! Otherwise, my battleship parked in Port Sendona will blast you into pieces!"

Faced with Warwick's arrogance, Philip shook his head helplessly and said, "Your name is Warwick?"

Warwick snorted coldly and poked Philip's chest with his finger. His tall figure was half a head taller than Philip. He said smugly, "Boy! You should call me Commander Warwick!"

Philip looked down at Warwick's finger poking his chest and said coldly, "Get your dirty hands away from me."

As soon as Philip finished speaking, Warwick yelled, "Just wait, you lowly Easterner! I'll make sure you die a horrible death!"

After saying that, Warwick was taken away to have his injuries treated.

The onlookers looked at Philip and his gang, feeling a little afraid. It was the first time they saw such an arrogant Easterner. Messing with Warwick meant certain death.

Philip took Vivi and turned to leave.

Steven came up immediately and said with a smile, "Mr. Clarke, young lady, I'm sorry. I didn't expect Warwick to act like this. I hope it won't affect our discussion."

Philip looked at Steven and asked, "Do we know each other?"

Philip's question caused Steven's next words to get stuck in his throat.

A group of fully armed guards in combat uniforms rushed into the hall of the manor at this moment, and the frightened guests scattered in all directions. All the guards had epaulets on their shoulders. At a glance, it was obvious they had gone through formal training.

As soon as they appeared, everyone broke out into discussions.

"Oh my, those are the guards on duty at Port Sendona! They're Warwick's people!"

"Whoa! Now, that stupid Easterner will have to pay the price!"

"Hehe, he messed with Commander Warwick and even injured him. Even if he's executed, nothing will happen."

“Commander Warwick, teach him a lesson. Make him kneel on the floor and bark like a dog!”

Warwick tilted his head and seemed to have thought of something interesting. He sneered at Philip and said, “I think what he said is very interesting. As long as you kneel and bark like a dog, I may consider letting you go. Easterners like you should be the best at barking. Hahaha!”

Warwick laughed arrogantly, his expression and words full of sarcasm.

On the side, Steven almost died of anger at this scene. That damned Warwick had no idea who the Easterner standing in front of him was and how terrifying he was.

Steven rushed out and tried to be the peacemaker. “Warwick, don’t make a big deal out of this. Why don’t I be the host and invite the two of you for dinner to resolve today’s misunderstanding? On my account, Warwick, you should be generous as a Westerner.”

“F*ck! Steven, what are you talking about? Are you telling me to be generous? Look at my finger. It was broken by this stupid Easterner!”

The tall guard was also flustered and said, "Commander Warwick, our battleship has been seized!"

Instantly, the sirens on the battleships blared. The battleships were filled with rapid gunshots, and the scene was ablaze. However, in just five minutes, the foreign guards of the four battleships were all subdued.

On one of the battleships, a man wearing a combat uniform with a weapon strapped over his chest took off his helmet. He revealed a handsome face with a smile on the corner of his mouth.

It was none other than Tyler Wood who fought with Philip the other day!

At this moment, he dialed the satellite phone of his boss, Hans. He said, "Hans, these people are too weak. The job is done."

Hans was just outside Kester Manor, leading dozens of combatants from the Hall of the Sun to surround the entire manor. In front of them, seven or eight of Warwick's men were in a panic at this moment.

Hans smiled and waved his hand. The people behind him rushed up and took these people down.

After that, Hans adjusted his clothes and carried a machine gun on his shoulder. He was also armed with various weapons. He swaggered into the main ballroom through the doors.

Dozens of combatants followed closely behind him. Hans' appearance was very high-profile and terrified the foreigners in the hall.

"Oh clear, who are they to barge in like that?"
